THIRTY YEARS IN SENATE.

John T. Morgan of Alabama Has Had

Many Terms.
One of the most wonderful men in the United States senate is John T. Morgan of Alabama. He is 81 years old, and two years from this time he will complete thirty years' continuous service in the senate. During the recent short session he spoke for more than four hours for two successive days. The physical effort of speaking for four hours on one day is more than many senators care to attempt. On every foreign subject he knows all there is to know and has the knowledge at command without reference to books or documents. No other man knows so much about the isthmian canal. Once some one asked how long he could really talk. "It depends upon the subject," he replied. "If it were a matter that I thoroughly understand I could talk for two or three days; if it were a matter I knew nothing about I could talk for two or three weeks."

GETTING INTO BAD HABITS.

Injurious Small Actions Too Frequently Pass Unnoticed.

I wonder how many women who are their trouble is due to certain little but are none the less injurious? For instance, the manner of sitting. The average woman assumes a strained and incorrect position when reading writing and sewing-yes, even when resting, says the Pittsburg Dispatch.

Now, a good habit, like a bad one, is only repeated action; and a little thought on the subject would soon render it the most natural thing to assume a correct position at all times, sitting, standing or lying down.

Don't sit with the shoulders drawn forward, one shoulder higher than the other, and your head bent down until the shape of your vertebral column resembles the letter C.

Another bad fault is slouching down in your chair until you are literally sitting on the end of your spine.

Not only should "grown-ups" look to their own bad habits, but they should watch closely the small children with whom they come in daily contact and try to keep them from acquiring injurious habits. Children should be prevented from their particular failing as much as possible at once, and it is worth while to give up a few weeks to the cure, just as you would if they were suffering from a childish disease-measles, or mumps, for instance.

The problem is made particularly difficult in that frequently we find them established before we have really noticed them.

Bennie's Bait to Catch Devils.

Many years ago, in the village of Houlton, Me., there lived a young man named Benjamin Salmon, known by every one as a simpleton, who was always doing strange things. One day a number of boys discovered Bennie perched on a fence behind a barn with a cotton string and pin hook attached to a willow stick, fishing in a pool of stagnant water. This was great fun for the boys, but their jeers had no effect on Bennie.

Joshua Smith, a revenue officer, who was passing, stopped to see what the fun was. After taking in the situation ddressed Bennie thus:

"What you fishin' for?" Bennie, without raising his head, replied, "Devils." "Ah. devils, eh," retorted Mr. "and what have you on for think about it." Smith: bait?

replied, "Revenue officers, sir."

Odd Things About Words "Were you in the garden for the purpose of committing a felony?" asked the English judge of the small boy. "No, sir," said the boy; "me and my cousin were after the gentleman's fowls and eggs." Forfeiture of lands and goods and "corruption of blood" (loss of hereditary standing) were formerly the penalties for felony. Before they got their technical sense. however, "felon" and "felony" (connected either with Latin "fallere," to deceive or "fell," gall, bitterness) connoted wickedness, anger, courage or melancholy, as the case might be. The admiral began to laugh for felony," says Caxton, meaning that he laughed, not feloniously, but recklessly. Also a boil or whitlow was a "felon" and cholera "felony."

Mysterious Cannon Ball. Auto Opens New Fields. An automobile milk wagon which is running in Ohio and doing the work of two and three horses every day is one of the recent developments of the horseless age. Another is an automobile in the Congo Free State, where electricity and coal are not to be considered as power generators, and where, therefore, wood was mustered into service as the only logical fuel. The wood burning car weighs a ton and has a maximum speed of twelve miles an hour. Sheet steel wheels with heavy pneumatic tires are used. The fifteen horsebower engine is inclosed in a bullet proof bonnet, as the vehicle is to be used in transporting troops and is expected to be under fire at times. A third novelty in the automobile business is the arrangement of an enterprising Yankee for a regular service of motor omnibuses to the pyramids.

"There was a time," said the drummer, "when every hotel I stayed in supplied its guests with Bibles. They were not fine Bibles. Possibly they cost only 25 cents apiece, but they were all there and answered the purpose just as well as an Oxford edition. Usually the Bible lay in plain sight on the table in each bedroom. If it wasn't there it was in the top bureau drawer and all us fellows knew enough to look for it there. And very frequently we did look. I read the Bible a lot in those days, maybe just because it was handy. I'd come in tired and disgusted with life, especially that part represented by the evening paper, which was about the only thing I had to read and when I got plumb sick of that I'd turn to the Bible. Some mighty good stuff I found there, too. I haven't come across many of those hotel Bibles in the last two years. I've missed them a lot. I don't know who is responsible for their disappearance. I understand that some tract society used to furnish them to the hotels. If the missionaries really were back of the movement, and through some misrepresentation of facts have come to the conclusion that the game was not worth the candle, I'd like to advise them to set the good work going again since the Bibles disappeared from hotel bedrooms. His Fatal Error.

Physicians Recommend Castoria

ASTORIA has met with pronounced favor on the part of physicians, pharmaceutical societies and medical authorities. It is used by physicians with results most gratifying. The extended use of Castoria is unquestionably the result of three facts: First—The indisputable evidence that it is harmless: Second—That it not only allays stomach pains and quiets the nerves, but assimilates the food: Third-It is an agreeable and perfect substitute for Castor Oil. It is absolutely safe. It does not contain any Opium, Morphine, or other narcotic and does not stupefy. It is unlike Soothing Syrups, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, etc. This is a good deal for a Medical Journal to say. Our duty, however, is to expose danger and record the means of advancing health. The day for poisoning innocent children through greed or ignorance ought to end. To our knowledge, Castoria is a remedy which produces composure and health, by regulating the system—not by stupefying it—and our readers are entitled to the information. - Hall's Journal of Health.

Letters from Prominent Physicians Addressed to Charles H. Fletcher.

Dr. B. Halstead Scott, of Chicago, Ills., says: "I have prescribed your Castoria often for infants during my practice, and find it very satisfactory." Dr. William Belmont, of Cleveland, Ohio, says: "Your Castoria stands first in s class. In my thirty years of practice I can say I never have found anything that filled the place." Dr. J. H. Taft, of Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I have used your Castoria and found an excellent remedy in my household and private practice for many years. The braula is excellent."

Dr. Wm. L. Bosserman, of Buffalo. N. Y., says: "I am pleased to speak a good word for your Castoria. I think so highly of it that I not only recommend it to others, but have used it in my own family." Dr. R. J. Hamlen, of Detroit, Mich., says: "I prescribe your Castoria extensively, as I have never found anything to equal it for children's troubles. I am aware that there are imitations in the field, but I always see that my patients get Fletcher's."

Dr. Wm. I. McCann, of Omaha, Neb., says: "As the father of thirteen children I certainly know something about your great medicine, and aside from my own family experience I have in my years of practice found Castoria a popular and efficient remedy in almost every home."

Dr. J. R. Clausen, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "The name that your Castoria has made for itself in the tens of thousands of homes blessed by the presence of children, scarcely needs to be supplemented by the endorsement of the medical profession, but I, for one, most heartily endorse it and believe it an excellent remedy." Dr. Channing H. Cook, of St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used your Castoria for several years past in my own family and have always found it thoroughly efficient and never objected to by children, which is a great consideration in view of the fact that most medicines of this character are obnoxious and therefore difficult of administration. As a laxative, I consider it the peer of anything that I ever prescribed."

pr. R. M. Ward, of Kansas City, Mo., says: "Physicians generally do not prescribe proprietary preparations, but in the case of Castoria my experience, like that of many other physicians, has taught me to make an exception. I prescribe your Castoria in my practice because I have found it to be a thoroughly reliable remedy for children's complaints. Any physician who has raised a family, as I have, will join me in heartiest recommendation of Castoria."
