AGRICULTURAL FAIRS.

Lennox and Addington Show, Napanee, October 18th and 19.

Prince Edward County Show—Picton, 25th and 26th October.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 18, 1870.

CHRIST CHURCH, CATARAQUI.—On Sunday morning at eleven o'clock Christ Church, Cataraqui, was dedicated by the Lord Bishop of Ontario. The handsome new edifice was filled to repletion, with its young and flourishing congregation, and visitors from the city and township. Dr. Henderson, Chancellor, was in attendance and read the Deed. The Rev. Mr. Wilson read the morning service, and the Very Dev. Dean Lyster the lessons. The occasion of the imposing ceremony called for an excellent and appropriate discourse from his Lordship, which was most attentively listened to. He pointed out the duties of the Church people, and viewed with gratification the completion of this good and useful work. In the afternoon at 3.30, there was again as large an attendance, the carriages from the city being very numerous and well filled. Even the steps of the edifice had their devout occupants, and a great many persons being disappointed in getting even so near as that, strolled off into the beautiful Cataraqui Cemetery, which at this season is mournfully attractive and interesting. The Rev. Mr. Wilson again read the service, and the Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick, of St. James' Church, Kingston, preached a very excellent sermon. The choirs of St. George's Cathedral and St. Paul's were present and sung the anthem and hymns beautifully. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Wilson read the service, and the Rev. Mr. Mulvaney, of Clarks Mills, preached. During the day there were two baptisms in the church. The collections taken up at the services amounted to $81. The clergymen who preached made deserved reference to the zealous and untiring efforts of the Rev. Mr. Wilson in carrying on the good work (his own introduction) to a successful completion. Indeed the Diocese, but the Township of Kingston especially, is indebted to him for a most useful and charitable work. He has not lacked willing assistants, but the project was mainly his own. The church will be employed as a mortuary chapel in connection with the cemetery, and has an acre of ground attached which will be used for some useful purpose Burial services will be held there in nearly all cases, and thus the chapel will become a great convenience.

STORM SIGNALS.—Signal men are to be placed at important points on the lakes to watch for signs and beginnings of storms for the benefit of navigation and travel. Quite important results are expected to be secured by this agency. One of these agencies is to be established in Oswego, and will be of considerable service in this portion of inland waters.

POLICE COURT, SATURDAY.

Before the P.M.:

Three young men named respectively William Hines, Michael Foley and Terry O'Neil" were charged with assaulting Mr. John McCummiskey, wheelsman on board the steamer Rochester. The complainant deposed, that on Thursday evening last whilst he was sitting near the shaft of the steamer, the prisoners, who were part ally intoxicated, approached him and when near enough, O'Neil struck him. He arose to defend himself when the others also assaulted him, and he would have been badly beaten had not Mr. Crawford, the purser of the steamer interfered. He gave the parties no provocation whatever.

Mr. Crawford corroborated the above testimony, and the Magistrate found the prisoners guilty. Hines was fined $1 and costs or 5 days, Foley $2 and costs or 10 days and Terry O'Neil $3 and costs or 15 days. They all planked the spondulicks.

MONDAY.

There was a pretty fair docket morning, the drunks of course taking the lead.

DRUNK.

Francis Condrahan, a pensioner, who has been on the burst since last pension day, was fined $2 or 10 days for his thanatopsis.

Pat Donohue, an elderly man, was also mulcted in $2 or 10 days.

Joseph Peters was similarly treated.

Lewis Smoke, an Indian, drunk too much fire water and got into the hands of the Philistines. Poor Lewis was salted this time in $2, which he planked.

An unfortunate woman for disorderly conduct, was admonished and discharged.

STABBING CASE.

William McRae, a sailor, was charged with stabbing James Kingston, second mate of the "Pride of America," of Port Colborne. The prisoner, who was on a big bender yesterday, was proceeding along Ontario street, shouting and threatening to cut somebody's g— out, when he was met by the complainant and some others. An altercation at once took place and complainant knocked prisoner down. When he got up the prisoner drew a dirk knife striking on the hip, inflicting a slight wound. Had the knife not struck the hip-bone and glanced off the consequences might have been much more serious.

The complainant was severely cross-examined by Mr. Peter O'Reilly, jr., the prisoner's counsel and admitted having struck the prisoner and knocked him down. He did not know the prisoner nor had he ever seen him before the occurence took place. The prisoner was a perfect stranger to him and he did not think that he knew exactly what he was doing when he stabbed him. There was no malice between them and the affair would not have happened if the prisoner was sober. Mr. O'Reilly asked the Magistrate to dispose of the case summarily and not send it for trial to the assizes. His Worship on referring to the last statute found an act authorizing him to so dispose of the matter and he merely fined the prisoner $10, as he considered his being first assaulted was some palliation for the offence.

The fine was paid and the prisoner after a short lecture from the Bench, returned to his vessel. The Court room was crowded and great interest was manifested in the result of this case, which was received evidently with satisfaction.

The village of Kelvin is excited by a romance of real life. Mr. Abram Loree has a large fortune left in England to him and his relatives. The total amount is $125,000,000, and Mr. Loree is to get the one-fiftieth part of this. It is property left by Sir Francis Drake, the great British Admiral who defeated the great Spanish Armada in the reign of Queen Elizabeth.

The County Council of Peterboro have passed a By-Law granting a Bonus of $100,000—$75,000 for the Grand Junction, and $25,000 for the Haliburton and Peterboro Railway, which will be an important feeder of the Grand Junction, as it runs direct north. The Townships along the lines of both routes in the County of Peterboro have agreed to augment this sum by additional bonuses.

The plumbago mines of the township of Buckingham have attracted attention in England, and Mr. Edward Blackwell, of the Royal School of Mines of England, has been sent out to report on and prove some properties in that district. Before long some large companies will commence work. It seems a pity that so much mineral wealth has so long been lying untouched. The uses of plumbago are numerous and your Canadian variety commands as high a price as the celebrated Cylone plumbago.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE.

THE DUC GRAMMONT OUT OF A TRAP.

(From the London Telegraph.)

The story of the Duc de Grammont's escape from France after the disastrous collapse at Sedan is so full of romance as to make us feel doubtful whether we are really living in the matter-of-fact nineteenth century. It is, at all events, worthy of being preserved, and we present our readers with the following facts, which we have good reason to believe to be perfectly correct.

The Duc de Grammont, as Minister for Foreign Affairs, naturally heard of the Emperor's surrender a day before the news was published in Paris. He saw at once that flight was necessary, as the wrath of the mob was sure to be turned against the Ministry, who were responsible for the war. He accordingly went to his bankers to provide himself with money and various securities, but was informed that the partner who had charge of his affairs was in the country, whither the Duc pursued him. The partner was found engaged in burying his property in his garden, but returned to Paris and delivered up to the Duc de Grammont the papers and money which were required.

On the next day the bad news was published, and the Minister fled. He sent off a servant in his carriage openly, and escaped himself by a private door. The mob pursued the carriage, but of course found no one in it that they wanted, and the Duc got safely to Calais. On his arrival there, however, a new cause for a arm arose. It was necessary for him to produce his passport before he could leave the country, and it was evident that in this way his identity would be discovered, and he himself, as seemed only too probable, would be arrested and sent back to Paris, never to quit it again.

The risk, however, had to be encountered, and he showed his passport to the proper officer, and was, much to his relief, suffered to go on board the English steamer without remark. He at once went to the cabin, and the better to escape notice, pretended to be very ill. In a few minutes, however, he felt an ominous tap on the shoulder, and looked around expecting to find himself a prisoner. He saw only the passport officer, who said to him, "When you were in office you gave my son an appointment. In return for that I have to-day let you pass, and thereby in all probability saved your life." The officer went his way, and the Duc de Grammont got safely to Dover.

CUBA.

BISMARCK WANTS IT.

General Prim, it is said, has made propositions to the American Government, looking to the sale of the Island of Cuba. The price asked in the first instance was $170,000,000, and afterwards a reduction of $40,000,000 was made. But this is only a bluff. There is an intrigue between Count Bismarck and the adventurers who for two years have controlled the power of Spain. The Spanish Government cannot keep Cuba, and Bismarck wants it. For that naval expansion of German commerce and influence for which this ambitious man is laying the foundation, Cuba is better suited than any other transatlantic possession.

Bismarck's agents have been in Cuba to ascertain what she would be worth to Germany, and whether upon the whole the temper of the Cuban people is such that they will peacefully submit to the semi-colonial government which the German authorities would desire to impose upon them. There is no reason to doubt that Bismarck will make a great push to get the island as soon as he is done with France. All the circumstances favor his design.

A QUESTION IN MANY HOMES.—The fine times when we could all live on the fat of the land have gone by, perhaps never to return. Of late, the question how to obtain the largest amount of wholesome, palatable nourishment at the lowest possible price, has been earnestly discussed in thousands of American homes. The introduction of SEA MOSS FARINE as a national food staple, solves that problem. From no other article under the sun can the same amount of delicious fare be obtained for the same cost. The custards, Charlottes, jellies, puddings, &c., made from it are "fit for Juno when she banquets;" and as a clarifier for refining cider and other fermented potables, it has no equal. The SEA MOSS FARINE Co., who own the patent for this article, have their central depot at 53 Park Place, New York, and within twelve months they have established a business of immense magnitude and importance.

Never was literature so dull as now. No new books are coming out. There are plenty written, but publishers say that it is useless to publish them. The newspapers occupy solely the attention of readers.

Admiral Milne, on the night in which the Captain was lost, declined an invitation to dine and sleep on board that vessel. When the Admiral left her, about 7 p.m., the sea was pouring over her upper deck in cataracts, so much that the Admiral's boat was nearly swamped whilst alongside. When he arrived on board the flagship he said—"Thank God, I am on board my own ship again." The next morning when he was told that the Captain was missing, he said—Then she went down last night; I was afraid she would."
