Dated May 1, 1886.

Republican County Convention.

The Republican voters of McHenry County are requested to send delegates to a Republican County Convention, to be held at the Court House in Woodstock, Saturday, May 25, 1886, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing nine (9) delegates to represent McHenry County in the Congressional Convention to be held at Eight, Tuesday, June 1st. Also to elect nine (9) delegates to represent McHenry County in the State Convention, and twenty-three (23) delegates to represent the County in the Senatorial and Representative Convention, the two last hereafter to be called, and to place in nomination a candidate for County Judge, County Clerk, Treasurer, Sheriff, and County Superintendent of Schools and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Each town is entitled to the following representation.

By order of McHenry County Republican Central Committee.

G. S. SOUTHWORTH, Chairman.

COUNTY CLERK.

As we said last week, there is no opposition to the re-nomination of Col. Wm. Avery for County Clerk, and we have no doubt of his nomination by acclamation when the Convention meets. And this is as it should be. He is a faithful and efficient officer, and every delegation to the County Convention should give him their undivided support.

FOR COUNTY TREASURER.

The candidacy of W. P. Morse, of Nunda, for the office of County Treasurer, is meeting with favor in all parts of the county. His canvas for the office of Circuit Clerk two years ago made him many warm friends, who will be only too glad to be able to aid him at this time. He is an honest, upright and capable business man, a staunch and reliable Republican, a soldier who did his whole duty on the battle field, and suffered the tortures of Andersonville prison, and we think is justly entitled to consideration at the hands of the Republican voters of McHenry county.

JUDGE GILMORE.

The Marengo Republicans has the following to say of the candidacy of Judge Gilmore: "Orson H. Gilmore has filed the office of County Judge with marked ability for the past four years, and desires, if the public so will, to serve another term. It is but simple justice to a good official to say to him when occasion presents, 'continue thou faithful in well doing,' and thus we doubt not the people of this county will say to Judge Gilmore at the coming County Convention. We hear no fault finding with his official acts, but on the contrary have heard warm commendations from those who are in position to give an intelligent opinion. Hence we and many friends in this and all parts of the County hope to see him again placed in nomination for County Judge. The office of County Judge demands both ability and integrity, and Judge Gilmore possesses these qualifications in a remarkable degree."

County School Superintendent.

Under the above head the Marengo Republican of Friday last says: "Mr. Lester Barber was elected to the above office two years ago this fall, to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Baldwin. A Superintendent is to be elected this Fall for a full term. Mr. Barber has devoted his entire time to the duties of the office, and has given the very best satisfaction throughout the County. He will be pleased to be elected to the office again, but does not feel that he can take time for which he is paid by the County to look after school matters, to look after his candidacy for an office, and will therefore not be able to visit the various towns in his latest. There seems a very general desire for his election, and as he will be a candidate, his friends are cordially solicited to make his 'calling and election sure' at the coming Convention. Mr. Barber was elected two years ago from Coral, but moved to our village in order to have better communication with the schools in the County. The Republicans most heartily endorse Mr. Barber as being a first-class citizen and in every way worthy and well qualified for the office."

Most Emphatically Not So.

Finding that Capt. George Eckert is bettering his chances each day by his straightforward and manly manner of making his canvas for the office of Sheriff, certain parties who ought to be in better business are endeavoring to injure him by circulating the story that he cannot carry his own town of Dorr. That he stands no show at home etc. etc. These facts come to us so straight from different parts of the country that we deem it but right and just to Mr. Eckert to brand the attempt to hurt him in this manner, as mean and contemptible, and originating from persons who know full well that there is not one particle of truth in the rumors set afloat. We can assure our readers that Capt. Eckert is sure of his own town. From all we can learn he is solid at home, and that there is no opposition worthy of the name, to his candidacy in Woodstock and vicinity. The little dodges these sneaking individuals are trying to hatch will not work and we doubt not will ease them and their friends no little anxiety ere the Convention adjourns.

KEEP THEM OUT.

We have a law to prevent the landing of foreign paupers in this country, and a law restricting Chinese emigration. Why not also a law keeping out foreign agitators, anarchists and socialists? They are far greater evil than the Chinese, says an exchange, and as the laws now stand the public has no protection from these red flag assassins, but the penitentiary or the scaffold. Our statesmen say this discrimination against emigrants presents a difficult problem, and that we can hardly establish a court of inquisition at the custom house, but it will be strange indeed if a government which can array its entire power against a handful of Chinese, has not also the power to protect itself from the enemies of social order. At any rate there is one thing we can do as a starter. We can compel our foreign representatives abroad to exercise some control over emigration. They can get at the character and antecedents of the undesirable class to a certain extent, and through their efforts some restriction may be placed on emigration. The time has certainly arrived when something should be done.

From a financial standpoint there has never been a strike that has paid. Early in the strike it was estimated that 46,738 employees lost wages amounting to $3,711,097. This would be at the rate of $67 each. As the entire number of employees estimated was 228,738, the total loss of wages on this average would be $13,000,866, which would have been received had works run constantly. Of course there would be a number of offsets to this, in case the strikers were successful. The additional wages would compensate for a portion of the loss. In other cases where unionism existed in the trades in which there were strikes, the men received strike pay or strike benefits, but the strike benefits were in most cases simply refunding money that had been previously paid by the men. In many cases the parties on strike secured employment in other industries, and hence their actual loss would have earned at their old labor, minus what they did earn in a presumably less profitable employment.

These figures are based upon actual facts, and clearly demonstrate how dearly the labor has to pay in the end for the privilege of striking.

EDITOR PLAINDEALER: It looks strange, indeed, to us as a representative, that so many Democrats in this section are taking so much interest and concern in the candidacy of the candidate for Sheriff from the south west corner of the county. With a hand full of dissatisfied Republicans, the rank and file of the Democrats all around this place and in town are apparently very anxious for the success of the candidate referred to and it is them who seem to court favor from and is constantly conferring with when in our city, and it is amusing to hear the expression of some of the "great unwashed" as to what will be the result should the man of their choice not receive the nomination at the hands of the Republicans.

We have repeatedly heard one of their loudest and most delightful talkers? exclaim when addressing the crowds gathered to listen to his eloquence on the street corners or in the Park, that should his man not get there, the Democrats, would run him and elect him. This individual, who has now but little else to employ himself about, having been lately stripped of his authority as an officer of the peace, seems to have the general management of this candidates affairs, at least in all the north part of the county, and in his way would appear to be performing yeoman service, (at least he imagined such to be the case.) The Republicans in this section of the county, with but very few exceptions, are favorable to the nomination of George Eckert for Sheriff, and will support him first, last and all the time, unless defeated in the convention. And they are far from approving the course that is being pursued by those claiming to be Republicans, and desiring office at their hands.

Mon. A. J. Hopkins.

So far as we have been able to learn Hon. A. J. Hopkins will receive the cordial support of the Republican party of the district, both in the convention and out of it. The feeling among the Republicans throughout the district is almost universal that he is the right man in the right place. For a right man in the right place. For a young member, he has taken unusual prominence in Congress, and his aptness in getting a good understanding of Congressional procedure within so short a time is laudable unprecedented. He has brought to his duties the vigor of the prime of life, coupled with the energy, thoroughness and studiousness that placed him in the front ranks of legal profession. Add to this his carefulness, freedom from the bad habits that impair the services of so many legislators, his personal integrity and ability, and there is not a man in the district who possesses more of the natural qualifications of a good Congressman.

It is impossible for a new member of Congress to do much more during his first term, then familiarize himself with his duties and with the cumbersome rules of Congress, and prepare himself for more effective work in future sessions of that body. The first term is to be regarded rather as a preparatory school than as a test of a members capacity. Yet, judged even by what he had done, Mr. Hopkins ought to be returned. His efforts in the interests of the honest dairymen of the district, and against the bogus butter manufacturers, should alone command him to the hearty support of the farmers. They may yet result in the passage of a stringent anti-butter bill by the present Congress. In the Huron election contest, Mr. Hopkins was designated by the committee on elections to present the legal points at issue, and made one of the ablest speeches in the struggle that resulted in the seating of Romer's, (Republican), by a House in which the Democrats have a majority. In his votes on other questions, Mr. Hopkins has plainly had the interests of the constituents at heart, and has been found with those moderate Republicans who are opposed to extreme measures in either direction during a crisis such as the country is now experiencing. Those who would drive their representative to urge their own extreme and peculiar views at such a time, and who would vilify him for not doing so, are very short sighted, to say the least, and cannot be regarded as safe exponents of public policy and opinion.

From what Mr. Hopkins has been able to accomplish the short time he has been at Washington, it is clear that he is the man to bring the Fifth district forward into the prominence it enjoyed in the days of Farnsworth and Hurst. His is the careful, thorough work that tells in the long run, in the halls of Congress, and the Republicans of the Fifth District cannot consult their lasting interests to a better degree than by re-nominating Hon. A. J. Hopkins to the seat he now occupies.

The people who have watched his course with growing interest and satisfaction, would make his endorsement at the polls almost unanimous.—Aurora Beacon, May 5th.

When Sam Jones left Washington recently he announced his intention of returning in a year or so and undertake the task of converting congressmen. Sam is a terror to sinners, and is improving very rapidly in his ability to cope with the superintendent of the fiery regions, but the people will question his ability to fully carry out his present undertaking.
