WHIGGINGS.

An Irish editor says he can see no earthly reason why women should not be allowed to become medical men.

"Why is dat hat like the United States?" said Pompey to Squash, holding up his dilapidated beaver. "Well, cos it's not subject to a crown."

The most remarkable instance of indecision we ever heard of was that of the man who sat up all night because he could not decide which to take off first, his coat or his boots.

Notwithstanding that drawing and quartering were formally abolished in England the year before last, artists and heralds still play their vocations unmolested.

California housewives describe soda as "that ere stuff which you puts in biscuits to make them get up and Grecian bend themselves."

A gushing writer in an English journal of fashion says: "Chignons fall en cascade down the back and ripple under waves of lace, which tumble in chaotic confusion from the top of the new, flat-crowned hats."

A Cincinnati wife left her husband and joined a travelling show. The latter was a failure, and left her two hundred miles from home, and without money. She had to walk back, and now she can't find her husband, which serves her right.

The Danbury News says: "The majority of women care but little about suffrage. If the backs to car seats could only be hollowed out so as to admit of their bustles lapping over, the ballot might go to thunder for all they care."

A maiden lady who had once been jilted, wrote her own epitaph as follows:

"Here lies the body of one
Who died of constancy alone;
Stranger! advance with steps courageous:
For the disease is not contagious!"

The following note written to her schoolmate by a girl who had been absent several days, illustrates the sweet simplicity of childhood: "Dear Susie—I shan't attend school again until I Get some new cuffs, collars and jewelry—dear Mama agrees with me that it is my Dooty to take the shine out of that Upstart Mamy Jones, and I'll do it if I never learn nothing."

Ostrich Farms.

The raising of the ostrich in a tame state for its feathers are now carried on extensively in Africa. The birds are kept in inclosures, and fed on lucerne, with which the inclosure is planted. Every eight months they are plucked, some extracting the quill at once, and others cutting the quill a little above insertion and then removing the roots a couple of months later. The later method is said to give better results, with less injury to the bird. In breeding it is found the best to allow one female to each male, though in the wild state five females are often attached to a single male. There are usually two broods in a year, and the male and female sit on the eggs in turns, the male generally taking the largest share of this duty. The female takes the chief charge of the brood after it is hatched. The young are reared on chopped lucerne and as they get older a little grain is given to them; they also require abundance of water, and a liberal supply of pulverized quartz and small bones. When grown no food suits them better than chopped lucerne or trefoil, with an occasional supply of cabbage, fruit and grain.—Scribner for June.

Sale of Guns to Canada.

Sir H. Storks, in the course of an explanation in the British House of Commons a few days ago said that it was not true that on the withdrawal of the troops from Canada guns of a first class, which were offered for sale and sold from £2 to £6 per ton in England, were made over by the Control Department to the Dominion Government at £20 per ton. Guns of every description, which would have realized from £4 10s to £6 per ton in England, were sold to the Dominion Government at £2 2s. per ton; (hear, hear) and two new 18-inch guns, 65 cwt., at Kingston, and four at Toronto, were sold to the Dominion Government at £20 per ton. Shot and shell were sold respectively at £2 9s. and £2 17s. per ton. With respect to the third question, the armaments at Kingston were not reduced by about one half. The guns and carriages were handed over as they stood, under the directions of the general officer commanding the Royal Artillery in Canada. The only powder sold to the Dominion Government was for the reserve of that Government.

Good Memory.

New York is fortunate in the possession of a judge with a wonderful memory. This dispenser of justice never forgets a face, and a few days ago committed an adroit swindler to prison, not because the charges made against him were proved, but because fifteen years before the same person was arraigned before the same judge on a charge of forgery. When apprised of this damaging fact the accused admitted its entire truth, and his confessedly bad antecedents justified the judge of the tenacious memory to place the bail of the incorrigible rogue at a figure which rendered the prison cell inevitable, and will make his final trial not only a certainty but a success in the good cause of justice.

SUB-DIVISION OF THE DIOCESE OF TORONTO.—The plan proposed is the sub-division of the present Diocese into four dioceses. The Diocese of Toronto to be composed of the counties of York, Peel, Halton and Ontario; the Northern Diocese, of Simcoe and Wellington; the Western Diocese, of Welland, Lincoln, Haldimand and Wentworth, and the Eastern Diocese, of Peterboro, Northumberland, Durham and Victoria. The first resolution affording the necessity for a division, was carried and the remainder referred to a Special Committee to report next year.

HALL'S

Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation, which is due to merit alone. We can assure our old patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard, and to those who have never used it we can confidently say, that it is the only reliable and perfected preparation to restore GRAY OR FADED HAIR to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrous, and silken; the scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean; it removes all eruptions and dandruff, and by its tonic properties prevents the hair from falling out, as it stimulates and nourishes the hair glands. By its use the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth except in extreme old age. It is the most economical HAIR DRESSING ever used, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair that splendid glossy appearance so much admired by all. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer of Mass., says, "the constituents are pure and carefully selected for excellent quality, and I consider it the BEST PREPARATION for its intended purposes." We publish a treatise on the hair, which we send free by mail upon application, which contains commendatory notices from clergymen, physicians, the press, and others. We have made the study of the hair and its diseases a specialty for years, and know that we make the most effective preparation for the restoration and the preservation of the hair, extant, and so acknowledged by the best Medical and Chemical Authority.
