THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

APPROACHING TRIALS AT SWEETSBURGH.

REMOVAL OF THE ACCUSED FROM MONTREAL.

Sweetsburgh, C.E., Sunday, Dec. 2.

The Fenian prisoners who were captured during the raid on the Missisquoi frontier in June last arrived here this afternoon to be tried at a special term of the Court of Queen's Bench for the district of Bedford, which opens to-morrow, Judge Johnson presiding. They left Montreal by special train this morning at eight o'clock, under the charge of Mr. Fayette, governor of the Montreal jail, and an escort of thirty government police, armed with Spencer rifles, under command of Col. Ermatinger. The same train brought a strong volunteer detachment, furnished by the Montreal Royals and light infantry, commanded by Major Kenneth Campbell. Judge Johnson, Mr. K. Ramsay, who will conduct the Fenian cases for the Crown, Col. Osborne Smith, who will command the force stationed at Sweetsburgh during the trials, and a number of other official gentlemen, civil and military, also came by the train. At Granby the party were joined by a detachment of local volunteers.

At West Shefford station, which was reached about noon, teams were in waiting to convey the party and their baggage to Sweetsburgh, where all arrived safely about four o'clock. A crowd of some two hundred persons who had assembled in the village to see the prisoners arrive, conducted themselves with the utmost decorum, making no demonstration of any kind. The prisoners, sixteen in number, were handcuffed in pairs, four being in a waggon together under the charge of armed police men. With two or three exceptions they are all young lads averaging about eighteen years of age. They were comfortably dressed in new suits of clothes with comfortable overcoats, &c., with which the Canadian government had ordered them to be provided, as when captured they were for the most part wretchedly clad. A portion of this expense, however, was borne by a fund paid through the hands of Mr. Devlin, their counsel, for the same purpose. Their names are as follows: George Crawford, James Reardon, Thomas Smith, George Frederick Howard, Edward Gilgan, Fenton Holmes, Charles McGowan, Thomas Powers, Edgar Rogers, Cornelius Owens, Terence McDonald, Gustine Morrell, Michael Crowley, Edward Carroll, Daniel Cronin and Thomas Madden.

At the entrance to the Sweetsburgh jail Mr. Fayette transferred the prisoners from his custody to that of the sheriff of Bedford district.

The court opens at ten o'clock to-morrow. Messrs. Ramsay, Buchanan and Lanctot are engaged as counsel for the prosecution. Mr. D. Devlin, it is understood, will arrive to-morrow to appear as counsel for the defence.

The court will probably be engaged with a case of murder and two or three of larceny until the grand jury decide on the bills with reference to the Fenian prisoners.

Several local companies of volunteers arrived here in the course of the evening.

COBURG LIT UP WITH THE NEW ILLUMINATING GAS.

Coburg, Nov. 30.

Coburg is brilliantly lit up to-night with the new gas manufactured, according to Ensley's patent. Messrs. Moffatt & Ledyard, the assignees of the patent, have been using the gas here during the last fortnight, and the town has been partially lit with it while the necessary changes at the old gas works were in progress. To-night, however, is the first time the arrangements have been so far completed as to allow the true illuminating power of this gas to be tested, and it certainly appears to great advantage. The streets and shops are more brilliantly lighted than is the case in Toronto at nights; and even at Frasers woollen mills, one mile from the gas-house, the light given out is equal, if not superior, to that produced from coal gas.

This new gas is made from pine wood and bones, or any other vegetable or animal refuse matter, and since its introduction the lessees have reduced the price of gas here $1 per thousand feet. They do this although paying 75 per cent. more for the lease of the works than the former lessees, and feel confident of making it pay well.

Coburg is the first town in Canada lit by this new gas, and it has its light better and cheaper than any town or city in the Province.

The process of manufacture, exhibits many novelties interesting to the friends of progress. Gas and tar, turpentine, pyroligneous acid, liquid ammonia, and superphosphate of lime or animal charcoal, are all being produced at the same time and from the same material. All these valuable products are from articles comparatively worthless, such as pine stumps and bones, and the invention thus forms a very valuable as well as novel development of Canadian resources.

The new gas was tested to-night in the presence of several Toronto gentlemen, who came hither for that purpose. Not only can it be sold cheaper, but the works can be erected at much less cost. It is especially adapted to small towns.

ARTEMUS WARD IN LONDON.—The reception of Artemus Ward at Egyptian Hall was a great affair for what is called the 'silly season.' The room was crowded, and the Press and literary circles fully represented. People had read the various writings of Artemus, and had inevitably formed their idea of his personal appearance as a coarse, vulgar, eccentric, middle-aged showman of wax figgers, the loving husband of Betsy Jane, and father of twins. When the door opened, and there walked upon the stage a slender, hatchet-faced youth, in very fashionable evening dress, with every hair combed and curled, looking as if he had crossed the Atlantic in a patent bandbox, there was a loud, long, universal roar of laughter. Artemus was a success before a word was spoken. He made jokes, but the great 'gosh' was himself. It lasted through the lecture, and at every pause the audience laughed at the droll discrepancy between the real and imaginary Artemus.

GARIBALDI AND THE CRETANS.

Gen. Garibaldi has sent the following letter to the Cretan representatives:—

'Caprera, Oct. 28.

'Hail Greece! Hail. Italy's sister in genius, in glory, in misfortune, and in redemption. The crosses of our battle-fields bear a memento of more than one of the various sons of Greece fallen for us and our country, and to-day the families of those our brethren driven from these hearths and homes by the scimitar, wander about as beggars at the threshold of strangers, imploring the boon of a morsel of bread—And those who have been maimed by Turkish steel have they not suffered for a holy cause? Is Greek liberty less precious, less sacred, than that of other nations? Are the chains with which Islamism holds 20 millions of unhappy Christians in bondage less heavy? And we—slaves of yesterday—ought we not to hail the resurrection of a sister nation? Why does diplomacy grind its teeth at each paroxysm of a suffering people? No, beloved ones! It is again the old deception of peoples with their masters, disguised as autocrats, or masked as liberals, perverting the European system so that it can only be rectified by human butchery. We ought to extend our right hands to the fallen ones, and to the freedless people who fight against despotism. Hail, therefore, valorous sons of Greece! If we, who are still steeped in misery, cannot assist you as you deserve and as we ought, know at least that our hearts are rent at the knowledge of your sufferings, and rejoice at each of your triumphs.

(Signed) G. GARIBALDI.'

A NARROW ESCAPE FROM SHIPWRECK.—Dr. Alexander Lane, R. N., reports the narrow escape of the Royal Mail steamship China on her last return trip from Boston to England, with the Canadian Confederation delegates on board. The Flash light was made correctly, but the fog was dense and the night dark. About eleven o'clock one of the passengers—a Captain Daves, of Penzance, sang out, 'Land on the lee bow.' The officer of the watch being taken by surprise seemed undecided how to act, but ordered 'port helm,' and ran forward to look for the land. Capt. Daves called out 'hard-a-port,' and the ship answering to her helm admirably the terrible danger was avoided. It was found that the ship at the time the rock were discovered was not more that her length, 375 feet, from the rocks, and she was then going fourteen knots per hour under steam and sail. Capt. Daves refused to receive from the passengers any testimonial of acknowledgement, adding, 'I am thankful to God that our lives are saved, and with that I rest satisfied and thankful.' The rock on which the China was driven is called the 'Mizzen head.'—Western Morning News, Nov. 7.

STEPHENS SAID TO BE IN PARIS.

London, Dec. 1.

Queen Victoria and suite went to Wolverhampton to-day, where she took the chief part in the ceremony of unveiling a statue of Prince Albert. There were immense crowds of people present, who extended an enthusiastic welcome to the Queen.

The famous Miantonomah and six other vessels belonging to the United States navy are now riding at anchor in this harbor. It is ascertained, however, that they will sail in a few days, though their destination is unknown.

London, Dec. 1.

There is a vague rumor that the chief organizer, Stephens, has lately arrived in Paris and is now secreted there.

London, Dec. 1.

It is reported on good authority that Mr. Bigelow, the U. S. minister at Paris, recently read to Napoleon in person a very grave and decided despatch from Secretary Seward. This despatch, as the report goes, explicitly required France to fulfil by engagement she has entered into with regard to the Mexican question. The Emperor, however, made no reply.

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

On Saturday judgments were delivered in the Court of Queen's Bench in the cases of McMahon, Lynch and School and in the Common Pleas in the case of Slavin, on whose behalf applications for a new trial had been made by Mr. Kenneth McKenzie. All the judges agreed in refusing the application. We had hoped to have given the judgments in full to-day, but are prevented by the greed of the official reporters and their thorough unappreciation of the despatch which is required in conducting a live newspaper. We think we have a right to protest against these gentlemen, who now receive £500 a year each for doing very little, claiming a monopoly in the judgments of the court. If they are anxious to make a score or so of dollars out of us for making use of these judgments we do not care so much for that; but it is preposterous that we should have to wait a couple of days until by their slow process they have prepared copies for us. If the official reporters are legally justified in hampering the press in this way, we submit that the judges ought to interfere. These lazy officials—we mean the reporters, not the judges—are already sufficiently paid for the little work they do without sponging upon the newspapers, and they might learn a lesson that would be useful to them if they would but look on for a few hours and see the way our reporters do such work.—Leader.

INCREASE OF THE ARMY.

The London correspondent of a New York paper says that the measures for the increase of the British army have been decided upon. A conscription, or any approach to the Prussian system being impossible in England, greater inducements are to be offered to recruits in the length and conditions of service, pay and pensions. There will be two periods of enlistment, the first of twelve, the second of nine years—making together a service of twenty one years, which will entitle every soldier to a pension of eight pence a day. Camp and night service is to be lightened and other ameliorations made in the condition of the soldier.

STEPHENS SEEN IN BOSTON.

FRENCH CANADIANS RAMPANT.

New York, Dec. 2.

It was stated in the Fenian headquarters in this city yesterday that Head Centre Stephens has not yet left the country, having been seen in Boston. Large orders for breech-loading rifles have recently been given to manufacturers of arms in Boston. The arms are ostensibly intended for the Emperor of China.

New York, Dec. 2.—The second convention of French Canadians in the United States was held last evening at Clinton Hall. Resolutions condemning the policy and tyranny of England, her attempted encroachment on this country, and the aid given by her to our enemies, were unanimously adopted. THE FENIAN HEADQUARTERS AT NEW YORK.

STEPHENS WING REORGANIZED.

New York, Dec. 1.

The Herald's Dublin correspondent of Nov. 17th says: The wants and miseries of the inhabitants under British rule are set forth as constituting the exciting cause of a revolutionary outbreak which the writer seemed to anticipate.

Buffalo, Dec. 1.

The Stephens wing of the Fenians organized last evening. Money and arms were donated for the cause in Ireland. The Roberts Fenians present thought the most feasable word was an invasion of Canada, and opposed sending to Ireland, where they had no confidence of success at present. It was stated that officers of experience were required to send to Ireland. One man donated a horse and buggy worth $300. There is some feeling between the two wings, but it is kept down, and all seem animated with a desire to work in any way that the object can be obtained.

(From the Tribune.)

ARMS FOR IRELAND.

It is understood in Fenian circles that a vessel left outside of Sandy Hook at a late hour on Tuesday evening last, with 4,000 revolvers and 2,000 Enfield Rifles, for the Irish shores. The arms were conveyed to the vessel on a barge, and immediately after, about midnight, she was discovered bearing out, burning a green light, hull down on the Highlands of Neversink. The vessel was said to be a Philadelphia propeller, with her original name painted out, to avoid discovery and a tin sign, with the words, 'Young Republic,' covering the place where the original letters were painted. It is hinted that the Custom-House officials were, for certain reasons, blinded to the fact of the vessel's departure, while others assert that the vessel was bought for the purpose of bamboozling the Brotherhood and getting their funds.

ANOTHER INVASION OF CANADA.

A diversion in Canada is to be expected from what is going on at the Roberts head-quarters. Within the last ten days, orders have been received by President Roberts and Gen. Spear, for 8,000 uniforms, from the different circles; the money for such uniforms, in every instance, accompanying the order. Armories are busy fitting up rifles and burnishing sabres, and it is certain that all this preparation portends bloody work for some person or persons unknown. President Roberts is at his office from day to day, without any rest or cessation of labor, and it is known that a host of Canadian detectives are scattered throughout the city, endeavoring, but vainly, to ascertain the movements of Roberts and his Senate.

Mrs. John Morrissey, the lady of the member of Congress elect from the Fifth Congressional District of this city, gave her check for $1,500.

THE AUTHOR OF 'ECCE HOMO.'—The curiosity of the literary world to ascertain the authorship of that remarkable book, 'Ecce Homo,' has at last been gratified. The London Spectator announces his name as Mr. Seeley, Professor of Latin in London University, and son of Mr. Seeley, the Low Church publisher of Fleet street, himself also an author of some celebrity. Professor Seeley was a Cambridge Medallist in 1857.

TROUBLE WITH TURKEY.—A serious embroglio in our relations with the Divan has arisen, as follows: Sarkis Minasian, who has for many years acted as the resident agent in Turkey for the sale of Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co.'s medicines, driven by the increase of his business to a necessity for more room, built his warehouse in Constantinople several stories higher, after having obtained the necessary permit from the authorities. The imams of a neighboring mosque, which overlooked the premises demanded a large present in money which was refused. They then applied to the Grand Vizier, for the enforcement of an obsolete law, which had been disregarded two hundred years, requiring him to take down the building to eighteen feet, which was granted, and they commenced the work of demolition. Minasian then applied to the American Minister, who notified the Sublime Porte that American property could not be thus trifled with, and that the demolition must cease. Then commenced the usual course of Mussulman prevarication and promises, but no real redress. Finally Minister Morris informed them that if their depredations continued, he should order the U. S. ships of war to enter the Bosphorus and Messrs. Ayers' medical warehouse would not be alone roofless. A stroke of his pen could have laid the whole city under the sweep of American cannon, backed by men who are not schooled in the lessons of fear. This brought them to their senses and speedy redress. Minasian has now arrived in this country, to present the case to our State Department for indemnity. At length it is something to say among the peoples of the earth—'I am an American citizen!'—[Columbia Republican. 286
