The Archbishop of York is a sensible man of the world. At a recent meeting at Sheffield he reminded the clergy of the Church of England, that they had no business to mix themselves up with the disestablishment discussions, and that whatever may be the issue of this contest they have to deal only with the everlasting Church of Christ. The Archbishop is on intimate terms with the Court and the Cabinet, and an assiduous frequenter of fashionable circles. His wife, one of the most beautiful women of England, is the daughter of Mr Skene, British Consul at Aleppo, Syria, the grandson of Sir Walter Scott's friend Skene of Rubieslaw, to whom he dedicated his introduction to the fourth canto of "Marmion." Her mother is a Greek woman belonging to a distinguished Athenian family.

EFFECT OF ADVERTISING.—It is amusing at times to observe the stores of the merchants who don't advertise; to see the anxious proprietors looking into the streets and see the people go by, wondering why they don't come in, while the stores of their neighbours who do advertise are thronged with customers. Some people will learn by observation, others will not.—Daily Palladium.
