Montez in her way, flourishes about the streets bright and festive as need be, and blissfully careless of what may be the result of her ride.

American Despatches.

ACCIDENT—BUNDRES DROWNED.

San Francisco, July 6.

The drawbridge at the ferry-boat landing on the Oakland side of the bay gave way on the 4th; about sixty persons were precipated into the water; 10 bodies have been recovered. It is impossible to ascertain the number drowned.

CHOLERA ABATING.

Havana, July 6.

Cholera, which made its appearance here some time ago, is decreasing in violence, and the attacks are much milder than at first.

JOHNSON AS DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT.

New York, July 7.

President Johnson, in answer to the inquiry of a certain friend in New York, has written a letter expressing a willingness to accept the Democratic nomination, provided the call is so general and unequivocal as to serve as an endorsement of his course.

ANNEXATION OF PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND TO THE UNITED STATES.

The Tribune's special says the Reciprocity bill affecting the United States and Prince Edward's Island, was introduced by Gen. Butler in the House to-day; it is designed to remove our fishing vessels from restrictions which are imposed by the authorities of that island, and to prepare the way for the annexation of the island to the United States.

THE BALLOTING—THE PROSPECT.

New York, July 8.

The Times says Pendleton's friends have lost all confidence of his being nominated.

The World says: The impression was quite general that there was no chance for the nomination of Pendleton, and the idea was prevalent that Hendricks would be the winning man.

The Tribune says it is rumoured that Chase signified his approval of the Democratic platform, and it is predicted his friends will present his name to the convention to-day.

THE LATEST.

New York, June 8, 3.30 p.m.

In the Democratic Convention the 17th ballot stood: Hancock 137½, Pendleton 70½, Hendricks 60, Doolittle 13, Parker 7, Johnson 6. A motion to adjourn till morning is now pending.

New York Democratic Convention.

On Tuesday, the Democratic Convention was fully organized by the selection of Ex-Gov. Seymour, of New York, as President. His address was reasonably brief, and chiefly devoted to the doings of the Republican party. A steady stream of resolutions then flowed toward the chair, and were referred without debate to the Platform Committee. The resolutions of the National Labor Convention were read and honored with cheers, especially the greenback point. Miss Anthony's appeal for the enfranchisement of women was received with some merriment and sent to the platform builders. A resolution was adopted declaring it the duty of every friend of constitutional government to support the President; and another that the flag should protect foreign-born citizens everywhere. A vote of thanks to Chief Justice Chase for his able and impartial course in the impeachment trial was hailed with loud applause. The amnesty proclamation was approved. On a motion to nominate a candidate for President, the Convention finally voted that the platform should first be adopted. The Convention recommended universal amnesty, and condemned the Congressional reconstruction system. At the evening session, the resolution to adopt a platform, before naming candidates was reconsidered, but the Convention did not get so far as to propose the names of nominees.

THE DRY TORTUGAS.—An American contemporary draws a fearful sketch of the penal settlement to which American felons are consigned. What Siberia is to Russia, Cayenne to France, Fernando Po to Spain, what Norfolk Island is to England, the Dry Tortugas are to the United States. Situated at the southern extremity of Florida, these burning coral reefs, unshaded by a single tree, unrefreshed by a single source, bear no sign of human habitation save the huts in which the wretched transports linger, and the barracks in which the almost equally wretched soldiers who guard them are sheltered. From year's end to year's end the rays of an almost vertical sun beat upon the Dry Tortugas with unremitting intensity; yellow fever is ever rife there; and no animal life, save that of the prisoners and their guard, is possible by reason of all vegetation and fresh water. A prisoner who had served out his sentence in the Dry Tortugas, and had been restored alive to society, would be welcomed at Barnum's Museum as a rare curiosity.

The Queen's Reign.

On the 20th of June Queen Victoria completed the 31st year of her reign, and it was observed as a holiday in England. A great review of volunteers and regular troops took place at Windsor Park, 27,000 men being present under arms; and the number of spectators was immense. The affair was a success. The Queen is getting to be an old sovereign, though she is not an old woman, in any sense. For more than these hundred and twenty years only three English or British sovereigns have reigned above thirty-one years,—namely, Elizabeth, George II., and George III.,—unless we add to Charles II's reign the eleven years and more that he passed in exile between the day of his father's execution and the day of his own restoration. In five hundred and forty years only six English sovereigns have reigned more than thirty-one years; and ten since the incoming of the Normans, in 1066. The ten were,—Henry I, 35 years and four months; Henry II., 34 years and nine month; Henry III., 56 years and one month; Edward I., 34 years and 8 months; Edward III., 50 years and 10 months; Henry VI., 38 years and 4 months; Henry VIII., 37 years and 9 months; Elizabeth, 44 years and four months; George II., 33 years and four months and a half; and George III., 59 years, three months, and four days. There have been thirty-five sovereigns since the Norman Conquest, or in not quite eight hundred and two years, from which must be deducted the eleven years and four months of the Commonwealth and Protectorate; so that the average length of the reigns has been about twenty-two years and seven months. Queen Victoria has gone beyond the average, and it may be her fortune to have the longest reign in English history, which might be the case and she die younger than her grandfather when he made way for George IV. She has good health, a good conscience, and good subjects, and she performs her duties well; and her earthly reward may be to live long in the land of which she is the head, and to reign till the close of the century. The Victoria age will be as famous as that of Elizabeth in most respects, and will be regarded as having been far superior to it in everything that immediately concerns humanity.

MERCHANTS' BANK OF CANADA.—The first annual meeting of this Bank was held in its Banking House, in Montreal, on Monday, the 6th July.

The President, Hugh Allan, Esq, read the report, which stated that the amalgamation of the Merchants' Bank with the Commercial Bank of Canada, the change of the name of the institution thus created to the "Merchants' Bank of Canada," and the new arrangements requisite for carrying on the business, have occupied much of the attention of the directors, and have all been successfully accomplished. A careful examination of all the assets has within the last few weeks been made by the Inspector of the Bank, and the result varies but little from the estimate made at the time of amalgamation. The deposits and circulation have already attained to respectable amounts, and the directors have resolved to invite the shareholders to subscribe the balance required to increase the capital stock to $4,000,000. A series of resolution in connection with the proposed increase of the capital stock, were carried, after which the election of directors for the ensuing year resulted in the unanimous return of the retiring Board

BANK OF COMMERCE.—The first annual meeting of the shareholders of this Bank was held in Toronto on Tuesday, when the report of the directors was read and adopted. For the thirteen and a half months ending 30th June the net available profits made amounted to $97,193, 20. Two dividends at the rate of 8 per cent. per annum were paid out of this sum, and $40,000 carried to "rest account."

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 9, 1868.

CAB ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon, as a cabman was driving along Ontario street, and when opposite the Market Battery, the rein on the left side broke, and the horses receiving their guidance from the remaining one, started to the right side of the street, plunging violently and dragging the carriage with great force against the Battery wall. Policeman Meacle seized one of the horses, which was jammed between the front of the carriage and the wall, and the cabman the other, while those inside the vehicle jumped out, and escaped without injury. Portions of the cab were badly smashed.

POLICE COURT, Wednesday. — Susan Brickwood, who is no stranger at the Courts was up again this morning, charged with being drunk and a vagrant, for which offence she was sent to gaol for thirty days. B. Halligan, Montreal Road, was charged by Inspector Mostyn with selling liquor without license. The case was clearly proved by one witness, and the defendant was fined $20 and costs. Robert Newman and Thomas Chamberlain were charged with being disorderly on Barrie Street on the 4th inst. The case was adjourned until Friday, to give the defendants time to procure witnesses.

MIDNIGHT EXERCISES.—The dogs in the neighborhood of Simcoe Street are going through a course of training for an exhibition, which they intend to give in aid of the poor orphans of their own species. The leader of the orchestra is a well known yellow dog, and the superintendent of the athletic department is a certain large black dog as yet unknown to fame. At the hour of midnight they assemble, and then the observer may see them go through the unparalleled tumbling feat, which is accompanied by slow music and the rich full baritone of a dog belonging to a certain inhabitant of the locality. A gentleman in this neighborhood is determined to put a stop to the exhibition, for which he deserves all the anathemas the canine race can bestow upon him, and all the blessings of the humane race. So be warned. Keep your dogs within your own yards at night, unless you wish to be minus a dog in the morning.

A NUISANCE.—If the police wanted to confer a favor on a most deserving portion of the inhabitants of the "West End," and desired as well to replenish the city funds, they would pay a frequent visit in the direction of O'Gorman's, Simcoe street, about the hour of 7 p.m., where any number of juveniles may be found as naked as Adam, swimming about in seeming defiance of the posters in relation to the hours of bathing. Such a nuisance has this become that it is exceedingly awkward to go down there with any ladies for the purpose of going out for a sail or a row on the lake. The Chief of Police has promised to send one of his ubiquitous policemen in that direction.

The price of the 4 lb loaf of bread, in Ottawa, is 7d, in Kingston, 7½d, in Prescott, 9d, but in Brockville, the complaint is that tenpence per loaf is charged by the combination of bakers.

THE ACCIDENT TO THE STEAMER CORINTHIAN.—The Corinthian did not strike in the rapids, nor on account of the lowness of the water. The rapids were run safely, but owing to the thick smoke she got out of her course and ran on a shoal. The damage to the vessel was slight, and the cargo is not damaged. The boat only lay in four feet of water forward and ten feet aft. Her pumps were kept going until the boat was taken off on Tuesday at noon. The conduct of Capt. Dunlop in the trying situation has elicited the admiration of the numerous passengers on board. They presented him, before leaving, with a neat address. One account says that the concussion of the steamer's striking caused considerable unnecessary excitement on board. There was a fine material on the boat for a panic—a newly married couple and an unusually large number of ladies. Two instances are related of the excitement: The life boats were lowered in order to be in readiness, and a cowardly waiter on board was the first to jump in, but was quickly ejected. One man (?), in his anxiety to secure himself, actually got hold of two life preservers, which, in the hurry of the moment, he attempted to put on breeches fashion, a leg in each.

No. 1 FRONTENAC VOL. CAVALRY.—This Troop (Major Duff's) broke camp yesterday, having completed its 8 days' drill.

SULTRY.—Yesterday witnessed no improvement in the state of the weather. If anything it was still hotter.

INTERESTING TO POLICE COURT LOAFERS.—The Police Magistrate of Halifax, N.S., has directed the arrest of all persons who, without any business, attend the police court in that city three days in succession. Such an order here would have a beneficial effect in reducing the number of the unwashed in attendance in our police court gallery.

THE VICTORY OF THE BOYNE.—The Orange Lodges of the district of Kingston assemble on Monday to celebrate the anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne, which occurs on Sunday, the 12th. A large gathering is expected from the district. The announcement appears elsewhere.

THE SHOOTING AFFRAY.—The examination of this case will be resumed this afternoon at 3 o'clock, in the Police Court Chamber. Young Brown is still improving, and at the present rate will soon be out of danger.

☞ Mr. Jas. O'Reilly, Q.C., is again at Ottawa.

☞ It is a pleasing fact, that at St. George's Cathedral on Sunday morning last there were one hundred and fifty communicants, including five newly confirmed.

THE LOUGHBORO PIC-NIC ON TUESDAY.—This was in fact the great Pic-Nic of the season. The attendance was immense, and the receipts, clear of all expenses, amount to $650. Had the fall of rain not occurred in the morning, at least double that sum would have been realized. The Band of the Christian Brothers was present from the city, and the programme of amusements was faithfully carried out as they were announced. The arrangements gave great satisfaction.

On Monday last Lord Strathden presented the petition of the people of Nova Scotia against Confederation. No further action was taken.

H. M. steam sloop-of-war "Barracouta," Commander Bevan, 6 guns, 1,053 tons, 175 officers and men, arrived at Quebec on Saturday afternoon, from Jamaica. She proceeds to Montreal, and will remain there during the summer.

Late news from Japan states that the Mikado still retains supreme power. The representatives of foreign powers have had interviews with him, at which negotiations were entered upon for continuing the treaties in force. The Mikado expressed a wish to maintain the best relations with foreign nations.

In the House of Lords to-night the Boundary and Scotch Reform bills were read the third time, and the Irish Reform bill was passed in committee.

Paris, July 7.

In the Corps Legislatif to-day Marshal Neil made an eloquent defence of the army and military power of the nation. He declared that in 1867 France would have been unable to cope with her neighbors, but now her power was such that none of them could compete with her.

A Special Notice.

CANADA CHEESE FACTORIES.—It is but a short time ago since Canada was dependant upon the United States for its ordinary Cheese; and it is but a shorter time ago since Cheese Factories in Canada were things unknown. Now the Cheese made in Canada is positively better than that of the United States, and Cheese Factories are Canadian Institutions in almost every County and Township in Ontario. This portion of the Province is celebrated for the excellence of its Grass, consequently it should be equally celebrated for its Cheese. It is becoming more and more so every day. One Cheese Factory on Wolfe Island manufactures Cheese of so admirable a quality, that all it makes finds ready sale in Montreal at high rates. But some of this really good Cheese can be procured of Mr. A. W Craig, in the Market Square, who is the only Agent the Company possesses.
