Go and see the "Ocean Walf" at Riverside Hall to-night.

The Riverside Skating Rink will be open on Saturday evening as usual.

Rev. L. W. BRIGHAM will preach in the Universalist church on Sunday next Dec. 13th, at 10:30 A. M. and 7:30 P. M.

SHERIFF UDELL was over here one day last week summoning Jurymen for the January term of Circuit Court.

F. K. GRANGER shipped two cars of Hogs and one car of Cattle from this Station to-day, Wednesday.

OUR merchants counters and windows begin to remind the people that it is time to begin thinking about the approaching holidays.

ATTENTION is called to the new advertisement of the Wauconda Drug Store and Book House, to be found in another place in this paper.

COLD weather gave us a sudden call Sunday, and on Monday morning the thermometer registered 14 degrees below zero in this section. A trifle too sharp to begin with.

Do not fail to read the new advertisement of C. V. Stevens, to be found in another place in this paper. He is offering bargains which you cannot afford to lose.

THERE will be a Social by the Ladies of the Universalist Society, at the residence of W. A. Cristy, on Friday evening of this week, Dec. 11th. All are cordially invited.

A MAN is wiser for his learning, and the sooner he learns that the only proper way to cure a cough or cold is to use Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, the better he is off.

A SEVERE snow storm this Wednesday morning was accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy thunder. Will some old weather prophet tell us what this portends?

THAT Santa Claus has established his Headquarters in Wauconda at Golding Bros., is a fixed fact, and therefore if you are looking for Holiday Goods, from five cents worth up, don't fail to call at this store. Read their advertisement.

THE McHenry Public School will close for the term on Friday of next week with an entertainment by the teachers and scholars, the proceeds to be used for the purpose of paying the balance due on the Organ. A full programme will appear next week.

For the treatment of rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, tic douloureux, semi-strabismus, sciatica, etc., Salvation Oil should be applied to the parts affected and thoroughly rubbed in, so as to reach the seat of the disease. It kills pain. Price 25 cents a bottle.

THE road on the East side of the river, running South, is being graveled and otherwise repaired in a substantial manner, making a long needed improvement in that direction, for which those having the work in charge will receive the thanks of the traveling community.

THE German church, at Johnsonburg, have lately received three new bells, which they are raising to their positions in the Towers of the Church, this week. The largest one weighs 3,600 pounds, the next one 2,000, and the smallest one 1,200 pounds. When in their proper positions they can be heard at a great distance.

GEORGE DINGEE, son of Squire Dingee, who runs the Woodstock Pickle Factory, shot himself through the heart on Saturday morning last, at his home in Ravenswood, Ill. He had been on a protracted spree, and in a fit of despondency took his own life. He was 31 years old and had been married eight years.

HENRY SIMES, the West Side Blacksmith and Wagon Maker, whose shop is opposite the Parker House, is doing a rushing business about these days. He is working both early and late to keep up with his orders. He makes Horse shoeing a specialty and is now making his own shoes instead of buying the patent turned ones, and guarantee satisfaction in every particular.

We have received, through the courtesy of the Emporia (Fla.) Gazette, a sample of Florida mistletoe (a parasite and a native of Florida), which it will send to any address upon receipt of five 2 cent postage stamps to cover postage. The Gazette has published a "Florida Catechism" that gives full and accurate information upon all subjects of interest to tourists or settlers, which it will mail, to any applicant, with a sample copy of its paper, upon receipt of 2 two cent stamps.

Buy a box of Campbell's Baking Powder (every box warranted to give satisfaction) and get an elegant prize. Found only at Perry & Owen's.

MARRIED.
WEBSTER-PAIGE.—On the second inst., at the residence of Wm. Paige, father of the bride, Mr. Eugene S. Webster, of Vermont, to Miss Nettie M. Paige, of West McHenry.
Judging from the number of neighbors and friends present, and the variety and value of the presents, we judge that Nettie will be fortunate indeed if her circle of friends in her new home shall equal that she leaves here. We sincerely hope it may. We could but see in this union a new link binding together the East and the West. Another thought suggested itself; i. e., it was another installment paid of the debt the "Sucker State" owes to the old "Green Mountain State," which has furnished so many grand wives and mothers for our western boys. Illinois never repudiates, and although loath to part with our girls, yet God willing will pay our debts. So "Gene" if you see any more "Green Mountain Boys" odd, lonely and unpaired, give em Horace Greeley's advice, "Go West young man, go West" and we doubt not they will find some of Illinois' fair daughters willing to sojourn a thousand miles nearer sunrise.

RIFLE MATCH—At Volo, Ill., Thursday, Dec. 24, 1885, Prize, a Beef. The animal to be led on the ground, and after the match, to be butchered dressed and quartered, and disposed of as follows: Each man has a Target, and the one who makes the most centers has first choice, next man second choice, next third choice, next fourth choice, and the fifth man the hide. Distance Shooting 60 yards, with dead rest. Entrance fee $1.00. Also Glass Ball Shoot at 1 o'clock sharp. All Turkeys to be shot for at long and short range. No pains will be spared to make this one of the best matches ever gotten up in Lake County. Headquarters at J. N. Barrus' Restaurant and Lunch Room.

THERE are many young men in this vicinity who are out of work or earning only half the pay they should receive. To all such we say, first get a business education, qualify yourself for better positions and better pay and you will get them. The good positions with good salaries are being constantly captured by those who have educated and qualified themselves in some good Commercial College. Do not postpone this matter until some future time, but get a business education this winter. Write a letter or a postal to Mr. O. M. Powers, Principal of the Metropolitan Business College, of Chicago, for a catalogue. That institution stands as high as any in the land, and if our young men would go there and spend a few months, they would find it a rich investment.

THE examination of Stephen Bader, who was arrested for the murder of Bodine, near Libertyville, in May last, set for hearing in the Grand Jury room in the court house. At the calling of the case the counsel for the defense entered a motion for a continuance until next week. The motion was argued by counsel on both sides and finally the hearing was set for next Wednesday forenoon at 10 o'clock. The people are represented by Charles Whitney, States Attorney, and C. T. Heydecker, Esq., and the prisoner is represented by Messrs. D. L. Jones and Reuben W. Coon. The examination promises to be interesting and hotly contested.—Waukegan Gazette.

"Embracing those pupils who were perfect in department, attendance and punctuality, and whose general scholarship average was 90 or above."

Tone up your system by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It will make you feel like a new person. Thousands have found health, and relief from suffering, by the use of this great blood purifier, when all other means failed.

Looking Through a Telescope.
Large crowds were observed last week gathered around a Telescope man at the corner of Eighth and Market Streets. Our reporter stopped to ascertain the cause of so much excitement, paid his five cents for a look and discovered across the face of the moon at which the "scope" was pointed. "Best thing for a cold—Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup." He just concluded that Dr. Bull was a high old advertiser, and that Bull's Cough Syrup was the best thing out. Some one had stuck a strip with those words across the glass.—Philadelphia, Pa., Traveler.

Forty years' experience, in every climate, has proven Ayer's Cherry Pectoral to be the most reliable remedy for colds, coughs and lung diseases. Colds should not be neglected. The Pectoral will prevent their becoming deep seated in the system.

Is it the fashion or free trade? where articles are borrowed and not returned for several months, then the owner having use for, writes for them, they are returned—by express, C. O. D. and the owner pays the express charges. Those are the kind of "borrowers" they have over at Richmond.

ANDREWS-HENDERSON.—At the home of the bride's parents, near Barreville, Dec. 2, 1885, by Rev. J. M. Conlee, Mr. T. C. Andrews and Miss Agnes M. Henderson, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Henderson. The wedding was a private one, none but near relatives of the contracting parties being present. After the customary congratulations, etc., a bountiful repast was served and having stored the inner man with sumptuous viands and spending the short evening in a social manner, the company took their departure, wishing them heavenly choicest good, thus starting the young couple out on life's voyage with every prospect of a fair life before them, he being an industrious young business man, possessing all the tact necessary to make success and accompanied by a bride possessing many good traits of both mind and heart, and in every way worthy of being mistress over all he may possess. The best wishes of a host of friends follow them to their new home in Woodstock.

MARRIED.—At the M. E. Parsonage in McHenry, by Rev. J. M. Conlee, Dec. 2, 1885, Mr. John F. Wendt and Miss Gertie Willey, both of Nunda, Ill.

How rapidly whirled the cycles of time; From infant to youth, from youth to our prime And passing in memory's eyes; That home for us, of darkness and gloom, Though weighted with care, each year rolling by, Brings joy to the heart and light to the eye; And "give while you live" as my prelate's life's ship floating afloat, with broad-spread-sails.

"Tis thus, as we travel on life's rugged road, Mid pleasures and sorrows full oft have we trod; Now grieved with pain, with suffering due to transient; Now, gleeful and happy, the bliss of the blest Reflections, like these, unbidden arise; And, passing in memory's eyes; Reflections of youth, of manhood and age, Come crowding again, my thoughts to engage.

While thinking of you, my own brother dear, This day, of all days, for you, in each year, Brings "visionary phantoms from memories' store, And tells of enjoyment in bright days of yore.

It tells of our mother, now slanted above; It tells of her kindness, and motherly love; It tells of our father, long since passed away, To join her in mansions, where all is bright day.

To you of a daughter, she passed all too soon, As a rose-bud of beauty lies withered in June she slept, and while sleeping, a voice from the skies Came unto her saying, "Fair daughter arise."

But not all of you, our thoughts to engage, There are many bright sides on life's turning page, Which bid us to recall the many bright scenes, The sunshine of joy, contents "golden" mean.

Our years have been many, our fortunes, though small, Have brought us a name, far better than all of Vansterbilt's gold, or Gould's "horrible" wealth, A conscience untroubled, ensuring our health.

So now, as we travel, approaching the goal, The end of this life, the birth of the soul; Let's travel together, in thought and in mind, Content with our lot, to our fate all resigned.

You count, on this day, of years sixty-eight, While for sixty-six, I've only to wait; Till to-day, in December, shall number thirteen, How short is the span the measure between.

Tis thus, my dear brother, our "three score and ten"; Of you once alluded to by God unto men, Have almost concluded our struggles with life, And soon will have ended both pleasure and strife.

Here's health to our friends, forgiveness to foes, Here's hope for the future undimmed with gloom; Content for the present, in light dreams of the past, And heavenly visions secured at the last.—A. W. S. Woodstock, Ill., Nov. 29, 1885.

A Doctor Wanted.
We have noticed among our exchanges such phrases as are set forth below, and would like some doctor of anatomy to describe the part indicated.
—Table Talk.
He kissed her passionately upon her reappearance.—Jefferson Souvenir.
She whipped him upon his return.—Haykey.
He kissed her back.—Constitution.
She seated herself upon his entering.—Albia Democrat.
Mr. Jones walked in upon her invitation.—Electric Light.
We thought she sat down on her being asked.—Saturday Gossip.
She faltered upon his departure.—Lynn Union.

Of course grow dim as age creeps on, it then becomes necessary to procure properly adjusted Spectacles. Scientific authority declares that nothing is gained by putting off the use of glasses when an unusual difficulty in distinguishing small objects by a dim light and other well known symptoms are observed which are removed by spectacles. On the contrary, positive injury results from delay. The muscles of the eye are constantly strained in attempting to increase the power of the lens in the eye. The lens in the spectacle frame so changes the direction of the rays of light that this effort is no longer necessary. The muscles are relieved, and the former read near of sight is restored. Of course as age advances, and consequent change in the lens of the eye, there must be a corresponding change in spectacle glasses to maintain clear sight. The glasses should be accurately ground and as perfectly transparent as possible, and held in frames so that their center will be in direct range with the center of the lens of the eye. I have taken great pains to be able to give all the treatments for eye customers. The Ophthalmometer shows the number of the glass or lens required. I keep constantly in stock all the numbers of the best imported glasses, and can furnish pebbles if desired. I have frames separate from the glasses, of different widths and heights to accommodate wide faced, narrow faced, high nosed and low nosed customers. I have cheap frames, best steel frames, nickel, composition and gold frames. The glasses fitting any frame, you can select an outfit of almost any quality and price desired. I shall be glad at any time to try your eyes and see if you can be helped to see better. Remember that I guarantee satisfaction in every case, so that if the new glasses fail to give additional relief, it will cost you nothing but your time and trouble in testing them.

Of course grow dim as age creeps on, it then becomes necessary to procure properly adjusted Spectacles. Scientific authority declares that nothing is gained by putting off the use of glasses when an unusual difficulty in distinguishing small objects by a dim light and other well known symptoms are observed which are removed by spectacles. On the contrary, positive injury results from delay. The muscles of the eye are constantly strained in attempting to increase the power of the lens in the eye. The lens in the spectacle frame so changes the direction of the rays of light that this effort is no longer necessary. The muscles are relieved, and the former read near of sight is restored. Of course as age advances, and consequent change in the lens of the eye, there must be a corresponding change in spectacle glasses to maintain clear sight. The glasses should be accurately ground and as perfectly transparent as possible, and held in frames so that their center will be in direct range with the center of the lens of the eye. I have taken great pains to be able to give all the treatments for eye customers. The Ophthalmometer shows the number of the glass or lens required. I keep constantly in stock all the numbers of the best imported glasses, and can furnish pebbles if desired. I have frames separate from the glasses, of different widths and heights to accommodate wide faced, narrow faced, high nosed and low nosed customers. I have cheap frames, best steel frames, nickel, composition and gold frames. The glasses fitting any frame, you can select an outfit of almost any quality and price desired. I shall be glad at any time to try your eyes and see if you can be helped to see better. Remember that I guarantee satisfaction in every case, so that if the new glasses fail to give additional relief, it will cost you nothing but your time and trouble in testing them.
