WHIGGINGS

Poetical error.—"A thing of beauty is a joy forever." Is it, my boy? Marry it, and you will find that it is very much the reverse.

Mr. Brown, editor of the Bellefort (Pa.) Gazette gravely informs his readers that it was not him who was nominated for the Vice-Presidency at the Cincinnati Convention.

A writer of physiognomy sagely says:—"A human face without a nose does not amount to much," whereupon Smiggles observes that a human nose without a face doesn't amount to much either.

The Sextons of Barrie have a playful habit of demanding their fees after the coffin has been lowered, and before they proceed to fill the grave. When they have down'd with their dust they like others to follow suit.

The hair on a camel weighs about ten pounds and sells for more than a hundred dollars, which shows that it was not only in the days of Mohammed that the animal bore a great prophet.

Willing to please.—Mistress (to her lazy housemaid): Now, Mary, you know I'm going to give a ball to-morrow night, and I shall expect you to bestir yourself, and make yourself generally useful.—Mary: Yes, ma'm. But I'm sorry to say, ma'm, I can't dance!

The following is a copy of the sign upon an academy for teaching youths, in one of the Western states: Freeman and Huggs, School Teachers. Freeman teaches the Boys and Huggs the Girls.

Old Mr. Jones is ninety-two years of age, and is much given to dreaming. On being informed of the drowning of Mr. Brown she exclaimed, "La, I know'd the poor man was dead, 'cause I seed his apparatus in a dream t'other night!"

Missing the Point.—Legal Adviser, speaking technically: In short, you want to meet your creditors. Innocent Client: Hang it, no! Why, they're the very people I'm most anxious to avoid!

A Welsh paper at Scranton, Pa., reviles the Chappaqua philosopher pig-ironically, in language like this: "Blp ginly il Greeley miffn drumpl tampl nypunt serlig gy Prlltyl ot gmshx drulzmt begily in writt uemniz df 'gunnorlt." Wouldn't Horace like to have just twenty minutes on the Tribune to settle that fellow, though?

Natural Advantages.—Teacher: What bird did Noah send out of the ark? Smallest boy in the class, after a pause: A dove, sir. Teacher: Very well. But I should have thought some of you big boys would have known that. Tall pupil: Please, sir, that boy ought to know, sir, 'cause his father's a bird-ketcher, sir!—Punch.

Dumas pere, having noticed that in the English language there were a good many words of French aspect, wrote this memorable phrase:—"English is only French, badly pronounced."

Bare Necessaries.—Young Lady No. 1: Papa says he won't hear of my marrying without a house in town. Young Lady No. 2: And mamma says I'm not to think of anyone who has not a moor in Scotland and a hunting-box at Melton. Young Lady No. 3 (not yet "come out"): Well! I shall not dream of marrying anyone who can't afford all three!

The Scotsman, in an obituary notice of Bishop Terrot, mentions a story which he used to relate with great gusto. It befel a distinguished clergyman, perhaps himself. An Irish beggar was imploring him for charity, and using an enormous number of sacred objugations. The dignified clergyman looked him solemnly in the face: "No, I will not give relief to one who appeals to me so indecorously; but I will give you what will be of more value to you in your present state of mind—the advice not to take the name of God in vain." Irishman answers: "And is it in vain I've been taking it? And whose fault is that, I should like to know?"

A Sea Varmint.

Our fascinating friend, the Great Sea Serpent Snake, once more! Seen by Capt. McTaggart of the good ship Kent of Liverpool, on the 20th of September, on the West Coast of Africa, between Cape Palmas and grand Bassa. On the evening previous enormous shoals of fish of every description, including sharks and porpoise, surrounded the ship, and the next morning his snakeship was seen with his great head eight feet out of water. He was apparently from 180 to 200 feet long, and his tail was like unto the tail of a mackeral, and so was his color like that of the said fish. He travelled at a rapid rate, but kindly stopped a few moments while the Captain examined him. It is supposed that the fish seen in such numbers the evening before were fugitives from the jaws of this hungry and devouring monster.

Legal Maze.—Two Lord Chief Justices, the Lord Chief Baron and thirteen other Judges in England, are lost in a legal maze and cannot see daylight. A certain Mr. Allen married a woman and she died, whereupon he married another woman. Being fond of variety and the latter wife not dying with sufficient promptness, he married a niece of the first Mrs. Allen, while his second wife still lived and was prosecuted for bigamy. The niece of his first wife being within the prohibited degrees of relationship, his marriage with her was void, hence he claims it was no marriage, and therefore no bigamy.

What Mr. McDougall Remarked.—In view of Mr. McDougall's present attitude of extraordinary teadyism towards the Ottawa Government, he will perhaps thank us for refreshing his memory with a few utterances from his North-west pamphlet. Mr. McDougall says he "has little faith in official promptitude or perspicacity at Ottawa." Howe is described as "a mollified blusterer," and Mr. McDougall avers that "incapacity reigns supreme in every department of the Government at Ottawa, while treason is more than suspected in one." We are disposed to believe that Mr. McDougall's pamphlet told the truth.—London Advertiser.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard, and to those who have never used it we can confidently say, that it is the only reliable and perfected preparation to restore GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken; the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean; it removes all eruptions and dandruff, and by its tonic properties prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair glands. By its use the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair that splendid glossy appearance so much admired by all. A. A. Hayes, M.D., State Assayer of Mass., says, "the constituents are pure and carefully selected for excellent quality, and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes." We publish a treatise on the hair, which we send free by mail upon application, which contains commendatory notices from clergymen, physicians, the press, and others. We have made the study of the hair and its diseases a specialty for years, and know that we make the most effective preparation for the restoration and the preservation of the hair, extant, and so acknowledged by the best Medical and Chemical Authority.
