HALL'S
Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer
Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard, and to those who have never used it we can confidently say, that it is the only reliable and perfected preparation to restore GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken; the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean; it removes all eruptions and dandruff, and by its tonic properties prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair glands. By its use the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair that splendid glossy appearance so much admired by all. A. L. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Mass., says, "the constituents are pure and carefully selected for excellent quality, and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes." We publish a treatise on the hair, which we send free by mail upon application, which contains commendatory notices from clergymen, physicians, the press, and others. We have made the study of the hair and its diseases a specialty for years, and know that we make the most effective preparation for the restoration and the preservation of the hair, extant, and so acknowledged by the best Medical and Chemical Authority.

"For purposes of social exhilaration amongst classes who are not out-door laborers, beer is too coarse. Man, as a social animal, requires something which he can sip as he sits and talks, and which pleases his palate, while it gives some aliment to the stomach, and stimulates the flow of genial thoughts in the brain. No one who has ever made the experiment will fail to give the preference to wine over spirits, if can refuse to give a helping hand to any 'movement' that will banish spirits to their proper place, as medicines for the sick and aged, and not as beverages for the healthy. Civilized man must drink, will drink, and ought to drink; but it should be wine."—From Dr. Druitt's Report on Cheap Wines.
The late unhappy calamitous war in France, and subsequent disturbances, have affected our importations less, than might have been anticipated, owing to the remoteness of the great wine districts of the south from the seat of hostilities. In some cases, the disorganization of the lines of railway has prevented or delayed the transport of wines from the interior, and more especially from Burgundy and Champagne, but on the other hand, the scarcity of money and the depression of business have enabled us to make some extensive purchases much below the usual rates, and to give our customers corresponding advantages.—St. George & Co's Circular.

The Flight of the Birds.

O wise little birds, how do you know
The way to go
Southward and northward, to and fro?
Far up in the ether piped they:
"We but obey;
One who calleth us far away,
He call'eth and calleth year by year,
Now there, now here;
Ever he maketh the way appear."
Dear little birds, He calleth me
Who calleth ye;
Would that I might as trusting be!

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

—A committee of American divines has been organized to co-operate with the English translators of the Bible.

—Eighteen copies of the first edition of the Bible ever printed are in existence. They were printed in Mets between the years 1440 and 1445.

—The Rev. George Hepworth, to whose case we recently referred, has commenced to preach, independent of any Church connection, in Steinway Hall, New York. Many of the members of his late charge have gone with him.

—The Archbishop of York recently presided at a Revival Service in his Diocese, and expressed his approbation of the movement, which he believed would be productive of much spiritual good.

—The Glasgow Presbytery of the United Presbyterian Church has abolished subscription to the Westminster Confession of Faith. In the Established and Free Churches this subscription is required by law; but among the United Presbyterians it has only been customary, and it is this custom that the Glasgow Presbytery has set aside.

Church of England.—When the disestablishment of the Irish branch of the United Church of England and Ireland took place, the new name of that church became "The Protestant Episcopal Church of Ireland." This, however, many of the clergy refused to acknowledge, they persisting in styling it "The Church of Ireland." A new edition of the Prayer Book was recently published, in which the publishers used the words "The United Church of England and Ireland." At first it was considered that this was a mistake, but it was subsequently declared that such was not the case. We now learn that the Home Office have taken steps to prevent the further use of these words.

—At the recent meeting of the Glasgow presbytery of the Free Church of Scotland a motion was carried by 64 to 15, in favor of additions being made to the service of song, which at present consists of a metrical version of the Psalms of David and a few hymns and paraphrases.

—Abolition of University Tests. We learn from the London "Methodist Recorder," that Mr. Thomas G. Osborn, B. A., son of the Rev. Dr. Osborn, Head Master of New Kingswood School—one of the schools for the education of the sons of Wesleyan ministers—has just been elected Fellow of his College, Trinity-hall, Cambridge. Mr. Osborn had taken high University honors, and was offered a fellowship by his College, in 1866, but declined to accept it, as he could not declare himself a member of the Church of England. The University Tests Act having removed the difficulty of subscription, the authorities of the College very handsomely renewed the offer, which has been accepted. Mr. Osborn is one of the many Wesleyan ministers' sons who have taken a distinguished position in Cambridge.

The Blind Preacher.—The Rev. Dr. Dixon, the oldest minister in the Wesleyan communion excepting the Rev. Thomas Jackson, has just died at Bradford at the ripe age of eighty-three. He has long been one of the most eminent preachers amongst the Wesleyans. Although blind, his intellectual faculties were unimpaired to his death, and until two years ago he continued his pulpit ministrations. Some years ago Dr. Dixon was president of the Conference.

The Education Question.—An English paper states that the Rev. Dr. James, the President of the British Wesleyan Conference, has apprised Mr. Gladstone, of the entire concurrence of British Methodism with the resolutions of the Wesleyan Education Committee for Ireland, and of the certainty that should any measure, such as the Romish hierarchy demands, be proposed, he may rely on the united and most determined opposition of British Methodism.

The Catholic Directory for 1872 states that in the ranks of the Peerage of the three kingdoms the Roman Catholics can reckon one Duke (Norfolk), one Marquis (Bute), eight Earls, four Viscounts, and twenty Barons, the list ending with Lord O'Hagan, the Lord Chancellor of Ireland. Besides these there are forty-nine Catholics in the Baronetage, six Catholics in Her Majesty's Privy Council, and thirty-eight in the House of Commons, all of whom, with the exception of Lord Robert Montagu, sit for Irish constituencies. No less than seventy-one priests—forty-five seculars and twenty-six regulars—have been ordained in England alone during the past twelve month, raising the total of the priesthood in Great Britain to about 1,840, serving about 1,200 "missions" and "stations."

Reformation of Funerals.—We are very glad to note the Irish priests in London are doing all they can to repress the intemperance of their countrymen on funeral occasions. Some time since they entered into arrangements with the cemetery officials, who now refuse to bury any Irish corpse unless the funeral is accompanied by the priest; and the priest's attendance secures the repression of those scenes in going to and returning from the burial ground which have been only too frequent on such occasions. The priests have now resolved to put down "wakes," which have developed into a serious burthen on the poor, and grave nuisance to the neighbors, and a scandal in every way. Wakes, had an origin natural enough. Family feeling is strong amongst the rural Irish, and when news of death arrived it was the custom for all relations and friends to visit the afflicted family and offer their sympathy. Such visits involved, in country districts, journeys many miles long, to places where, as a rule, inns and refreshment-houses, are unknown. It was almost a matter of course, therefore, that the travellers should be offered refreshments by the people of the house; and thus arose a fixed custom which transformed the house of mourning into a hall of feasting.

"A nose machine" is advertised in the London papers. This is a contrivance which, applied to the nose for an hour daily, so dissects the soft cartilage of which the member is composed, that an ill-formed nose is quickly shaped to perfection.
