GREAT FIRES IN CHICAGO.

The Chicago papers contain very full accounts of the terrible fires which occurred in that city on the night of Tuesday last, and by which property to the value of upwards of two millions of dollars was destroyed. The first fire broke on Tuesday evening about seven o'clock, in the large iron block erected in 1856 by Mr Isaac H. Burch, formerly of Chicago, and lately a resident of Paris. In this building was the great book store of Messrs S. C. Griggs & Co., the destruction of whose immense stock (only about $5,000 worth being saved) is regretted by the local press as a public calamity. The Tribune says that Mr Griggs' establishment contained one of the rarest collections of books to be found in the country. The Appletons, Harpers, and other large firms sent telegrams expressing sympathy and readiness to extend assistance. Mr Griggs says that although it is impossible at present to tell the exact value of stock on hand it cannot have been less than $200,000, and may reach $230,000. Their insurance amounted only $97,500 so that the loss of this firm is immense, to say nothing of the damage which follows the suspension of a prosperous business. A number of other firms also suffered more or less severely, the total being estimated at $981,500.

The second fire had its origin in the basement of the store of Catson, Pirie & Co., dealers in Dry Goods, wholesale, No. 20 Lake street. There is little doubt that this, the more disastrous conflagration, was intimately connected in its origin with the fire that destroyed Burch's Buildings. A strong wind, bearing due northeast, drove the cinders, sparks and coals in showers from the latter pile over the roofs of the buildings that lay in a northeasterly direction from it, and they fell upon the roofs of the buildings, from the corner of Wabash avenue and South Water street on the west to the Great Central Depot on the east.

The fire spread to No. 22 on the west, where its progress was stopped by the interposition of a party wall, two feet in thickness. The nature of this wall doubtless prevented the greater portion of this block from being consumed. On the east the flames communicated to No. 18, and then, after having for a time, suddenly broken through to No. 16, the end of the block on the east. From here the fire leaped across the narrow alley with fearful rapidity, and in a few moments the whole of the magnificent block comprising Nos. 4, 6, 8, 10, 12, and 14 Lake street, lay in ruins. The falling of the walls crushed in a brick building next adjoining the north, fronting on Michigan avenue, which was likewise consumed. Here the conflagration ceased. The total loss in this fire is estimated at $1,426,200.

Police Court, Thursday.—Archy Buchanan was sent to gaol for thirty days for drunkenness and vagrancy, in spite of his entreaties to be let off. The magistrate, however, thought it quite advisable for Archy's health and morals that he should be committed, as well as on the score of cleanliness. Nancy Spence charged Robert Blakey with having assaulted her on Saturday morning last. Complainant stated that on Saturday morning, after the fire was over she returned home and that after she had retired to bed Blakey came in and caught her by the hair, and also struck her under the chin, as well as having tried to throw a tumbler at her. Blakey was fined two dollars and costs, and requested the police to "salt him down" in the station house as he had no money to pay the fine.

Dowie, convicted of manslaughter at Aylmer, has been sentenced to Penitentiary for life.

Tenders for Dominion stock have come in freely, and it is understood that none will be accepted under par.

The Russian Fur Company in Alaska has sold off its effects for $50,000, and the Russian garrison is prepared to get away as soon as vessels are ready to take them. American enterprise and authority may now be said to have the whole field to themselves in that region.

Destitute people are coming from the United States in search of employment in Canada. Six arrived in the city on Sunday night, having come on foot from Suspension Bridge, and after being accommodated with lodgings at the police station, a portion continued the route for Chatham where they were in hopes of securing employment at cutting cord wood.—Hamilton Times.

The Bishop of London has publicly interposed his influence and authority, in order, if possible, to check the proceedings recently set on foot with respect to the appointment of a successor to Dr. Colenso, the Bishop of Natal. He has addressed a letter to the Bishop of Cape Town, in which he appeals to him to state distinctly and publicly what is the legal advice or authority upon which he is acting, and when and where he proposes to perform the ceremony of consecration, so as to avoid infringing the requirements of English law.
