RESPIRATION.—By letter or in person, the following questions are only asked of the undersigned, by persons who have bought his new medical work, "How deep should the well be dipped into the solution?" Answer—Dip as you would a pen into ink, and a dose of what remains on the quill. The quantity required is small, but the variation about is amplissimo—and the effects equally extensive. It should be rubbed hard, into the chest, back, and all the limbs and not body. When dense accumulations in the world his great discovery of vaccination, the learned doctors of his day, said it was a "fluke" and adopted his plan in a "Quack," "Impostor" and "Humbug." The enlightened is expecting to be assailed with similar bold epithets—but will be bounty to lessen the discovery of the Antiphlogistic Bath, like all arrests to and opposition to the more development of what always had existence in the mind of nature, was premature. ☞ Publishers who have inserted his advertisements are requested to copy this.

P. S.—Col. Wallace, the distinguished Editor of the Philadelphia Sun, says:

SIRS'S EDITOR OFF.—Among the numerous testimonies of sympathy for the loss of my Electric Oil, which I lost in the late accident, we are pleased to see that Dr. Smith has sent us the gratuitous supply of his Electric Oil, as well as his personal sympathy in behalf of himself and lady. The Doctor has a heart to feel and a hand to relieve. Such men are valuable, and such men deserve all the popularity they have attained.

An Invaluable Medicine.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.

Dr. Geo. B. Green.—Dear Sir: I write you note of this morning, to ask "Do you expression of my opinion in regard to your medicine called Oxygenated Bitters?" It affords me pleasure to state, that from my experience I have had, in curing a severe attack of Dyspepsia in my family, and from the wonderful effects which it has produced in other families, I have no hesitation in recommending it to the members of Congress with whom I am acquainted, I think it an invaluable medicine, and hope that such a valuable will be given to it as will bring it within the reach of all who are afflicted with that distressing malady.

Respectfully yours,
S. FOOTE.
