Lines on a Skeleton.

Some sixty years ago the following poem appeared in the London Morning Chronicle. Every effort was vainly made to discover the author, even to the offering of a reward of fifty guineas. All that ever transpired was, that the poem, written in a fair clerkly hand, was found near a skeleton of remarkable symmetry of form, in the museum of the Royal College of Surgeons, Lincoln's Inn, London, and the curator of the museum sent them to the Morning Chronicle.

"Behold this ruin! 'twas a skull,
Once of ethereal spirit full.
This narrow cell was life's retreat,
This space was Thought's mysterious seat
What beauteous visions filled this spot!
What dreams of pleasure long forgot!
Nor hope, nor joy, nor love, nor fear
Have left one trace of record here!

Beneath this mouldering canopy
Once shone the bright and busy eye;
But start not at the dismal void,
If social love that eye employed,
If with no lawless fire it gleamed,
But through the dews of kindness beamed,
That eye shall be forever bright
When stars and sun are sunk in night!

Within this hollow cavern hung
The ready, swift, and tuneful tongue.
If falsehood's honey it disdained,
And when it could not praise, was chained,
If, bold in virtue's cause, it spoke,
Yet gentle concord never broke,
This silent tongue shall plead for thee
When time unveils eternity.

Say, did these fingers delve the mine
Or with the envied rubies shine?
To hew the rock or wear the gem,
Can little now avail to them.
But if the page of truth they sought,
Or comfort to the mourner brought,
These hands a richer meed shall claim
Than all that wait on wealth or fame.

Avails it, whether bare or shod,
These feet the path of duty trod?
If from the bowers of ease they fled,
To seek affliction's humble shed?
If grandeur's guilty bribe they spurned,
And home to virtue's cot returned?
These feet with angel's wings shall vie,
And tread the palace of the sky.

IN GENERAL.

A lady in Milwaukee has just buried her seventh husband.

A London street has been named after Lothair, the hero of Disraeli's novel.

Lady Beaconsfield, Disraeli's wife, is ill beyond hopt of recovery.

It is said that, especially during the racing season, Mr. Grant prefers studs to Schurz.

Henry Scheele committed suicide in Worchester last Saturday, by hanging up a scythe in a barn and running against it.

A Davenport (La.) girl repeated the oft-repeated experiment of building a fire with kerosene. She succeeded. Aged 20 years.

The Halifax papers announce the death of the Hon. Albert Smith, for a number of years Consul of the United States at that port.

The settlement of Napoleon's civil list show that France owes the ex-Emperor three million franks. President Thiers has directed the same to be paid.

The Civil Service Rifles will cease to be Rifles and Independent Companies, and will hereafter be attached to and form part of the Governor General's Foot Guard.

Cornell University has 395 students, and prints its own register and text books. It has forty-nine professors, and asks for eight more. Its gifts have amounted to $100,000 a year since it was opened in 1868.

The Dominion cruiser, Stella Maris, has captured an American fishing schooner, the James' Bliss, and brought her into Gaspe. The crew of the latter were engaged in taking halibut when the capture was made.

The Woman's Journal says that a Newark insurance company refuses to insure a married woman's life at any price. The reason, of course, is that poisoning women by men, in order to collect the insurance upon their life, has become too common to take the risk attendant thereon.

Lord Lytton, now sixty-nine years old, lives in almost complete retirement, looking after his health. He stoops, is exceedingly deaf, and has altogether a strange look of antiquity. His only son, Owen Meredith, now a middle aged man, is in the diplomatic service. He is very like his father.

The London Pharmaceutical Journal states that the adulteration of tea with the willow leaf by the Chinese themselves is becoming an extrade. The cultivation of the willow for this purpose began some ten ears ago, and has gone on steadily increasing, until last year it was estimated that 440,000 pounds of willow leaves were used up in this way. The introduction of from ten to twenty per cent. of the impurity is common, and no means has yet been pointed out for its detection. The flavor of the willow leaf has no resemblance whatever to that of tea.

THE ATHANASIAN CREED.—According to the English Western Daily Mercury, considerable light has lately been thrown upon the damnatory clauses in the Athanasian creed by a discovery made in Venice. There has been discovered in St. Mark's Library in that city a copy of this creed, which is believed to be the oldest in existence, and the damnatory clauses are nowhere to be discovered in this version. A correspondent of one of the leading English Nonconformist journals says he believes the creed to have been written by an Arian, who being imprisoned for his opinions, produced it as a satire on Trinitarian doctrine, and owed his liberty to the circumstance, since the authorities took the squib for a recantation, and released him accordingly.

SIR JOHN A. MACDONALD.—The Premier will arrive from Ottawa by steamer this afternoon and proceed direct to the steamer which will convey him to Quebec, where he goes to await the arrival of Lord Dufferin. We believe the steamer which brings our new Governor is not expected before Saturday morning, consequently people are wondering why Sir John should rush through Montreal in such haste to serve the new comer as to perpetrate a slight upon the present incumbent of the Vice-Regal office. It is the general opinion that Sir John might easily have staid over in Montreal, so as to be present at the dinner at Lord Lisgar tonight.—Montreal Star.

LONDON

RAILWAY COLLISION—GENERAL DAMAGE—KILLED AND WOUNDED.

London C.W.—A collision occurred on the Great Western Railway last evening, at five o'clock, a short distance east of this city between a special freight train going east and a gravel train returning with labourers from Wanstead. The men, numbering twenty, were mostly all in the caboose drawn by the engine tender for wards. As the result of the concussion the caboose passed completely over its own engine, and lodged upon the top of that of the freight train, the men being locked in one of them. Daniel Ward, of London, was instantly killed, and his breast crushed in a horrible manner. A young man from Guelph, name unknown at present had one leg horribly mangled, and the other broken below the knee. He is not expected to recover. An old man named Day, of London, had his legs badly hurt and his breast crushed. Four or five others sustained minor injuries. Ward leaves a wife and six children. An inquest has been called for this evening. The cause of the accident is said to have been a fault in the despatchers instructions. Both engines are badly smashed and many cars injured.

We understand that the Hon. J. H. Gray, Q.C., D.C.L., will shortly leave for Manitoba to assume the position of Chief Justice of that Province. Mr. Gray is member for St. John, N.B., and he holds a distinguished position as member of the Bar. His public life extends over a period of twenty years, during which time he has held office in his native province of New Brunswick as member of the Executive Council, Attorney General and Speaker of the House of Assembly from 1854 until the Union. Among other important offices to which he has been appointed was that of Umpire between Great Britain and the United States under the Treaty of Washington 1857-8, receiving therefor the approval and thanks of the Imperial Government. The crown of womanly beauty is an elegant coiffure. As this cannot be obtained without the use of some Hair Gloss or fixateur, even by the most skilful artiste, how much should the ladies feel themselves indebted to the inventor of the Great Hair Dressing of the age, Coco-Glycerine, which nourishes and beautifies the Hair, is delightfully perfumed, and leaves no stain on the gentlemen's waistcoats. Ask for Coco-Glycerine. 14

Ordinary prudence therefore makes it the business of everyone to take care of a cold until it is got rid of. Fortunately "Bryan's Pulmonic Waters" are thoroughly adapted to remove speedily all coughs and colds and are equally effective in the primary stages of consumption, asthma and bronchitis. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cents per box.

Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co. is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ontario, proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

It combines the most valuable Flesh and Bone-forming Substances, and differs essentially from other farinaceous foods, which being quite unable to afford proper nourishment to a growing infant, frequently lead to a rickety and idiotic condition. Savory & Moore's preparation has also the advantage of being freed from the ground husk of the corn, which produces irritation of the bowels and intractable diarrhœa. No boiling or straining required. Sold in Tins by all Chemists and Storekeepers. Prepared by Savory & Moore, 143, New Bond Street, London.
