RATTLESNAKE AND HIS MASTER.

Yesterday morning some workmen passing on the Railroad, some distance [illegible] came upon a milk snake about [illegible] long, which had been killed by [illegible] passing over and crushing its [illegible] It took it up and examined it, [illegible] sure that the reptile must [illegible] dead or gorged, before he would [illegible] a hand near to take such a [illegible] him. While they were handling it a peculiar something protruded from the mouth and looking closer [illegible] that it was the tail and rattles [illegible] the rattlesnake, the major portion of whose [illegible] was still inside the milk snake. [illegible] two or three inches of the [illegible] to make sure that he was all [illegible] then presented their prize to [illegible] who brought it into town and [illegible] the new Merchants Exchange, [illegible] much attention throughout [illegible] The milk snake is a harmless [illegible] and in consideration of the fact [illegible] his antipathy to rattlesnakes, [illegible] is not going too far to say that [illegible] is a beneficent one. He will [illegible] rattler and being more nimble [illegible] antagonist, seizes him by the [illegible] and then winds his coils [illegible] tightening them in a method [illegible] coil he has squeezed the life [illegible] enemy. He then proceeds to [illegible] in a manner not altogether [illegible] certain tribes of the human [illegible] though the latter do not generally [illegible] on a grand scale as their scaly [illegible] having disposed of the rattle, which is about two feet long and [illegible] bulky, he of course was gorged, [illegible] into a torpid state, in which [illegible] would have remained until [illegible] his dinner had not the [illegible] assimilative organs.

GENERAL EDUCATION.

[illegible] whose name is familiar [illegible] manufacturer of fire-arms, has [illegible] an act of rare generosity. [illegible] made a munificent donation of [illegible] scholarships, of $500 yearly, to students [illegible] who combine practice with [illegible] and science who combine technical [illegible] with perfection in workmanship. [illegible] candidates must have a reasonable [illegible] elementary mathematics [illegible] mechanical geometry and [illegible] drawing and the power to use [illegible] tools. Apart from these indispensable conditions, candidates will be examined in higher mathematics, physics and chemistry, as well as in four prescribed [illegible] work, turning, [illegible] pattern and moulding. [illegible] is desirous that the successful competitors should be encouraged to [illegible] and the successful competitors should be aided in their [illegible] into machine shops [illegible] establishments. He, in common with many educated Englishmen [illegible] in manufacturing enterprise [illegible] the belief that—notwithstanding the superiority of English over [illegible] in former years—the foreigner has latterly been so schooled and [illegible] and brought such intellect, [illegible] into play, that he not only [illegible] in some instances, has usurped [illegible] which England was supposed [illegible] The various international exhibitions held in London and [illegible] Continental nations what [illegible] and technical knowledge could [illegible] The superiority of the islanders [illegible] month was then incontestable [illegible] intelligence, severe training [illegible] of art, and great energy on [illegible] Belgian and French manufacturers [illegible] effected that superiority, and [illegible] well-founded alarm, while Mr [illegible] admits that—unless the [illegible] continue science and technical [illegible] and a familiarity with the management [illegible] of metals, besides being imbued [illegible] for the fine arts—England may [illegible] her favourite fields of industry. [illegible] seeks to revive a sentiment [illegible] when labour, some thought [illegible] was deemed no dishonour. [illegible] We are told in the Talmud that the [illegible] dignity the scholar could reach [illegible] organized to artizans engaged in [illegible] trades, that the Chinese, from [illegible] the idea of competitive examination [illegible] have borrowed great learning and [illegible] forms of industry were combined [illegible] It would be shocking to suppose that [illegible] skill has deteriorated in [illegible] On the contrary, there has been [illegible] progress, in this age of luxury, the natural offspring of the civilization of the [illegible] the lively imagination of the Greeks, under scientific training has developed artists whose productions reveal elementary grace [illegible] beauty. Schools of design have been organized in Great Britain to meet this [illegible] form of competition, and Mr Whitworth's thirty scholarships of $500 each are intended to foster those institutions by offering attractive prizes. But [illegible] have little power to direct courses of a capital which in England yields a revenue equivalent to [illegible] per year, and fewer still who have [illegible] ability to donate so princely a [illegible]

[illegible] IN NEW YORK.—The President of the Boston "Journal" [illegible] The splendid mercantile palaces [illegible] place flame with handbills, [illegible] The dry goods men for whom [illegible] would have taken the line of [illegible] These palaces rented for [illegible] $50,000 a year. No class [illegible] afford these rents. The landlords [illegible] not willing to receive what is offered [illegible] the buildings stand like gaunt [illegible] of dull times. Two years ago [illegible] could not buy a bill of goods one [illegible] having them rise on their [illegible] Then rents were of no [illegible] Now dry goods are falling every [illegible] men must curtail their expenses or [illegible] on Broadway have many [illegible] down to sixteen. Who is Mrs. Winslow?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who, for upwards of thirty years, has untiringly devoted her time and talents as a female Physician and nurse, principally among children. She has especially studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup for children teething. It operates like magic—giving rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do RISE UP and bless her, especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and unite in calling her blessed. No MOTHER has discharged her duty to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—TRY IT. NOW.—Ladies' Home Journal, New York City.

Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Be sure and call for

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co.,

Large Manufacturers of

GRAND OVERSTRUNG SQUARE

PIANOS,

Corner of King & Princess Streets

KINGSTON, ONTARIO.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. announce to the Public that they are now in possession of facilities for manufacturing Pianos unsurpassed, if equalled, by any in the Dominion.

The members of the Firm are Practical Piano Makers, and are anxious to establish their success in manufacturing enterprise by careful workmanship rather than by mere speculation. They are able skilfully to superintend every department, and are prepared to guarantee every instrument they sell.

For strength of manufacture and materials, beauty of finish, and durability and excellence of tone, they challenge the Dominion to produce superior instruments; and while they claim for their work every excellence that can be expected from skillful and enterprising workmen, they beg to announce that their resources are sufficiently ample to enable them to compete in prices with any speculator in Pianos.

The Subscribers keep no Travelling Agent. All orders addressed to the Subscribers, or sent through any respectable Music Dealer, will receive attention. Orders through mail will be attended to as if selected in person.

RAPPE, WEBER, & CO.

A CARD.

RAPPE, WEBER, & Co. deem it unnecessary in their announcement above to notice the advertisement of their competitor, Mr F. C. Cline. They beg to inform the public that it was not the privilege of Mr Cline to retain all of the late J. C. Fox's workmen.

The Advertisers were selected by the late Mr. Fox from the best establishments in New York, (Steinway's, Stoddard's, Weber, Gabler, etc.)

After Mr Fox's death, and before Mr Cline's purchase of a part of Mr Fox's stock, Rappe, Weber & Co. had determined to go into business on their own account. As at present constituted, their establishment consists of four Proprietors, every one of whom have been foremen, and their workmen who have been foremen; so that so far as the "culling of workmen" (a novelty in language) is concerned, Rappe, Weber & Co. have the honour to announce that they made their selection before it was permitted to Mr Cline to make his. If Mr Cline was a practical Piano maker, it might be competent to him to remark upon the skill of other workmen; but as he is not, it may be well to remind him that the shoemaker should stick to his last.

The Advertisers do not press upon the public the merits of any Travelling Agent, and any person holding himself out as such may be treated as utterly unauthorized. Our Pianos are candidates for popular favour, and we have no doubt they will win it
