TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One year (in advance) ..... $1.00
If not paid within three months, $1.25.
Subscriptions received for three or six months in the same proportion.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

We announce the rates for advertising in the Plaindealer, and endeavor to state them so clearly that they will be readily understood. They are as follows:

1 insertion per year	1000
3 insertions per year	2500
6 insertions per year	4000
12 insertions per year	6000
24 insertions per year	10000

One line means the measurement of one inch down the column, single column width.

Yearly advertisements, at the above rates, have the privilege of changing as often as they choose, without extra charge.

Special advertisements, meaning those having standing cards, will be inserted in the local notices at the rate of 5 cents per line each week. All others will be charged in cents per line the first week, and 5 cents per line for each subsequent week.

Transient advertisements will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line, (nonpareil type, same as this is set in) the first time, and 5 cents per line for subsequent insertions. Thus an inch advertisement, will cost $1.00 for one week, $1.50 for two weeks, $2.00 for three weeks, and so on.

The Plaindealer will be liberal in giving editorial notices, but, as a business rule, will require a suitable fee from every advertiser for the use of its columns for public notice.

The value of a newspaper as an advertising medium is determined by the size of the circulation. The Plaindealer is larger than that of any other paper in McHenry County.

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 6, 1893.

Secretary Herbert will call for one more battle ship, four torpedo boats, and an increase of the enlisted men in the navy in his report to Congress.

A Belfast, Maine, man who recently looked into the dead letter office at Washington, found pigeonholed there a familiar looking object, which proved to be an ornamented hollywood glove box that he had made with a jig saw and mailed to a friend sixteen years ago.

The post office department has decided to do away with letter sheets as they are almost entirely unused. The fee for registering letters and parcels will also be put back to ten cents instead of eight as at present, and the three sized postal cards will be done away with and only one size issued, which will be a compromise between the largest now in use and the old kind.

We have been treated this year to a regular old-fashioned Thanksgiving, such as we have not had for many a long year. The day opened clear and cool, with a coating of ice on the ground that was good for sleighs, but not for pedestrians. As the time approached for the assembling of the clans the "flakes of feathery white" descended rapidly and quietly till all traces of mother earth were hidden under several inches of snow. Next morning the public woke to find the mercury indicating ten degrees below and winter in full possession.

WOMAN AND THE LAW.

Views of Distinguished Feminine Pupils at the University of New York.

One of the most remarkable events of the closing months of the year 1893 is the enrollment of 100 female names in the woman's law class of the University of New York. Every woman who has joined the class has a reason for doing so. There is Mrs. Mary White Martinot. She is the talented mother of Miss Sadie Martinot, the actress. Mrs. Martinot is the most renowned of all the women inventors of the world. She has realized 35 patents on her creations, and she has begun the study of the law to protect her in her inventions. Mrs. Martinot is a very earnest woman, practical and honest in her convictions, and has a deep determination to become proficient in her studies.

Mme. Alberti, the principal of the Del-sarte School of Expression on Fifth avenue, takes up the lectures for self culture. "I believe that every woman should thoroughly understand her position in the law," said Mme. Alberti when asked for her opinion. "It is ridiculous to be constantly confronted with woman's ignorance in the practical ways of life. An ordinary, everyday business man, or even a gentleman of leisure, forgets more in one half hour of the practical laws of life than most bright women ever know. Perhaps one can account for this when it is realized that men have lived always in an atmosphere of knowledge getting. They have been allowed every freedom and every implement to raise them to the heights of their ambition, while until very recently women were told to cook, wash dishes, take care of the babies, trim hats, sew, sit in a glass case or keep quiet."

"Why, pray, should women not become lawyers? There is no sane reason. Women are smart, energetic, truthful, loyal, clever, strong and persevering. And then, whether a woman wishes to put her sign out as barrister or not, she should study law carefully in order to catch up with the regular army of cultured men."

Inogene C. Fales of Brooklyn is perhaps the most distinguished member of the class. Mrs. Fales has for 15 years been engaged philanthropically in sociology. She is the proprietor and editor of The Sociologic News and is one of the
