FIFE'S SPRING WHEAT.

To the Editor of the Agricultural Gazette.

MESSRS. EDITORS,—One of our farmers in taking upon me to introduce a new kind of wheat into the Province, of which a brief notice was given in the Colonial Star, 18 months ago, I feel a more full account of it may not be inappropriate to your readers, as from its tendency to resist the effects of rust, and its adaptation to the black soils of Canada, it appears likely to be known to be extensively cultivated and highly valued.

Eight years ago Mr. David Fife having occasion about to pass the frost, requested Gideon Lapp, who lived then by the side of the Mississippi, to send him a small quantity of wheat from some of the northern parts of Europe. The farming at Gideon Lapp's having proved a failure, he sent it to Mr. Fife, who sowed it the spring following, and it came up various kinds, so much so that the whole was affected by rust, except the ears, of which there was but few ears, and of these each contained by cattle, yet from the 50 of them were thrashed by cattle, yet from the 50 of them were thrashed the third year half a bushel—from the produce of which he supplied some of his friends with a few bushels, and it began to be talked of for sowing, and one person had twenty-eight bushels him and bushel seed. Next year the Agricultural Society introduced the Chief wheat was thrown out well, which being sown along side of the new wheat in many fields, and the former being turned up as to be worthless, while the latter was not the least affected—it established beyond a doubt in sufficiency that keeping the Agricultural Society thought it advisable to purchase this bushel to distribute amongst its members, rather than it should be taken out of the country, and the principal holder of the wheat refusing to take less than two dollars a bushel for it, that price was given by the Society, and twenty bushels were sold to the neighboring townships at the same rate, many people applying for it, in vain.

It is rather a late kind of wheat being 8 or 10 days behind the Club or Siberian, if sown at the same time, and this morning sunrise has not melted it as well on drywalls, but on the black soil, ploughed and any similar place not too wet for wheat to vegetate, it succeeds well, and its larger yield, when sown, confirm the application of "the Hidden Work" so often applied to wheat, though perhaps none of your readers may think that the price paid for it gives an bitter chain to that title.

A sample of the wheat shown by Mr. Jessup Fife obtained a prize at the Province of Exhibition last year, and a specimen will accompany this letter, together with an advertisement, which, by your giving publicity to, will oblige

Your old Servant,
HENRY BAWELL.

TREES, SHRUBS, &c.

SPRING, the best season for transplanting (in most hardy trees, Shrubs and ornamental trees, has arrived, and the subscribers would notify the public that they have for sale a large stock of the most choice varieties of FRUIT TREES, embracing nearly all of Mr. Downing's selections, and those recommended by the Congress of Fruit Growers, for general culture.

Their Nurseries, embracing over twenty-five acres, are situated on Twitchett, Oswego east, but little over half a mile east of the Rail-Road Depot.

They have a larger stock of extra sized trees of all the kinds, except the Pine, than in any Nursery in Western New York, and feel confident in claiming superior hardness and value to trees grown here on the shores of Lake Ontario, exposed to its winds, at a point farther north than any other extensive Nursery in the states; and would also claim superior value for their trees, not from favorable and exposure only, but from the fact that they have more room in the Nursery than other tree growers, thereby rendering them more stocky. They have a large stock of pears on standards, in a bearing state, at prices from $1 to $2. Also Dwarf pears in a bearing state, from 50 cents to $1, according to size and variety. Particular care will be taken in digging and packing extra sized trees, so that there will be no more danger in transplanting them than smaller trees. In this city and vicinity they will on the Quince Bearing, in a bearing state, and warrant to live. This is the most valuable pear for cultivation in this, and as a high treated, melting pear, a profuse and regular bearer, the Oswego Beurre is not equalled.

We have of sizes suitable for the garden or orchard, more than 50 varieties of the Pear, and nearly all of the unequalled varieties of the Apple, Cherry, Peach, Quince, Apricot and Nectarine.
