USEFUL PLANTS.

Botanists, according to the researches of German botanist, nearly reach the number of twelve thousand of the vegetable kingdom in common use. This specification includes 4,000 varieties to which uses have not been accounted for, the number, more probably, is a fairer one. There are 1,350 varieties of fruits, berries and seeds, 108 cereals, 60 vegetables and salads, 40 of 660 varieties of arrowroot, 32 varieties of sugar. Various different kinds of sugars. Various are obtained from 200 plants, and coffee and 120 for tea. Tannin is in 146 plants, caoutchouc in 96, gum in 7, rosin and balsamic gums in 10, and grease and essential oil in 88 plants contain potash, soda in 450 contain dyes, 47 sap, 260 fibres, 44 fibres used in paper, 48 give roofing materials, and are employed for hurdles and copses. Of 670 plants are used, and there are 70 poisonous plants. Out of 278 natural families of plants, there are species for which no use has yet been discovered.

CANADIAN BUTTER AND CHEESE.

For the last few years considerable attention has been given to the manufacture of cheese in this Province, and with what success the number of Factories in operation throughout the country will testify. Nearly all the cheese consumed in Britain is imported from the United States, but now it is otherwise; and no doubt the demand will keep pace with the rapid establishing of cheese factories. In different parts of the Province, has been successful, yet it is highly probable that they will eventually succeed in lessen the quantity of butter, in order to guard against the scarcity of an article of such prime quality, it would be well for our farmers to consider the practicability of establishing factories independent of those for manufacturing cheese; or, making butter could be combined with that of cheese, a alteration in the buildings which would also increase the profits arising from it. The principal reason why butter has not commanded a ready sale in foreign markets is that not enough care is shown in its manufacture, and a large quantity is rendered rancid and unpalatable. This evil would be remedied if factories could be arranged so that the milk could be used to advantage. The milk would be partially skimmed, and a good article of skim cheese made suitable for home consumption. The superintendent of one of the Factories in Orange County, N. Y., states that from 14 quarts of milk, one pound of butter and two pounds of skim cheese are produced; and that from the quantity of milk three pounds of butter could only be made. The skim cheese sold four cents less than the other but the butter brought a much higher price, sufficient to make 46 cents clear profit on every 14 quarts. If this statement be true—and we have no reason to doubt it—it is clearly established that Dairies when judiciously managed are a source of profit. X. A. Willard, of Herkimer County, N. Y., writes to the Commissioner of Agriculture: "The advantages of butter from the associated Dairy system to private families are very great. It is part a uniform product of superior excellence is secured. Every appliance of science, or skill, or close attention to detail, is made to obtain is brought to bear on the manufacture, and prime uniformity follows as a result. If we assume that, in a neighbourhood of one hundred families, each was possessed of the skill and convenience of the factories, what a result would give the subject the close attention, there doubtless would be differences as to quality of product; but such a state of things rarely exists. In the factories are able to obtain a higher price, because it costs the dealer no more to purchase of the one hundred than of the one family, than it would of an individual dairy, and the uniformity and reputation of the product do not entail the losses that are constantly occurring in different lots on account of inferior quality. The factories, too, relieve the farmer's wives of a great deal of drudgery, and unless the work is to be done by employed persons at other labour, or about make at the factory; since what would employ a village, lands scattered over the country, is performed in the same time by three or four when the milk is worked up together at one place." The secret in butter making consists in—securing rich, clean, healthy milk—an abundance on rich old pastures, free of dust, setting the milk in a moist, cool atmosphere, and keeping it at a temperature of 60; the cream is then kept, proper management of churning, and working so as not to injure the grain, thorough and even incorporation of the salt, and packed in oaken firkins, and well made. Cleanliness in operations is of imperative consequence, judgment and experience in ripening the cream and working the butter of course be had.—Picton.

According to the London Times, the reception given on the occasion of the laying of the foundations of the new St. Thomas Hospital in London, was enthusiastic to a degree. It did the Premier receive a much less share of public approbation on the same occasion.

Lord Brougham, writing in a Paris journal, gives some anecdotes of Lord Brougham — Last night in the House of Lords, his lordship made a digression from a speech he was carried on during the Duke of Cumberland and Brunswick, to explain the word "illustrious," which he said was that word conferred on princes by birth, "For instance, the royal duke who talks so loudly, we apply it in its primary and real sense, signifying whatever to deserve it, the illustrious duke whom his lordship is addressing."

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

For the rapid cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are its cures, that in almost every section of country are persons publicly known, who have been restored by it from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs incident to our climate.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.

NORTHROP & LYMAN, Newcastle, Wholesale Agents for Canada West.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who, for upwards of thirty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No MOTHER has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—TRY IT NOW.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co.,

Large Manufacturers of

GRAND OVERSTRUNG SQUARE

PIANOS,

Corner of King & Princess Streets,

KINGSTON, ONTARIO.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. announce to the Public that they are now in possession of facilities for manufacturing Pianos unsurpassed, if equalled, by any in the Dominion.

The members of the Firm are Practical Piano Makers, and are anxious to establish their success in manufacturing enterprise by careful workmanship rather than by mere speculation. They are able skilfully to superintend every department, and are prepared to guarantee every instrument they sell.

For strength of manufacture and materials, beauty of finish, and durability and excellence of tone, they challenge the Dominion to produce superior instruments; and while they claim for their work evesy excellence that can be expected from skillful and enterprising workmen, they beg to announce that their resources are sufficiently ample to enable them to compete in prices with any speculator in Pianos.

The Subscribers keep no Travelling Agent. All orders addressed to the Subscribers, or sent through any respectable Music Dealer, will receive attention. Orders through mail will be attended to as if selected in person.

RAPPE, WEBER, & CO.

May 20.

A CARD.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. deem it unnecessary in their announcement above to notice the advertisement of their competitor, Mr F. C. Cline. They beg to inform the public that it was not the privilege of Mr Cline to retain all of the late J. C. Fox's workmen.

The Advertisers were selected by the late Mr Fox from the best establishments in New York (Steinway's, Sioddard's, Weber, Gabler, etc.)

After Mr Fox's death, and before Mr Cline's purchase of a part of Mr Fox's stock, Rappe, Weber & Co. had determined to go into business on their own account. As at present constituted, their establishment consists of four Proprietors every one of whom have been foremen, and their workmen who have been foremen; so that so far as the "chilling of workmen" (a novelty in language) is concerned, Rappe, Weber & Co. have the honour to announce that they made their selection before it was permitted to Mr Cline to make his. If Mr Cline was a practical Piano maker, it might be competent to him to remark upon the skill of other workmen; but as he is not, it may be well to remind him that the shoemaker should stick to his last.

The Advertisers do not press upon the public the merits of any Travelling Agent, and any person holding himself out as such may be treated as utterly unauthorized. Our Pianos are candidates for popular favour, and we have no doubt they will win it.
