guest of honor at both an afternoon and — evening reception on his birthday. He greeted and talked with more than 120 guests consisting of relatives, neighbors and friends. Those present included his niece, Ethel Owen, the daughter of the late Oliver N. Owen of Mc Henry. Miss Owen now lives in Carmel, California with Miss Bea May Small, a former Mc Henry schoolteacher. Also present from Mc Henry were Harold (Pat) Owen and his wife Rebalee. He was the son of the late Charles S. Owen who was born in the Owen house in 1863. In addition to "Uncle Ed's" daughter Edwina, who acted as hostess, was his older daughter, Genevieve Owen Chamberlain, acting as co-hostess. Edwina's daughter Elizabeth, and her family attended, as did Genevieve's daughter, Ann and family, and her son, Dr. Owen Chamberlain, the distinguished Nobel Prize winner in Physics in 1959 who was present with his wife Babette and their two daughters and son.

At 100 years "Uncle Ed" makes but few concessions to those years. He uses no cane, is extremely active physically, reads a great deal, is an interesting and witty conversationalist, and a devoted
