THE SPEECH.

Not being of that class of journals which think it their bounden duty on all occasions to find fault with political opponents, we cannot justly find anything to condemn in the Speech from the Throne, which, as speeches go, is a very fairly constructed document. We shall reserve our criticisms until the Acts indicated in the Address are brought down to the House. One point, however, cannot escape mention. During the past three or four years Sir John A. Macdonald has promised to bring down a Bill providing for the erection of a supreme Court for the Dominion. This Bill has been eagerly looked for during each Session, for in addition to its intrinsic importance it would supply a haven of rest for many water-logged and leaky political crafts. This Session, we were led to believe by the knowing journals, would surely witness its introduction, but as far as any indication furnished by the Address, it is as far off as ever.

There is another matter referred to in the Address which we are bound, apart from political opposition, to approve of. An amendment of the laws relating to the Public Health is promised. As cholera may visit our shores during the present summer it is of the utmost importance that all possible measures be taken to ward off the attack, and the hands of the government strengthened in securing that end. But then after all cholera is beyond the reach of legislation. While useful acts may be passed and put in operation little good will be the result unless they are supplemented with personal cleanliness and sweet and clean homes and premises.

DR. RYERSON'S DEFENCE.

During the last session of the Ontario Assembly Mr. E. B. Wood remarked, during a debate, that the Chief Superintendent of Education had more time to reply to attacks than any other public officer of the Province. The statement would seem to be perfectly true. Like a scold of a wife he must needs have the last word, and to every hostile criticism of himself or his department, prepare an elaborate, long-winded reply that not one in a hundred has the courage to read. Charlas Reade, the novelist, it is said, never allows an adverse critique to remain unanswered. The petulant, old Chief of Education does the same, with this different result that, whereas the former always administers hard knocks to his assailant and not seldom demolishes him, Dr. Ryerson only succeeds in making his case worse, and displaying his growing imbecility and incapacity for the office he holds. He made desperate struggles to frame a semblance of an answer to the criticisms of the Globe upon his "little books," in which he was shown to be guilty of ignorance of the first requisite of a book-maker—the ability to write good English. Further than this it was shown that much of his "First Lessons in Agriculture" was incorrect, and of course, unfitted for the use of schools. Instead of manfully owning to his ignorance and errors the Doctor prevaricated, tried to shift the blame upon his publishers and ended with disgusting everybody who read his letters with the thought that the author of a book upon Christian morals should be so dishonest, and a Chief Superintendent of Education should be so ignorant.

The Doctor was naturally dissatisfied with these attempts at defending himself as he had a sufficient glimmer of reason left to know that they only made matters worse for himself. He, therefore, returns to the charge, and in the Toronto papers is printing a series of letters as a last defence of his official life and conduct. Let us hope that it is the last. The series, from present appearances, will be next to interminable, and as much as the public of this province would be inclined to put up with from one man. The burden of the Doctor's defence seems to be that the attacks of the Globe upon him and the Education Department have been actuated by personal motives, and not by a desire to increase the efficiency of the Department. If Dr. Ryerson had a grain of logical sense about him he would refrain from writiting long letters with the above object. The people of Ontario do not care a button what motive actuated the Globe. The only question of interest to them in the question is, Are the criticisms well founded? Judging from recent conflicts between the Doctor and the Globe, we are more inclined to believe the latter than the former, as the Chief has shown a persistent inclination to mix up a great deal of falsehood with a very little truth. In proof of what we assert a gentleman connected with practical education in Canada for the past twenty years informs us that the greater part of the Doctor's letter defending himself against the charge of needlessly and frequently changing the books in the schools is absolutely untrue. We have no hesitation in accepting the testimony on this point of the gentleman referred to, but what are we to think of a clergyman, and the author of a work on Christian Morals, who will resort to such means to extricate himself from an ugly position?

But, after all, it does not lie in the mouth of the Reform party to complain about the recent vagaries and foolishness of the Chief Superintendent. A Reform Government has been in power since the beginning of this year, and by the rule with which we measure our opponents, Mr. Blake is accountable for Dr. Ryerson's recent conduct, as the latter is his servant. It has become quite apparent to the country, if not to Mr. Blake, that the Doctor is becoming peevish and childish, and unfit to discharge the duties of his office. Let him be removed; for although the Doctor thinks so, the heavens will not fall, nor will our Public Schools System tumble to pieces. The world will probably move on, and our schools open and close as usual, though a stranger should occupy the Doctor's chair in the Education Office. At least the experiment is worth trying.

Signs of preparation for the coming political struggle are everywhere apparent. The Conservative journals are taxing their ingenuity in raking up complaints against the Ontario Ministry. Now that the indignation at their attempts to blacken the characters of Mr. Scott, Mr. Wood, Mr. McKellar and the Premier, during the Session, has blown over they are returning to the work and by falsehood and mis-representation are endeavoring to prejudice the people of the province against their Ministers. Mr. Crooks, the Attorney-General came in the other day for a slanderous attack by the Organ of Respectability. We see by a Western paper that the Hon. Mr. Mackenzie has committed a high political crime in that he wilfully and maliciously dismissed a gardener of a Public Institution for not rising betimes in the morning. We read in Conservative journals about the meanness of the Globe's attacks upon Conservative politicians, but what could excel the petty maliciousness of grounding an attack upon a public man on the above. If the above is the only opening for attack that Mr. Mackenzie has exposed to his enemies surely it would have been better for them to have held their peace, and not confessed his unvulnerability and their own excessive meanness.

PERHAPS Spring is coming. How it rains this afternoon!

RUNAWAY.—This morning a horse, owned by Chown & Sons, ran away on Princess Street, and threw the driver out of the wagon, the wheels of which passed over him. He was not much hurt, but before the horse stopped the waggon was.

OPEN WATER.—The blue water—very dark blue—is visible off the Penitentiary bar, some say for a mile upwards. This is always the spot over which the ice first breaks, and forms a prelude to the general disappearance of the ice-bridge. It will soon weaken under a continuance of the rains of this week. Only a single horse is able to be driven to the Island now, but so far this week there have been no accidents. The ice-boats will be out to-morrow, though.

A SCENE.—It was on Princess Street, at a popular Book Store. The chief actor, Bridget Adams nee Donnelly, a lady of strong muscular development and free inclinations, and who has yanquished many a strong man in a square fight. She was intoxicated and troublesome in the store, and was ordered out. She would not go, which was just like Biddy. The proprietor and two of his assistants carried the order into effect by main force, and landed her outside. But there the troubles were not ended. With a resolution never to give in she grasped one of the gentlemen with her iron fist, and held him severely in chancery. He could not stir more than a feint struggle for release, while Biddy gesticulated so freely as to draw a full audience, and add to the ludicrous nature of the incident. The gentleman, too, is a strong Temperance man, but acknowledged for once that wine and woman had got the better of him. Just before the police came up, he got loose from his fair but not fascinating enslaver, and retreated. Biddy would not go off with the police, indeed she would not. But Mayor Drennan came up at this juncture, and being popular with Mrs. Adams, as with all the ladies, she offered to allow him to escort her to durance vile, and they went arm-in-arm.

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, April 10.—A deputation from Belfast, Ireland, waited upon Mr Gladstone to-day, and presented an invitation bearing the signatures of three thousand citizens to visit that city, and accept its hospitalities and deliver an address.

The document heartily recognizes great services rendered by Gladstone to Ireland and its people.

The premier in response spoke at length in explanation and defence of his Irish policy, and expressed a strong wish for the welfare of Ireland. He said it would be a great deprivation if he should find himself unable from the pressure of public duties to visit Belfast. He closed by accepting conditionally the invitation as that of the people of Ireland, and said he would communicate at a future time with the deputation as to the exact date of his visit.

LONDON.

THE CASE OF O'CONNOR.

London, April 11.—The case of Arthur O'Connor, the Queen's assailant, came up this morning. A jury was empanelled to inquire into the mental condition of the prisoner. O'Connor's father was sworn in his son's defence. He testified that his father was a nephew of Fergus O'Connor, and that several members of his family besides the prisoner were insane. The accused, he stated, was very studious when a child, and fell into bad health, from which he had suffered ever since. The prisoner was wounded in the head in the year 1866, and received injuries which rendered him insensible for some time. The witness further testified that his son was never connected with any political association.

The trial of O'Connor ended to-day. The jury was satisfied as to the sanity of the prisoner and brought in a verdict of "Guilty." O'Connor was then sentenced to be imprisoned for twelve months at hard labor, and to receive twenty lashes.

A REVOLUTION IN HAYTI—COMING STORM—THE ALABAMA BUGBEAR.

Special to the Whig.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, April 10.—A revolution has broken out in St. Marie, Hayti. The troops were massacreing the insurgents by wholesale. Citizens of the United States were protected by the French Consul.

BANGOR, April 11.—The New Brunswick and Canada Railroad, which has been blockaded with snow for nearly a month, is at last re-opened.

WASHINGTON, April 12—10 a. m.—The signal officer reports that the lowest barometer is now over eastern Iowa and northward, and will probably move eastward into Canada, and a severe storm over the lake region of the Ohio Valley is anticipated. Cautionary signals have been ordered for the lake ports.

NEW YORK, April 12.—The Times, Washington special says: Authentic information received here sets at rest all doubts as to whether Great Britain will file a counter case at Geneva on the 15th inst. Counsel for that Government will file their reply on that date but will accompany it with a protest against the Tribunal taking into consideration claims for indirect damages; this is accepted here as a sure indication that the British Government does not mean to break up the Treaty, that it will permit arbitration to go on with notice in advance. Then a judgment for consequential damages will not be heard in any event.

PARIS, April 11.—The Germans yesterday arrested the Editor of a newspaper at Vetry la Francais, for writing articles offensive to the Military Authorities. The prisoner has been taken to Rheims.

A Carlist, formerly Colonel in the Spanish Army, has been captured by French Officers near the Spanish frontier.

A family of five persons were murdered by Gipsies at Sibrook, in the department of Geronde.

OTTAWA.

THE REPLY TO PASS TO-DAY—WASHINGTON TREATY A THORN—THE ESTIMATES—"GOLDY" AT OTTAWA.

Special to the British Whig from our own Correspondent.

OTTAWA, April 12.—Mr. Nathan, of British Columbia, will move, and Mr. E. Carter, of Browne, will second the address to-day in reply to the speech from the Throne. It will be simply a reflection of the speech. In accordance with usual practice addresses will likely be allowed to pass pro forma to-day, after a brief speech from one or two of the leaders. The House will then adjourn till Tuesday.

Up to Wednesday there was no reference in the Governor's speech to Washington Treaty, and some members of the government had intimated to their friends that nothing would be said about it. On Wednesday night, however, cabinet met and agreed to put in the paragraph which appeared. It is generally believed in well informed circles here that the government have not yet decided upon what course they will take with reference to the treaty. Mr. Mitchell, for one, is not very careful to conceal his strong disapproval of it. As no correspondence will be brought down till the address is passed, there will be no discussion of treaty in debate upon the address, except in a general way.

It is reported that estimates will be laid on the table at an early day, and that the Government will strive to make the session a short one.

The sounding board placed over the reporters' gallery turns out to be a total failure. It will be taken down on Saturday and some other experiment tried. Mr. Goldwin Smith is expected to-night; he will be the guest of the Governor General, and will probably accept an invitation to address a public meeting.

It is reported that Mrs. H. C. Stanton will deliver an address here during the session.

TORONTO.

SUICIDE—THANKSGIVING DAY—A WAIF—NAVIGATION.

Special to the Whig.

TORONTO, April 12.—A man by the name of Thomas White attempted to commit suicide last night by drowning himself in a creek near Niagara Street, but was rescued by John Collins, a tavern-keeper. White is clearly of unsound mind.

A man last night carried off the carcase of a sheep from a butcher's stall on Yonge Street, but was pursued. He dropped the mutton and escaped.

Mayor Shearé has issued a proclamation setting apart Monday next as a civic holiday.

Last night a male child about a year old was left on the steps of the Protestant Orphan's Home. Attached to the child was a paper on which was written, "Keep this child safe and God will reward you, and I will call and pay you well, perhaps not before two months. I am in grief. I am his mother. His name is James. Don't give him to any one."

The Rev. Arthur Sweetman, of Upper Canada College, resigns on the first of July next, to accept the Rectorship of Brantford.

The annual Conversazione of Trinity College took place to-day at one o'clock.

The bay is so far clear of ice that several boats were out yesterday having their first pull of the season.

To-day has turned out very warm, with prospects of continued rain.

GREENWOOD.

(Special per Dominion Line.)

GREENWOOD, April 12.—A shocking and fatal accident occurred yesterday afternoon, by which John, son of William Cochrane, aged 17 years, lost his life by being suffocated by the falling in of a turnip-pit, while removing turnips. He was there working alone only a short distance from the House. When found about an hour after the accident life was quite extinct. Deceased was a very promising man and great sympathy is felt in the neighborhood for his bereaved parents.

AYLMER.

(Special to the British Whig.)

AYLMER, April 12.—About 4:30 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the bakery owned by Mr. P. C. Wright, and in a few minutes the building and contents, together with over three tons of flour, were entirely consumed. With the greatest difficulty the fire was prevented from spreading to adjoining buildings, among which was an oil store. Loss about $1000; no insurance. Cause unknown.

PORT ROWAN.

Port Rowan, April 12.—Navigation is now open; the schr. Active of Port Dover arrived here yesterday for a cargo of grain for Port Ryerse.

VERY LATEST.

(Per Dominion Line.)

STE. AGATHES, M. C., April 12.—A special despatch from Cairo says that Fisher, carpenter on steamer Oceanic, describes the scene as terrible and heartrending; the river around the wreck was covered with debris, the cabin and about half the deck had floated off and was burning. The captain was in the midst of fire screaming for help, and men and women in the water throwing up their hands and sinking to rise no more. It is thought that from sixty to seventy persons were lost.

LONDON, April 12.—The papers of this city gives currency to a report that the Right Hon. Russel Gurney, English member of the American and British Claims Commission, now sitting at Washington, will soon return to England, that he will go to Geneva, and that he refuses to return to America. It is also stated that the Government will be questioned relative to the report at the session of Parliament to-night.

The Benediction.

FROM OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, April 11.—The city presents a thronged and animated appearance to-day, owing to the influx of Parliamentary representatives and camp followers. Nearly all the "Big Wigs" on either side are here, including Messrs. Macdougall, Blake, Mackenzie, Dorion, Bolton, Blanchet and Macpherson. Among the others in town are Messrs. Benson, Cumberland, Archibald, Bolton, Bown, Walsh, Holmes, Seymour, Gosselin, Hutchinson, Lawson, A. P. Macdonald, Magill, Ryan, Schriver, Amos Wright, Bureau, Sutherland, of Manitoba, Morrison, Masson and Shand. The Press is represented by Mr. Robinson, of the Canadian Illustrated News; Mr. Watson, of the Quebec Chronicle; Mr. Walker, of the Montreal Daily News; Messrs. Patteson and Gregg, of the Toronto Mail; Messrs. Dymond and Watson, of the Globe; Mr. Brymner, of the Montreal Herald; Mr. Chanseream, of the Montreal Miquee; Mr. Honand, of the New Times.

The British Columbia representatives were sworn in this morning.

Mr. Macdougall has arrived here from Almonte where he addressed his constituents last night.

Amongst the Government measures of the session will be a new Patent Law.

The House.

We have rarely seen so many leading members present at the opening of a session of Parliament as we had in the Canadian Westminster to-day. The House of Commons was unusually full. On the Ministerial side, besides the members of the Cabinet, we observed such well-known faces as those of Col. Blanchet, Mr. Walter Shanly, Mr. Angus Morrison, Mr. F. C. Street, Mr. Currier, Dr. Robillaille, Col. Bowell, Mr. Alonzo Wright, &c. Opposite were the leaders of the Opposition—Hon. Alexander Mackenzie, Hon. Edward Blake, Hon. Mr. Dorion, and Hon. Luther H. Holton. At the gangway were Hon. William Macdougall, Mr. R. J. Cartwright, Mr. John Bolton, and other gentlemen, whose political position is not well defined, and who desire, apparently, to exercise an independent judgment in the House. The British Columbia representatives were sworn in during the morning, and after the return of the Commons from the "Lords" were duly introduced and took their seats as supporters of Sir John Macdonald.—Ottawa Citizen.

The assortment of Prints at the New Montreal House for Style and Beauty are second to none in the City.

Manufactures.

The Trenton Courier says:

Mr. Platt of Brighton has purchased three acres of land from Mr. Hendricks to build a saw mill. Mr. T. McCabe is also making preparations to build a saw mill. It is also stated that Mr. Buck will locate his mill at Trenton. We are also encouraged with the prospect of a Bank agency by June or July.

There is every probability of having our water power utilized at once. The capital can be raised in a short time and manufacturers are only waiting till it is built to move their whole machinery here, and build new factories.

There is also a sash and door factory in progress of being fitted up.

There is also a probability of a factory that will employ from 50 to 100 hands and employ a capital of from $50,000 to $100,000.

American Travel.

The Ogdensburg and Lake Champlain Railroad will bring to Ogdensburg, the present season of navigation, about 30,000 tons of iron ore for transportation to the west.

The R. W. & O. R.R. have determined to place some elegant new day coaches on the Cape Vincent branch from Watertown, in order to accommodate the summer pleasure travel to the Thousand Islands and down the St. Lawrence, which promises to set in largely in this direction during the coming season. Steamers will ply between the Cape and Kingston and Alexandria Bay regularly during the season, and we believe the boats of the Royal Mail line will call at the Cape, both going down and coming up; so there can be no reason to doubt that a very large amount of travel will set in by this route from Niagara Falls and elsewhere, composed of people who desire to avoid the "seasickness" of the lake, and catch the steamers as they enter upon the gorgeous scenery of the Thousand Isles.—Re-Union.

THE TORONTO MANSLAUGHTER.—Chief Justice Hagerty yesterday evening sentenced Hugh Coldwell, convicted of manslaughter, to two years in the Provincial Penitentiary; and George Macfarlane, convicted of common assault, to one year's hard labour in the common gaol.

For a good assortment of New and pretty Dress Goods, call at the New Montreal House.

TO-DAY'S GLEANING

Brigham Young has again been fraudulently re-elected as President of the Mormon Church.

It is said that the style of the Spanish ladies' dresses has not materially changed for 200 years.

The Union Hotel at Saratoga was sold by auction yesterday to the agent of A. T. Stewart for $635,000.

Hon. L. S. Huntington, in a lecture at Montreal, came out in favour of the foundation of a Grand Canadian empire. He inculcated more unity among the different races of our people.

A resident of Boston brags of possessing two ears of corn which he stole from Daniel Webster's field on the day the great statesman was buried.

Hon. Senator Mills has given the munificent sum of $14,000 towards the erection of an Episcopal Church, in the new parish of St. John, Hamilton. Mr. Mills is evidently a Churchman with a whole heart.

The passport system and the police supervision of strangers have been abolished in France. This must be taken as a sign of President Thiers' growing confidence in the security of his government.

For the new style of Mantles call at the New Montreal House.

CHINESE TREATMENT OF ANIMALS.—There are suggestions in the treatment of animals in China that may be noted with profit. In travels on horseback in Manchu Tartary, it is stated that the Chinese never punish their domestic animals; hence a mule that, in the hands of a foreigner, would be not only useless, but dangerous to everyone about it, becomes in the possession of a Chinaman, as quiet as a lamb and as tractable as a dog. We never beheld a runaway, a jibbing, or a vicious mule or pony in a Chinaman's employment, but found the same rattling, cheerful pace maintained over heavy or light roads, by means of a turr-r-r chuck-k, the least turning to the right or left, and stopping, with but a hint from the reins. This treatment is extended to all the animals they press into their service. Often have I admired the tact exhibited in getting a large drove of sheep through narrow, crowded streets and alleys, by merely having a little boy to lead one of the quietest of the flock in front; the others steadily followed, without the aid either of a yelping cur or a cruel goad. Cattle, pigs, and birds are equally cared for.

DEAD, DEAD, DEAD.—The funeral of the man who perpetrated the following was largely attended by the delighted public:—"One of the last words introduced prominently to the public is 'adumbrating.' It is defined to mean the individualism of preliminary and precipitous prognostication, as eliminated irrefragibility of never-flinching and never-to-yield-an-inch discomboberation of spontaneous combustion, whether or not, evincing antediluvian indivisibilities, contemporaneously elucidated unregenerating consanguinity when sycolephantically and scintillating approximately to scientific elaboration."

NEW ENGINE.—Another first class freight locomotive, No. 354, built here by the Canadian Engine and Machinery Co. for the Grand Trunk Railway, has been turned out of the company's works.

POLICE COURT, Friday.—Before Mr. Strange.—Biddy Adams was committed for 30 days as a result of her escapade yesterday. Hugh McGurk, drunk, $2 or 30 days. An insane girl, a very bad case, was admitted to temporary shelter until a home is found for her in the asylum. Several of the cabmen were fined $1 and costs for leaving their cabs at the G.T. Station, and soliciting passengers.

NAPANEE.

A SAD ACCIDENT.

NAPANEE, Apl. 11.—On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Kelly, of this place, was ironing clothes and using a vial of muriatic acid to take out stains. While her back was turned, her son Willie, 12 years old, seized the vial and drank a portion of the contents. Dr. Ruttan was sent for, but could render no assistance. The boy lived about 12 hours. An inquest was held by Wm. R. Chamberlain.

Lake Freights.

CHICAGO, April 9.—Lake freights were dull and nominally unchanged. The shippers were out of the market, the sharp decline in grain making them cautious about operating, especially as there were rumors that rail freights were being extensively cut from quoted rates. Some shippers were even speculating on the probability of a decline in sail freights to do on corn before the end of next month; they say that there will be no grain of consequence to move out except corn, as the millers to the west of us are buying up all the available wheat, and oats are also scarce. Vessel-owners to-day were taking 13c for corn to Buffalo by sail, 18c to Oswego, 19c to Kingston, and 19c to Ogdensburg.
