THE FRONTENAC ELECTION.

It is with regret we announce Mr. Cartwright's determination not to accept the nomination of the Cataraqui Reform Convention—and all the more so because we think that he has allowed himself to be guided in his refusal by a false sense of honor. It having been stated by an unscrupulous sheet, shortly after Mr. Cartwright's nomination, that he could not honorably be a candidate for Frontenac, as he was pledged to Mr. Kirkpatrick not to run, Mr. Cartwright, a man jealous of his honor, thought that in order to go before the electors with an unsullied reputation, the charge of having given a pledge must be refuted. He admitted having said in private conversation some time ago that he had no intention of contesting Frontenac. This was true at the time, as he had removed to another county, and did not think it at all probable that the people of Frontenac would ever ask him to allow his name to be put in nomination. To find these careless statements of having no intention of running construed as cast iron pledges naturally surprised Mr. Cartwright when he was nominated by the Reformers of Frontenac. However, to remove any misapprehension he frankly and honorably telegraphed Mr. Kirkpatrick to learn if he regarded him as pledged, as alleged, and if so, whether he would release him. The answer naturally to be expected from a gentleman of Mr. Kirkpatrick's standing, and who boasted of his impregnable position in the county, was a release. The reverse, however, was the case, an evasive answer requesting time (until prorogation) to consult with his friends in Frontenac was the only answer which Mr. Kirkpatrick vouchsafed. His friends here were consulted by Mr. Cartwright and his friends, before the answer was received, and they unhesitatingly said that Mr. Kirkpatrick would not hold himself so cheap as to think of torturing Mr. Cartwright's private conversations made under a totally different state of circumstances into a solemn pledge not to oppose his return, although urged by a Convention assembled from all parts of the county. However, their prediction was falsified by Mr. Kirkpatrick's precious reply. The object of this artfully framed answer was to gain time to put canvassers in the field and tie the hands of Mr. Cartwright and his friends until the County was thoroughly worked up in Mr. Kirkpatrick's interest. Seeing the game of duplicity that was being attempted to be played, Mr. Cartwright at once telegraphed for a direct answer in the negative or affirmative. The answer came tardily, "I must consult my Frontenac friends," or a repetition of the former reply. Mr. Cartwright disgusted with the conduct of one whom he had approached in a spirit of too scrupulous honor, at once said that he would withdraw and allow Mr. Kirkpatrick his questionable triumph.

Now that Mr. Cartwright has made known his intention of not contesting the County owing to the dishonorable trick which has been played up him, Mr. Kirkpatrick and his friends eagerly protest that they are anxious that Mr. Cartwright should enter the field as they could defeat him easily. This gasconade sounds for very little when it is well known that to keep him out of the contest they stooped to a dishonorable trick. Mr. Kirkpatrick now admits that no pledge was ever given and that he never regarded the private conversations alluded to in the light of a pledge. If so, we ask him why was he not gentleman enough to say so when first telegraphed to by Mr. Cartwright and give the consent asked for? Mr. Cartwright only through a too fine sense of honor and to avoid any misapprehension asked to be released from that which, he was well aware, no honorable man could regard as a pledge but he was not met in the same spirit but with evasion and small trickery when by his frankness and honorable conduct he deserved upright and gentlemanly dealing.

This statement of facts will not, we think, raise Mr. Kirkpatrick in the estimation of the farmers of Frontenac, while it will show them that Mr. Cartwright is, as we asserted, a gentleman of scrupulous integrity, who flung aside the chances of a splendid victory rather than allow it to be even whispered that it was gained by trampling on a pledge. The contrast between Mr. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Cartwright, in this transaction, is certainly not flattering to the former, who boasted that by his peculiar influence among the farmers of Wolfe and Howe Islands, and aided by Mr. Delino Dexter Calvin's political preserve, Garden Island, he could successfully resist the strongest opposition which could be made to his return, but, yet, trembled at thought of a contest with Mr. Cartwright. The farmers of Frontenac will regret that the name of Kirkpatrick has been sullied by the questionable conduct of the member for Frontenac in thus attempting to shake off opposition, and when successful, swaggering, like Captain Bobadil, protesting that he is eager for a contest.

While the Reformers of Frontenac cannot but regret Mr. Cartwright's retirement, as he was a gentleman of integrity and ability, of whom any constituency might be proud, yet, their duty, in the present exigency, is plain. Let a Convention be at once called, and a new candidate named. Instead of being weakened by the causes which led to Mr. Cartwright's retirement, the Reform party will be greatly strengthened, for the honest farmers of Frontenac will not, we are certain, countenance chicanery or unfair play. Let a Reform candidate, then, be at once put in the field. The names of several gentlemen, certain to win the contest in the reform interest, occur to us. If the canvas is vigorously entered upon and prosecuted, there is no doubt that victory will attend the candidature of the Reform nominee. It must not be forgotten, however, that the Tory candidate is already in the field, and has his agents at work. The necessity of prompt and energetic action on the part of the Reformers of Frontenac is thus apparent.

THE BALLOT BILL.

Whither are we drifting? may well be asked by Englishmen upon learning that the House of Lords has passed the Ballot Bill by a vote of 86 to 56. Enormous strides in the direction of democracy have been taken during the last lustrum, but while the Monarchists cannot but be apprehensive of the ultimate result it cannot be denied that these steps are in the direction of right and justice also. Household, near akin to Universal, Suffrage has been conceded, the Irish Church disestablished, the army purchase system broken up, and now the Ballot Bill rejected of the Lords a year since has become part of the law of the land. There are, to be sure, signs indicative of a Conservative reaction in England, but it will necessarily be but temporary and give way to a greater eagerness for Reform than any that the present Cabinet has ever displayed. Who shall say that such a Government, backed by the sovereign power, the people, will not disestablish the English, as they have the Irish Church? Or that they will not give ear to the ramblings of discontent at the existence of that venerable but anachronous body, the House of Peers? We in Canada would not grieve much over the disestablishment of the English Establishment, or the abolition of the House of Lords, the principles on which their existence is defended being held here to be incorrect. But the thought of disestablishment and abolition being not improbable gives birth to the inquiry, what next? Shall Sir Charles Dilke be triumphant, and Republicanism, for which everything now looks as if preparing the way, be decreed by the people as the mode of Government they desire. That such may be the case at no very distant day is not unlikely, if present indications in England furnish any correct basis for speculation as to the future, but she will find that in England, at all events, Republicanism is a mistake and a delusion—that under a monarchy she has enjoyed a larger measure of freedom and true progress than she is ever likely to enjoy under Republican sway.

THE TEA AND COFFEE DUTIES.

Some misapprehension existing as to the extent of drawback on Tea and Coffee to be refunded by the Customs Department and the time when the packages must be re-bonded, it may be advisable to state that the goods may be re-bonded or warehoused at any time before the 29th of June, when specific duties previously paid will be refunded. It must be observed that the drawback will only be repaid on goods in the original packages, and that it is confined to the specific duties paid. Tea and Coffee in Bond after July 1st may be taken out duty free.

County Court and General Sessions.

WEDNESDAY.—The Court opened at ten o'clock this morning, Judge Burrowes presiding, Thomas Denison, Esq., J.P., Associate.

Henry Pixley, Appellant, and Geo. O. S. Blake, Respondent. This was an appeal from the decision of the immaculate J.P., Micajah P Guess. The parties reside in the township of Loughboro, and the appellant was committed under the Petty Trespass Act for throwing down a rail fence of the respondent. The conviction was quashed with costs, the learned chairman of the General Sessions after hearing the appeal deciding that as the title to the land came in question the Magistrate had no jurisdiction, and should not have entertained the complaint.

Mr. James O'Reilly, Q.C., for the appellant, Mr. John McIntyre for the respondent.

MATIER VS. BEAUPRE.—This case, which created great interest among horse fanciers, was proceeding when our reporter left the Court, and will occupy the remainder of the day. A report will be given in our next. Mr. Jas. O'Reilly, Q.C., for the plantiff, and Mr. G. A. Kirkpatrick, M.P., and Mr. J. Mudie for defendant.

O'BRIEN VS. CONNAGLY.—An action for breach of warranty on the sale of a horse. Both parties are farmers residing on Wolfe Island, and agreed this afternoon to refer the case to the arbitration of a couple of their neighbours. Mr. James O'Reilly, Q. C., for plaintiff, and Mr. J. McIntyre for defendant.

The Grand Jury came into court this afternoon with a true bill against James Fitzgerald, for stabbing. The prisoner was arraigned and pleaded not guilty and said that he was ready for the trial, which was fixed for to-morrow. This the case of stabbing which took place at Reese's Tavern, on the 10th of April last. Mr. John McIntyre is retained by the prisoner.

WOULD LIKE TO DIE.—Last night a young mechanic, who has drunk to excess for some days, jumped into the harbor off the Commercial wharf at the foot of Clarence street. He was hauled out, cooler and more reasonable in his mind for the bath.

THE DEBATE IN THE COMMONS.

NEW YORK, June 11.—At the additional proceedings in the House of Commons last night, Messrs. Gorden and Bentinck, Lord Yarmouth, Sir G. S. Jenkinson, Wathey and others severely criticiade the Government, expressing want of confidence in its future proceedings.

Mr. Gladstone defended the action of the Government at great length and closed with declaration that it would be a crime to deviate a hair's breath from the original position in the House of Lords.

Earl Granville made a statement, he said on Saturday last it become clear that the British and American Governments would fail for want of time to come to the supplemental article. The difficulty between them related solely to the bearing its conditions were to have in the future. The Americans considering English objections hypercritical he had consented to the idea of an adjournment of the Geneva board, to give time for removal of difficulties. To-morrow the British agent and representatives would start for Geneva, for it would be dignified and courteous to appear before arbitrators, whatever the circumstance might be. Decisive instructions and full power had been given them.

Lord Cairns expressed his astonishment but the House was accustomed to surprises on this subject; he proposed eight months adjournment. This was made in in hope of something turning up and helping the Government out of this predicament.

Earl Granville said he must hesitate to accept Lord Cairns' criticisms because of the inacceptibility of his speech.

The Marquis of Salisbury believed the Americans were urging as strong as ever their indirect claims. England had failed to maintain her position. He felt there was ground for distrust. Parliament had subsisted too long on scraps of information supplied through correction or indiscretion of American officials. The House wanted to know what terms were on which England consented to proceed with arbitration.

Earl Kimberley, Colonial Secretary, replied that neither taunts nor ingenuity could alter the determination of the Government.

Earl Derby objected to personalities in this debate. He asked why did England propose adjournment of the Arbitration, and why for so long a time. The country had received news with surprise and regret.

Earl Granville said the adjournment was made to date when Parliament and Congress would both be in session. He did not see anything alarming.

Earl Grey considered that the Government were censured. He declared England ought to withdraw from the Treaty unless the indirect claims were withdrawn. Loud cheers followed this declaration.

FUNERAL OF MR. BENNETT.

NEW YORK, June 11.—The funeral of the late Mr. James Gordon Bennett takes place next Friday. His son has returned from Europe.

At conventions held in Columbia, S.C.; Des Moines, Iowa, and Topeka, Kansas, yesterday, all endorse the nominations of Greeley and Brown; that held in Delaware is in favor of separate nominations by Democrats at Baltimore.

CHICAGO, June 12.—Sir Thomas Dakin, late Lord Mayor of London, arrived here yesterday. He visited the Board of Trade and was introduced to its members.

THE ARBITRATION—OUTSIDE INTRIGUES.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The Herald's London special says the assemblage of Geneva arbitrators is now the absorbing topic of discussion. The general feeling in Europe is that England is afraid of the arbitrators. Inuendoes insulting to the honor of the tribunal are current. It is said in high quarters that Russian money is operating against England. Count Catacazy is mentioned as continuing on this side of the Atlantic the work for which he was expelled from Washington. It is believed Prince Gortchakoff's diplomacy and purse are opponents too formidable to be safely encountered.

COMING TO CANADA.

A Washington special says Senator Carpenter will soon leave for Canada on a diplomatic mission, the nature of which has not transpired.

BROCKVILLE

THE BURNING OF THE KINGSTON.—LOSS OF LIFE.—MELANCHOLY AFFAIR.

(Special to the British Whig.)

BROCKVILLE, June 11.—The steamer Kingston left here on her upward trip this day at one thirty p.m. with about 100 passengers. When off Grenadier Island, 18 miles above this town, an alarm of fire was raised and on investigation it proved to originate in the state room about midship, directly over the engine room. Every effort was made to subdue the flames, but the fire spread so rapidly that the vessel was headed and beached on Grenadier Island. Owing to the rapidity of the fire only one boat could be reached, which was immediately launched with a load of ladies and children, but it swamped on touching the water when all fortunately struggled ashore. The passengers and crew saw that their only chance for escape was to jump into the water and get ashore by the floating debris and life preservers, which they all succeeded in doing with the exception of one unfortunate lady who jumped from the stern with a life preserver but owing to its not being properly adjusted she was drowned. The propeller Dominion in passing down shortly after the accident was hailed, and the passengers and crew were taken aboard and brought to this place, where they arrived about 8 p.m. The name of the lady drowned is said to be Mrs. Dr. Jones, of Montreal. The Kingston is a total wreck, nothing but the hull remaining. Capt. Carmichael and the officers did everything possible for the rescue of the crew and passengers. It is reported a boy belonging to the steamer is missing. The passengers are lodged at the different hotels, and leave to-night for their several destinations. The baggage and cargo is a total loss. The loss on the steamer is about $75,000; insured for about $60,000.

OTTAWA, June 12.—Many members left last night, and not more than a Corporal's Guard on each side is left. The business in the Commons will be finished to-day.

COUNTY COUNCIL

TUESDAY.—The June Session of the Council opened this afternoon at two o'clock, the Warden in the chair. All the members were present, something unusual on the first day of session. The minutes of the last sitting in January were read and approved.

Communications were read from—

N. F. Dupuis, Esq., one of the County Board of Examiners, resigning office in consequence of appointment as Inspector of City Schools.

From R. A. Harrison, Esq., Barrister, Toronto, giving opinion that it was the duty of the Council to supply all the offices except that of Clerk of the Division Court, in the Court House with fuel and light.

From Mr. J. G. Scott, of the Attorney General's office, giving his opinion as to the accounts for administration of justice being paid before being allowed by the Government.

From the County Clerk of Carleton, asking the co-operation of other councils in petitioning the Government of Ontario to place the tolls on Joint Stock Roads on a more liberal footing than they now are to the travelling public.

From the Education Department, Toronto, enclosing a statement of the appointment of names to the different schools in the county for 1872.

From the Trustees of the High School at Sydenham, asking for the sum of $8,500 for the purpose of erecting and furnishing the building.

All these letters were referred to Committee.

A petition was read from Chas. Lyons and others of Storrington, asking that the concession line between the townships of Storrington and Kingston from the Perth Road to Collins' Lake be opened.

Also a petition from Maynard and others of Storrington, for a grant of $150 to assist in building a bridge across the creek at the head of Dog Lake, and for power to levy a tax of $100 on the ratepayers of S. S. No. 8 to assist the same work.

The County Treasurer submitted statements of accounts between this County and Lennox and Addington, and it was moved by Mr. Graham, seconded by Mr. Donaldson, that Messrs. Mudie, McGrath, Calvin, the Warden, and the mover be appointed to settle the matters in dispute between the counties.—Carried.

The Council adjourned.

WEDNESDAY.—The Council met at 10:30 a.m. Yesterday's minutes were read and approved.

Mr. Donaldson moved, seconded by Mr. Toland, that the committee to equalize the assessments for 1872, be Messrs. Calvin, McGrath, Graham, Godfrey, Fraser, and Dawson, the Warden being ex officio a member.

The back townships' members objected to the committee, as their localities were not properly represented on the important committee.

Mr. Lott moved an amendment which was lost, and the resolution Carried.

Mr. Toland moved, seconded by Mr. Donaldson, that the committee on County Law Shits report all proceedings since their appointment, with a detail of expenses to the county and returns it received, besides the bill of the County Solicitor to-day. Mr. Toland said his reason for moving the above was that a considerable amount of money was expended last year, and that at last session there was no report, and it was said the committee had lost their Minutes.

Mr. McGrath presented an ample report of the committee, reporting the judgment in favor of the county of $2,700 in the suit of Frontenac vs. Kingston, that they had settled with Mr. John Shaw, coroner, for $55; with Mr. Walkem, (account for law fees) $159.55. They also stated that the solicitor's bill of costs had been submitted to be taxed, by Mr. Walkem, and was slightly reduced. They were further of opinion that a charge of $50 by the Solicitor for a retainer in Frontenac vs. Kingston should be disallowed. The Solicitor refused the Committee his bill of costs, but it was to be presented by him to the Council. They also presented a full statement of the law costs of the country, since 1868, paid to Mr. Snook, which amount to $3120.67.

The Solicitor presented his bill of costs to date, and offered the Council a reasonable settlement. Some of the items presented by the Committee and Solicitor were a subject of discussion. Mr. Toland made a strong complaint of an expenditure for witness fees, of which there was presented no detailed accounts. The money drawn by the Committee last year, and expended by Mr. Joyner, on authority of Mr. Day, late chairman. Mr. Toland moved the report back, to enquire into this matter. Mr. McGrath moved the adoption, which was carried, Yeas 16 Nays 6, as the Council were satisfied that the Committee of this year had done its duty. The Council then took a recess.

QUEEN'S COLLEGE AND THE UNION.

In the Church of Scotland Synod on Monday, the Very Rev. Dr. Snodgrass moved the adoption of the resolution of the Joint Committee on Union, relating to the Colleges of the two Churches. The resolution, which is similar to the deliverance of the Assembly of the Canada Presbyterian Church, is as follows:

"That the negotiating Churches shall enter into Union, with the theological and literary institutions which they now have, and that application be made to Parliament for such legislation as will bring Queen's University and College, Knox College, the Presbyterian College, Montreal, Morrin College, and the Theological Hall at Halifax, into relations to the United Church similar to those which they now hold to their respective Churches, and to preserve their corporate existence, government and functions on terms and conditions like to those under which they now exist."

At this morning's session the Very Reverend gentleman amended his motion as follows:—

"That the first resolution of the Joint Committee be adopted with the following addition: At the same time as for the Colleges are related to their respective Churches, the United Church shall not be required to elect Trustees in the Arts Department of these Colleges. Further that the Synod decidedly prefer that the Theological Professors be elected by governing boards, and not by ecclesiastical courts. And further, that we hold ourselves at full liberty to accept or reject state grants as circumstances may direct."

The motion as amended was unanimously agreed to. If the principle embodied in the amendments be adopted the objectionable (to some) connection between the Church and Queen's College will be severed and that institution controlled in the same way as Princeton College is governed—by Trustees who, when a vacancy occurs, fill it up themselves.

We have a full report of the debate on the Union question, which we are compelled to hold over till tomorrow.

LAST NIGHT'S NEWS.

The Prussian Cross Gazette announces that the Emperor Francis Joseph, of Austria, will visit Berlin next September.

Mr. Wallace, Reeve of North Gower, is coming out as a candidate for the representation of Carleton County in the Commons.

Capt. Mayne, managing director of the French Atlantic Telegraph, is in Halifax arranging for the terminus of the new cable and connections with existing lines.

A telegram from London says Captain Cameron has been gazetted Surveyor of the boundary line between the United States and Canada through the lakes, forests and Rocky Mountains.

The negotiations regarding the Treaty of Washington remain almost unchanged, and if nothing more can be accomplished it is probable the whole affair will finally fail. The subject was discussed in the Imperial Parliament yesterday, when the Government received a severe lecture from Mr. Disraeli and Mr. Osborne. The continuation of the debate will be found among our telegrams to-day.

The 78th Highlanders landed yesterday at Halifax from the Tamar, under the command of Lieut.-Col. Stephens, and headed by the General, accompanied by a brilliant staff and three bands, marched through the principal streets. They have been quartered at the Citadel. They are a fine body of men, and, being Sir Hastings Doyle's regiment, were welcomed by a large number of spectators.

GAOL INSPECTION.—Mr. J. W. Langmuir, Prison Inspector, has paid his regular visit of inspection to the County Gaol of Frontenac, and adds another to the records of Mr. Corbett's care and attention. The following is an extract from his report:—

"At his inspection of the Gaol to-day, the undersigned visited every part of the Prison, and all the Yards, and found the whole a pattern of good order and cleanliness, both in respect to the condition of the building and the Gaol bedding and furniture. The discipline of the Gaol and the general management of its affairs was thoroughly satisfactory in every respect."

OFF AGAIN.—The schooner S. Collins, which was ashore at Four Mile point, was got off last night by the tug Mixer, after lightening; no damage to the vessel was sustained.

CAMP TENDERS.—The tenders for supplies for the Kingston Camp here have been opened. Mr. Wm. Reid is to supply the meat, a guarantee that the Volunteers will have excellent rations.

THE lady who met with her death by drowning during the attempt at escape from the burning steamer Kingston yesterday, was a relative of the wife of the Hon. John Hamilton, who is general manager of the Royal Mail Line, of which the steamer was a part.

POLICE COURT.—Wednesday.—Michael Wright and L. Fuicoye paid $2 and costs for their liquor, than they bargained for last night. The case of Wilson vs. Fee, for cruelty to a horse, was settled. That of Jenkins vs. Wilson for an assault was heard and judgment reserved.

HANDSOME JEWEL.—We have seen a handsome gold Master Mason's Jewel, a very handsome piece of work from the hands of Mr. George Spangenburg, and presented by Bro. J. Stuart Smith, of Cataraqui Lodge, to Bro. J. K. Oliver, the very capable Secretary of the same Lodge. It was given in consideration of brotherly kindness.

KINGSTON RIFLE ASSOCIATION.—This body, which is undoubtedly the strongest Rifle Association in all the districts of the province, has appointed committees to solicit subscriptions for the first local Wimbledon, which will take place as soon as the date of Ontario Rifle Association Matches is fixed. We hope the committees will receive handsome donations.

THE PILGRIM'S PROGRESS.—Last evening the public were agreeably surprised with the Exhibition of the Pilgrim's Progress at the City Hall. It was largely attended. The paintings are of the most beautiful description, and the encomiums we have given of their praises are fully borne out. The views are new and illustrative throughout, in the most vivid and masterly manner, of scenes on the progress of Bunyan's Pilgrim from the City of Destruction to the Celestial City. None can see these pictures without being impressed with the beauties of Bunyan's Allegory, and charmed by the skilful manner in which his ideas have been placed upon the canvass. There was but one verdict, that it was the best Panorama which has exhibited in Kingston for many years. We hope to see a crowded house tonight.

PARLIAMENT.

TUESDAY.—A good deal of important business was transacted in the House of Commons. Several bills were read a third time and passed, and the estimates were finally disposed of. On motion of Sir John A. Macdonald, an address was passed to His Excellency Lord Lisgar, expressing the respect entertained by the House and country for His Excellency and regretting his departure from Canada. On motion of Sir John A. Macdonald, the Trades Union Bill was read a second time and passed.—The bill respecting the abolition of the duty on tea and coffee—except that imported from the United States—was passed.
