CABLE NEWS.

London, March 7.—In the House of Com[illegible] last evening, Mr Shaw Lefevre, [illegible]ber for Reading, called up the question [illegible] Alabama claims. He made a long [illegible] eloquent speech on the subject, in [illegible] he urged the settlement of this vexed [illegible]tion on the plan proposed by the [illegible]rican Government. In calling for the [illegible] on the subject, and moving for the [illegible]ution of the question, he disclaim[illegible] any feeling of prejudice. All future [illegible]tations, he said, would but add to [illegible] complications already existing. He [illegible]ched the progress of the recent civil [illegible] in the United States to its happy ter[illegible]ation. He said the fall of Fort Sumter [illegible]ed the famous proclamation of Presi[illegible] Lincoln. In less than a month [illegible] the appearance of that proclamation, [illegible] Britain had recognized the Southern [illegible]egents as belligerents; they had no [illegible], but they purchased their ships in our [illegible]. These ships, notwithstanding the [illegible]ous measures of our Government to [illegible] them, eluded our vigilance and went [illegible]ps, and were hospitably received at [illegible]ish colonial ports. They captured and [illegible]royed during the war more than two [illegible] American merchant vessels in less [illegible] two years, and the United States flag [illegible] literally driven from the seas, while [illegible] commerce of Great Britain was doubled. [illegible] this reason, the speaker thought, we [illegible]ht to treat these claims generously. [illegible] were first made, in 1862, by the [illegible]rican Minister, Mr Adams. After a [illegible] eulogium on the course of Mr Adams [illegible] this and other questions, Mr Lefevre [illegible]ested that an arbitration of the matter [illegible] been proposed by the American Gov[illegible]ment, but was refused by Lord Russell, [illegible] repelled the suggestion. Lord Stan[illegible] might have taken another course, as [illegible] Tories had changed their views on the [illegible]tion of household suffrage. The ques[illegible] of recognition by England was only [illegible] her right, if there were a right, that [illegible]ht safely be referred, but Lord Stanley [illegible]ded that the responsibility of England [illegible] only a moral one in the Alabama [illegible]. The speaker thought that the less [illegible] about morality on this question the [illegible]er. He regarded the breaking out of a [illegible] between England and the United [illegible]es as extremely unlikely, but thought, [illegible] the other hand, that all needless irrita[illegible] should be shunned.

[illegible]rd Stanley then took the floor. He [illegible]ed the pacific tone of the oration of [illegible] Lefevre, and warmly complimented Mr [illegible]ans for the conciliatory spirit he had [illegible]played in the subject under discussion. [illegible] would not make indiscriminate [illegible]cessions, but we could learn the right of [illegible] case. There was never a case where [illegible]re was more need to understand the [illegible]ts; much allowance was to be made to [illegible] feelings of the United States. Great [illegible]ain, in the same case, with five hundred [illegible]ions of debt, contracted through the [illegible] war, in which a million lives had [illegible] lost, might appreciate matters better [illegible] mere lookers-on. Only he thought [illegible]gland had been entirely neutral. But [illegible]eutrality would have pleased America, [illegible] the United States wanted was neu[illegible]ly coupled with warm sympa[illegible] by [illegible] support. The Queen was ready to ar[illegible]ate and submit all questions but the [illegible] point of recognizing the belligerent [illegible]ts of the South. Nobody contend[illegible] at no time the South acquired them. [illegible] not why deny the right of Great Britain to [illegible]gnize them at the time she did? The [illegible]oderate ship Alabama did not sail from [illegible]gland until 1862, and the battle of Bull [illegible] was fought in 1861. Admitting that [illegible]as wrong for Great Britain to recognize [illegible] South, would the United States Gov[illegible]ment says that its case against the Ala[illegible] had been altered, had Great Britain [illegible]e a declaration of neutrality six rather [illegible] eleven months before she sailed? [illegible] speaker referred to the speech of [illegible]d Webster in the United States Sen[illegible] on the subject of recognizing Hungary, [illegible] support of his argument. How could [illegible]gland refused to recognize a war which [illegible] Howard himself had announced to be a [illegible] war nine, twelve, and sixteen days be[illegible] the proclamation? Who could com[illegible] that England had recognized the [illegible] war which the United States had ad[illegible] some weeks before? In conclusion, [illegible]ought a friendly arrangement of this [illegible]tion still practicable. He deprecated [illegible] debate; the friendly reception of Mr [illegible]ation at Washington was a pledge of [illegible]e. The Ministers are ready to leave [illegible] question to the people of the entire [illegible]rld.

[illegible]r W. E. Forster, member for Bradford, [illegible]ght that Mr Seward's view of the [illegible]tion of the recognition of the Alabama [illegible]ims deserved better treatment and more [illegible]ful consideration, as being perhaps the [illegible] that was right and sensible. He [illegible]plained of the abrupt disposition [illegible] the question which had then [illegible] made when the universal wish [illegible] the United Kingdom was for [illegible] speedy settlement. He thought [illegible] had any influential statesmen been [illegible]t to the United States as Minister, the [illegible]ints in dispute might be readily adjust[illegible].

Mr John Stuart Mill, member for West[illegible]inster, was the next speaker. He regard[illegible] the present condition of the question as [illegible] result of a mutual mistake. The real [illegible]estion was whether England was bound [illegible] prevent such expeditions as that of the [illegible]abama. He denied that the United [illegible]ates Government claimed or could claim [illegible] the recognition of the South was a [illegible]lation of the law, but only that it [illegible] an unfriendly, rash and unprecedented [illegible]. The American Government only [illegible]ned the point for the purpose of show[illegible] that, but for the unfriendly action [illegible] England, the Alabama depredation [illegible]ould not have occurred. Mr Mill thought [illegible] as neither between the two countries [illegible] and that reparation was fairly [illegible] to the United States. He concluded [illegible] advising the appointment of a mixed [illegible]mission for the proper adjustment of [illegible] question.

[illegible] W. E. Gladstone, member for [illegible]uth Lancashire, thanked Mr Lefevre for [illegible] able speech and Lord Stanley for his [illegible]ous reply. He (Mr Gladstone) could [illegible] why the negotiations were ended, [illegible]ould he agree with Mr Mill that Lord [illegible] had admitted that reparation was [illegible] that an arbiter would surely decide [illegible]ir England. For himself, he doubted [illegible] reparation for the Alabama depredations [illegible] the United States. It was unquestion[illegible] right that the point should be referred [illegible] a commission, but if the Government [illegible]ed such a reference, it should settle the [illegible] at once or leave the decision with [illegible] umpire. Mr Gladstone inferrred, [illegible]wever, from the closing sentences of [illegible] Stanley, that communications be[illegible]een the two Governments were not [illegible] and that friendly feeling between [illegible] United States and England would be [illegible]ered. He concluded by saying if his [illegible]umption was correct, the whole country would support Lord Stanley in a just and honourable settlement of the case.

The debate ended with Mr Gladstone's remarks.

London, March 7.—Nearly all the leading papers have editorials this morning on the debate in the House of Commons last evening on the Alabama question. The Times says the debate must convince the United States Government that England wishes to settle the law in this case in the American sense, and that the failure of Great Britain to refer the Alabama claims to arbitration is due to no desire to shirk her just obligations. Mr Seward has only to meet Lord Stanley in a like spirit, to end the misunderstanding. The tone of the articles in the other journals is generally the same.

It is reported that the Fenian prisoners who were captured recently at Dungarvan, were offered their pardons on condition that they would give their parole to leave the kingdom. It is further reported they unanimously refused to do so. A double guard has been placed around Newgate, where Burke, Casey and Shaw are confined. The trials have been set down for the next month.

In the House of Commons last evening, Mr Chas. Gilpin, member from Northampton, gave notice of a bill to abolish death penalty.

Lord Stanley submitted further official papers about Mexico.

On an order into go to Committee of Supply, Earl Mayo said he hoped the debate on the condition of Ireland would end by Friday next, that the House might be ready to consider the question of Irish Reform.

The Marquis Pepoli, formerly French Minister to Russia, has been appointed to Great Britain in the same capacity.

Mr G. W. Hunt, M. P., who resigned his seat when he went into the Cabinet, has been re-elected from Northamptonshire, and will soon bring a bill before Parliament for the purchase by the Government of all the telegraphs in the kingdom.

Paris, March 7.—In the Corps Legislatif yesterday, the law for the regulation of the press was again under consideration. The clause forbidding private allusion was adopted by a large majority, after a short debate.

London, March 9.—J. McLeary Brown left the British Legation in China, and was accredited to act as Secretary of Legation to Mr Burlingame on his mission for the Chinese Government, with the full consent of the British Ambassador at Pekin, who endorsed his credentials.

New York, March 10.—The Herald's London special says:—Advices from the army in Abyssinia represent the military situation at the English front remained unchanged. It is said that King Theodore treats the captives more leniently, and that he begins to regard them in a more friendly spirit.

New York, March 10.—The Herald's Naples special says Admiral Provana, of the Royal Italian Navy, has extended a most cordial and friendly reception to Admiral Farragut. The Italian Admiral will entertertain the American Commander at a grand banquet, at which the chief officers of the Army and Navy serving in this part of the Kingdom, with the municipal officers and judicial authorities of Naples, will be present.

Queenstown, March 10, 1.20 p.m.—The steamer City of Washington, from New York, has arrived.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

London, March 10th, 1.20 p.m.—Consols 93 to 93¼ for money and account; Bonds 71¼ to 71½; Illinois Central 89½; Erie 49½.

Liverpool, March 10th, 1.20 p.m.—Cotton quiet and steady; sales 10,000 bales. Corn declined to 43s. Petroleum dull. Pork firm. Lard declined. Others unchanged.

New York Press Despatches.

New York, March 10.—The Herald's city of Mexico correspondent says, under date of Havana, that the news from Sinaloa was very warlike. The rival claimants were about to settle their dispute by battle. A railroad company to connect the capital with Texpian, is said to have been formed in New York with a capital of $25,000,000; they are to commence work forthwith. Nothing new has taken place with reference to the Mexico and Vera Cruz railways since the vote of Congress by which the concession was suspended. It is generally hoped that Congress will allow its completion as this is imperative for the trade of the country. Senor Romero finds many difficulties in his new position as Treasurer. It is probable that foreigners who had a hand in the late conspiracy to assassinate Juarez will be expelled. Gen. Jimmez was marching on Acapulco to deal a last blow at the Alverists. Banditti are extending their operations despite the energy of the authorities to put them down. Governor Rubi is struggling to hold his ground in Sinaloa.

New York, March 10.—The Herald's Havana special says the plantations in the jurisdiction of Berna are on fire. The Spanish man of war "Arica," at St. Thomas, will seize the American ship "Allice Ball," even if her papers show her to be bound for New York.

The Empress Charlotte has addressed to the Pope a touching letter, imploring his prayers for the soul of her unfortunate husband. The letter, which has a deep border of black, is written in very good Italian, and creates the impression that the Empress is no longer suffering from mental alienation, or at least that she has lucid moments.

The special agent of the U. S. Treasury Department who was sent some weeks ago to Brownsville, Texas, to investigate certain charges made against the Custom House officials of that place, has reported to the Secretary that he found matters there in such a bad condition that he decided to take charge of the office. He states that he has placed Deputy Collector Fields under arrest, put the Custom House in charge of the military and has taken possession of the bullion in the vaults. The collector of the port, Mr Robertson, died last fall, and the duties have since been discharged by Deputy Collector Fields.

Certificate of Registration.

I HEREBY certify that the foregoing Trade Mark was duly registered by me in the Trade Marks' Register, Vol. A, Folio 132, on the Sixteenth day of August, 1866, in accordance with the provisions of the Act respecting Trade Marks, 24 Vic., Cap. 21.

Given under my hand and seal, at the City of Ottawa, this 16th August, 1866.
(Signed)
J. C. TACHE,
Secretary.

CAUTION.

The wording of the "Prince of Wales" brand having lately been partially imitated and put upon a low quality of Tobacco, doubtless with the intention of deceiving confiding country merchants, not acquainted with the registered mark, I hereby inform the General Grocery Trade throughout the Dominion, that every box of the "PRINCE OF WALES" brand of Tobacco, has the above Trade Mark stencilled upon two sides, with red and blue ink, and no other is genuine. This deservedly popular and favourite brand of 10s. and the "Victoria" brand of 8s. and 4s. are to be had of all first class Wholesale Grocery Houses.

The above Trade Mark being upon the box is a sufficient indication that the Tobacco is well and faithfully made, no matter what the brand may be. Merchants in the Country should be particular to examine the brands carefully, and also see that the Revenue Stamp is filled in at Montreal.

PAIN KILLER!

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

OUR FIRST PHYSICIANS USE AND RECOMMEND ITS USE.

IT ENJOYS THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PROPRIETARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

THE PAIN KILLER

Has been favourably known for more than thirty years, during which time we HAVE RECEIVED THOUSANDS OF TESTIMONIALS, showing this Medicine to be an almost NEVER FAILING REMEDY for diseases caused by or attendant upon—Sudden Colds, Coughs, Fever and Ague, Headache, Bilious Fever, Pains in the Side, Back and Loins, as well as in the Joints and Limbs; Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pains in any part of the System, Toothache and Pains in the Head and Face.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER AND TONIC FOR THE STOMACH,

It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Kidney Complaints, Sick Headache, Piles, Asthma or Phthisic, Ringworms, Boils, Felons, Whitlows, Old Sores, Swelled Joints, and General Debility of the System.

IT IS ALSO A PROMPT AND SURE REMEDY

For Cramp or Pain in the Stomach, Painters' Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Scalds, Burns, Sprains, Bruises, Frost Bites, Chilblains, as well as the Stings of Insects, and the Bites of Poisonous Insects and Venomous Reptiles.

Directions accompany each bottle.

It has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to civilization. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the Missionary, and no traveller should be without it. Like every other good thing, the Pain Killer has been extensively counterfeited; which, (while it is an acknowledgment on the part of the counterfeiters of its real worth) is a serious hindrance to its usefulness as the deceived purchaser estimates the value of the Pain Killer by the base compound he has purchased for the genuine article.

Purchasers should be careful and not allow the dealer to sell them worthless imitations, on which they realize a larger profit, but take only the Pain Killer and see that it is the genuine, bearing the signatures of Perry Davis and Son upon the label.

The Pain Killer is sold at wholesale by Druggists and Medicine Dealers, and Commission Merchants in the principal cities, and retailed by Apothecaries, Grocers, and at Variety Shops generally throughout the world.
