INDIANS AND THE QUEEN'S PERSON.

The Post London says:—Very alarming rumors have been afloat for the last few days concerning the possibility of a Fenian attempt on the life of the Queen. The mere mention of such a crime was very strong last week, when Her Majesty laid the foundation stone of St. Thomas's Hospital, but it having been received by the authorities that an attempt to assassinate her was to be made as she crossed London bridge. The precautions taken by the chiefs at Scotland yard and the police office to prevent any such outrage as that threatened were of the most stringent character, not less than 5,000 policemen being on duty along the route taken by the Queen, and in and about the City. At least half of these were in plain clothes. We may hope that the letters which induced these precautions was the mere idle boast. At any rate the most conspicuous circumstance observed on the day was the presence in the crowd assembled to see the Queen pass, of a number of the Golden Square Fenians. Long before Her Majesty went down Regent street, the same rumors were floating about, produced by the same cause, and precautions were taken throughout the journey. By this time, however, it is said at Balmoral, and stories to the effect, there has been no foundation for the information received by the police.

[illegible] PILLS.—The British Medical Journal says—Dr. Shortt is expected to arrive here from India, bringing with him about a dozen and a half of the Indian pills, Mutrul and Koravas. Some of them intended as a present to the Zoological Society's Gardens in Regent's Park. The largest species, known as the Koravas, grow to upwards of an inch in length, and if they succeed in what will make a capital addition to the lakes and canals. The smaller species, pisciphagus packuna, will perhaps be more interesting than useful, as they grow to about one foot in length. Care has been taken to accustom them to close confinement before shipping them in tubs. Dr. Day is said to have come to the conclusion that they live and direct from the atmosphere, as he finds life in solution in the water in which they live."

The Glasgow Citizen, speaking of the magnificent grant of £120,000 towards the new University buildings, Gillmore Gardens, says: "The munificent grant secures a speedy and satisfactory completion of a scheme of national importance—the total cost of which, including the site the finest in the environs of the city, will not be under £400,000. The deficit is now reduced to some £30,000 or £40,000, which will doubtless speedily be forthcoming—the nobility and gentry of Glasgow and the neighbouring counties have, equally with our own merchant princes, interested in carrying down to the posterity the character and renown of our ancient university. We believe that a great deal, if not fully warranted by what is announcing that Her Majesty the Queen, on her autumnal visit to Scotland, may be induced to pay the collegians and citizens the greatly honour of diverging from the usual route in order to lay the foundation stone of these magnificent buildings."

HOW BUSINESS.—A large number of Scotsmen have been victimised by a "lady," who have been lodgings in Grove street. One pretended to be an invalid, and always went about in a bath chair; the other was much younger, and represented herself to be the "Miss T." During their stay in Kingston the latter dispensed her favours liberally among the tradespeople, the bills owing vary from £5 to £30, the total amount of the debts is said to be over £200. It is stated that the "young Miss T——" was somewhat fastidious in her tastes, and occasionally goods had to be procured specially from Montreal, those in stock not being good enough. She was jolly like in her manners, and succeeded in impressing her friends with the notion that her social position was beyond question. In one instance she called upon a tradesman, and expressed deep sympathy for him on account of a heavy pecuniary loss he had recently sustained, and said how desirous she was of assisting him as far as lay in her power. She then took several orders for goods, which she said were for her own use, and left, promising to call on her way back to pay for them. The tradesman, however, has not yet seen her since, and has ascertained that she is not the Miss T——, but a young married lady, who is at present residing in Montreal. The tradesman has been to Montreal, but the parties had gone on to Quebec, and instructions were given to be watched and followed. It is supposed they have taken with them a large portion of their property.

MAGDALA.—"What are they doing in Abyssinia, Robert the noo, for a' his bluster?" "Troth, John, I think they'll make him a peer." "Hoots, man, what's that?" "Sure the Queen can mak' a man a peer, man, wad ye no' she can?" "Ay, wad she, man, wad she mak' him a' the lords that ever lived, man?"—Scotsman.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are its cures, that in almost every section of country are persons publicly known, who have been restored by it from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs. When once tried, its superiority over every other expectorant is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs incident to our climate.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by all Druggists and dealers in medicine everywhere.

Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who, for upwards of thirty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No mother has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—TRY IT NOW.—Ladies' Union. New York City.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. announce to the Public that they are now in possession of facilities for manufacturing Pianos unsurpassed, if equalled, by any in the Dominion.

The members of the Firm are Practical Piano Makers, and are anxious to establish their success in manufacturing enterprise by careful workmanship rather than by mere speculation. They are able skilfully to superintend every department, and are prepared to guarantee every instrument they sell.

For strength of manufacture and materials, beauty of finish, and durability and excellence of tone, they challenge the Dominion to produce superior instruments; and while they claim for their work every excellence that can be expected from skilful and enterprising workmen, they beg to announce that their resources are sufficiently ample to enable them to compete in prices with any speculator in Pianos.

The Subscribers keep no Travelling Agent. All orders addressed to the Subscribers, or sent through any respectable Music Dealer, will receive attention. Orders through mail will be attended to as if selected in person

A CARD.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. deem it unnecessary in their announcement above to notice the advertisement of their competitor, Mr F. C. Cline. They beg to inform the public that it was not the privilege of Mr Cline to retain all of the late J. C. Fox's workmen.

The Advertisers were selected by the late Mr Fox from the best establishments in New York, (Steinway's, Stoddard's, Weber, Gabler, etc.)

After Mr Fox's death, and before Mr Cline's purchase of a part of Mr Fox's stock, Rappe, Weber & Co. had determined to go into business on their own account. As at present constituted, their establishment consists of four Proprietors, every one of whom have been foremen, and their workmen who have been foremen; so that so far as the "culling of workmen" (a novelty in language) is concerned, Rappe, Weber & Co. have the honour to announce that they made their selection before it was permitted to Mr Cline to make his. If Mr Cline was a practical Piano maker, it might be competent to him to remark upon the skill of other workmen; but as he is not, it may be well to remind him that the shoemaker should stick to his last.

The Advertisers do not press upon the public the merits of any Travelling Agent, and any person holding himself out as such may be treated as utterly unauthorized. Our Pianos are candidates for popular favour, and we have no doubt they will win it.
