SALES, MEETINGS, AMUSEMENTS, &c.

COUNTY COURT and Quarter Sessions open to-day at noon, at the Court House.

THE SILVER NUISANCE.—Mr. Weir, the Money Broker of Montreal, has by circular renewed his proposition to the Merchants of Canada, to abate what is called the Silver Nuisance, but which in reality is no nuisance at all, but a real benefit to the community at large. He proposes to export Two Millions of Silver Coin in 40 weeks, provided the Merchants will pay him one dollar per week for 40 weeks for every $5,000 of coin he exports for them. The scheme is preposterous, cannot be carried out, and if it could, it would prove a curse to the country. The abundance of silver coin is of great advantage to trade and manufactures. Granted, that it is an inconvenience to retail dealers and Banks; nevertheless, as these retail dealers can price their own goods, the inconvenience ought to be no detriment to their business; and as for the Banks, though the abundance of silver restricts their issues, yet the remedy is in their own hands; for they have it in their power to call it in and hoard it in their vaults, and by a legislative enactment, which could be easily procured, pay it out for their own notes when called upon. The benefits of a surplus of Silver Coin are many and various. As it cannot be banked, those people that have it, pay it out readily, and it circulates much more than Bank Bills did, when they were the only money in use. Trade flourishes, manufactures are sold, and luxuries are more plentiful. In fact, 'the Silver Nuisance' is a great blessing, inconveniencing the few, but benefitting the many. Therefore let us hope that Mr. Weir may again fail in cajoling the Merchants and Traders into his visionary views.

The Canada Gazette of Saturday contains the following appointment by His Excellency the Governor General:

Thos. Park, of the City of Kingston, in the County of Frontenac, in the Province of Ontario, Esq., and of Osgoode Hall, barrister-at-law, to be the Deputy Judge of the County Court of the County of Frontenac in the Province of Ontario, in the place of G. L. Mowatt, Esq., resigned

THE CONVICT WHELAN.—There appears to have been no further argument in the Whelan case. The Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench has announced that he will deliver judgment in the case on the 21st inst. The writ of error upon which the arguments took place has the same effect as a respite. The prisoner will remain in custody in Toronto jail until judgment is given, and in case it should be adverse to granting the convict a new trial he will of course be conveyed back to Ottawa, to suffer the extreme penalty of the law at a time to be thereafter fixed by the judges.

☞ Hon. J. C. Troop, one of the Nova Scotia Repeal delegates to England, has addressed a letter to his constituents condemning Mr. Howe's course, and endorsing the letter of Mr. Annand.

☞ The Boston working men are making a vigorous protest against the prison contract system—that is, letting out the work of convicts in penal institutions.

☞ PRESENTATION.—A costly silver suit has been presented by the employees of the Grand Trunk Railway, at Montreal to Mr. J. C. Tandy, late foreman of the boiler and smiths shops, and now Superintendent of the Locomotive Works in this city.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.—President Johnson's message cannot, of course, be published until it is delivered, but one of the Boston papers publishes a synopsis of its principal points, and impresses its reliability on the public. The following is the most interesting point to us:

That the foreign affairs of the United States are in a favourable condition. The negotiations with Great Britain regarding the Alabama claims (so called) have not yet reached an end. Certain portions of the proposed protocol of arbitration were not approved by this Government, and have been returned to Minister Johnson. The resignation of the British Ministry is regarded as only a temporary hindrance. Many of the details relative to these claims is not deemed proper to communicate in the message.

THE EDITOR'S TABLE.—No. 468.

The Contributions to 'Our Table' last week were:—

THE HALF DOLLAR EDITION OF TENNYSON'S POEMS, Complete. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. 12mo., pp. 250. 40 cents.

THE POETICAL WORKS OF LORD BYRON. Cameron & Ferguson, Glasgow. 12mo., pp. 240. 20 cents.

THE POETICAL WORKS OF ROBT. BURNS. Cameron & Ferguson, Glasgow. 12mo., pp. 240. 20 cents.

THE ILLUSTRATED NATIONAL PRONOUNCING DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE. William Collins & Sons, Glasgow. 18mo., pp. 400. 25 cents.

THE ILLUSTRATED PRONOUNCING POCKET DICTIONARY OF THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE. William Collins & Sons, London. 24mo., pp. 318. 15 cents.

The above five little books have been sent us by Mr. John Henderson, of the City News Depot, and they are the prettiest, as well as the cheapest books imaginable. With one exception they are English editions, and the greatness of their sale accounts in some measure for their excessive cheapness. The Half Dollar edition of Tennyson, sold at 40 cents, is beautifully printed and complete; while the shilling editions of Byron and Burns are almost equally beautiful in execution. As for the two Dictionaries, the one for 25 cents and the other for 15 cents, they are perfect bijoux of the art of printing, abounding in engravings and illustrations. Mr. John Henderson is deserving of the public commendation for having introduced these charming and most useful little books to the Kingston public.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULTURIST for December. Orange Judd & Co., New York. $1.50 U. S. Currency.

THE LIVING AGE for Dec. 5. Littell & Gay, Boston. 18 cents.

EVERY SATURDAY for Dec. 5. Ticknor & Fields, Boston. 10 cents.

THE COURT SUBURB MAGAZINE for November. F. Aikin-Kortright, Kensington, London. Price Sixpence.

The Second No. of this new English Monthly has reached us. Its contents are more varied than in No. 1, altho' a large portion comprises an instalment of the fair editor's 'History of a Woman's Heart.' The notice of Kensington Palace is good, and so are the "Glimpses at Kensington Studios." 'The Huguenots' is prettily versified, and the whole number is an improvement upon No. 1.

THE DAILY WORLD—Toronto. A. H. St. Germain. One Penny.

We are pleased to see that Mr. St. Germain has re-commenced the publication of his Daily, and we heartily hope that he will find it remunerative, for he has plenty of talent and lots of experience to make it so.

THE CHURCH UNION for Nov. 14. Henry E. Child, 41 Park Row, New York. $2.50 U. S. Currency.

Those wanting a Mammoth Religious Newspaper will do well to order 'The Church Union' from us. (See Advertisement in another column.) It is the largest paper of its kind in the world, and is chiefly noted for its publication of the Sermons of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher almost as soon as they are delivered. Speaking of these Sermons, the Editor says:

"Many papers having announced that these Sermons would not be printed in the Church Union, we take pleasure in stating that the Sermons of this preacher do appear in every issue of this paper, and that they are to be printed hereafter at twelve o'clock on Monday, getting the sermon of Sunday out on the next day. We understand the publisher of the Church Union promises to print Mr. Beecher's sermons so long as they are acceptable to the Church, and requests all other papers to publish them from his own pages freely. If our friends want a wide-awake religious paper, unsectarian, and full of interesting matter, the largest and most Catholic paper in the world, let them send to Henry E. Child, 41 Park Row, for a copy of this paper, enclosing 10 cents."

BANK CHANGES.—Mr. Thos. McCracken has resigned his position as manager of the Gore Bank, in this City, and accepted an appointment on the staff of the Royal Canadian Bank, at Toronto. He will carry with him to his new sphere of labor the best wishes of the mercantile community of Hamilton and London, to whom he has been long and favourably known. In Mr. McCracken, the Royal Canadian has secured a gentleman of experience and unquestionable ability as a Banker. It is understood also, that Mr. Thomas Muir has accepted the position of accountant in the Gore Bank here. This appointment will at once be recognized by the public as a most judicious one.—Hamilton Spectator.

 It is reported that Mr. McCracken will be the new Manager of the Kingston Branch.

The New British Ministry.

The London Times of Saturday says Mr. Gladstone's Ministry will be completed to-day. Mr. Bright is said to have been offered the Secretaryship of State for India, and refused it. Mr. Gladstone should insist upon his going in, as Mr. John A. Macdonald did Mr. Brown at the time of forming the coalition of 1864. Lord Clarendon, who was Foreign Secretary in Earl Russell's last ministry, is mentioned for the Foreign Secretaryship, but, it is said, Mr. Bright has insisted that the post should be given to Earl Kimberley, who was Lord Lieutenant of Ireland prior to the present occupant, the Duke of Abercorn, and is now Chairman of the Hudson's Bay Company. We can quite understand that this statement is correct. Lord Clarendon, when Foreign Secretary, had to conduct a long correspondence with Mr. Adams, late U.S. Minister, and Mr. Seward with regard to the Alabama claims, in the course of which he took ground that would be embarrassing both to himself and his government if he were to become Lord Stanley's successor. Mr. Robert Lowe, of the Times, a well-known Adullamite, will in all probability be Chancellor of the Exchequer. Mr. Cardwell, who was Colonial Secretary under Lord Russell, will come in at the head of the War Office, and Mr. Eardley Childers of the Admiralty. Mr. Henry Woods, of whom we do not know much, is spoken of for the woolsack, and Mr. Coleridge, an eminent London barrister, for the office of Solicitor-General. Ireland will have Mr. Chichester Fortescue as its Chief Secretary. Lord Russell's experience will be made use of in the Cabinet, but he will be without a portfolio. The Chief of the Colonial Office is not named.—Leader.

The Mining Bill.

In the Assembly on Friday, when Mr. Richards moved the second reading of the Mining Bill,

Mr. McKellar said there were objectionable features in the Bill. The Government would require the assistance of the opposition to make the measure as perfect as possible, and they would receive it. He did not wish to say anything further at the present stage.

Mr. McCall wanted a general Bill; doing it by piecemeal would not affect the desired end or satisfy the country.

Mr. Cumberland had pleasure in congratulating the Commissioner of Crown Lands upon the measure submitted, but thought some alteration might be made so as to make it better.

Mr. Pardee thought the Bill a liberal one in its provisions; he was glad the Government had not decided to compel parties to work the mines, although some members had argued for it. He was certain such a provision never could be enforced. He did not see that the reservation of timber objectionable in the Bill, and he trusted the Government would be liberal in the price of the land, so as to encourage persons to settle on the North shore of Lake Superior.

Mr. Richards did not think the lands should be sold outright as proposed by some members. There was a variety of opinion as to how the lands should be disposed of; one wanted a heavy tax and another a light one. The present Act was practically an experiment, and the duty of the Government was to see that such changes were made as to ensure its being carried out successfully. If the Government had no discretion in the matter parties would go in and get hold of the mineral lands at a cheap rate with a view of securing something more valuable. The Government could not send out parties to examine the whole of the country, so as to distinguish between mining and timber lands; it must all be treated alike. He had no doubt that the whole of the country in rear of Belleville would be occupied as mining land. He would be happy at any time to consult with the hon. member for Bothwell with regard to the measure.

The Bill was read a second time.

Scovill's application to be discharged from arrest on the ground of being an Attorney was refused by the Chief Justice.

Financial feeling continues to improve. Bank of New Brunswick stock sold at auction at 41 per cent premium. Commercial Bank notes 15 per cent discount.

European Mail News.

The worst disturbances which took place during the late elections seems to have occurred at Northampton, when some of the supporters of Mr. Mills' infidel friend, Bradlaugh, tried to kill that persons victorious opponent.

Lord Napier, of Magdala, whom the Italian papers call the Duke of Magdala, left Florence on the 16th ult., after a very short stay, and proceeded to Brindisi, en route for India. Lord Mayo, on his way to India. He made the passage across Mount Cenis in four hours by the Fell Railway.

The French papers state that apprehensions are entertained of a fresh outbreak of the Arab tribes in Algeria, in consequence of the severity of the Military rule. The Emperor Litherto has been appealed to in vain to relax the stringency of the regulations enforced by his army.

A citizen of Belfast, Ireland, thirsting for fame, has climed the spire of a church there, and been photographed while standing on the ball.

Lamartine has just celebrated his 78th birthday. He is completely in his dotage. He daily dicates to a secretary, but there is no sense in what he says.

Twenty-four "young bloods" of Exeter, England, were sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars each, or fourteen days' imprisonment, for firing off squibs and crackers in the street on Guy Fawkes' day.

The son and heir of M. Paulin, who founded the Paris Illustration, which made his fortune, committed suicide, lately by wrapping his head in linen soaked with enormous quantities of chloroform. He began life with an income of 75,000 francs a year, and squandered it all in gambling.

The British Board of Admiralty has completed and launched at Deptford dockyard a screw steamship of 1,268 tons burden, named the Spartan. It will carry six guns and the vessel is so constructed as to fire in a line with her keel. The keel was laid and the vessel completed within the year.

Mary Walters, an English woman, better known by her soubriquet of 'Skittles,' died recently in Paris. She belonged to a notorious circle of demi monde, and was the favorite of a good many titled and untitled men of wealth. She once, on a wager, bowed to the Emperor, and threw a kiss at him, for which her carriage was excluded from the park, and an agent of the police visited her with the suggestion that the air of Paris was not suited to her complexion, and that her passport was ready, with the official visa partie. There is a young English Lord, on leaving her one morning, presented her with a fifty-pound note, and apologised for the slender donation. 'My father,' he said, 'allows me a mere pittance; when he dies I shall more opportunity to be liberal.' 'Many thanks,' said Skittles. 'John (turning to her servant), show out Lord ——, and admit him again when his father is dead.'

GAMBLING IN STOCKS.—A New York correspondent maintains that the gambling at Baden Baden is not nearly so reckless as that observable in Wall Street. He alludes to an elegant church building in New York—toward the erection of which one young man gave $40,000. This young man owned a fine country seat on the Hudson; an elegant establishment in New York; had his fast team on the road; made, it was said, seldom less than $25,000 a day. Thirty days ago, his name was good for any amount at the banks. His country house has gone; he has given up his city establishment, and has not now enough money to buy a bag of oats for his fast team. Erie and the Pacific Mail carried them under. Requiescat in pace.

A HOT BATH.—A ludicrous and amusing incident recently occurred in connection with the Gentile opposition to Mormon authority. A man coming from the West stopped at the Hot Springs just outside of Salt Lake City, and having heard of their medicinal properties, was about to bathe in one of them. After he had disrobed and just as he was about to plunge in, a stranger approached and told him that he could not bathe in that spring. The Western Gentile's ire became aroused at once, and thinking that it was another instance of Mormon despotism, he immediately replied: "The d—l I can't. I'd like to see old Brigham or any body stop me," and in he plunged, but he got out sooner than he got in for it was a boiling spring. His anger against the Mormons had not permitted him to ask the stranger why he could not bathe there, but he was determined to show Brigham that he could not stop him from bathing.

A Sensation Spoiled.

NAPOLEON'S DEATH CONTRADICTED.

New York, Dec. 5.

The report of Napoleon's death is contradicted. Gold has fallen to 134½.

London, Dec. 3, midnight.

Telegrams from New York announcing unkeepiness in America on the reported killing of Napoleon were received here to-day. The rumor was entirely without foundation. The Emperor is not dead, or even ill.

FROM OTTAWA

Appointment — Revenue and Expenditure—Insurance.

Ottawa, Dec. 5.

The following extract from the London Gazette of the 13th Nov., 1868, is published for general information:

War Office, Nov. 13th, 1868.

The Queen has been graciously pleased to give orders for the appointment of the Right Hon. Sir John Young, Bart., K.C.B., G.C.M.G., late Capt.-General and Governor-in-Chief, in and over the colony of New South Wales, to be an extra member of the civil division of the first class, or Knights-Grand-Cross of the Most Hon. Order of the Bath.

The following is a statement of the revenue and expenditure of the Dominion of Canada for the month of November, 1868:—Revenue of Customs, $624,196.98; Excise, $283,570.55; Post-Office, $69,519.51; Bill Stamps, $20,250.82; Public Works, including Railways, $75,874.50; miscellaneous, $141,442.04; total $1,214,164.61. Expenditure, $987,443.61.

The following Insurance Companies have received licenses to the loan act business:—The Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Office, London, England; The Star Life Assurance Society of England; Joseph Gregory, Agent, Toronto.

The meeting of the Quebec Parliament is further postponed until the 15th January, 1869.

The Dominion Parliament is further prorogued till January the 26th.

The sentence of death pronounced upon Charles Campbell at the last Wentworth Assizes for rape, has been commuted by His Excellency, to imprisonment in the penitentiary for life.

Hon. Wm. McDougall has not left England, as was reported, and does not intend to do so at all.

The following insolvents are gazetted to-day: Henry Strickler, Galt; Wm. Armson, Thornton; Colin Came on and David Ross, Montreal; George Leslie & Co., Acton; Ephraim Croak, Aylmer; Isaac B. Cameron, East Nissouri; Wm. Woodgate, Trenton; John Cummins, East Farnboro'; Wood & Rossiter, Ottawa; James Cormack, Montreal; Jos. Levalle, Niculet; Jacques Valleneuve, Montreal; James Baillie, Montreal; Robert Hutchinson, London; Robert Hookgr, Woodstock; John Hyslop, Smith's Falls; Donald Macdonald & Co., Luxan; Alex. Ouimet, West Farnham; John Guest, Walkerton; John McMahon, Whitby; Wm. B. Hunt, Brantford; Wm. Buchanan, Windsor; Frank Davis, do.; Wm. Davis, Bellevill; H. H. Bibony, Brockville; Wm. F. Rosmour, Oakville.

BREAKFAST.—A SUCCESSFUL EXPERIMENT.—The Civil Service Gazette has the following:—"There are very few simple articles of food which can boast of so many valuable and important dietary properties as cocoa. While acting on the nerves as a gentle stimulant, it provides the body with some of the purest elements of nutrition, and at the same time corrects and invigorates the action of the digestive organs. These beneficial effects depend in a great measure upon the manner of its preparation, but of late years close attention has been given to the growth and treatment of cocoa, that there is no difficulty in securing it with every useful quality fully developed. The singular success which Mr. Epps attained by his homeopathic preparation of cocoa has never been surpassed by any experimentalists. Far and wide the reputation of Epp's Cocoa has spread by the simple force of its own extraordinary merits. Medical men of all shades of opinion have agreed in recommending it as the safest and most beneficial article of diet for persons of weak constitutions. This superiority of a particular mode of preparation over all others is a remarkable proof of the great results to be obtained from little causes. By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by careful application of the fine properties of well-selected cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtile Maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.—Homeopathic Chemists, 48 Threadneedle street, London. ## United States.

Brigham Young is looking about for a likely young man to marry his first installment of thirty-six daughters.

The Senate passed a bill making the wearing of disguises and masks by a number of men a crime punishable by fine and imprisonment.

Two citizens of Santa Fe, Mexico, tired of life, recently put pistols to each other's breasts by mutual agreement, and fired, both being killed instantly.

On Monday last a man was shot down in broad daylight in the streets of New York. He was an inspector of elections, and it is supposed that politics are at the bottom of the affair.

Weston, the pedestrian, that is, the man who makes a business of walking, has started on his tramp of 5,000 miles, from Portland to St. Paul, and back.

The discovery of richly laden veins of gold bearing quartz in Duchess county, N.Y., appears to have created quite a sensation, immense veins of quartz have been found and the assays made by professional experts have been attended with most satisfactory results.

A correspondent in Boston says that Mr. Crane and the gentleman who are associated with him are about examining the harbours from Oswego to Ogdensburg, to settle a location for the Western portion of the Ontario railway.

After the adjournment of the United States Circuit Court at Richmond on Friday the counsel were recalled, when Chief Justice Chase announced that the court was divided, he (Chase) being in favour of quashing the indictment against Jefferson Davis, and District Judge Underwood opposing it. Thereupon this division of the court was referred to the Supreme Court of the United States.

The New York Tribune with great good sense points out the absurdity of President Johnson's action in nominating Mr. Savage, the Fenian leader, to the office of United States Consul at Leeds. Probably Savage himself will refuse the position, and if not the Imperial Government will certainly refuse to receive him. All that President Johnson has done by making the appointment is to render himself ridiculous in the eyes of every respectable and sensible American.

NICE PLACE FOR A QUIET MAN.—A Salt Lake paper contains the following lively paragraph: The telegraph informs us that a terrible state of affairs exist at the magic city of Bear River. Some 200 rioters have possession of the city. They have burned down the office of the Frontier Index, and fears are entertained that the city will be destroyed. Later telegrams say that Horatio Vattel, the scout of the Rocky Mountains, has made tracks for parts unknown. The mass arose from the action taken by the vigilant committee in hanging three men on the 11th inst., and it is stated that the citizens have fired upon the rioters, killing 25 and wounding 60. This is civilization with a vengeance.

The New York papers of Wednesday last contain the announcement of a sad case of suicide, the result of 'kleptomania.' It appears that a lady, well connected and formerly well off, has lately acquired the habit of visiting different stores on Broadway, and purloining valuable dresses, laces, &c., which she afterwards disposed of. Although not a rich woman, it does not appear that she was driven by want to commit these crimes. On Tuesday last she was arrested and taken to the police station. While there, she obtained permission to retire for a few moments, and, not returning so soon as was expected, one of the officers went into the room and found her lying on the floor in a pool of blood, with her throat cut, and quite dead. The disgrace of her position was more than she could bear, and having managed to obtain possession of a razor, she had in this way put an end to her shame.

THE LATE MR. BERRYER.—The death of Antoine Pierre Berryer has deprived France of one of her greatest men, her ablest lawyer and her first orator. The Legitimists have in him lost their leader. He came of a loyalist stock and remained true to his political education, although, unlike the ultra members of his party, he did not refuse to take part in the Government at that time when the Legitimists united to ignore it. He was associated with his father in the defence of Marshal Ney, and subsequently acted as counsel for Cambronne, Lavalette, Chateaubriand, Montalembert and others whose names are known to history, among them Louis Napoleon Bonaparte, after the affair of 1840 at Boulogne. His liberality was great, and his public services ate up his private fortune. An anecdote is told of him after having secured the acquittal of Dehors. The latter, accompanied by his son and daughter, visited Berryer with a roll of bank-bills of a very large amount. 'You have saved me from the scaffold,' said Dehors, 'and here is the largest portion of my fortune, which is yours, for you have given me my life.' Berryer took the money and divided it into two equal portions, and then turning to the children, said:—'My dear girl, here is a marriage portion for you. My boy, here is sufficient to give you a good education. When his old client of 1840 attempted the coup d'etat of 1852, Berryer strenuously opposed him, to which circumstance he referred in his letter subscribing to the Baudin monument, which caused quite a sensation. He was elected a member of the French Academy in 1854, but was excused, at his special request, from paying the usual visit of acceptance to the Emperor. His death occurs in his seventy-eight year.—Quebec Chronicle.

A NUT FOR GEOLOGISTS TO CRACK.—The Society of Natural Sciences in Buffalo has what is claimed to be a human foot, taken from the shale between two beds of coal in Pennsylvania. That this curiosity was taken out of the place described, there can be no question. Either there is a mistake about this being a human foot, or all the conclusions of scientific men are exploded. It is claimed that man did not inhabit the earth at the carboniferous period—could not have lived then—would have found nothing to sustain life. The savans of Buffalo are agitated on this question. Their conclusions will, ere long be made public.

REV. D. TAYLOR, JR., WRITES.—The benefits I have received from the use of your Pain Killer induced me to write you. * * * I have this hour recovered from a severe attack of sick headache, cured by two teaspoonfuls of that medicine. * * * In the summer of 1848 it saved me from the cholera, and I have ever found in a sovereign remedy for dysentery, to which I am subject.
