CORRUPTION TRIUMPHANT.

SIR JOHN ELECTED.

The contest in Kingston is over for another five years, and Sir John is again declared the winner by a majority of 130 votes. The result, it cannot be denied, tho' adverse to the Reform cause is at the same time a great victory for it when all the circumstances attending the contest are looked into. Sir John has a considerable personal following, among those who knew him years since and do not now care to desert him; he has a strong body guard of office seekers ready to do his bidding; he commands a numerous phalanx of office-holders who, depending on his pleasure, naturally vote as they are ordered; he can in short bring a hundred influences to bear upon the citizens of Kingston, even to the Corporation laborers toiling for their daily pittance. He is an unscrupulous adversary who will turn every screw in his power, who will resort to every species of corruption and intimidation. In the face of these difficulties, Mr. Carruthers may well be proud of the large vote rolled up for him to-day by the Reform citizens, who, unbought and unbribed and without hope of reward or office, thus testified their confidence in his private worth and political integrity, and their condemnation of the acts of the Chief of Corruption. The most disgraceful practices were resorted to by the Corruptionist Party to secure a majority, of which we will have more to say on another occasion. Money was shamefully used and voters bought up like cattle by the corruptionists. Notwithstanding all these frantic efforts they secured a majority of but ——, while the majority obtained by Sir John against Mr. Mowat was 311. The contrast is a cheering one, as it shows that Reform is making rapid progress, even in this hot-bed of Conservatism, as it has been called, and that the next time Sir John asks us to return him he will undoubtedly be elected to stay at home. As it is, to-day's polling shows that Sir John is already in a real minority, the majority of independent voters declared for Mr. Carruthers. Take from the list of those who voted the Government officials, the Grand Trunk Railway employees, and those under official influence, and there will be found a majority for Mr. Carruthers.

Reformers of Kingston have no cause to be ashamed of their day's work, the record of which will serve to nerve them to be re-doubled exertions when they are again called on to enter the lists. They fought against fearful odds and made a stand which we hope will serve to stimulate their brethren in other parts of the Province to fight the enemy to the last vote. They knew before engaging in the fray what an unscrupulous adversary they had to wage against, they knew he would strain every nerve and pull every wire to secure his return by a large majority for the sake of its effect as other constituencies, but they manfully closed their ranks and marched to the polls determined that, win or lose, Sir John should knew that he has lost his old supremacy and that his return should not go without a stern protest. They have proved to him, by lessening his majority by 181, that his hold upon Kingston is loosening, and done so in such a decided manner that he will never face the music again unless to be beaten. The Reformers of Kingston voted to-day $2 for every Tory $1 of assessable property, and a majority of the intelligent newspaper-reading men of Kingston. Having accomplished these results, though failing to secure victory, they need not be ashamed of themselves, or their standard-bearer, Mr. Carruthers, under whose lead they have gained a substantial triumph.

The African Eland.

This noble animal nearly seven feet in height and weighing over 2,000 lbs., is the largest of the Antelope species, and excites the wonder and admiration of every spectator. His massive proportion, unequalled symmetry and wonderful docility entitles him to the highest consideration of naturalists. This complete Zoological collection will afford the Students of our schools and colleges a fine opportunity to contemplate natural history in the noblest firms and in unequalled variety.

THE ELECTIONS.—In Ontario members have been elected for Ottawa, Messrs. Currier and Lewis; for Frontenac, Mr. Kirkpatrick; for Lennox, Mr. Cartwright; for Northumberland, Hon. Mr. Cockburn. In Quebec, the Hon. Mr. Pope, for Compton; Mr. MacDougall, for Three Rivers; Mr. Brooks, for Sherbrooke; Mr. Wright, for Carleton; Mr. Bellerose, for Laval; Hon. Mr. Caby, for Joliette; Mr. Teurnjeau, for Quebec East; and Mr. Lacerte, for St. Maurice, are the delegates returned. The Hon. Mr. Mitchell has been returned as representative for Northumberland, N. B.

VOTES POLLED IN FORMER CONTESTS.

It may be of interest to our readers to learn the number of votes polled during the last two serious contests in which Sir John A. Macdonald has been engaged here. In 1861 he was opposed by the Hon. Oliver Mowat and won the election by a majority of 311. The following was the state of the Poll at its clote:

	MACDONALD.	MOWAT.
Frontenac Ward	130	91
Victoria "	122	61
Rideau "	118	102
Ontario "	110	42
Sydenham "	110	61
St. Law'nce "	78	56
Cataraqui "	117	61
	785	474
	474

Majority for Macdonald 311

Shortly after, in the year 1862, the late Overton S. Gildersleeve opposed the return of Sir John Macdonald, and was beaten by a majority differing but one vote from the one recorded above.

The following was the total vote:

	MACDONALD.	GILDERSLEEVE.
St. Lawrence Ward	94	57
Ontario "	87	52
Sydenham "	94	53
Frontenac "	157	85
Rideau "	109	101
Cataraqui "	128	61

Maj'ty for Macd'ld 312

The contests were singularly alike, as said, Mr. Macdonald polling exactly the same number of votes in each, his later opponent securing oneless than his former one. These figures will be eagerly compared with the results of to-day's contest, the result of which we need not speculate upon as it will be known before this meets the reader's eye.

To-Day's Gleanings.

Small-pox is raging in Valparaiso and other cities of Chili.

Mr. Price was elected without opposition for Saguenay County.

The financial condition of Mexico is represented as of the gloomiest.

Last week was the worst on record it is said, for murders and homicides, in New York.

A gold lode in Colorado, which was sold for $100,000, is producing $3,000,000 per annum.

One of the wealthiest bankers in Italy is Emanuel Mirafioni, illegitimate son of the King of Italy.

The wife of X. Michaud, of St. Andre de Kamouraska, has given birth to triplets, two boys and one girl; all are doing well.

The fall races under the auspices of the Toronto Riding and Driving Park Association will be held on the 12th, 13th and 14th of September, when about $5,000 in prizes will be given.

The Tories are boasting because they are holding their own in a few of their strongholds. They have not yet won a Reform seat, and until they do that they have nothing to boast of.

Quebec, July 29.—A policeman knocked a prisoner down with a blow of his club in St. Joseph street to-day, rendering him insensible. A crowd immediately gathered round and threatened to lynch the constable. He was taken for refuge into McCorkell's yard, where he had to be kept for several hours from the angry crowd outside.

A celebrated poet, writing to an editor, proposed to supply him with any length of lines, and for any occasion. The reply was practical: "Send me a hundred yards of lines strong enough to fish for conger eels, and that will bear the tug of a porpoise, as I am going to the Isle of Wright for a week's fishing."

THE EDITOR'S TABLE—NO. 543.

THE AMERICAN NEWSPAPER REPORTER for July 22. New York: Geo. P. Rowell & Co.

LOCAL COURTS AND MUNICIPAL COURTS GAZETTE for July. Toronto: Copp, Clark & Co. $2 a year.

HOME AND HEALTH for August. New York: De Witt & Davenport & Co. $1.50 a year.

The present surpasses all previous numbers of this family magazine in the quality and variety of its articles and in its adaption to the wants of every member of the household. Its departments of Health, Culture and and Home Entertainment, Humorous Incidents and Current Events make it a most valuable and cheap family magazine.

THE PRINTER'S QUIVER for July 6. London: 3 Bouverie St., Fleet St. 3s a year.

ARTHUR'S LADY'S MAGAZINE for August. Philadelphia: T. S. Arthur & Sons. $2 a year.

The contents of this number under notice we need say are up to the usual standard of this favorite to recommend it to our readers.

THE CHILDREN'S HOUR for August. Philadelphia: T. S. Arthur & Sons.

THE PRINTERS' CIRCULAR for July. Philadelphia: H. S. Benamin. $1.50 a year.

THE DIPLOMATIC REVIEW for July. London: C. D. Collett. 2d.

The contents of the present number of this ably conducted Review are: England and the United States Protocolised without knowing it; The proposed supplementary Treaty; Mazzini and the "Correspondence de Geneve;" The Patriarch Hassoun and the Armenian Schism; Plutarch on the Institution of the Fecial College; Standing Armies and Conscription; Murder of Bishop Paterson, etc.

APPLETON'S JOURNAL for August 3d and 10th. New York: D. Appleton & Co. $4 a year.

The numbers before us are most excellent ones, the reading matter and illustrations being first class. Appleton has already established its claim to rank high among the best of the American monthlies.

THE HEARTHSTONE for July 6. Montreal: Geo. E. Desbarats. $2 a year.

We would call the attention of our readers to the generous offer made by the enterprising publisher of $1,275 as prizes for the best Canadian tales submitted before 1st October next. Mr. Desbarat's liberality will, we are certain, evoke a suitable response, for we are convinced that there is much latent literary talent in Canada which only requires a stimulant such as the above to make it public.

THE LADY'S FRIEND for August. Philadelphia: Deacon & Peterson. $2 a year.

The illustrations of stylish costumes and tasteful novelties in dress are more than usually captivating. An excellent little "Dolly Varden" story by Miss Fannie Wish is commenced. The Serial by Mrs. Wood is one of the very best, and the shorter one by Amanda Douglas is in the most popular style of the author. Altogether this number presents as entertaining light reading as could well be found.

GOOD COMPANY for August. Toronto: Wilson & Co. $1 a year.

A veay excellent number of this excellent Canadian Monthly constantly growing in favor.

PETERS' MUSICAL MONTHLY for August. New York: J. L. Peters. $3 a year.

This is a most excellent magazine, devoted entirely to music, of which it has always the freshest and most attractive novelties. No cheaper way of obtaining a regular supply of the most popular music can be devised than by subscribing for the Magazine whose monthly contents are worth a year's subscription.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST for August 3rd. Philadelphia: H. Peterson & Co. $2 50 a year.

The Post notwithstanding lively opposition still holds the lead of the literary Weeklies.

THERIAKI for July. Laporte, Indiana: Herald Company, Printers. $1 a year.

This Quarterly has the singular mission of being devoted to the interests of opium eaters. When one finds a well printed sixty page magazine deveted to the above object he naturally asks, what next?

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH for Aug. New York: S. R. Wells. $2 a year.

Good as the first number was, this is far better; among the contents we would note the first of a series of articles on Popular Physiology; Three Classes of American Girls; Electro-Therapeutics; The Privileges and Penalties of Sex; The Use and Care of the Teeth; The Health of Women; Ante-Natal Influences; Way to use Wheat; Hygienic Bathing; Summer Complaints; Sun-stroke; Sea Sickness; The Bath and Small-Pox; An interesting Department of Agriculture, and Talks with Correspondents.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY for August. Montreal: John Dougall & Son. $1 50 a year.

The contents of the August number are of the usual high tone and instructive character which have always marked the articles of former numbers.

HARPER'S WEEKLY for August 3rd. New York: Harper Bros. $4 a year.

THE NATIONAL TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE for August. New York: Temperance So. $1 a year.

THE PHRENOLOGICAL JOURNAL for Aug. New York: S. R. Wells. $3 a year.

The Phrenological Journal for August maintains its high place among leading monthlies. Its articles on the Republican Nominees for President and Vice-President, and Fisher Ames, whose portraits are given, are readable sketches. We find also, Social Science, or what do we mean by Love? Expression; Diseases of the Skin; Prison Reform; What are Comets? Effects of the Mind on the Body; Have you a Character? The Pre-Adamites Again; Character and Success, eminently worthy the consideration of the general reader.

THE MUSICAL TIMES, of Rochester, for July.

It is an unusually interesting number. It contains a very full and graphic account of the Great Boston Jubilee. It also contains a variety of local and miscellaneous reading, beside several pages of new music. It is a wide-awake music paper, interesting and reliable.

HARPERS' MAGAZINE for August. New York: Harper Bros. $4 a year.

Harper is ever fresh, entertaining and copious; however great the expectations raised by one number the succeeding one is better. The number before us opens with an illustrated paper on "Mount Desert," followed by an essay on "Spring Water," letting us into the secret of how it is made—a very seasonable article which will be read with interest. Anthony Trollope's "Golden Lion of Grandpere" is advanced some chapters; Senor Castelar contributes a third paper on the "Republican Movement in Europe;" and Justin McCarty contributes "The Widow's Mite." "The Recollections of an Old Stager" is a very readable paper. Charles Reade commences a new serial entitled "A Simpleton—A Story of the Day." The other articles are of equal merit and interest. The number is an excellent one.

TELEGRAPHIC.

(Morning Despatches per Montreal Line.)

HARTFORD, (Conn.,) July 31.—The stockholders of the Hartford and New Haven Railroad, to-day, by a nearly unanimous vote ratified the agreement made by the directors with the New York and New Haven Railway Co. for the consolidation of two corporations.

ROCHESTER, July 31.—This evening a man named Hetzler, who was recently divorced from his wife, shot her paramour, named Goltzman, and then committed suicide.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, July 31.—Of the twenty-two persons on board the steamboat that exploded her boiler near McGregor yesterday, eight are dead and missing. The cause of the explosion was a defective flew.

LONDON, July 1.—Yesterday there was a magnificent scene at Southampton on the occasion of the visit of the Prince and Princess of Wales to the American fleet. Ten men-of-war were in the harbor, including the Wabash, Brooklyn, Shenandoah, Plymouth, Washington, Ustett and Congress. It was intended that the reception should take place on board the Wabash, but some days since there was a case of small-pox on that ship, consequently the admiral transferred his flag to the Brooklyn, and first received on board that ship a party which included many distinguished Americans. Promptly at half-past four, the royal yacht was sighted, the yards were manned on all the ships and salutes fired. The Prince was attended by Prince Leiningen and Major Grey, and the Princess was attended by Lady Caermarthan and Miss Knollys. They were received at the gangway by Capt. Bryson and Admiral Alden, the band playing God Save the Queen. The officers of the ship and some civilians were introduced to the Prince, who received all with warm and manly cordiality. The Prince was in plain morning dress, and looking well. The Princess wore a white dress embroidered, with a rich violet sash, white hat trimmed with light blue and a violet feather. After a few minutes on the spar deck the Prince visited the gun deck, and went to tea. At table were Admiral Alden, Prince and Princess, Minister Schenck, Gen Sherman, British Admiral Mundy, Prince Leininger, Miss Knolly's Lady Crermarthan, Bishop McIlvaine and Mr. Moran. After tea the party again again visited the gun deck and witnessed the gun drill. In response to a request, the Prince visited the Wabash, not being afraid of the small-pox. The party then rowed around the other ships and returned to the Royal Yacht. On departure of the Prince, the yards of all the ships of the fleet were again manned, and each ship joined in firing a grand salute. The Southampton waters was ablaze with the fire of many guns, looked as if a naval battle was being fought. The spectacle of unusual splendor, was presented in broad smooth water and a brilliant blue sky, and the ships of unequal beauty swarming above with the hundreds of sailors standing on the thread like spars and below blazing like volcanos. The same evening the Prince entertained at dinner, on board the Ropal Yacht, Admiral Alden, all the captains of the fleet, Gen. Sherman, Minister Schenck, Secy. Moran and Bishop McIlvaine.

RALEIGH, N.C., July 31.—Gen. Barringer, Chairman of the liberal state committee, who has arrived here from a survey of the whole state, computes that the Democratic majority to-day will be five thousand, in the state the Republicans are equally sanguine.

LENNOX.—To-morrow the polling takes place in this constituency.

The 12th of July in Ireland.

A letter from Dublin, dated July the 12th, says: "All over the North of Ireland Orange demonstrations took place today with much greater display than usual, in consequence of the repeal of the Party Processions Act, but no breach of the peace appears to have occurred. The various lodges marched in procession to the places of rendezvous with orange flags, sashes and flowers. The Carrickfergus Orangemen assembled on the demesne of their Grand Master, Mr. Dalway, who presided at their meeting, and the usual speeches were delivered. One of the largest gathering was at Lurgan, to which great numbers marched from Portadown, Tanderagee, and the surrounding districts. At Cavan, in the neighborhood of which the Orangemen held another great meeting, the Catholic inhabitants evinced some irritation, and numbers of them assembled together. Belfast was the scene of a magnificent display. Orange arches spanned some of the streets, and orange flags were in abundance. At Monaghan the Rev. Mr. Stack presided over a large meeting. An Orange soiree is being held in the Rotunda in this city, but there is no great display than usual, and no excitement."

"Those Dreadful Women."

These female George Francis Trains and Benjamin Franklin Butlers—Tennie C Claflin and Victoria Woodhull—are meditating new sensations to keep themselves before the public. They plan a woman's club-house in up-town New York, to cost, with its appointments, near $500,000, to be open to all women, and to be directed by a Board of half prominent women suffragists, and the other half reformed women of the town. Woodhull & Claflin keep up their broker's office in Broad street, and profess to be doing a large business and making money, and Miss Claflin says she will assume command of the colored regiment as soon as its numbers are recruited up to one thousand. Until then, she will have nothing to do with it; and then the question will be, whether Governor Hoffman will issue a commission to her as Colonel. Her uniform, she says, will be something entirely original—a cross between a male and a female costume, and one which, she predicts, will become immensely popular with the women of America.
