MR. SLADES subject next Sunday morn ing will be "The Bible view of the Atone

BEAR in mind the Old Settlers' Meet ing, at the Riverside House, on Saturday next, at 1 o'clock p. m.

"ALIVE from the Dead." will be the sub ect of the Epworth League discussion at the M. E. Church next Sunday evening.

NORTH & WINES, Market Gardners, are located at Fort Hill, Lake County, and are prepared to fill orders promptly and guarantee satisfaction.

SUPERINTENDENT WENTWORTH informs us that 72,000 Brick were shipped from Bay. the yards of the Elgin Brick and Tile Company, in this village, one day last

THE arrangements for the Independence Party, at the Riverside House, are all completed, and the dancing public may look for a good old fashioned time. Remember the date Friday evening, July 3, WAUCONDA will spread the Eagle July th. Emminent speakers have been engaged and a fine programme has been arranged. There is no better place than Wauconda to go and have a good time. THE Cottages at Pistaqua Bay are now mostly occupied, quite a number of new ones are being built and others in contemplation. Pistagua Bay promises to be one of the finest summer residen places in the Northwest.

Once more we are obliged to call the attention of our delinquent subscribers to the fact that we need money, and ask them to pay their accounts. It takes money to run business, and we hope each will help us by paying up their back dues promptly.

THE goods for the new store, in th Riverside Block, are arriving daily and are being unpacked and arranged on the shelves as fast as possible. They will probably be open and ready for business about July 1st. This will be one of th inest stores in McHenry County.

THE repairs in and around the River side House are almost completed, the painters being now engaged in putting on the finishing touches. McHenry now has a hotel that is not surpassed outside of Chicago. The traveling public should bear this fact in mind when traveling this way.

THE Volksblatt, the German paper published at Woodstock, has purchase the Elgin German paper and is now the only German paper published in this part of the State. It has been enlarged to twelve pages, donned a new Head, and presents a neat and tasty appearance besides being filled with news from beginning to end. Adolph Fisher is the traveling Agent, and is a hustler in this line. Success to the Volksblatt say we.

THE editor of the Independence (Kas.) Starsued a delinquent subscriber for $11. The delinquent claimed that he never subscribed for the paper and did not propose to pay. The judge instructed the jury that if the evidence disclosed the fact that the delinquent had taken the paper from the office, or caused it to be so taken they should fine the plaintiff. It cost the man nearly a hundred dollars to settle what eleven dollars would have paid. It pays to be honest, even with truly. the printer.

THE School in District No. 3, the Brafield District, taught by Miss Susie Paulissen, closed with appropriate exer cises on Thursday, June 11th, and the many visitors who were there pronounced the programme a very interesting one and one that did honor to both Teache and pupils. There was music, speaking singing, etc. Miss Paulissen certainly has cause to feel proud of her success and has proved herself to be one of the best thers in this section. After the exer cises were over all were invited to the residence of Jacob Stock, where a bountiful repast was served, and went home feeling that they had spent a pleasant and profitable afternoon.

A FUNNY incicent occurred at a choir rehearsal in one of the fashionable city churches not long ago. They were pre paring for the following Sunday morning a beautiful selection, the first words of which were: "I am a Pilgrim." It so happened that the music divided the word pilgrim and made a pause af er the the Conference, and especially Prohibifirst syllable. The Soprano sang in a tionists and members of the W. C. T. U. high key, "I am a Pil-" and stopped. Let all turn out and make this a great The alto repeated "I am a Pil-." The tenor acknowledged that he was a "Pil-" and when the bass came thundering in with a like declaration, "I am a Pil-" it was too much for the gravity of the singers, and they roared. No amount of practice could get them past the fatal pause without an outburst, and the piece finally had to be given up.—Ex.

DIED-In Chicago, on Thursday morn ing, June 18th, 1891, of fatty degenera-tion of the heart, Mrs. Maggie McOmber, wife of C. H. McOmber, in the 34th year

The above announcement shocked and grieved a large circle of friends in Mc Henry, but few of whom were aware that she was even sick. She had been in poor health for some time, but for the past few weeks had been able to be around and even the day before her death was able to be on the streets. She was a woman of rare personal worth, and was honored and respected by all who knew her. Mr. McOmber has the heartfelt sym pathy of a host of friends in this vicinity at his great loss. The funeral was held from St. John's church, Chicago, on Sat urday at 10 a. m., thence by C. & N. W. R'y to Calvary. The floral tributes wer numerous and elegant and showed the high regard in which she was held by all who knew her.

"Life would be a dreary journey, Filled with sorrow and despair, But for hopes of meeting fondly, All the loved ones over there."

A Righteons Judge. Judge Hamer created a sensation at Broken Bow the other day by delivering n oration upon a motion made by a local attorney to confirm a real estate mortgage foreclosure: "This docket is covered, page upon page, with confirma-tion cases. The last summer's drouth has exhausted the farmer's resources, and be is unable to pay his loans. The act of God, for which the people are not responsible, has reduced one-half of them to almost beggary, and this calamity shall not be made worse by any act of mine. We are asked to turn 100 farms over to money lenders, and 500 women and children over to pauperism. It shall never be done in this district while I am judge. The people are not able to pay, and I will not assist in their being

"Let us wait antil a crop can be raised and all will come out right. If a man be living on his land, or living off of it. and trying to cultivate it, he should have the reward of his work. I will never confirm a sale in times like these if the owner is trying to make a living on the land. When the people are campelled to ask aid to procure seed it would be cruel mockery to deprive them of the land to sow the seed on. I have a right not to confirm sales when property sold does not bring two thirds its actual value and in these cases it has not brought that amount. The sale is not confirmed.' -Kearney (Neb.) Hab.

Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly for July Some very interesting recollections of the Empress Eugenie and the Court of the Tuileries comprise the leading articl in the July number of Frank Leslie's Pop ular Monthly. It was written especially for this magazine by Mme. Carette, nee Bouvet, author of "Souvenirs de la Cour des Tuileries," "Madam Campan," etc., des Tuileries," "Madam Campan," etc., and translated by Mrs. Frank Leslie. The article is charmingly written, and is accompanied by many fine illustrations, including a new portrait of the Empress. This number of the magazine also contains the following illustrated articles: "Some distinguished Literary Women of America," by Mrs. Van Ettan Mack; "On a Chilian Hacienda," by J. S. Whitman; "A Summer among the Icebergs;" "Pleasures and Pains of Golf;" "An Old Moviens, Sport: ""A Ferrara Pilgrim-Mexican Sport;" "A Ferrara Pilgrimage," by Herbert Piersen, and "The National Storehouse of Wealth." Nellie Hart Woodworth contributes another of her delightful bird papers, and William Eleroy Curtis gives a good explanation of Secretary Blaine's Beciprocity policy. A new installment of the serial "John Maggs, Barbarian," by Scott Campbell is given; and there are five interesting
