SPEAKING of the forthcoming soldiers' re-union which is to come off at Diamond Lake, September 6th and 7th the Waukegan Gazette says: "It is proposed to have addresses, singing, instrumental music, boating, bathing, rifle practice, glass ball shooting and other amusements. The question of a soldiers' monument in Lake County is to be discussed, and, if possible, some plan agreed upon that will carry the project to a soccessful conclusion. The occasion promises to be certainly not less enjoyable than the re-unions of former years and as the location for the camp on the east bank of Diamond Lake is a delightful one, there is every reason to expect a large and enthusiastic gathering.

To tell the plain fact it was not a very dangerous place for birds around those prairies, but if they had been in Captain Tryon's cellar, it might have been different. The incidents of the day were many, but all will not bear repeating. For instance, we would not like to tell which one the party had the accident on the barb wire fence; nor about that other one who continually insisted that all the chickens were near the school house; nor about that gun that was discharged before we got out of the village in the THE new well, being dug at the morning; all these things are to mempickle factory of Cristy, Walker & Co. ory dear, but we're mum. SHORT BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCHES. Of Prominent Members of the South-worthglennon Combination, in Easy

Lessons for New Beginners. NO. 8,

Well, my son, it has been some time ince I told you about any of the Southworthglennon combination. Yes. The last one you told me about was the Abstractor. as was erroneously stated. Lwill give you a short lesson to night my boy, about the man who did not arrest the party of cock-fighters from Chicago at Crystal Lake.

Is he a prominent member of the combination? No, he's a sort of a hanger-on.

Well. I thought he looked as though he didn't amount to much anyway. wish you would tell me what this man had to do about the cock-fighting you spoke about.

Well, you see, my child, some time ago a party of very wicked men came from Chicago to Crystal Lake with a lot of fighting cocks and hired a hall and set them to fighting. The Sheriff of this county was notified of this disgraceful affair, and was called upon to go there and arrest these wicked men for breaking the law.

Did he go? Yes, my son, he summoned a posse of about twenty men, and proceeded to Crystal Lake with them. When he got to the depot he threw out his skirmishers and cautiously advanced on the works of the enemy, giving them a chance to hide every bird they had there before he got to the hall.

What did he do when he got to the hall? He first looked about him to see that his posse was well in hand, and then stepped inside the door and pompously exclaimed: "Gentlemen, I am the sheriff of McHenry County and I want this thing stopped." What did the "gentlemen" say then?

They coolly told him to go to h -lmean the hot place, my boy. Did he arrest them? Yes, he told them they might consider themselves under arrest while he went over to the hotel with the principals and fixed the matter up. Did they fix it up?

By the way the glasses jingled in the private conference room, my boy, it is supposed that they did.

What did he do then?

Well, you see, my hopeful, he went back to the hall and told some of the posse that they would all go home; that he had their word for it that they would not break the law any more.

How did the posse like that? They did not seem to like it my child, and thought the word of these vicked men did not amount to much, However, they were under orders and obeyed them.

Did the wicked men keep their word?

No, my son, for the posse had scarcely got out of sight, before these bad men proceeded with their brutal sport, Is this man a politician?

Comrades of the 95th, remember our Reunion is to be held at Woodstock Sept. 4th, next and it is especially necessary that you should be there with as many of your friends as can be induced to accompany you. Come prepared to take part in all the exercises of the day, and make it one long to be remembered. R. Peck, Burlington, Vt., has bought Fran Wrav's fine, black carriage horse, and will take it back to the Green Mountain State. It will be a good thing for the Vermonters to see a first class horse once in a while.

Wm, Besteder had a lively runaway Friday morning, when on the road to Richmond. The horse become frightened at some large stones which have lately been deposited beside the turnpike, opposite Thomas Thomson's We hear of another horse badly frightened by them. They ought to be removed.

So many parties are going to Twin Lakes now-a-days that it is hard to keep track of all of them. Picnic parties from the village are frequent, and the country for dozens of miles around contributes its quota to the pleasure seekers frequenting the lakes. Since the enlargement of Ackerman's hotel (or rather the building of an entirely new one) several hundred gnests can be accommodated there at a time.

To those who enjoy an evening dance, the party at the Culver House last Friday night was a delightful one. Everything which Mr. and Mrs. Culver could do to make their guests happy was done. And it was always so. Our most expressive words of praise could hardly do justice to the tables. Friday night. Everything about them was just perfect. We are glad to state that the number of tickets sold was large. Look out for the next party.

Remember the date of the McHenry County Fair, Sept. 12-15. As the time approaches, every man who has any thing worth exhibiting, should begin to make his preparations to go and take his exhibit. There is hardly a farm, or even a garden in the County that has not raised something worthy of being shown and that would add in terest to the fair. At most fairs a few Well, my boy, if continual hankering enterprising men make the greatest number of exhibits. This ought not to be so, for the success of the fair is of consequence to every man in the Yes, my child, and the time he was county, and every man should feel it that success, not only by his presence ever product he may have to the artiare offering an unprecedented array of attractions this year. Secretary Wright has exercised a sleepless ener gy in the interests of the fair and he ought to be rewarded by seeing such a crowd out as old McHenry never before witnessed.

GEMS FROM THE GAZETTE'S GRAM-MATICAL EDITOR:-"G. W. Eldredge and John McConnel have so far broken over the general custom as to put $5,000 into a pickle factory. It is built as solid as possible—just as the above mentioned men always are—well lighted with glass windows all around, so it will be a pleasant to work, and as a re sult better work will be done."

How far did Messrs Eldredge and McConnel have to travel in order to find that pickle factory? What did they put $5,000 into it for? Hadn't they any other place to store their by's. money? Again, can we believe that Messrs, Eldredge and McConnel are well lighted with glass windows all Owen & Son's. around!" Astonishing! If they are thus provided with windows, they are live curiosities. But how handy! If either one of them has a stomach ache he can just look through one of his windows and investigate the offend ing stomach! Happy Eldredge and McConnel! Or he might just shove up the window and take an extra cucumber or two from his stomach and stop the ache without anodyne or physic! Happy Eldredge and McConnel! But we don't see how the windows are going to make a buffoon of Mr. Eldredge "so it will be a pleasant to work." Consult your dictionary.

Would it not be a grand idea for those working on the road to make it a point to remove all loose stones high are hauled in with the gravel? Almost every hill is covered with them and they are only a nuisance. causing damage to the horses and vehicles and vexation to the persons therein. Either remove them or bury them.

In what manner did those "persons," get inside the horses? Did they crawl in, just for fun, or were they swallowed whole by the terocious horses? "Vexation!" We think so! But the last suggestion is kind. "Remove them or bury them." Almost any fellow inside a horse would naturally feel like being removed, if not buried. By a recent dispatch to a Chicago paper, we are informed that the Chiengo, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company will begin work on a connecting link of road from Elkhorn to Elgin via of Geneva, on the 1st of September. This may be only a romor, yet it is a very feasible one and we have no doubt that it will prove a profitable invest-ment for the company and also be of benefit to the towns along the line, of how, and "If built," what would you build it of, and wherein would it prove a "profitable investment for the company," Would it take a large capital to build a feasible rumor? We notice that Mr. A. A. Sherman is building an addition onto his house, which will be a comfort to himself and ornament to the street. Lon always builds well when he builds at all.

"Onto," is it! Impossible! All the neighbors say the "addition" which Mr. Sherman is building is at the south side of his house and not on top of it. Sherman says so too. We believe Binder at E. M.
