TOWN AND COUNTRY.

TUESDAY EVENING, FEB. 13, 1872.

☞ SEE FIRST PAGE.

THE THAW.—It is raining this afternoon; the snow is passing away.

THE Allan Steamship Line is appointing new agents throughout Ontario, and throwing vigor into its agencies.

ASH WEDNESDAY.—To-morrow is a statutory holiday, and therefore the banks and public offices will be closed.

POLICE COURT, Tuesday.—Nothing doing. There are no cases, no prisoners in the cells, and no wonder, for Kingston is a moral place.

KINGSTON came off with a very creditable record at the intermediate law examinations last week. Mr. Fleming, of Messrs. Macdonald & Patton's office, passed after a highly creditable examination. Messrs. G. L. B. Fraser and T. Maguire have already been mentioned as passing with great credit.

SHORT NOTES.—Some boys who threw snow balls on Sunday are to pay their respects to Mr. Strange to-morrow morning.—A lost bark lies strangled on the side walk on Bagot streetf near Gore street.—The thaw continues and the snow is melting away.—Everybody who can talk horse or enjoy a race is off to the cabmen's trots.—Careles s habit that of shovelling snow off the roof on people's heads without warning.—Get your tickets for Rosa D'Erina to-night.

THE GANANOQUE AGRICULTURAL IMPLEMENT FACTORY.—These works are preparing with vigor for the spring trade. Their harrows, cultivators, &c., all Collard's patents, have a reputation which gives them a first place in the market. Mr. D. J. Waggoner, now a member of the firm, has spread his agencies throughout Ontario, and by giving the farmer the best facility for obtaining a good, and yet cheap, farm implement, has created one of the largest and most flourishing manufacturing businesses in the country.

THE NUISANCE GROUND.—The Board of Health has on the report of the Special Committee, appointed as the locality of the nuisance ground a lot on the Farley property in the north-eastern suburbs, near the coal oil sheds. The Committee examined many other sites, that on Johnson street, recently chosen, another on the Johnson property, and another on the south side of the RR. track, and near the new ground, but all of them had disadvantages, being either inaccessible, unfit, or likely to aggravate public nuisance. The lot decided on is isolated, and cannot be an annoyance to any persons in the city, for no one lives near it. The Health Officers of the Board if they want to assist the cleansing of the city, should give extended publicity as to this ground being set apart for public benefit.

NOT SO FAST.—Convict George Kirby does not like the restraints of prison life; they are not suited in his active temperament. So on Saturday afternoon, while he was working with the gang at the Warden's new residence, he struck for the country and his home. He succeeded very well for the first 100 yards, but there—fatal error—he stopped for a short colloquy with one of the guards, and waxing hot in the argument, drew a knife to enforce his ideas on personal liberty. But the persuasive powers of the officer and other guards who joined him in the interesting dispute soon overcame Mr. Kirby's scruples, and he calmly and gracefully submitted to the superior force. His airings outside the prison walks are now very short.

ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.—To-morrow is St. Valentine's Day. Of course every one thought of that before we spoke,—for this year there is expected to be a grand increase in the number of tender missives making an exchange. It is leap year, and the ladies are privileged to make a good and profitable use of its most interesting day to lovers. Bachelors will have to steel their hearts to withstand the tender assaults made on their unsusceptible hearts. It is "pay or play" with proposals this year, either an acceptance, or the forfeiture of a silk dress, so beware, young man! The valentines this year should be a serious character, for to-morrow the mournful season of Lent opens. The coincidence is somewhat curious, if not ominous. The day for chosing mates and the beginning of the season of fasting, penance and prayer coming together is rather foreboding it must be confessed to those about to unite their lives and fortunes.

A charming young lady, having handed a candle to a gentleman, as he was about to retire to rest, found the following lines under her door the next morning:—

You gave me a candle; I give you my thanks,
And add as a compliment justly your due,
There is not a girl in the feminine ranks
Who could, if she would, hold a candle with you.

Josh Billings says: "If a man has got eighty thousand dollars at interest, and owns the house he lives in, it ain't much trouble to be a philosopher."

For the Tea Table.

—Kid gloves are to be very narrow waisted at the wrist.

—Every night 10,000 New Yorkers go to bed boozily.

—The people on the sun wear nothing but linen dusters all winter.

—A Maine girl sneezed three days and three nights without stopping, and then had a fit and died.

—Some one describes a philanthropist as a man who loves the whole world and neglects his own family.

—An old Russian saying is, "that one woman's sense is better than the counsel of a thousand men."

—Since the overthrow of Queen Isabella, it is said that the bookstores in Madrid have been doubled.

—Leap-year parties at Chattanooga display mottos setting forth "we mean business." "None of your poverty dodges."

—A fond mother at Council Bluffs recently adorned her wayward and erring daughter with a plumage of tar and feathers.

—A young student wants us to tell him if W-o-r-c-e-s-t-e-r spell Wooster, why R-o-c-h-e-s-t-e-r don't spell Roochster?

—A young lady in Maine has sneezed steadily for ten days past, but the doctors think it's snuffin to be alarmed about.

—The Roman Catholic Church in Poland is without a Bishop. They were all banished to Siberia after the last Polish rebellion.

—Ladies are beginning to carry their portemonthiaes fastened by a belt around the waist. This saves the pickpockets much trouble.

—The character and taste of a bachelor may be discovered by the style of paintings and ornaments with which his room is adorned.

—An exchange says:—"Leap-year is so called because the ladies leap for joy at the chance offered to ask some one to marry them."

—It is a true saying that those against whom our hearts hasden most are not those who have wronged us, but those whom we have wronged.

—A new style of opera cloak is of white cashmere elaborately embroidered, and trimmed with a trimming of floss, to imitate feathers.

—Some dressmakers are now beginning to require forty yards of silk for a dress. It is the last load, we all know, which breaks the camel's back.

—There yet remain in New York some five hundred families of Oneida Indians, some of whom—a rare thing among the Indian race—are expert musicians.

—It is stated by Bishop Littlejohn, of Long Island, that one Church in his diocese paid more money for music last year than all the combined churches paid for missions.

—Application will be made to the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada, at its next Session, for an Act to incorporate the Brotherly Union Society of the City of Hamilton.

—Some unknown philanthropist supplies the Reading, Penn., soup house with all the bread needed for distribution to the poor. He asks that no one be allowed to go away hungry.

—Young ladies who are bashful about availing themselves of their leap-year privileges in propria personæ, have concluded to effect their proposals through the medium of St. Valentine.

—Trial has recently been made at the Crystal Palace, London, of a new illuminating substance, the light from which is white and clear, and so powerful that it causes a flame from gas to cast a shadow.

Oh, what beautiful weather for four or five days. We can almost hear the harmonious notes of the coming birds, distinguish the croak of the musical frogs, and suffer the pangs of toothache from eating warm maple sugar.

—Mr. Greeley's metaphor in Monday's leading article—"Men and brethren! a new leaf must be turned over or there are breakers ahead"—is fully as good as the famous "I smell a rat; I see him floating in the air; let us nip him in the bud."

A piece of land at the corner of Broad and Wall streets, New York, measuring seven hundred and twenty-one square feet, or less than one third of a city lot, has just been sold for $250,000 in gold, which is at the rate of $14,000,000 per acre!

Miss Jessie Macgregor recently carried off the highest honors at the British Royal Academy in historical painting. This prize has been given once before to a woman. Another woman, Miss J.C. Smith, received at the same time the silver medal for the best drawing from the antique.

English Sea Forts.

The London Times of a recent date has an account of the first of the iron sea-forts, to be erected at Spitehead as a protection to Portsmouth. This fort, the skeleton of which, after being put together in the manufacturer's yards for examination, has been taken to pieces again and packed off by rail to Spithead. It will cost a million pounds sterling; the shell alone costing £450,000. The skeleton weighs about 2,400 tons. It is to be fitted up with fifteen-inch plates, costing $1,000 each. This fort, and the others which are to be constructed like it, will be each 700 feet in circumference and 230 in height, and will be armed with two tiers of guns, one tier comprising 24 600-pounders and the other 25 400-pounders. The two principal forts, commanding the only deep channel leading from the area into Portsmouth harbor, will be about two thousand yards apart. Their guns, it is calculated, will pierce twelve-inch armor, at two thousand yards distance, while no gun yet invented is credited with power enough to injure the plates of the fort, however near it may be brought. The English Government congratulates itself that these forts render Portsmouth virtually impregnable, and the "Thunderer" devotes more than a column of editorial to an estimate of their efficiency in cases of what it significantly calls a "not wholly improbable war."

PARLIAMENT.—We had the pleasure of a call to-day from Mr. Robinson, the sitting member in the Legislative Assembly for the city of Kingston. He will remain in the city till Monday as the guest of Jas. Matthews, Esq.—Ottawa Times.

LIVINGSTONE EXPEDITION.—Among those who are going to Africa to hunt up Dr. Livingston is his son, Mr. W. Oswell Livingstone, who is only twelve years old, and is a native of Africa, having been born in the neighborhood of Lake N'gami. He will be a veritable Telemachus hunting after the perverse old wanderer Ulysses, his father, and it is to be hoped that he will not meet, with so many perils and embarrassments as his prototype of olden times.

CURIOSITY.—About twenty years ago there was a great controversy in Ottawa between a dancing master named Yeo and a clergyman named Brock. A wag at the time commemorated the affair by writing on a $1 bank note the following lines:—

"He who'd wish to hell to go,
Let him learn to dance with Yeo;
Who, at Heaven's gated would knock,
Let him follow Mr. Brock."

This bill with the inscription has recently turned up again in this city.—Ottawa Free Press.

Life has few charms for the Dyspeptic which is not to be wondered at when we take into the account the amount of bodily and mental suffering that this distressing malady generates. The Peruvian Syrup (a protoxide of iron) has cured thousands who were suffering from this disease.

The extraordinary effect of Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites is due to its power of imparting the vital principle to all constitutions impaired by wasting or debilitating maladies. It is acceptable to the palate, and suitable for all ages and all constitutions. The blood is restored to purity and health, the nerves and muscles are strengthened, while tuberculous or consumptive deposit is retired.

The crown of womanly beauty is an elegant coiffure. As this cannot be obtained without the use of some Hair Gloss or lixateur, even by the most skilful artiste, how much should the ladies feel themselves indebted to the inventor of the Great Hair Dressing of the age. Coco-Glycerine, which nourishes and beautifies the Hair, is delightfully perfumed, and leaves no stain on the gentleman's waistcoats. Askfor Coco-Glycerine. 14

It now generally admitted by honest physicians, that when once the consumption is firmly fastened upon the lungs, no human power can save the patient from death. They also say that about fifty per cent. of those who die from this disease can trace the cause to a neglected cough or cold, which might have been cured by a small bottle of Liquid Opodeldoc, or what is the same thing, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment.

Cut this notice out and bring it with you. We are authorized to refund the cash to any person or persons who shall buy and use Parsons' Purgative Pills and fail of relief and satisfaction.

Owners of Horses Rejoicing.—And why not? and who knows but their horses are rejoicing as well; who can prove the contrary? But their owners rejoice because of the astonishing and almost miraculous effects on their horses of "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." Some were lean and poor having no appetite, others would devour their food ravenously, yet derive no benefit from it; some were hide-bound, with rough and shaggy hair; others had severe colds and coughs; many had the heaves and other complaints peculiar to horses; on all it operated as a charm, the disease or complaint was speedily removed, the appetite and digestive organs corrected, the skin softened, and a sleek and shining appearance given to the coat all without any danger to, or or preventing the horse being used.—Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.
