HAD THE TEACHER GUESSING

Small Wonder That She Didn't Understand, but There It Was in the Book.

Georgie surveyed with puzzled eyes a sentence in his reading lesson. At last he raised his hand:

"Well, Georgie, what is it?" asked the teacher.

"What is a feebly, Miss Smith?"

"A feebly!" repeated Miss Smith, in astonished tones. "What do you mean, Georgie? Feebly is an adverb, not a noun."

Georgie was unconvinced. "It's something that grows," he said. "It says so here."

"Bring me your book," said the mystified teacher.

Whereupon Georgie complied and laboriously read out the sentence:

"The man—had a feebly—growing down—on—his chin."

THE TRIALS OF A HOUSEWIFE

How They Have Been Endured and How Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Providence Woman

Providence, R. I.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for a female trouble and backache. It began just after my baby was born, and I did the best I could about getting my work done, but I had awful bearing-down pains so I could not stand on my feet. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the good it was doing other women, and I have got dandy results from it and will always recommend it. You can use these facts as a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HERBERT L. CASSEN, 18 Meni Court, Providence, R. I.

Ohio woman for three years could hardly keep about and do her housework she was so ill Made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound:

Fayette, O.—"For about three years I was very nervous and had backache, sideache, dragging-down pains, could not sleep at night, and had no appetite. At times I could hardly do my housework. I got medicine from the doctor but it did not help me. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in a newspaper and took it with good results, and am now able to do my housework. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you may publish my testimonial."—Mrs. CHESTER A. BALL, R. 15, Fayette, Ohio.

An Illinois woman relates her experience:

Bloomington, Ill.—"I was never very strong and female trouble kept me so weak I had no interest in my housework. I had such a backache I could not cook a meal or sweep a room without raging with pain. Rubbing my back with alcohol sometimes eased the pain for a few hours, but did not stop it. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and six bottles of it have made me as strong and healthy as any woman; and I give my thanks to it for my health."—Mrs. J. A. MCQUITTY, 610 W. Walnut St., Bloomington, Ill.

The conditions described by Mrs. Cassen, Mrs. Ball, and Mrs. McQuitty will appeal to many women who struggle on with their daily tasks in just such conditions—in fact, it is said that the tragedy in the lives of some women is almost beyond belief. Day in and day out they slave in their homes for their families—and beside the daily routine of housework, often make clothes for themselves and for their children, or work in their gardens, all the while suffering from those awful bearing-down pains, backache, headaches, nervousness, the blues, and troubles which sap the very foundation of life until there comes a time when nature gives out and an operation seems inevitable. If such women would only profit by the experience of these three women, and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the natural restorative for such conditions it may save them years of suffering and unhappiness.

There is hardly a neighborhood in any town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been restored to health by this famous medicine. Therefore ask your neighbor, and you will find in a great many cases that at some time or other she, too, has been benefited by taking it, and will recommend it to you. For more than forty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring suffering women to health and strength.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

"Playin' cards, an' poker chips."

"I do; leastways the last few times I've used 'em they cleaned me proper."

Wrap in Favor as Paris Mode

Conspicuous Variety of Coats Provided by the French Creators of Fashions.

HUMPED-BACK CAPE NOVELTY

Garment Said to Be Designed After the Hindustan or Persian Priest's Robe—Has Peculiar Neck Effect.

From the standpoint of variety the coats of this season are a great success, observes a fashion writer. Wraps are more important than we expected them to be. For several months there has been considerable talk about the tailored suit and about its once more becoming the backbone of the American woman's wardrobe.

This movement has the indorsement of Paris, inasmuch as various great houses there gave tailored suits a prominent place in their collections. The early death of this child of fashion may be laid to the door of the smartly dressed woman who had thoroughly learned the advantages of a one-piece frock and good looking coat over a skirt of one material and blouse of another, which broke the lines of the figure at the waist and was anything but beautiful. Even the overblouse gave little assistance, as it was of contrasting material if not a contrasting color to the skirt and coat.

The Sensational Hump-Backed Cape of Black and Gold Lame With Flounces of Black Net Threaded With Black and Gold.

The leading American dressmaking houses report absolutely no demand for the tailored suit.

Although creators of styles may bring out startling new things, they are too clever to force them upon the public. There is a vast difference between creators of styles and makers of fashions, the former being the originators of the models that are brought out from which women may make their choice and the latter the woman who wears her clothes with such grace and charm that every other woman wants to copy them.

Humped-Back Cape Bizarre Novelty.

Designers and manufacturers, to be successful from a financial point of view, must make what women want, whether it is a new fashion or an old one. Consequently they have given unstinted attention to coats. There is an unlimited number of models as well as materials displayed. Beautiful crepe de chine coats and capes vie with those of soft satins and striking new worsteds.

Laces not only plain, but beautifully embroidered, play their part, as do wonderful trimmings of ribbons and silks. Huge rosettes on one coat illustrate a typical new coat trimming. This is Madeleine et Madeleine's new humped-back cape, said to be designed after the Hindustan or Persian priest's robe. This wrap is the sensational novelty of their collection. It is developed in black and gold lame, with deep flounces of black net threaded with black and gold to form a pattern on Brussels mesh similar to the new face veilings. These flounces are bordered by narrow flutings of the same embroidered net.

Encircling the body are five huge flower motifs, in rose pattern, developed in a cotton ribbon, hand painted in water colors to simulate faded tea rose shades. These ornaments are distinctly like a padded applique standing away about half an inch.

The peculiar neck effect in this wrap, which is a distinctly new feature, is obtained by a framelike support or lining which holds it to the back. It in no way separates the collar, but continues with the drapery of the coat. Mlle. Madeleine, who designed the coat, claims that it is suitable for all types of figures, and will give a more slender line to the stout woman than the ordinary collar. Through an inside support the material forming the wrap flares down from a rounding shelflike extension, and, once the folds of the material leave the neck, it is a fact that they do fall perfectly straight, so that there is absolutely no curve of the figure at the center back. The head and neck of the wearer seem to fit into this groovelike space formed by the collar foundation. It is most eccentric, but, one must admit, interesting. It has a name of its own—Seindia.

Blue Serge Wrap Transparent Effect.

It is not only in the dressy wraps that one finds this collar of Madeleine et Madeleine, but also in more practical styles for day wear. The model known as Trou Trou, is an interesting example of the use of the hump collar in connection with a waist-length cape, showing that it is equally well adapted for the more simple form of wrap.

Another important and interesting feature in connection with this model is that, while the coat is developed in blue serge, it is given a transparent effect through the very elaborate open-pattern embroidery which shows a crepe georgette lining.

Puff Cape Is Great Success

Women will enjoy a blue serge coat which is not uncomfortable in its weight for summer. Attention is called to the fact that this model has the low-set kimono sleeves characteristic of so many of the new spring coats.

Another novel idea in wraps, presented with great success by Madeleine et Madeleine, is the puff cape. They show this developed in a number of different materials.

One of the most attractive models, Kitah by name, which is made in a lovely dull rust red velours de laine of almost featherweight, elaborately embroidered in gold. This, too, is given a semitransparent effect by wonderful open work embroidery and through the interstices is revealed a gold lame underlay. The mantle itself is lined throughout with copper colored mousseline.

The silhouette given by this wrap is very interesting. The wearer appears to be girdled at the knees and closely enveloped above in a sort of cocoon-like wrapping. There are no arm holes and the cape is held snugly in at the front when worn. In spite of the puff, there is little look of fullness.

Madeleine et Madeleine also make a similar wrap in black taffeta, which matches a black taffeta dress. This model has double puffs and ends without a flounce, but has a knee encircling girdle at the bottom. Below this the dress continues in matching material.

French Doll Type Low Girdled Model.

This particular style of wrap, in combination with a dress designed to emphasize the silhouette, makes one of the novelties of the season. It divides the figure in a peculiar way on account of the very low girdling. Only about one fourth of the length is given over to what might be called the skirt, and the remainder is the body of the garment. In some way it recalls the outline of what is known as the low-waisted baby dress, so frequently seen on French dolls.

No Pockets, Need Handbag

Numerous Suitable Materials From Which to Construct the Necessary Convenience.

As pockets crowded with all the articles necessary to the woman who is engaged in business, who shops in the city stores, or who attends the theater, are taboo, some sort of handbag is most necessary.

For practical purposes one of leather, pin seal or walrus, with a metal or self-mounting is quite the thing. Suede, too, fashions a semitailored flat purse which, with its shell front and gold and enameled clasp, is quite smart enough for the most elaborate of suits.

For the more leisure hours a different kind of bag is shown. One is of rose taffeta and finished around the edges with rose bead balls. An attractive little case is of gold with a design in pale blue enamel work on the front. A tiny circular space for the monogram is cut out in the enamel so that the gold shows. It has a finely wrought gold chain which slips on over the finger.

A fascinating bag of silk is composed of three ruffles attached to a mounting of carved ivory suggestive of the Orient, while a small envelope purse is of black and white beaded strips worked in diagonal style. The fastening is of bright-green enamel.

Varied Hat Styles.

To attempt to describe the prevailing vogue in hats is next to impossible. Crowns and brims are high and low, narrow and wide. Trimmings are much as you desire to make them. Materials cover a wide range.

Lingerie.

Some of the latest materials used in lingerie are pussywillow taffeta and canton crepes. Initialed lingerie is the thing nowadays and some of the makers are giving their customers the choice of elaborate monograms.

CASTORIA

Special Care of Baby.

That Baby should have a bed of its own all are agreed. Yet it is more reasonable for an infant to sleep with grown-ups than to use a man's medicine in an attempt to regulate the delicate organism of that same infant. Either practice is to be shunned. Neither would be tolerated by specialists in children's diseases.

Your Physician will tell you that Baby's medicine must be prepared with even greater care than Baby's food.

A Baby's stomach when in good health is too often disarranged by improper food. Could you for a moment, then, think of giving to your ailing child anything but a medicine especially prepared for Infants and Children? Don't be deceived.

Make a mental note of this:—It is important, Mothers, that you should remember that to function well, the digestive organs of your Baby must receive special care. No Baby is so abnormal that the desired results may be had from the use of medicines primarily prepared for grown-ups.

Important to all Women Readers of this Paper

Thousands upon thousands of women have kidney or bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

You may suffer pain in the back, headache and loss of ambition.

Poor health makes you nervous, irritable and may be despondent; it makes any one so.

But hundreds of women claim that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, by restoring health to the kidneys, proved to be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Many send for a sample bottle to see what Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine, will do for them. By enclosing ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., you may receive sample size bottle by Parcel Post. You can purchase medium and large size bottles at all drug stores.—Adv.

BOY'S SUGGESTION ALL RIGHT

Thirteen-Year-Old Had Remembered What He Had Been Taught About Electricity.

The family washing was going through its regular Monday electric washer route. Incidentally the basement was damp, because there had been no furnace fire.

When the lady of the house started to wring the clothes she found an electric current in the water, due to a short circuit in the motor. After several attempts to wring the clothes before the current got in its work, she was about ready to give up and wring them by hand.

"Shucks, mom," said thirteen-year-old Harry, who knows all about Edison and Franklin, "I'll bet if you put on your rubbers, so the current can't go on out of your body you won't get a shock at all."

And when "mom" tried the suggestion she found the embryo electrician knew what he was talking about, for she worked in safety while wringing the rest of the clothes.

Sounds Like It.

"I wonder if Columbus had a press agent?"

"I doubt if there were any of them in his time."

"Perhaps not. Still, that story of Queen Isabella pawning her jewels to finance his expedition has all the earmarks."

AND SHE COULDN'T DENY IT

One Time That Mr. Hogg Scored on the Partner of His Joys and Sorrows.

Former Senator John W. Weeks was lately recalling some of the happy days of the long ago in Washington.

In those days, he said, there were such things as bars, and his friend Hirbutus Hogg, spent a great deal of his time on the fringe of the oases.

One night after an unusually long sojourn near his favorite bar, Mr. Hogg navigated painfully home and at last reached his bedroom. Mrs. Hogg was waiting for him.

"Hirbutus," she said, after a swift appraisal of his condition, "I am ashamed of you—utterly ashamed. You are a Hogg by name and a hog by nature."

"Yes, m'dear," replied the prodigal, meekly, "but even at that I have the advantage over you. You are a Hogg by name, but you became a Hogg by choice."—Exchange.

Somewhat Miffed.

"What do you think of that fellow? Had the audacity to have his secretary get me on the wire. I never talk except to principals. Why didn't he call me himself?"

"How do you know it was his secretary?"

"My secretary answered."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Natural Aptitude.

"What in your opinion makes the true diplomatist?"

"A true diplomatist has to think so quick and see so many different possibilities," said Senator Sorghum, "that I wouldn't undertake to define his qualities. You might as well ask me what makes a good poker player."
