HUSBAND AND CHILDREN FINDER

Just about the time we think that electronic gadgets inventing has slowed down, out comes another idea. This one is an electronic 'gizmo' that is attached to livestock, and periodically transmits a beep sound to the receiver in the farmer's dwelling, letting him know where his herds are. This idea ought to go well in the vast plains and valleys of our western states.

Maybe we'll stock this item at CUSTOM TV. You could use it as a husband and children finder. Just think of the possibilities; you could sneak it in the lining of a coat, and keep a pretty good check on a person's meanderings.

We'll include this 'gizmo' in our line with television, radio, hi-fi and so on. Phone EV 5-3757 for prompt and guaranteed services.
