THE HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.—A meeting of the Directors of this Institution was held at the House on Tuesday, for the purpose of enquiring into the recent charge of assault preferred against the Superintendent by one of the inmates, and of which charge the Superintendent was convicted by the Magistrate last week. The following Directors were present, namely: The Mayor and Messrs. Dr. O. Yates, Isaac Simpson, John Harkess, Ald. C. Livingston, Ald. McMillan and Ald. Drennan. The Police Magistrate was also present. The same evidence as that taken before Mr. Creighton was again gone into, and after a long argument by Mr. John Holmes in his own defence, the meeting adjourned sine die without taking any action in the matter.

ST. GEORGE AND MERRY ENGLAND.—This is St. George's Day, and the city authorities will perhaps hoist the City Hall flags. We hear of no other demonstration. The memory of St. George is on the wane.

CATTLE FOR THE STATES.—The export of cattle to the United States still continues. The str. Watertown took over quite a large drove yesterday to Cape Vincent,—and still they come.

THE VOLUNTEER BAND.—There was a meeting of the officers of the 14th Bat. on Thursday evening at the Drill Shed for the purpose of taking the band question into consideration, but nothing definite was arrived at by the meeting which adjourned sine die.

THE BOARD OF TRADE.—At the late special meeting of the Kingston Board of Trade a Committee was appointed to prepare a memorial to the Government, embodying the well understood and almost unanimous views of the Board on the new Tariff. They have resolved to state plainly their objections to it, and the memorial of the Board, forwarded to Ottawa, may be seen in another column.

From hundreds of reported cases where patients have increased in weight from five to forty pounds while using FELLOWS' COMPOUND SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES, no doubt remain of its powerful action on the organs of nutrition.

Price $1 50 a bottle; 6 for $7 50. Sold by apothecaries and by F. Cundill & Co., wholesale agents, Montreal.

POLICE COURT, FRIDAY.

Before the P. M.

The charge against Doyle for selling liquor without license was the first taken up this morning. The only evidence brought to sustain the charge was that of the woman Jones, and as she evidently made the complaint through spite, the Magistrate thought it would be unsafe to convict on her unsupported testimony and dismissed the charge.

Eliza Mills, a red headed nymph, was charged with vagrancy. The prisoner is one of the gang who infest that locality known as the "Red Rock," over the Cataraqui Bridge. On promising to leave the town in a few days she was allowed her liberty.

A complaint was lodged against a disreputable house in Little's Lane, and unless the inmates thereof behave themselves for the future they will get into trouble.

BRIEF MENTION.

And this is spring! Indeed!

"Shoo-fly" hats are coming in vogue.

A dirty scrape—cleaning the streets.

A worthy Senator has well hit off the Nova Scotians in the following bon mot: "Bluenose politics at Ottawa are to grab and grumble."

The merchants of Perth in meeting resolved to receive silver only at its real value—that is at the rate of five per cent. discount. American quarters at 24 cts, the dime at 9 cts, and the half dime at 4 cts.

A counterfeit 25 cent Dominion shinplaster was passed at the theatre at Toronto; the paper was soft and flabby, and very different from the genuine notes.

The Irishmen in Montreal are subscribing stock to get up an organ, to be called The Irish News.

Seamen's wages at Milwaukee open at $1 25 to $1 50.

Rates of Insurance on hulls at Milwaukee start about one cent higher than last year; being 6, 6½ and 7½. On cargoes about 50 per cent. higher than last year.

Umbrellas with windows are the latest invention.

No man is so poor that he cannot leave behind him a moments of his love to fellow man in the shape of a shade tree. Now is the season to plant.

Out of eight cars of emigrants passing west on the Grand Trunk Railway, 200 English remain in Ontario, and 150 English and 100 German go out west.

R. J. Cartwright, Esq., M. P., has commenced operations upon his new factory, at Napanee. The building is to be completed this season at a cost of $10,000.

The R. C. Rifles Band played in the Tete de Pont Barracks yesterday afternoon. The day was charming, but very few persons besides those connected with the military were present. One would have thought all would have rejoiced to again hear the enlivening strains of the splendid Band considering how very soon we will lose it.

CALAMITIES.

TERRIBLE FLOOD.

Advices from the Argentine republic contain particulars of the frightful storm which occurred at Buenos Ayres on the 9th of March. The wind blew a hurricane and the water in the Rio De La Plate rose so high as to flood a great portion of the city. So sudden was the overflow that men and horses were drowned in the streets and many people barely escaped with their lives. A great number of buildings were undermined, and were subsequently destroyed. Ships were driven ashore and wrecked or sunk at anchorage. Many sailors were drowned and the damage was immense.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION.

Particulars of the eruption of the volcano of Coboruco, in Mexico, have been received. The eruptions increased in violence, the lava was pouring down the mountain sides in streams. The air was stifling and ashes from the burning mountain covered the ground and the roofs of houses over an inch deep. The mountain sides and the surrounding country have been abandoned by the inhabitants.

WINNEPEG TO BE ASSISTED.

The O'Neill-Fenian Congress met yesterday, at noon, at Masonic Hall, but the session was a strictly private one, and no person not duly accredited as a good man and true to the Congress was allowed admission. There was during the entire day in the hallways leading to the room where the deliberations were held, and in the streets adjoining the building, quite a large crowd of the sympathizers with the O'Neill faction, and speculation as to the doings of the Congress was rife among them. It is said that there was a plentiful sprinkling of British spies in every group of men who had assembled about the place, who exerted their utmost in an indirect way to buy up some needy member of the Congress, from whom they might be able to obtain such information as might lead to the thwarting of the designs of O'Neill. This much can be said about the doings of the Congress, and it comes from one of the members, who does not feel that he is violating his oath in stating what the discussions were about. The most important subject discussed, he says, was the propriety of making

A RAID INTO CANADA AT ONCE.

There were those of the Congress who contended that this would be altogether foolhardy, inasmuch as the exchequer was not quite what it ought to be, and that without the sinews of war the raid would be an extremely disastrous one to the Fenians.

General O'Neill, however, or rather, his friends who represent his views, argued that as soon as the great body of the Brotherhood had become aware that Canada was to be the objective point of a speedy invasion money would be forthcoming from all quarters. The "masterly inactivity" which the Senate had seen fit to plunge the Brotherhood into for years was the cause that had put an end to the usual flow of money into the treasury; but the patriotic spirit of the lovers of old Ireland was not dead yet in the hearts of men who would contribute to a war for its deliverance, when they were once convinced that was to ensue. It is understood that many of the leaders believe—and several of them spoke of the subject during the session—that the Fenians could do more harm to the British and reap more benefit themselves by attacking the expedition that is to set out for the Red River country than by making an attempt to cross the Canadian borders at the St. Lawrence. It is a fact that one of the members advocated not only this action on the part of the Brotherhood, but contended that the various circles should pick out their best men and send them out to Winnepeg, where, under the banner of Riel, they could make it both the battlefield of Fenianism and the Winnepegists at the same time. If, he said, Riel would by this means triumph, as he had no doubt he would, hundreds would rally round him who were not neutral or secretly against him, while it would the world over to such a degree that the members of the Brotherhood would swarm in thousands to join the victors in an attempt to carry the war into the very heart of the enemy's stronghold. This was the great opportunity of the Fenians and it should not be allowed to pass. This gentleman also remarked that while the Canadian government would thus have their hand full in the Red River country, and be compelled to constantly reinforce the first instalments of troops they would send out, a strong body of Fenians could give the "stay at home" Canadian nearer the United States all the fighting they desired, if not more.

General O'Neill contends that the Brotherhood now has some 40,000 stand of arms of as good a quality as ever were manufactured in the United States. These arms, his friends say, have lately been distributed to the various committees whose duty it is to look after their proper distribution and they have all safely reached their destination, although where that is the Brotherhood will not divulge, for obvious reasons.

General O'Neill is in dead earnest and "means mischief," as one of the Canadian spies yesterday remarked to our reporter, and it is thought that the men from the United States will be on their way to the "battle ground" before Thursday night. One of the members of the Congress, in dodging our reporter's questionings, remarked that the papers need not bother their heads about the movement now, for they would hear stirring news from it before the end of the week. This would lead to the belief that the Canadian border, after all, is to be visited before long.

In conclusion, it may be mentioned that the friends of the Senate say that if the Congress decide on an onward movement at once they will support it, and not allow differences of opinion as to minor details of action to interfere with the success of the war.

LAUNCH.—On Tuesday the new steamboat built for the North Shore Transportation Co. by Mr. Shickluna, of St. Catherines was safely launched. The "christening" was gracefully performed by the wife of Capt. Graham. The "Shickluna" comprises not only the best materials but the newest and most approved principles, and is declared to be the best boat that passes through the Welland Canal. The vessel will be commanded by Capt. Pollock, late of the "London." The North Shore Transportation Company has proved most successful, and bids fair to become a leading interest. They have now three vessels—the Georgian, London and Shickluna, and if their success continue others will be soon added. Capt. Hannah, of Kingston, will now command the "London."

PARTY PROCESSIONS ACT.

REPEAL.

London, March 31.

In the House of Commons yesterday, Mr. W. Johnston moved the second reading of his Bill to repeal the Party Processions Act. His objection to the Act was that it could not be impartially administered, and therefore where it was not a dead letter it excited religious animosities. He denied that the Orangemen had ever intended by their processions to insult the feelings of their fellow-subjects, and he was assured that the repeal of the Act would foster that bitter spirit between Protestants and Roman Catholics which was growing up in Ireland. The present Government, by not enforcing the Act, had pronounced its strongest condemnation, and without its repeal it was impossible to do equal justice to all parties.

Lord Crichton supported the Bill because the present Act, by its form, could only apply to the north of Ireland. He urged that its repeal would be accepted in Ulster as a sort of compensation for the wrong done to the Protestants last year.

Mr. Chichester Fortescue assented to the second reading, as it was clear and admitted that from its technical provisions the present Act could not be generally and impartially enforced. But in the present condition of Ireland it was impossible to leave these party processions unregulated; therefore, after Easter he intended to bring in a Bill, which as it would apply to all parts, would remove all sense of grievance.

Lord C. Hamilton thanked the Government for this concession, but was of opinion that party processions would have died out long ago but for the neglect of the Executive in past years in enforcing the law against such demonstrations as the O'Connell and the M'Manus processions. Mr. Vance also made a complaint of a similar nature.

After a somewhat acrimonious discussion, the Bill was read a second time.
