TOWN AND COUNTRY.

☞ SEE FIRST AND FOURTH PAGES.

Fogs and much dampness are in season.

READING MATTER on every page.

THE SALE to-day day drew a large crowd.

ICE is floating into the harbor in small fields.

It is growing warmer. There is much hope of Spring yet.

PROF. Goldwin Smith repeats in Montreal his Kingston Lecture.

RUSH in your field sports, as soon as this second winter is over.

THE BANDSMEN'S CONCERT.—One more glance at the programme ought to be given this evening, and we are sure that Victoria Hall will be filled to-night.

AMUSEMENTS.—The New Orleans Minstrels next Monday and Tuesday. Bodwell's Chicago on Tuesday and Wednesday, and Boscovitz on May 7th.

SMALL POX.—It is reported that there has been a death—of a little girl—from small pox in Johnson Street. This is believed to be the only house containing the infection in the city.

NEWBURGH.—A widow named Milligan, of this place, dropped dead last evening, after weaving six yards of carpeting that day and doing her ordinary housework. No previous sickness.

THE fickleness of April weather being proverbial, it is a good plan to take your overcoat and umbrella with you every time you go ten steps from the door.

CAPE VINCENT.—Three propellers from Ogdensburg, a tug and two barges of lumber from Brockville have arrived at the Cape, and are waiting for an opening Westward.

ORGANIST AND MUSICAL PROFESSOR.—We call attention to the card of Mr. Doward, who has arrived here to fill the position of Organist of St. George's Cathedral, and to practice his profession. Mr. Doward is a talented musician, and holds flattering testimonials.

THE RAILWAY.—Mr. Julius Fenn, the eminent American Consulting Engineer, arrived in town a day or two ago, and is waiting the return of Mr. Nash, who is still in the back country. It is the intention of the Directors, we learn, to at once push forward the business of the Road.

GREAT SALE OF FURNITURE.—We call attention to the Great Sale at Mr. Drennan's cabinet ware rooms to-morrow and Saturday. To young people about to "set up house," to old folks removing to new houses, and to the general public, this is an opportune sale, and one that will be of much benefit to them. The stock is so immense that ample choice is afforded for every taste. Best of all, the furniture is new.

GRAND PANORAMA.—Mr. Bordwell's Grand Panorama of the Franco-Prussian War and the burning of Chicago will be exhibited on Wednesday and Thursday evenings next, in the City Hall. The press generally speaks laudatory of the entertainment. The Montreal Gazette:

"Bordwell's Panorama of the burning of Chicago and Franco-German War attracted a very large audience to the Mechanics' Hall last evening. The representation of the burning of the Queen City of West was admirably executed, and gave a good idea of that conflagration. Altogether the audience appeared very much pleased with the exhibition; the representations of "Fritz" with songs, and duetts by Mr. and Mrs. Bordwell, were loudly applauded and encored."

EXAMINATIONS.—Last evening the public examination of the pupils of the Christian Brothers' School came off in the Hall on Clergy Street. It was very well attended, and the greatest interest was taken in the scholars, and the proficiency displayed in all the branches fully warranted the feeling of pride and interest. The Christian Brothers are thoroughly devoted to the Schools and the improvement of the scholars, and their perseverence and the enforcement of good discipline has shown some excellent results. The answers were given promptly and correctly last evening, and the examination must have shown to every one that the schools are most useful institutions.

Portsmouth

Business in Portsmouth is improving, witness the activity displayed in the Marine Railway, of which Messrs. Howard & Kelly are the energetic lessees. The propellor "St. Lawrence," Coulthurst & Macphie's elevator, and a large barge, the property of Messrs. Holcomb & Stewart, are now ready for launching. The rebuilding of another barge belonging to the same firm is almost completed, and the large propellor "Brantford" is in a forward state of conversion into a steam barge. Messrs. Chaffey & Co., who have leased the long pier, have put it in a thorough state of repair and are prepared to carry on an extensive forwarding business. These, with the old established tannery of Messrs. Carruthers & Co., and the well-known brewery of Messrs. Fisher & Son are guarantees of steady employment to a large number of men, and a consequent increasing prosperity.

THE DOMINION.

SOREL.

SOREL, April 24.—No change in the ice; still crossing on it.

RIMOUSKI.

RIMOUSKI, April 24.—Mr. Labelle, advocate, is going to enter a law suit against Dr. Fiset, the opposing candidate, for $2,000, for certain injurious insinuations, which it is said the latter made use of while addressing the electors on nomination day.

HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, April 24.—The Chronicle has an article repeating the charge of Dr. Tupper's complicity in the corrupt scheme for securing valuable coal areas at Spring Hill, and challenges him to vindicate himself before a Committee of the House of Commons, which, it assumes, will be appointed to investigate the matter.

The Government steamer Lady Head has gone to St. John for repairs.

The West India freight business is active, and there is a brisk demand for suitable tonnage for the trade.

OTTAWA.

OTTAWA, April 24.—Mr. Magill's committee on manufacturing interests has obtained full powers, as much as is ever granted by the House to any committee. Its business will be energetically pushed, and it will certainly report in good time before the present session closes. The oil and salt interests are included in the business of this committee.

To-day or to-morrow Mr. Jonfer will move for a committee on agricultural, milling and produce interests exclusively, which were affected by the legislation of the last two sessions.

M. Thiers's Speeches

President Thiers delivered two speeches, one of which created a sensation in Europe, the other in France. His army reorganization scheme contemplates a force of 1,185,000 soldiers; and he boasts that the chassepot and artillery of France, are superior to the weapons of other nations. His language was warlike and defiant, and doubtless caused the sensational rumours put forth by the London Telegraph. His second speech, a declaration in favor of Republicanism, took his Conservative friends by surprise, and secured the cheers of the Opposition. It is a strange spectacle to see a statesman, more than seventy years of age bidding for popularity; and as ambitious of command as if he was entering life. M. Thiers exercises the powers of a sovereign, under the name of a President, but he apparently aims at getting himself named head of the Republic during his life time; hence his conciliatory speech to the Radical Left. The various factions represented in the Assembly seem disposed to submit to M. Thiers, probably because they believe he cannot live long, and in the interval they hope to organize victory. The Orleanists and Radicals combined count more than a majority, and with their aid and the army M. Thiers can rule France.

Financial Estimates

OTTAWA, April 24.—The estimates for the financial year ending June, 1873, were submitted by Sir Francis Hincks today. The total is $29,675,460, or nearly thirty millions; total for 1871-72, $27,496,436. For the current year the following are the principal items: Public debt, $6,719,367; civil government, $713,636; administration of justice, $348,866; police, $46,000; legislation, $408,491; arts, agriculture and census, $196,530; immigration and quarantine, $327,792; public works and buildings, chargeable to capital, $9,949,500, or $2,163,700 increase over last year. Then, however, over two millions were charged to income. Ocean and river steam packet service, $405,191; Penitentiary, $265,863; militia and defence $1,549,400; light houses and coast service $471,583; fisheries $113,735; cutting timber $78,225; miscellaneous $576,500; collection of customs $559,183; Inland revenue $187,700; post office $1,606,000; public works $1,450,376; and subsidies to provinces $2,816,870. On various items there is a total decrease as compared with those of last year, of $16,785,825, and an increase over those of last year of $3,857,539.

MURDER AT FINGAL.—The people of Fingal and vicinity were thrown into a state of considerable excitement on learning that a farmer, named Matthew Jackson, who resided about four miles from Fingal, died on Sunday morning from the effects of injuries, the result of a brutal beating inflicted by a neighbor, also a farmer, named William McMullen, on the 6th inst. It appears the guilty party was incensed through hearing that the deceased had purchased the farm he (McMullen) rented. A verdict of man laughter against McMullen has been returned by the jury at the inquest held by the coroner, and a warrant issued for his arrest.—London Advertiser.

NEPOTISM.—Dr. Tupper is fortunate in the possession of a poor son-in-law. What to do with him was a vexatious question; then Manitoba was thought of. It cost the country $5,419.78, and "that blawsted fence" wasn't much better when he got through.

RELIGIOUS ITEMS.

The bishop of Augsburg, Germany, has directed the clergy of his diocese to punish unbelievers in Papal infallibility by withholding from them baptism and burial as well as the intermediate rites of confession and communion.

The four professors of Bonn who were excommunicated by the Archbishop of Cologne, have published a reply to his sentence, denouncing the injustice of the latter, and citing in their defence the Archbishop's own words of condemnation against the infallibility dogma, uttered before it was passed by the Council.

The Academy says that a notable example of caution has been furnished by the Swedish ecclesiastical authorities. A commission has been sitting on the translation of the Bible for the last hundred years without producing more than a tentative revision, which is still exposed to the criticism of scholars.

A remarkable example of religious toleration has, according to the Cologne Gazette, been displayed by the Greek clergy on a recent occasion. The foundation stone of a Protestant Church was laid at Patras on the 21st of February. Besides the Protestant congregation many Greeks attended the ceremony. The Greek clergy of the town, who had been invited to attend the solemnity, did not fail to appear, and the Archbishop of Patras, Cyrillos, after offering the customary prayers, laid the foundation stone with his own hands, an action which produced the most favorable impression on all present. The bishop, at the same time, recommended the church to the protection of St. Andrew, who, according to tradition, suffered martyrdom at Patras.

The ministers and leading laymen of the Free Church of Scotland in Glasgow have resolved to reconstitute the fund, by means of which, in the year 1851 and subsequently, they erected flourishing mission churches in the most densely inhabited and necessitous districts of that city. The Rev. Dr. Buchanan, Rev. Mr. MacColl, Mr. James White, of Overtoun, and other influential citizens took part in the proceedings last week, and it was reported that over £15,000 had been already contributed to the fund of 105 persons, and that there could be little doubt that the other £5,000 which it was necessary should be raised before commencing operations of any kind would be speedily subscribed.
