Impure blood always shows somewhere. If the skin, then boils, pimples, rashes. If the nerves, then neuralgia, nervousness, depression. If the stomach, then dyspepsia, biliousness, loss of appetite. Your doctor knows the remedy, used for 60 years.

Returning from the Cuban war, I was a perfect wreck. My blood was bad, and my health was gone. But a few bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla completely cured me.

OYAMA is after the bear that walks like a man and Roosevelt is pursuing the one that runs like a whitehead.

The Filipinos are satisfied that their election scandals can not equal the old scandals which originated in Manila.

This epidemic of pauper girls marrying millionaires proclaims the arrival of the time when beggars can be choosers.

The present price of meat denotes an intention on the part of the beef trust to cease the policy of operating at a loss.

No sooner is Mr. Rockefeller smitten on one cheek than he writes another. Thus he obeys the Biblical injunction.

As her third trial begins, Nan Patterson wonders if it is not possible to have such a thing as too much advertising.

When leading physicians said that W. M. Smithart, of Pekin, Ia., had incurable consumption, his last hope vanished; but Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, kept him out of his grave. He says: "This great specific completely cured me, and saved my life. Since then, I have used it for over 10 years and consider it a marvelous throat and lung cure." Strictly scientific cure for Coughs, Sore Throats or Colds; sure preventive of Pneumonia. Guaranteed, 50c and $1.00 bottles at N. H. Petesch and Julia A. Story's, McHenry, and G. W. Besley's, West McHenry, drug stores. Trial bottle free.

The Very Best Remedy for Bowel Troubles—No Family Can Afford To Be Without It.

"I regard Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as one of the very best remedies for bowel troubles," says Mr. J. W. Hanlon, editor of the Despatch, Ocala, Georgia. "I make this statement after having used the medicine in my family for several years. I am never without it." No family can afford to be without a bottle of this remedy in the house. It is certain to be needed sooner or later. For sale by all druggists.

We have made arrangements whereby we are able to offer both our paper and the Chicago Daily Inter Ocean for one year for $5.50 and give you as a premium a $1.75 Approved Galvanized Steel Mail Box and one Stencil Plate. Farmers who will be patrons of the routes which will soon go in should avail themselves of this great opportunity of getting one of Chicago's greatest daily papers, the home paper and the mail box all for the small price of $5.50. This is one of the greatest saps.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best and Most Popular.

"Mothers buy it for croupy children, railroad men buy it for severe coughs and elderly people buy it for la grippe," says Moore Bros., Eldon, Iowa. "We sell more of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy than any other kind. It seems to have taken the lead over several other good brands." There is no question but that this medicine is the best that can be procured for coughs and colds, whether it be a child or an adult that is afflicted. It always cures and cures quickly. Sold by all druggists.

The Plaindealer will be sent to any address on trial three months for twenty-five cents, and will be discontinued at the expiration of time unless otherwise ordered. Try it.

CHINA has agreed to pay her debts with gold. This leaves the Sultan and Castro as the only rulers who are able to settle their debts with promises.

The cowboy who beat the President in a running contest in Colorado had better look out or the democratic presidential nomination will be forced upon him.

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS says that the democratic party sold itself at St. Louis, thus correcting a very general impression that the party gave itself away.

HENRY JAMES' dislike for President Roosevelt's literary style is perhaps a mild emotion compared to the President's feeling about the style of Mr. James.

MERELY coincidental, but Col. Roosevelt abandoned his wolf hunt the week the aldermen of several large cities were shorn of their power by the legislatures.

GOV. MICKLEY of Nebraska is out fixing his barbed wire fences, possibly as practice against the day when he may be called on to tighten up a few wires in his political fences.

A PHILADELPHIA trolley car crashed into a bakery wagon and sent a load of pies into the air. What with the germs in the drinking water and pies in the air, Philadelphia must be an unhealthy place indeed.

UNCLE SAM has in his possession a letter mailed by an absent-minded Juliet containing 10,000 kisses. An investigation to find out the owner will make him feel almost as though he were probing the sugar trust.

MR. BAER says that there is no sentiment in the coal business. When one considers the number of persons who froze to death last winter in the big cities for lack of means to buy dear fuel, one can well believe that.

THERE is talk now that the administration wants rushed on the Panama canal account of foreign complications in the Philippines. Capt. Hull of Iowa may rest easier if he is assured that the Philippine crisis will be delayed until the canal is completed.

CASTRO wants the question arbitrated as to whether there is anything to arbitrate between himself and the asphalt trust. If he can't get that, he might call for arbitration as to whether the question should be arbitrated. And if there is any doubt on that point, that question might be arbitrated also.

There are few diseases that inflict more torture than rheumatism and there is probably no disease for which such a varied and useless lot of remedies have been suggested. To say that it can be cured is, therefore, a bold statement to make, but Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which enjoys an extensive sale, has met with great success in the treatment of this disease. One application of Pain Balm will relieve the pain, and hundreds of sufferers have testified to permanent cures by its use. Why suffer when Pain Balm affords such quick relief and costs but a trifle? For sale by all druggists.

Trying a Joke.

Some years ago in a North Carolina court, Judge Shipp presiding, the trial of a cause had been protracted till near midnight. The jury were tired and sleepy and showed flagging attention. Willie Murchison, who was addressing the jury, thought to arouse them, so he said, "Gentlemen, I will tell you an anecdote." Instantly the judge, the jury and the few spectators pricked up their ears and were all attention, as Murchison was admirable in that line, had a fund of anecdotes and no one could tell them better. But he soon proceeded to tell one of the dullest, prosiest and most pointless jokes possible. Everybody looked disappointed. The judge, leaning over, said in an unmistakable tone of disappointment, "Mr. Murchison, I don't see the point of that joke." "Nor I either," replied the witty comical. "But your honor told it to me on my way down here, and as I thought the lack of appreciation, must be due to my obtuseness, I concluded to give the joke a trial by jury."

Had Feathered His Nest.

The gauge by which worldly prosperity is measured is not always the same. But it does not so much matter what standard is used so long as it shows accurately the amount of gain or loss. "I remember Bill Gasset as a shiftless young ne'er do well," said a former neighbor of Mr. Sands, revisiting his old home after many years' absence, "but I hear he left his widow quite a substantial property. How did he manage it?"

"He made choice of an excellent wife, and she took him as the smartest woman often take the poorest specimens of the men folk," said Mr. Sands thoughtfully, "and, what's more, she made something of him, put some gimp into him and what all. Why, sir, when he married her all he had for a mattress was an old makeshift stuffed with dried leaves, and when he died he had no less'n three mattresses stuffed with live goose feathers. I guess that tells the story."—Youth's Companion.

Oysters a Foot Long.

A wholesale oyster dealer was sizing up a new invoice. "There are some old fellows in that lot," he said as he shoved to one side some abnormally large ones. He picked out one and measured it. The shell was eight inches long. "The age of an oyster has absolutely no effect upon its quality," he said. "It doesn't get tough with age, like the lighter order of animals. How long does an oyster live? Well, I couldn't say exactly. I have known Maurice river oystermen to claim that an oyster undisturbed in a neglected cove would live for twenty-five years before it finally died of old age. And an oyster of the Maurice river type keeps on growing all the time. I have seen some myself that measured nearly a foot in length."—Philadelphia Record.

The Force of Strong Personality.

Who has not felt his power multiplied many times, his intellect sharpened and a keener edge put on all of his faculties when coming into contact with a strong personality which has seemed to unlock hidden powers which he never before dreamed he possessed so that he could say things and do things impossible to him when alone? The power of the orator, which he flings back to his listeners, he first draws from his audience, but he could never get it from the separate individuals any more than the chemist could get the full power from chemicals standing in separate bottles in his laboratory. It is in contact and combinations only that new creations, new forms, are developed.—O. S. Marden in Success Magazine.

The Dane's Bill of Fare.

Lieutenant Robert E. Peary at a dinner of the Arctic society once spoke on the privations suffered by his party in his previous expedition. In the course of his remarks he mentioned the fact that the sole article of diet for thirty days of one of the members of his party, a Dane, was dried bones. Afterward Lieutenant Peary was approached by a friend who expressed incredulity. "That must have been a great Dane of yours," said he sneeringly. "Yes," replied the lieutenant; "he was a splendid dog."

With a Free Hand.

"Sir," began the visitor, "I come to you in the interest of the city's poor children. I thought you might like to contribute to our fresh air fund for them."

"Of course," replied the kind hearted benefactor. "You may take as much as you please from my place. But how in the world are you going to carry it?"—Catholic Standard and Times.

Throat Coughs

A tickling in the throat; hoarseness at times; a deep breath irritates it;—these are features of a throat cough. They're very deceptive and a cough mixture won't cure them. You want something that will heal the inflamed membranes, enrich the blood and tone up the system.

Scott's Emulsion is just such a remedy. It has wonderful healing and nourishing power. Removes the cause of the cough and the whole system is given new strength and vigor.

The funeral of Mrs. A. Dates was held in the Universalist church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Roberts officiated.

The Everglades.

The climate of the Everglades of Florida is almost faultless. It is singularly equable, showing no extremes of heat and cold and not subject to sudden change. Even a "norther," coming out of the region of ice and snow, is soon softened to milder temperature, and the heat of summer is made genial, though the mercury may be well up in the eighties, by the ozonized air which is everywhere in the glades. The year is divided into the dry and rainy seasons. The latter may be roughly spoken of as including June and September, although well in the glades sudden light showers in limited areas are likely at any season, and in the autumn a high degree of humidity is constant. A lifetime might be spent in the region and no sign of malaria ever be discovered. Pure air that moves in gentle breezes over a vast expanse of pure water is the perfect assurance of health, as evinced in the fine physique, splendid coloring and athletic vigor of the Seminole, who has a monopoly of as fine a climate as there is on earth.—Century.

The Wrong Spirit.

The president of the New York Normal college was addressing a band of young women. "Young women," he said, "generally make excellent teachers. But if you dislike the work turn to anything else but teaching. We cannot succeed ever in what we hate. Bad teachers, when we find them, are persons who dislike their work. They are like the young girl in the country town who said to one of her friends: 'Yes, I am going to take up teaching.' 'The friend looked amazed. 'You?' she exclaimed. 'You a schoolteacher?' Why, I'd rather marry a widower with nine children.' 'So would I,' said the other. 'But where is the widower?'"—New York Tribune.

Origin of the Banjo.

In the early part of the nineteenth century in the town of Banjoemas, on the island of Java, a negro native determined to construct a musical instrument for his own use. Taking a cheese box and heading it with a goatskin, he ran a handle through it, and, adapting violin strings tuned to the first, third, fifth and eighth notes of an octave, he christened it a banjo, from the first two syllables of his native town. Gradual improvements on this rough and ready instrument were made, and about the middle of the century it crossed the Atlantic and, though unpopular in London at first, soon became well liked.—London Chronicle.

"Laugh While You Can."

Hogg left Elton in 1893, about which time he met Ruskin for a memorable moment. He had run into a room where his sister was painting under Ruskin's eye. He did not notice Ruskin, but went to his sister and made some laughing remark to her. "You had better laugh while you can," said Ruskin, "for every year you live you will become more and more miserable."—From "Life of Quintin Hogg."
