TELEGRAPHS.

[illegible] principle of the success of a [illegible] communication is, [illegible] greatest advantage in [illegible] over postal communication. [illegible] country, like Belgium for in[illegible] advantage is of necessity much [illegible] and much less worth paying [illegible] large country, where in many [illegible] two days must elapse be[illegible] dispatch and the delivery of a [illegible] other things being equal, there[illegible] entitled to expect that the [illegible] proceed from part to [illegible] Britain should far exceed, in [illegible] to the number of letters, those [illegible] over the wires of the two little [illegible] in point of telegraphy—[illegible] and Switzerland. The expecta[illegible] reckoned when we reflect on the [illegible] commercial development and super[illegible] of industrial pursuits and of [illegible] and social intercourse in this [illegible] The nothing however, are in[illegible] in the retrospect—[illegible] discouraging in the [illegible] of the telegrams passing [illegible] bearing, as they should, [illegible] to the letters, they [illegible] of the three countries, [illegible] year 1863, when the Bel[illegible] France and a half (say [illegible] words, the Swiss one [illegible] the English varying from [illegible] to three or four, according to [illegible] being on the average [illegible] than the Belgian. In Swit[illegible] inland telegram was sent for [illegible] inland letters; but in Great [illegible] one telegram for every 221 in[illegible] and in the figures for Great [illegible] embraced all the international [illegible] inland telegrams, the deduc[illegible] would make the case much [illegible]

[illegible] instruments of our telegraphic [illegible] in point of price and practice, were [illegible] completely to annul the stimulating [illegible] action of one country and the [illegible] and energies of our industries. [illegible] of 1863, the Belgian inland [illegible] increased from one and a half to [illegible] and mark the instant and vast [illegible] of the telegraphic intercourse. [illegible] the proportion of tele[illegible] letters increased in that year [illegible] one to 80 to one to 74, and in [illegible] from one to 221 to one to 197, [illegible] Belgium from one to 187 to one [illegible] that is, it nearly doubled. In 1864, [illegible] proportion in Belgium was one to 88, [illegible] to 79 in Switzerland, and one [illegible] Great Britain; and in 1865 the [illegible] in Belgium had trebled, while [illegible] Britain it had barely doubled, [illegible] There came another bold but [illegible] reduction in Belgium—from a [illegible] to a franc; and this in 1866 ex[illegible] doubled the proportion of 1865 of tele[illegible] letters, making it one to 37, while [illegible] Britain it had only increased to [illegible] telegram for every thirty-two letters—[illegible] four times the proportion in the [illegible] Kingdom, even counting all tele[illegible] in the latter case and only the in[illegible] telegrams in the former. The lesson [illegible] be derived from these figures is very [illegible]; cheapness and good management [illegible] gives the telegraphic communication [illegible] Belgium a development that, but for [illegible] and bad management here, would [illegible] as we expect that the annual [illegible] of messages over the wires wish[illegible] should be at least twenty [illegible] of only five or six.

[illegible] price has this prosperity of [illegible] to be considered merely [illegible] for or more as the index [illegible] it gives in every [illegible] of social life—[illegible] At precisely [illegible] the prosperity of [illegible] that it represents, has [illegible] Great Britain—by [illegible] and that not for [illegible] the public good. [illegible] unification, in fact, [illegible] monopoly in the hands [illegible] of shareholders, that [illegible] (otherwise than by [illegible] compensated) by a return [illegible] of which we so much [illegible] of wasteful [illegible] multiplication, [illegible] supplied and imper[illegible] unwillingness to ac[illegible] the profits of the [illegible] thereby run any risk [illegible] being kept stationary, [illegible] and destructive diversity of [illegible] and the proposed deposit [illegible] management in the imperial [illegible] there does [illegible] any sound or secure [illegible] monopoly that in these [illegible] to be abused, is a [illegible] experience has shown [illegible] are not nearly so [illegible] demands, nor so sensitive to public censures, as the Government. Such, at any rate, has been convincingly the case with the sole Government monopoly—the Post Office; and it is to the Post Office that it is now proposed to transfer the telegraphs. The advantage of such a transfer over the establishment of a separate telegraph department, are too obvious to be dilated on. The confidence which is universally felt in the probity and efficiency of the administration of the Post Office is not the least of these advantages. Then, that department already possesses an elaborate and all-reaching organization, penetrating into the remotest corners of the country, possessing buildings in every village, and embracing a staff of servants chosen from the class from which good telegraphists are made—servants on the whole but lightly burdened with their present duties, able to give part of a day's work without a whole day's wages, trained to habits of accuracy and tested in their integrity, and already conversant with part of the actual business of their new duties, the character of the whole of which is so closely akin to that of their familiar work. In fact, few practical proposals so eminently accord with the fitness of things, so that the written communications of the country should thus be concentrated in the hands of a single class of public servants—rendering according to need, or in supplement to each other, the services of the post or the telegraph—and able to supplement and correct the work of each service by the aid of the other. Such an improvement on the present condition of things telegraphic—a delightful vision to the public that has starved or suffered so long—is now within our reach; the Government is pledged to bring in a Bill on the subject; and whatever innocents may perish before the close of the session, this measure at least must escape the general slaughter.—Scotsman, March 17.

THE KUK-KLUX KLAN.

All at once, with the suddeness of a midsummer thunderstorm, there has arrisen at the South and overspread the whole political sky of that quarter, a dark cloud that threatens a dangerous disturbance of the elements of society. A mysterious secret organization, known as the Kuk Klux Klan, has extended its affiliations everywhere throughout the States lately in rebellion, and has, here and there, signalized its active existence by deeds of blood. Its first manifestations were absurd but harmless; and consisted of mystical placards, with images of death, the skull and bones, gibbets, coffins, and pictures of horrible suppers, like the banquet at the Negroni Palace in the opera of Lucrezia Borgia, imprinted thereon; which placards, posted up by night in the Southern cities, and at lonely country cross-roads, inspired superstitious people with an undefined but not less real terror. The negroes were supposed to be impressed by those handbills with a wholesome awe in direct ratio with their ignorance; and, the more powerfully to affect their excitable imaginations, ingenious stories were circulated of a monster that went prowling through the country from "the Cheerless Cave of the K. K. K.," to feed on the freedman's flesh. The members of the new fellowship met in obscure apartments at midnight, were sworn with dreadful oaths to mortal secresy, were known to each other by grips and passwords, and sometimes appeared in disguise to affright a belated wayfarer. More recently, however, the absurdities of the Kuk-Klux Klan have given place to acts of lawlessness and violence, and their diablerie has had in it less of the merryandrew and more of the assassin. In Georgia, we are told, a citizen has been murdered in his bedroom in cold blood by a gang of these K. K.K.'s. And so little doubt seems to exist in the minds of the men in authority at the South that the purposes of the new society are treasonable and revolutionary, as well as inconsistent with the security of life, that Generals Thomas and Meade have taken official notice of their proceedings, and given warning to Southern newspapers that no encouragement of them in the columns of the press will hereafter be permitted. Indeed the latter officer, who is of neither a vindictive nor an excitable temper, has declared that if indiscriminate shooting is to be inaugurated by this desperate camarilla, he intends that the army of the United States shall have a trigger to pull in it. This unquestionably has a serious and menacing look. As long as the Kuk-Klux Klan was denounced only in the violent messages of Governor Brownlow, we might afford to treat their threats as brutum fulmen and the accounts of their outrages as raw-head-and-bloody-bones; but when they come to be regarded by General Meade as worthy of his official interposition, we can no longer doubt that the movement has mischief in it.

It is deeply to be regretted that disaffection at the South should organize itself in a manner which calls for its suppression by the strong arm of power. The Kuk-Kluk-lan had its origin in Eastern Tennessee, where a terrorism has existed, and been maintained by Brownlow's own personal influence, since the beginning of the war; and the secresy, which was a necessity of its very existence in the place of its birth, was retained elsewhere as a convenient mask for operations that might have been interrupted by authority had they been carried on in the light of day. It objects were political, and its workings in the dark were but a countermine to the mining of secret negro societies which had already been called into existence.—Every Afternoon.

The lower Mississippi river is steadily rising. A crevasse is said to be threatened on the west bank, by which the entire sugar-planting country known as Acadia, in Louisiana, will be inundated.

LOOK OUT FOR COUNTERFEITS.—The London Advertiser says: "A number of counterfeit 5's on the Bank of Montreal are in circulation throughout the city, and as a general thing pass readily, the bank employees alone detecting the fraud. Several were to-day rejected by them, and the holders in this way made aware for the first time of the true character of these notes. The imitation is a dangerous one, though readily detected by experienced hands. The paper upon which it is printed is of poor quality—so much inferior to that of the genuine bill that the difference is at once noticeable on comparison. The bill assumes to have been issued at Ottawa, Aug. 1, 1864. We advise people to be on the lookout for them.

TESTIMONIAL
From Sig. Carlo Mora, Professor of Music, Kingston:

HAVING had ample opportunity of testing Mr Reyner & Son's Tuning and Repairing of Pianofortes, &c., since I have been in Kingston, I heartily recommend them to all those having Instruments to tune or repair, and would further advise those that have Instruments that are not in good order, to give them a call at once, as delay will only occasion more work and money when it is done.
SIG. CARLO MORA,
Professor of Music,
Kingston.

FROM MR RIDDELL.

MR REYNER has recently re-covered the Hammers of the Pianoforte used in my family with the new improved patent leather, and otherwise repaired it. He has also tuned it, and it is altogether much improved, the quality of the tone being greatly better than before the Instrument was put into his hands. I shall certainly continue to keep the piano under his charge for the future.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS
AND
HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.
THE GREATEST REMEDIES FOR ALL DISEASES OF THE Liver, Stomach, or Digestive Organs.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS

Is composed of the pure juice (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs, and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, &c., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters

Those who have no objection to the combination of the Bitters, as stated, will use

Hoofland's German Tonic.

They are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues, the choice between the two being a mere matter of taste, the Tonic being the most palatable.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to become deranged. The Liver, sympathizing as closely as it does with the Stomach, then becomes affected, the result of which is that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and the Great Depression of Spirits.

The sufferer from these diseases should exercise the greatest caution in the selection of a remedy for his case, purchasing only that which he is assured from his investigations and inquiries possesses true merit, is skilfully compounded, is free from injurious ingredients, and has established for itself a reputation for the cure of these diseases. In this connection we would submit those well-known remedies—

Hoofland's German Bitters,
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic
PREPARED BY Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
Philadelphia, Pa.

Twenty-two years since they were first introduced into this country from Germany during which time they have undoubtedly performed more cures, and benefited suffering humanity to a greater extent, than any other remedies known to the public.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever, PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, &c.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone of vigor is imparted to the whole system, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach [illegible] digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a healthy bloom is given to the cheeks and the [illegible] and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

PERSONS ADVANCED IN LIFE,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the Tonic, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

Testimonials.

HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD,
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes:
Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.
"I find, Hoofland's German Bitters is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,
GEO. W. WOODWARD."

HON. JAMES THOMPSON,
Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania
Philadelphia, April 28th, 1866.
"I consider "Hoofland's German Bitters" a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience in it. Yours, with respect,
JAMES JOHNSTON."

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D.,
Pastor to the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.
Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir: I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I have in all cases declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail, but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.
Yours, very respectfully,
J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

FROM REV. E. D. FENDALL,
Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philada.
I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver.
Yours truly,
E. D. FENDALL.
