End of Volapuk In France. Many persons will perhaps breathe a Some of the new public officials who sigh of relief on hearing that Volapuk is are making their debut on the public most energetic apostle and propagator has been sent away from the Paris head-quarters of the Volapukists and is now German in a provincial college. This being the case, the members of the French association of Volapukists have decreed the dissolution of their society. Nevertheless they had at one time great hopes of success, and their strange jargon was almost elevated for a while to the rank of a fashionable fad. Lectures in the new language, which was to undo all the damage wrought by the Babel affair long ago, were attended by numerous students of both sexes. and small sheets in the strange compound of tongues were disseminated every week among adepts and the general public. By degrees the craze died out, and the number of Volapukists in Paris dwindled down to a few enthusiastic persons full of sentiments peculiar to those who cling through thick and thin to lost causes.—Paris Letter.

The Confirmation of Eckels.

The confirmation of Mr. Eckels as comptroller of the currency is a victory for Mr. Cleveland, who played a high game and won. It is now known that it caused no little feeling on the part of Secretary Carlisle, who did not think that Eckels was a fit man for the post and said so. Nevertheless he would not antagonize the president in the question of confirmation. Persons who well know the feelings of the president say he is greatly encouraged as to the future, including the senate's reputed hostility on the silver question.

The line of battle against the president was formed, and word sent that if he would save himself from defeat, he should withdraw Eckels' name. To which he is said to have replied, in substance, that if senators chose they might reject the nomination, and he would see them later. This had the effect of producing a sober second thought, and Eckels was confirmed. Persons who know the new comptroller say he will astonish Wall street and other financial centers before he has been long in office.—Washington

He Swindles the Americans Evidence of the extent to which William Lord Moore carries on his next of kin swindle in America continues to reach me from time to time. One of the latest cases to hand is from a gentleman in Texas, who fortunately saw my warning in time to prevent him being duped into paying the "tax on legacies and bequests" mentioned in the bogus decree of the supreme court of chancery with which this indomitable rogue had favored Really I think that it is time for the police of some nationality to attempt to deal with the swindler, and, so far as I can see, the American police have the first claim upon his liberty, for it is evident from the correspondence in my possession that this latter victim fell into Moore's hands through an advertisement of a New York claim agency. William Lord Moore is well known at Scotland d I am convinced that if it l were asked for every assistance would stultify our own principles and deny our be given in ridding the country of this own history when we deprive one worthy rascal.-London Truth.

Appomattox Anniversary. Sunday, April 9, was the anniversary of the surrender of Lee at Appomattox. Twenty-eight years have elapsed since the fall of the confederacy and the end of the civil war. During that short time the bitterness of the past between the sections has died out, and the recurrence of the anniversary saw the nation a reunited whole, the grandest government and the best country on the face of the globe. Immediately after Appomattox the south accepted the situation and went to work with a will to retrieve her lost fortunes, in which she has been remarkably successful. As an example of the efficacy of intelligent industry, the growth of the south during the last 28 years is without a parallel.—Savannah News. The Goat to Have His Day. The most popular place in New York, if the cholera comes, should be Shantytown, and the proudest animal on the island will be the goat, for Dr. Klemperer of Berlin, after going over the subject of securing immunity against chol era, and after trying all methods of vaccination, including the swallowing of a pint of cholera bouillon, finds that the milk of an immunized goat does the work best and most easily. The price of goats has been $5 and upward. cholera comes, this much ridiculed ani-mal may take a position in history higher than the sacred bull of Egypt or the vaccinated calf of Jenner. Harlem, too, will become the center of New York and not an up town annex.-Medical Record.

Public Dinners Are Too Serious. Dinners are much too serious, particularly for the speakers. In Boston, in the week ending March 18, two men dropped dead at public dinners. One of the feasts thus visited was a Tammany club dinner on St. Patrick's day, and the fatal visitation did not come until 4 o'clock in the morning. That case may have been simply one of exhausted nature, but about the other there was something almost suggestive of a judgment, for it happened at the annual supper of a Women's Christian Temperance union, and the brother who fell was a Presbyterian clergyman who had just arisen to respond to the toast. A new appointee generally has an exaggerated and exalt filling an important post as professor of tion of his own importance. It takes time and the natural shiftings of the tides to bring him to a realizing sense of the position he occupies and its relation to others. Mr. Olney is an able lawyer and a man of great ability, but he has never before held public office and is inclined to be both petulant and arrogant. The other day Representative Moses of Georgia called upon the attorney general to offer some suggestions about one of the Georgia appointments under the department of justice. When Moses had stated his business, Attorney General Olney said curtly:

"You will have to be brief." Mr. Moses flared up. "Things have reached a pretty pass," said he hotly, when a representative in congress can be spoken to in that fashion by a cabinet officer upon whom he has called on public business. I am not accustomed to be told that I must be brief. Good morning, sir," he added as he turned on his heel and departed. The attorney general realized that he had made a mis take. He tried to correct it, but the irate Georgian refused to listen.-Washington Cor. Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Just Right.

Here is a little story for which every reader may furnish his own moral. In a New England city a bright young woman who earns her own living had saved $75 with which to go to the World's fair. A few weeks ago a sensational Boston newspaper started a contest for free trips to the fair. The young woman's friends thought they would surprise her with one of thes free trips. They began buying the newspaper coupons and sending them in to be credited to her. Some indiscreet friend let her know what was going on. As her friends were spending so much money for her benefit she felt bound in honor to assist. In the end her $75 went into the pool, and in the total over $400 were spent, but this sum was not quite enough. The free trip went to somebody who had 20,500 coupons against her 20,000. She gets nothing for the $400 spent in her behalf, and she will not go to the fair. Hundreds more tried and failed. The newsnaner nocketed thousands of dollars for which it makes no return. But did the newspaper get this money honestly?-

The Treaty With Russia. The principal point of objection in the proposed treaty with Russia is the exceedingly loose definition of political offenses in article 3, which exposes a large class of people who come to this country for a refuge from political, social and religious oppression to the malicious machinations of a foreign power, which affords no such guarantees of a fair and just trial under the law as those which constitute the chief pride and privilege of the American people. Standing as this nation does for universal liberty and human rights, we refugee who has been persecuted out of his native land of the guardianship of our beneficent laws and the protection of our courts of justice. Under this treaty the Russian government can come into this country by means of its agents and pursue any Russian whom it may see fit to charge with an extraditable offense and demand his immediate surrender, even though he has become a fully naturalized American citizen.—New York

Mail and Express. · Ungallant Criticism of Gladstone. An edifying exhibition of judicial taste and humor was given by Sir Richard Harington at a church defense meeting at Hereford recently. The county court judge presided, and in closing the meeting he remarked that there was only one person in the universe who would be dissatisfied with their proceedings. "That person was usually described as an old gentlemen. He did not mean Mr. Gladstone. He meant the devil." Sir Richard's elegant persiflage was a fitting supplement to that of Mr. W. Morris, who, speaking on the same day at a meeting held under the presidency of the bishop of Hereford, suggested that if Mr. Gladstone persisted with the Welsh suspensory bill "he might be accused, probably rightly accused, of treading in the steps of Judas Iscariot." Mr. Morris, however, is but a layman.-London For He Might Have Been a Russian. The case of Lup Chue, the Chinaman who was arrested for violating the United States registration law, was heard before United States Commissioner A. J. Williams yesterday. Judge Blandin, the attorney for Lup Chue, charged that the state could not prove that Lup Chue was a Chinaman. There was no expert testimony to demonstrate that Lup Chue was not a Japanese, or a Russian, or a Turk, or any other nationality. The state was utterly unable to show what constituted a Chinaman, and Lup Chue was dis-

Mrs. Astor Is Edging Into the Inner Circle. There seems to have been a misstatement in asserting that Mr. Astor will take up his permanent residence in England. Mr. Astor's financial interests will demand his frequent presence in New York. Mrs. Astor will, however, be more constantly in this country, where she has received the most friendly attention from the aristocracy. It was noticed that at the drawing room Mrs. Astor was received into the inner circle as a special mark of the queen's favor.— London Court Journal.

Our Vienna correspondent is able to contradict a misleading report. It has been said that a club of men of position has been formed in that city for the assistance of young women of humble station who may aspire to marriage with them. A new club has indeed come into being, but it is of quite anoth is a club of professed bachelors-bate order of dandies. It deriv origin no doubt from a well kn don institution which bears the same name. But our Bachelors' club binds it members by no self denying ording in regard to the future, and we be it demands not more than that c dates shall have been single at one t in their lives. That might be tolers as a passing condition, but it is a different thing to shut the door to pentance forever. The Viennese women are justly censed, and some threaten to retaliate forming another society pledged to stern refusal of all offers from the B elors' club. This implies the belief that the bachelors cannot possibly keep th vows, and it proves to be in singular h mony with experience. They have broken them by anticipation. An indignant woman has openly charged the preside with frequent promises of marriage to herself and has demanded his deposition. In all probability the institution will have to change its title and become the the department of state Peru has promised full reparation for the recent attack upon our consular agency at Mollendo, and as an earnest of her purpose has already removed from office the subprefect of the department in which the assault occurred. Minister Hicks, in reporting the affair, spoke of the person who had been wounded as an acting consular agent, and since Mr. Griffith is our accredited representative at Mollendo a native of Peru may have been in temporary charge of the consulate during the outbreak of mob violence. But Mr. Gresham's demand for reparation was based on the offense com-mitted against the government as well as on the injury to person and property.

Prompt as that demand was, the response of Peru has been equally quick and unequivocal. She has expressed her regret for the occurrence, so that the apology due to the government is practically complete, and the proper amount of indemnity can easily be settled.
