THE TODMORDEN MURDER.

The Pall Mall Gazette of Monday gave in our third edition the substance of the verdict and sentence in the case of Jesse Smith, who was tried yesterday at the Lancashire assizes, before Mr Justice Mellor, for the murder of Jane Smith. In summing up the prisoner having pleaded not guilty, the judge stated the facts (which have been already published) and had to be proved in evidence, namely, that the prisoner had been counsel, Mr Forbes, directed his attention to the witnesses with a view to implying that he was insane, and ultimately addressing the jury upon the question of the crime as a reason for the prisoner's responsibility of its perpetrator. The prisoner apparently was skeptical of the plea, and would be shirking his duty if he did not them well to consider whether the horrible crime should be committed the horrible crime was charged and of which the prisoner was guilty. Surely a man who had armed with four pistols and fired at one unprotected woman, and that when there was no evidence to show that the Plow was at home or was in any danger of being under him. A man who would be a brigand, as did the prisoner, who had pistols stuck in it, could not be considered sane. If psycho-medical testimony could be believed, and he had the prisoner could be little doubt that the prisoner was at the time of committing the murder under the homicidal mania.

The learned judge, in summing up, said the only question for the jury was, whether the prisoner committed the murder, and if so, whether he was legally answerable for his actions on the subject of insanity were clear. These arguments should be told in all cases of murder. If it proved to be murder, the contrary is proved, the prisoner should be acquitted on the ground of insanity; and at the close of the murder it must be shown that the quality of the act which he was committing, in other words, that he did not know what he was doing wrong.

The jury, after two minutes' consideration returned a verdict of guilty.

His lordship, in sentencing the prisoner, said it would have been a dispensation of Providence had come to any other verdict, for there was nothing in the evidence of the prisoner's life to lead them to any other conclusion than that which they had come to. The verdict was rightly been found guilty of the most outrage which were such as might be expected from a wild savage than from a man who had been brought up in a civilized country. It was a murder such as rarely happens, and brutality, and for it he (the judge) could only die. But the law would not allow him as he did with his victim. He would have time for repentance. He (the judge) therefore hoped that the short time he had to live in this world would be repentance, and his past life was over. His lordship then passed sentence of death in the usual form.

The judge ordered that 25 shillings should be given to Elizabeth Spink, and 27 to the person in recognition of their services.

The prisoner throughout the trial was moved by the evidence or any other connection with it. On being asked if sentence of death was passed upon him, he had anything to say, he looked at the jury as if evidence he had made and held in his hand, but made no reply.

When the Judge came to the closing words, "And I say it in all sincerity, may God have mercy upon you."

Three deaths in all have now resulted from the brutal violence of Miss Thomas Plow, who was reported to be in a dangerous condition yesterday, but is now better. The infant child of Mr Plow was born dead. It was born only three weeks before the death, and its unavoidable removal from the mother the murderous attack on her husband was the cause of death. Mrs Plow has received a shock better than was expected. She is allowed to be present when her husband is buried. Her father, the Rev. Dr. Roberts, of Todmorden last evening sent off a telegram but too late to see his son-in-law alive.

Very little cotton will be sold in this season, and will inform that the produce will not exceed one hundred bales.

Miss Lockwood, of Belchworth, who died a few weeks since, has left the society for Promoting Christian Knowledge a large sum of £28,000.

The French Government grants a paternal supervision over the education of its subjects. The education carefully that the baker's stock of bread be well kept up. The arrivals of supplies at present are so considerable, there is a difficulty in forwarding them to the districts, and if the movement continues the country will be secure, it is said, from the fear of a short supply.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society, on the 9th, in London, a paper was read on "The geography and mountain passes of British Columbia, with reference to an overland route," by Mr A. Waddington, a gentleman who has devoted many years in exploring, personally, or by agents, the different passes and valleys, in order to ascertain which is the most practicable for a waggon road and railroad from the Pacific across the Rocky Mountains. In explaining the nature of the country, the author said that the two mountain ranges—the cascade, or coast range, having an average width of 110 miles—and the Rocky Mountains, a width of 150 miles—nearly meet on the southern frontier of the colony, but diverge further north, and leave a fertile, central plain 120 miles wide. In the southern part of the country all attempts to discover practical passes have been in vain, and no through route was possible by way of the mouth of Fraser River. He had examined the various long inlets or fiords to the northward, and found Bute Inlet to be far the most suitable as the Pacific terminus of the future overland road. He had discovered a river flowing into the head of the inlet, and had planned a dray road through the narrow valley thus formed through the whole width of the coast range. The road that he had projected ran north-easterly across the plain and struck the Upper Fraser opposite the mouth of the Quesnelle River. The Fraser is here navigable, and affords a route to the Yellow Head Pass of the Rocky Mountains, which leads to the rich level country on the eastern side of the range, extending towards the Red River settlement. The Yellow Head Pass is, according to Dr. Rae, 3,770 above the sea level; the central plain is 2,500ft. in its southern part, and the Bute Inlet trail runs across it between 51 deg. and 53 degs. N. lat; the pasture is excellent and the cereals, including wheat, can be grown. Mr Waddington stated that the Canadian Government had already begun to construct the eastern end of the overland waggon road between Lake Superior and Red River, but that no arrangement had yet been entered into with regard to the other sections, and he urged the importance of the undertaking on political and commercial grounds.

The Boston Transcript says. "One of our leading organists officiated at three funerals, a wedding, a concert, and gave his usual musical lessons to his pupils, in a single day of the present week."

In Maine a Quaker once sent to a brother Quaker in another town a sheet of paper, in the middle of which was an (?). He received by return of mail another sheet of paper with an 0 in the middle of the page. The correspondence meant—"What news? Answer, "Nothing."

Mr Bergh, of New York, the humane President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, is said to be very wealthy, and is devoting his entire time and money in promoting the cause which he has at heart, asking and receiving no pecuniary compensation therefor.

Wild geese, says the Ogdensburgh Journal, have made their appearance in this vicinity. Two flocks passed yesterday on their way northward. One of them—a large one—stopped in the St. Lawrence, abreast of the bar, long enough to take an observation, then rose again and settled in the water opposite the windmill.

Says the Court Journal, a small body of artistic and literary personages has formed what they call a "Cocked Hat Club." The chief feature seems to be dining together several times during the year. The hon. chaplain is the Rev. Mr Larking. Clearly this is not a name to spoil sport or fun.

It is now denied that Gen. McClellan is a cousin of the late Lord Clyde, and therefore entitled to a share of the Banda and Kirwee prize money. The latter has already been distributed among those claiming to be the next of kin.

PAIN KILLER!

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE OF THE AGE.

THE UNIVERSAL REMEDY FOR INTERNAL AND EXTERNAL COMPLAINTS!

OUR FIRST PHYSICIANS USE AND RECOMMEND ITS USE.

IT ENJOYS THE LARGEST SALE OF ANY PROPRIETARY MEDICINE IN THE WORLD.

THE PAIN KILLER

Has been favourably known for more than thirty years, during which time we HAVE RECEIVED THOUSANDS OF TESTIMONIALS, showing this Medicine to be an almost NEVER FAILING REMEDY for diseases caused by or attendant upon—Sudden Colds, Coughs, Fever and Ague, Headache, Bilious Fever, Pains in the Side, Back and Loins, as well as in the Joints and Limbs; Neuralgic and Rheumatic Pains in any part of the System, Toothache and Pains in the Head and Face.

AS A BLOOD PURIFIER AND TONIC FOR THE STOMACH,

It seldom fails to cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Liver Complaint, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Kidney Complaints, Sick Headache, Piles, Asthma or Phthisic, Ringworms, Boils, Felons, Whitlows, Old Sores, Swelled Joints, and General Debility of the System.

IT IS ALSO A PROMPT AND SURE REMEDY

For Cramp or Pain in the Stomach, Painters' Colic, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Scalds, Burns, Sprains, Bruises, Frost Bites, Chilblains, as well as the Stings of Insects, and the Bites of Poisonous Insects and Venomous Reptiles.

☞ Directions accompany each bottle.

It has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to civilization. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the Missionary, and no traveller should be without it. Like every other good thing, the Pain Killer has been extensively counterfeited; which, (while it is an acknowledgment on the part of the counterfeiters of its real worth) is a serious hindrance to its usefulness as the deceived purchaser estimates the value of the Pain Killer by the base compound he has purchased for the genuine article.

Purchasers should be careful and not allow the dealer to sell them worthless imitations, on which they realise a larger profit, but take only the Pain Killer and see that it is the genuine, bearing the signature of Perry Davis and Son upon the label.

The Pain Killer is sold at wholesale by Druggists and Medicine Dealers, and Commission Merchants in the principal cities, and retailed by Apothecaries, Grocers, and at Variety Shops generally throughout the world.
