Literary Notices.

THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, for May, 1851.—Leonard Scott & Co., New York; E. W. Palmer, Kingston.—$3 per annum.

We have on our table a copy of the above periodical, but of late days time has been so much an object, that we are compelled to borrow from a contemporary the slight notice we can take. "There is scarcely any class of students, whatever may be their peculiar pursuit—whether it be Theology, History, Science, Art, Literature, or Politics—who will not find, in the following list of contents, some "bright particular" attraction, while the general reader will derive instruction and amusement from the whole:—

"France since 1848.—Pieces of Infidelity in the 18th century.—Campbell and Pentlands, [Dickens and Thackeray].—Recent Extension of Formal Logic [Sir William Hamilton and Mr. De Morgan].—Autobiography of the Rev. William Mullock.—Animal Magnetism [Baron Von Reichenbach and Dr. Mayo].—Public Libraries.—Arnaga's Life of Carnot.—Water Supply of London.—Royal Supremacy in the Church of England, and the Papal Aggression."

AMUSEMENT AHEAD.—It will be seen per advertisement, that the enterprising lessee of the Theatre Royal, Toronto, Mr. T. P. Bennard, intends not to let the present opportunity pass without affording the Kingston public a rare treat, in bringing before them the celebrated HERON FAMILY, whose performances have astonished the world. They have had a successful season in Toronto, and will perform in Kingston on Monday evening next. Our Toronto correspondent's letter of to-day, passes a high eulogium on the talents of this Juvenile Troupe. The thanks of the public are due Mr. Bennard, particularly on this occasion, when we hope to see him greeted with a bumper house.

☞ PASSENGERS.—We learn by the Mercury, that the freight ship Hope has arrived in Quebec with two, out of the five, companies of Military Pensioners expected. They are under the command of Capt. Rodgers, and will be stationed at Penetanguishine, and in the neighbourhood of Toronto.

FROST ON THE MISSISSIPPI.—It seems that we in Canada have not had all the rain to ourselves. The U. S. papers are filled with accounts of destruction done to property on the great Western rivers by the sudden rise of the water. One paper states that there is scarcely a town on the Mississippi or the Missouri that is not navigable for steamboats. There have been no lives lost.

☞ Strang, the Mormon Prince, who had seized on an Island in Lake Michigan, and ruled over it as prophet, priest and king, is now in jail at Detroit, under charge of obstructing United States Mails, having counterfeit tools, and was stripping government land.

☞ Mr. Barnum has acknowledged that he received $300,000 by the LAND Concerts, and says that JENNY has realized $350,000.—The nett proceeds of 94 Concerts amounted to nearly $1,000,000. The Nightingale is expected to pay Canada a visit ere the summer is over, now that her contract with Barnum has ceased.

EXTRACT FROM A PRIVATE LETTER, DATED TORONTO, 16th JUNE, 1851.

"The Patriot lately alluded to a contemplated amalgamation of parties. His information was slight, but so far as it went, it was correct. You may rely on the following particulars.

A new office is to be created for Sir Allan McNab; I believe the title will be, "Chairman of the Rail Road Commission;" situation permanent; salary £750 per annum.

Baldwin retires on the plea of ill health, and Richards succeeds him as Attorney General. After a relaxation from the cares and anxieties of office, health will be restored, and Mr. R. is to be Chief Justice of the Common Pleas, vice Macaulay, who is old and deaf, and who wishes to retire on a Pension.

Price resigns the Crown Lands Department, and Macdonald of Kingston takes his place. The latter is looked upon here as possession great influence, and is likely to carry the Conservatives of Kingston, Prince Edward, Lennox and Addington, Leeds and Frontenac with him; he is also very popular with the French.

Lafontaine is to be Chief Justice below, and Cartier succeeds to his Office.

Hincks is to continue as Inspector General, but he will not again offer for Oxford; but (in conjunction with Cartier,) will run against Holmes for Montreal.

The Speaker of the Upper House is to be a member of the Government, (the same as when your Conservative friends were in power,) and receive one salary, as they did.

Future Speakers of the Lower House, are have but £300 a year. Who the next Speaker will be, is still yet finally determined. Should there be any slip in the Commissioner Chairmanship, Sir Allan McNab will probably get it, and Morin, (ex Premier of the Country,) become the Leader, instead of Lafontaine. Queer times these! Look out for squalls, and that quickly!!!"

THE LEARNED PROFESSIONS.

DEAR WARE,—With all the boasted liberality of the provincial press, among them I find none more liberal than thyself; for it has always been thine to give insertion to both sides, either commenting when comment was necessary, or suffering an article to appear without comment. This is as it should be, and without adhering to this principle, public journalism is shorn of one of its most necessary attributes. To the production of those who are diametrically opposed to you both in religion and politics you give ready insertion, and on this account the British Whig may be truly considered more at the public service than any of those conting periodicals, whose self interests and the filling their coffers with the needful, outweigh every other consideration. Here, in this city, in a vile print, scurrilously conducted, (I mean as far as the educational attainments of the writers are concerned,) basking in the sun-shine of executive favor, and continually endeavoring to cast odium on the Catholic religion—the religion of 230,000,000, among whom are to be found men equally as d cerning, as learned, as the Messrs. Brown; nor can they, for the life of them, see any thing attractive in the teachings and practices of Presbyterianism to which the Browns (and small blame to them) doggedly cling; but while they are permitted to indulge in their own mode of worship, they should suffer others to enjoy the same privilege. The Catholic Church has triumphantly withstood the assaults of the powers of darkness through ages. Firmly seated on a rock, she imperturbably defies the violence of the agitated billows by which she is angrily lashed, and laughs at the puny efforts of her enemies. She outrenes the endeavors of all the Browns and the Globe to wound her; although I must own, that the feelings of her children have often been wounded by the indecorous allusions made to her—emanations from that veritable organ. It is satisfactory to know, that the Globe's influence, if ever it possessed any, is considerably on the wane, and that the Toronto Mirror, that staunch and unflinching advocate of Reform, long ere the Examiner, another vile rag, or the Globe saw light, is gradually insinuating itself into Ministerial favor, from the truly liberal and consistent course which it has uniformly pursued. And I am glad that the Government are rewarding their friends at last—"it is better late than never." Having strayed so far from my intended purpose, I will now begin.

During my connection with the Press of Canada, east and west, I have always disinterestedly striven, to expose, and bring prominently into view the facility, the absurdity of foisting upon the public, men whose circumscribed learning should debar them from participating in the honors which are the peculiar property of the educated; but my remonstrances have not, I am sorry to say, been productive of the beneficial results anticipated by me. To these remarks I have been induced in consequences of the extraordinary facilities afforded to persons who fancy themselves predestined to shine in those professions into which none should gain admission, save those qualified by education, more especially an intimate acquaintance with the learned languages—Latin and Greek. But some parents foolishly imagine that money (quam nemo sapiens unquam capivit) will be sufficient. From three sapients I most unqualifedly dissent, and strongly urge upon parents, who destine their children for what in the old country is termed the learned professions, the indispensable necessity of giving to them a sound classical education, facilities for which the city of Toronto unquestionably affords. We have a University, over which presides an unchristianly learned man, Dr. McCaul, affable, courteous, polite, and always exemplifying the adage—Quanto doctior es, tanto es ad omnia.

Young men have frequently come to me, eagerly wishing to acquire a sufficient knowledge of Latin, to enable them to pass an examination. Money they unsparingly offered, but I candidly told them that there was no royal road to learning, and that they should necessarily subject themselves to the drudgery of commencing at the beginning. However, some of them, astonishing as it may appear, have been suffered to pass. I will here cite one instance. Three years since, a raw, uneducated young man, from a country village, was introduced to me as a person wishing to acquire a knowledge of Latin, sufficient to enable him to pass his examination. I explained my terms, and he departed. Lately, I saw the name of the young man gazetted to practice Physic, Midwifery, et cæteris omnibus, and I saw a good puff in the Colonist accompanying his advertisement, recommending him as a fit and proper person to cure all diseases to which flesh is heir. I was astonished, and afterwards asked my new Doctor how he had learned sufficient in that time for his purpose. He told me he learned to construe the prescriptions of the Pharmacopœia, and that enabled him to pass. Contrast with this a gentleman classically educated, and having a Diploma, who presented himself for examination—believe it who will, he was rejected, and he informed me that in order to secure the favor of the Board, he resolved upon attending one course of lectures. The Medical Board, as now constituted, will pass a student who has attended University lectures, and if his studies have been conducted under the surveillance of a member of the Board, he will, seldom if ever, be rejected, even though he could not construe ego sum homo. These are facts with which I am personally acquainted; and I can furnish the names of some who have been passed, totally ignorant of Latin, whilst for others this language is a sine qua non. Other youths, who, by preventing themselves to the Board, because they have never learned Latin, and pursued their studies at any other school, get a fortnight's private drilling from the head instructor, and are made acquainted with the questions and the answers just heavy to be asked, and for this extra service the parent pays $20, betake themselves to Lower Canada, return to Toronto with a license to kill, and locate themselves in some thriving village, where experience will complete what the want of education failed to accomplish.

In connection with this subject, I attended a lecture delivered by Professor Hallowell, so favorably known in Kingston, to the Medical students, and I can assure you I never spent a more pleasant hour. The language was classical—in my humble opinion, the construction musically pleasing, and quantities scrupulously observed. Dr. Hallowell, as you well know, is a gentleman of highly cultivated taste—a graphic writer, whose productions I have often read both with pleasure and profit. And I am sure he will eventually arrive at that pitch in the profession for which his professional attainments and refined feeling eminently recommend him. Would that some of our Medical "Bashaws" were similarly gifted. C.

Since the foregoing was written, I had the pleasure to witness the prolegomena of the Heron Family, who have been attracting large and fashionable audiences nightly to the Lyceum. This family will pay you a visit on their way to Quebec, and I sincerely hope our fellow-countrymen will give them a "cead mile failte" wherever they go. They consist of Mr. Heron, Mrs. Heron and three daughters, whose power of presenting difficult characters are truly extraordinary; and the more frequently you witness their performances the more favorable in your opinion of them. On Monday evening, the boxes, pit and gallery, were crowded; and the talent Pieces, as Miss Heron has been deservedly circumscribed both by the English and Irish Press, elicited, by her inimitable acting, marked and unqualified applause. This young lady is an extraordinary character, and performs the most difficult pieces with ease to herself and effectively to the audience. The English language has been nearly exhausted in bestowing praise on this Family; and the various notices from the press of England, Ireland, Scotland, Wales, West Indies and America, amply attest the truth of what I have advanced. To your favorable notice I unhesitatingly recommend them, and trust my fellow-countrymen will extend to them that friendship and consideration to which a family so extraordinarily gifted are entitled. Untoward circumstances, over which they could exercise no control, forced them for a season, to leave unfortunate Ireland, and make use of attainments acquired for other purposes, in order, partially, to alleviate their misfortune. May their anticipations be fully realized. C.

For the British Whig.

MR. EDITOR,—I have often heard it made matter of surprise in public conversation, that our City Authorities should allow the ruins of burnt buildings to stand year after year, to the manifest danger of life and limb, particularly in the case of children, who are always apt to frequent such places during play. It is certainly one of the imperative duties of Corporations to compel the removal of all nuisances inimical to the health and lives of those who depend upon them for their safety; and were the members of the Civic Council as fond of working as they are of hearing themselves speak, and seeing their speeches printed in a real live newspaper, we would not have such accidents to deplore as that which occurred a few days ago, whereby an industrious man lost his life, and a helpless family were left destitute of their natural support. A few of the many hours spent in bankum speeches, and personal abuse of each other, would have sufficed to pass a by-law compelling the removal of all such dangerous structures within a limited period; and a tithe of the energy displayed within the last few days in enforcing a petty clause in the Tavern License Law, of no importance to any one, would have been sufficient to enforce such a by-law, and would, in this instance, have been the means of saving a human life.

Hoping that this sad accident may have the good effect of attracting their attention to this subject, I remain,

Your obdt. servant,
X.

Kingston, 20th June, 1851.

The following which appeared in yesterday's issue, we deem necessary to re-publish with a few slight alterations:

GOOD OLD KINGSTON.—A few days ago we alluded to the flourishing condition of this fine old City. To-day we shall point out wherein the increase to the business of Kingston has chiefly displayed itself. All the Steamboats belonging to the port, and all the others that ply in it regularly, are doing a most capital business, both in freight and passengers; and the flour and other produce going down stream have had to wait for means of transport, so heavy have been the shipments. In the wholesale trade, an unprecedented impetus has been given, by the establishment of several new houses, and by much larger importations than usual by the old firms. Among the new houses in that of Messrs. John Miller & Co., of Picton, who have recently opened a Wholesale Warehouse, for Teas, Sugars, Groceries, and Leather, in Kingston, in Mr. Charles Bates' Buildings, and who, from their standing in Canada, must be capable of doing a first class business. The Messrs. Miller's are also extensive Tanners in Prince Edward Co, and one of the leading firms of their trade will be in that line. It pleases us to see the leading merchants of the country thus making Kingston their chief shipping place, but it does not surprise us; since, from its position, it is by nature calculated to do a large trade.

RESOLUTIONS OF MR. HINCKS.

1. That it is expedient to reduce the Salaries of the Judges of the Superior Courts of Law and Equity in this Province, appointed since the close of the last Session of the Provincial Parliament, (16th August, 1850,) or hereafter to be appointed, and to fix them at the following rates per annum, that is to say:

LOWER CANADA.

For the Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench, £900
For the Chief Justice of the Superior Court, 800
For the Puisne Judges of the Court of Queen's Bench, each, 800
For the Puisne Judges of the Superior Court, resident at Quebec or Montreal, each, 800

UPPER CANADA.

For the Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench, 800
For the Puisne Justices of the Court of Queen's Bench, each, 800
For the Chief Justice of the Court of Common Pleas, 800
For the Puisne Justices of the Court of Common Pleas, each, 800
For the Chancellor of Upper Canada, 800
For the Vice-Chancellors, each, 800

2. That it is expedient to reduce the Salaries of the Attorneys General for Upper and Lower Canada, respectively, and to fix them at the rate of £800 per annum, each.

3. That it is expedient to reduce the salaries of the following Officers, respectively:
The Provincial Secretary,
The Receiver General,
The Inspector General,
The Chairman of the Committee of Executive Council, and to fix them at the rate of £800 per annum, each.

4. That it is expedient, that all pensions hereafter granted by the Crown should continue to be paid during the lives of the grantees respectively.

5. That it is expedient to provide that no pension be hereafter granted, except to Judges retiring from office, or under the express provisions of some Act of the Legislature allowing such Pension; and that the sum to be hereafter paid, for pensions under Schedule B, of the Act, for granting a Civil List to Her Majesty (9 Vict. c. 104) shall never exceed the amount of the Pensions now granted under the said Schedule, such Pensions to revert on the death of the Pensioners respectively.

6. That it is expedient to amend the Acts heretofore cited (and the Acts 12 Vict. cap. 63 and 64) in accordance with the foregoing Resolutions.

7. That it is expedient that the salaries of the Speaker of the Legislative Council, and of the Speaker of the Legislative Assembly of this Province, should be fixed by law, at the rate of £300 per annum each, with conditions that the said office of Speaker of the Legislative Council, should be held by a person holding any other office of profit under the Crown, he shall not then receive the said salary, but shall be allowed the sum of £400 per annum, in addition to the salary attached to such other office.

RESOLUTION OF MR. PRICE.

That it be resolved that an humble address be presented to Her Most Gracious Majesty, thanking Her Majesty for the gracious manner in which she has been pleased to receive the Address of this House of last Session on the subject of the Clergy Reserves, and to assure Her Majesty of the great satisfaction which it has afforded to this House and the Province at large, to learn from the Despatch of the Right Honorable Earl Grey, Her Majesty's Principal Secretary of State for the Colonies, communicating such Her Majesty's gracious reception of the said Address, that it has appeared to Her Majesty's Imperial Ministers that such Address ought to be acceded to, and that they would accordingly be prepared to recommend to the Imperial Parliament that an Act should be framed, giving to the Provincial Legislature full authority to make such alterations as they may think fit in the existing arrangements with regard to those Reserves, providing that existing interests are respected.

NOTE.—In the present distracted state of things, the better way is to allow the Clergy Reserves to be sold and the proceeds applied for the purposes of general education. The Roman Catholics don't want them, and the great mass of Dissenters think the Church better without them. The Church of England, the Kirk of Scotland, and the Methodists alone seem to care for them. The Church of England (in Canada,) having turned Puseyite, and craving therefore to be a Protestant Church, has forfeited its claim; the Kirk of Scotland has split itself into two parts, refusing a fair partition to the Free Church, is only entitled to a very small portion; and the Methodists, subdivided as they are, can easily be dealt with. To end all disputes, say we let the Clergy Reserves be sold, and the Voluntary Principle adopted in lieu.

NEW ENGLAND TRAVEL.—The Bay State, Capt. LEONARD, had a large number of passengers up yesterday from Boston and other parts of New England. We understand that the New England railroads have put down their fare to a low rate to induce New England people to visit Canada, the chain of Lakes, Niagara, &c., and witness the most wonderful geographical features of the North American Continent. Passengers from the East, from the shores of the Atlantic come through by railroad to Montreal, and Ogdensburgh, at which points, they reach the splendid line of steamers running between Montreal and the head of Lake Ontario. We are informed there is a flood of people coming.

The Derby Race at Epsom (England) was won by the favorite horse "Teddington."—The stakes were £3,625; his owner, Sir Jos. Hawley, won £70,000, but some of the betting books show badly—one to the tune of £300,000.

Arrival of the Niagara

NEW YORK, June 20.

The Steamer Niagara arrived this morning. Cotton no change; sales of the week 435 bales. Prices are not lower for breadstuffs; there is, however, a resolution on the part of dealers to operate although supplies of Wheat and Flour are low plentiful. Not much demand for Pork. Beef heavy. Lard advanced 6d to 1s. Bacon moves slowly at London.—Money was unchanged. Consols closed at 93. Some of the Liverpool circulars quote American Flour 6d per bbl and Corn 6d per qr. higher. 30s is the top quotation for yellow corn, and 30s a 32s for white.

Provincial Parliament.

TORONTO, June 20.

Mr. Cartier gave notice, that he would bring in a Bill to amend the Montreal Corporation Act, and another to incorporate the Montreal Firemen.

Mr. H. Sherwood gave notice of an amendment to Mr. Price's Resolution on Clergy Reserves, to the effect that the present disposition be not disturbed.

Col. Prince moved that the House adjourn, as on this day fifteen years ago, Her Majesty ascended the Throne. He thought it was due that the House should pay this much respect to her whether it should be approved or not; and further, he thought it fitting that members should on this day enjoy themselves. He understood that Excellencies, the Representatives of Her Majesty, intended to give an entertainment, and he thought out of respect, a term the House should adjourn.

Mr. J. H. Cameron suggested that as yesterday was a holiday the House had better not adjourn before five o'clock, as he did not think it just that they should be paid without doing anything.

Col. Prince said that if anything was done it should be done well.

Mr. Cameron still pressed the suggestion, and moved 7 o'clock as the hour to adjourn.

Col. Prince postponed his motion until the following bills were introduced:—Mr. McFarlane, to provide for the erection of the Fort Erie and Buffalo Suspension Bridge over the Niagara River; Mr. Sol. Gen. Drummond to regulate the licensing of Liquor for Taverns &c. by the suppression of Intemperance; Mr. Chabot, to amend the act incorporating the city of Quebec.

The House then adjourned at 5 o'clock.

Their Excellencies Lord and Lady Elgin give a drawing room at the government House this evening.
