MONDAY EVENING, MAY 27, 1872.

The Blind Poet.

I am old and blind!
Men point at me as smitten by God's frown,
Afflicted and rejected by my kind;
Yet am I not cast down.

I am weak; yet strong;
I murmur not that I no longer see;
Poor, old, and helpless, I the more belong,
Father Supreme, to Thee.

O Merciful One!
When men are farthest then Thou art most near;
When men pass coldly by—my weakness shun
Thy charity I hear.

Thy glorious face
Is leaning toward me, and its holy light
Shines in upon my lonely dwelling place,
And there is no more night!

On bended knee
I recognize Thy purpose clearly shown;
My vision Thou hast dimmed, that I may see
Thyself—Thyself alone.

I have naught to fear,
This darkness is the shadow of Thy wing;
Beneath it I am almost sacred; here
Can come no evil thing.

I seem to stand
Where feet of mortal never yet have been,
Wrapped in the radiance of Thy sinless hand,
Which eye hath never seen.

Visions come and go;
Shapes of resplendent beauty round me throng;
From angels' lips I seem to hear the flow
Of soft and holy song.

It is nothing now,
When heaven is opening on my sightless eyes;
When airs from Paradise refresh my brow
That earth in darkness lies.

In a pure clime
My being fills with rapture, waves of thought
Roll in upon my spirit; strains sublime
Break over me unsought.

Give me now my lyre;
I feel the stirrings of a gift divine,
Within my bosom glows an earthly fire,
Lit by no skill of mine.

EDITOR'S TABLE NO. 538.

The Canadian Illustrated News for May 18th and 25th. Montreal: Geo. E. Desbarats. 10 cents.

The Canadian improves with each successive number. Its original sketches are clever and interesting.

Harper's Monthly Magazine for June. New York: Harper Bros. $4 a year.

This Number contains the first of the promised series of papers by Emilio Castelar on "The Republican Movement in Europe." While Senor Castelar writes with a pen of fire, while he draws upon the wealth of an imagination which is almost Oriental in its exuberance, yet his philosophical analysis, his scholarly culture, and his nervous, concise style are not less wonderful than his magnetic eloquence. In this first paper his graphic portraiture of such men as Victor Hugo, Lamartine, Rochefort, and Gambetta, are unsurpassed in the literature of this century. These papers are translated by John Hay, a personal friend of the Spanish statesman, and his most faithful and eloquent interpreter. The other articles are of more than average merit and interest.

The Galaxy for June. New York: Sheldon & Company. $4 a year.

The number opens with a timely article by Justin McCarthy on "Sir Charles Dilke and the English Republicans," in which that clever essayist draws a spirited picture of the leading Republicans of England. "Brahmins and Swells," by a writer whose name is not given, discusses with ability and sharpness certain features of our social life, the term "Brahmin" being used to designate the intellectual element of society, and "Swell" the merely fashionable element.

Albert Rhodes, whose previous articles on the characteristics of foreign people have attracted much attention, writes this month of "The English at Home."

The editorial department, as usual, discusses literature, science, art, politics, and society, and the Club Room adds humor and pathos.

The Westminster Review for April. New York: The Leonard Scott Publishing Company. $4 year. The contents are:

1. Trial by Judge and Trial by Jury. 2. The Political Reconstruction of Germany. 3. The University College of Wales. 4. India: The Mussulman Panic. 5. Christian Theology and Modern Scepticism. 6. Napoleon the First; the Man. 7. The Migration of Labor. 8. The Question of Race in France. 9. Spiritualism and its Evidences. 10. The Distribution of Representation. Contemporary Literature, etc.

Littell's Living Age for May 11th and 18th. Boston: Littell & Gay. $8 a year.

The weekly numbers of "The Living Age" for May 11th and 18th, have the following contents: Kidnapping in the South Seas, British Quarterly Review; A Century of Great Poets, from 1750 downwards, No. VI., Percy Bysshe Shelley, Blackwood's Magazine; On the Temperature and Movements of the Deep Sea, by Dr. W. B. Carpenter, F. R. S. Popular Science Review; Monks of La Trappe, Fraser's Magazine; English Civil Wars, Saturday Review; India in Jamaica, Economist; The Jews as Politicians, Spectator; The Physiological Position of Alcohol, by Dr. Richardson, F. R. S., Popular Science Review; Lord and Lady Dundonald's Elopement to Gretna, Saint Paul's; George Beattie, Cornhill Magazine; A Hindoo Prince, Spectator; The Possibility of War this Year, Spectator; Edward Denison, Blackwood's Magazine; Instalments of the Story of the Plebiscite, by the distinguished French writers, MM. Erckmann-Chatrian; Off the Skelligs, by Jean Ingelow; The Strange Adventures of a Phaeton, by William Black; besides poetry and miscellany.

The British Trade Journal for May 1. London: S. V. Vaughan. $3 a year.

Appleton's Journal, for May 25th and June 1. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $4 a year.

Two excellent numbers of this favorite magazine.

The Welcome Guest for May. Toronto: The Pure Gold Publishing Co. $1.50 a year.

This illustrated monthly is a new candidate for public favor. It is neatly printed, and its contents are carefully selected.

The Children's Hour, and Arthur's Lady's Home Magazine for June.

The June numbers of these excellent publications of the Arthurs are very interesting ones.

The Printer's Circular for May. Philadelphia: R. S. Menamin. $1.50 a year.

The Printers' Register, for May 6. London, 3, Bouverie St., Fleet St. 30s. a year.

Harper's Bazar for June 1st. New York: Harper Bros. $4 a year.

Nast contributes some clever caricatures of Horace Greeley, the Cincinnatus Convention.

The Local Courts and Municipal Gazette for April. Toronto: Copp, Clarke & Co. $2 a year.

The Canada Journal of Dental Science for May.

The present number of this excellent class magazine is prefaced by a portrait of our late townsman, Dr. Day. Mr. W. Geo. Beers, L.D.S., of Montreal, the well-known writer, is one of the editors.

Good Company for May. Toronto: Wilson & Co. $3 a year.

The Phrenological Journal for June. New York: S. R. Wells. $3 a year.

Conspicuous among its contents are, William Orton, President Western Telegraph Co.; What is the Tariff Question? by Horace Greeley; Steal or Starve? Sir Francis Crossley, M. P.; Monticello, Famous as the Home of Thomas Jefferson; Expression: The Chinese in the Philippines; Preachers and Preaching; Boys' Library; Carbon and its Different Forms; Paul Du Chaillu, the famous Traveler; Life Insurance; A Bad Pen, etc. With numerous fine illustrations and portraits. A new volume begins with the July number.

Every Month for May. Price 3d. Kingston: John Henderson.

Those who are fond of light and entertaining literature cannot but read Every Month with pleasure.

London Society for May. $4 a year.

We have to thank Mr. Stacey, of Stationer's Hall, for the May number of this, the most attractive of the many Monthlies which reach Our Table. Designedly "an Illustrated Magazine of light and amusing literature for hours of recreation," yet its articles are all written with such skill that they never offend by their levity. Its illustrations are in the best style, its poetry devoid of nonsense, and its tales, sketches and essays beyond praise. Be Wise.—Too often a cold or slight cough is considered a very ordinary, trifling affair, just as well left to go as it came, and hence systematically neglected until a simple curable affection is converted into a serious pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware that a cough or cold should never be trifled with, promptly use Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers, which have sustained their reputation for over 30 years. They are always efficacious, and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists and country merchants. Price 25 cents per box.

Home Medicines.—It is gratifying to know that there is at least one which has stood the test and proved itself worthy the confidence reposed in it; we know of no other article which has proved so generally successful, or given such universal satisfaction; we are confident there is more of it used than all others combined, and that it will ultimately supersede all others, there can be no doubt. It is 'Parley's Condition Powders and Arabian Horse Remedy,' we advise all who require anything of the kind, to give it a trial—we know they will be satisfied with the result. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.
