S. WOODS.

An Ottawa despatch to the Leader says that Mr. Edouard Langevin, Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, will receive the appointment of Clerk of the House of Commons in the stead of the late Mr. W.B. Lindsay.

Some uncertainty necessarily exists as to the real issue of the Campaign in Quebec, owing to various causes. The Montreal Witness, which cannot be justly accused of partizanship, gives the following result:

"We have been favored by a French Canadian gentleman, of considerable political knowledge, with a revised list of the Quebec members already elected, whereby it appears that 32 are Government, 27 Opposition, and 5 Independent, giving the Government Chicoutimi; so that the Government have a majority of only 5, or giving the Opposition the Independents, as the Gazette generously does, both parties become equal.

After a week's philosophical reflection over the matter, the Belleville Intelligencer has actually arrived at the conclusion that a statement made by us anent the South Victoria election was incorrect. After all, we do not regret having made the statement, as it has proved the means of drawing out our leviathan friend and attracting a ray from his massive intellect, a few more of which shished on the editorial column, would not work an irreparable injury to his paper. It also affords him an opportunity of having a fling at dirty "Grit papers" and the terrible enormities of which they are guilty. We would suggest to our parliamentary friend the advisability of introducing a penal act abolishing Grit sheets, and condemning those caught reading them to be hanged on Tyburn tree, and afterwards drawn and quartered. That would, perhaps, extinguish Grittism, and the Intelligencer would then be supremely happy. One word more with our Belleville critic. In the same column in which the WHIG is taken to task, we are told that the late Mr. Street "at the last general election was again returned over Mr. John McKeown of Hamilton by a large majority of nearly 600." Now let the "massive intellect" of the member for North Hastings prove the correctness of the statement quoted, and we, in turn, will be happy the live-long day thereafter.

Mr. J. G. Moylan, editor of the Canadian Freeman, has been appointed Director of Penitentiaries, in the stead of the late Mr. Terence J. O'Neill. Mr. Moylan has lost little by his attachment to Sir John Macdonald. Not long since he was given a pleasure trip to Ireland with comfortable pay as Emigration Agent, in which capacity he distinguished himself by writing a letter to Mr. Gladstone, for which the writer received a cruel snubbing. The air of Dublin not agreeing with Mr. Moylan or the Canadian Freeman not permitting, he returned to Canada and is not long in receiving the snug situation of Prison Inspector with its cheerful $2000 a year. While Mr. Moylan is entitled to the congratulation of the faithful on his good luck, it is still a matter of regret that the Great Man saw fit to ignore the claims of certain constituents of his, who thought that they would shine as Prison Inspectors. They worked like Trojans to secure their Master's return and, being successful, are contemptuously set aside to make way for a Toronto newspaper. They are scarcely to be pitied, after all, for who can justly accuse Sir John of being afflicted with a feeling of gratitude. Did he ever reward a Kingstonian with a situation if he could make over as little outside capital form it? Did he ever, when distributing favors, show any consideration for his constituency? Before the election he promised us $10,000 for Harbor Improvement. The election is over; where is that money? During the elections he promised no end of situations to his followers. Where and what are the situations they will receive? Mr. Moylan's appointment is a specimen of the way they will be distributed. But then to be sure a great man like Sir John is not expected to keep his word.

THE LATE MR. STREET, M.P.

During the late Parliament of Canada thirteen members of the Commons died, the first being Mr. D'Arcy McGee, who fell by the hand of an assassin in April 1868, the last, Mr. Robert Macfarlane, the representative for South Perth, who died very shortly after the Hon. J. S. Macdonald. The new House, however, is not fully elected before one of its members falls by the way, Mr. T. C. Street, who was recently returned for Welland, having died on Friday last. Mr. Street has been in public life for nearly twenty years, though during part of that time he did not hold a seat in the House. He occupied a prominent place among the second class men in the Commons, and was regarded as one whose opinion on financial questions was of weight, he being looked upon as a not improbable future Minister of Finance. Mr. Street was a man of large wealth and considerable influence in the Niagara district, where he, and his father before him, lived and died. His seat, for which in 1871 he was returned by acclamation, at the last general election was contested by Mr. Hill, whom he defeated by a majority of over five hundred. By his death the Conservative ranks are lessened one and the Opposition majority increased a like number, as no election can take place until the new House elects its Speaker.

MR. BEATY AND THE CATHOLICS.

Mr. James Beaty, M.P. has published in his paper a list of those who voted for his opponent in the late contest, Mr. John O'Donohoe. In the editorial prefacing the list, we are given to understand that it is the opinion of Mr. Beaty that those who voted for Mr. O'Donohoe were either Fenians or Fenian sympathizers. We note the fact merely to show the consistency of the conduct of the Tories towards the Roman Catholics. In one breath they blame Reformers for not electing a Roman Catholic, and in the next tell us that Reform Roman Catholic candidates and voters are Fenians or abettors of Fenians, and consequently to be shunned of all loyal men. In one breath the Tories tell us of the kindness shown by them to Mr. O'Conner, Mr. Dormer, Mr. O'Reilly and the Catholics in general, but in the next denounce with unsparing malignity those whom the crack of the Party whip fails to keep within the traces, and who choose to think and act for themselves. If a Catholic, support Sir John he is a worthy loyal citizen; if he oppose the Tory chief he is disloyal and tainted with Fenianism. From which it can easily be deduced that the loyalty of Catholics, to the Tory mind, consists in being a supporter of Sir John Macdonald, and has no reference to any feeling entertained towards Queen and country. We hope that our Catholic friends will take to heart the lesson so forcibly taught by the indiscreet old man of Leader lane and remember that if they have any regard for their character as men or citizens, they must not fail to vote as Sir John bids them. Voting with him they are everything that is good and lovely. Voting against him they are everything that is vile and disloyal, whose names must be held up in printed columns for the execration of all good citizens.

Notwithstanding Mr. Beaty's childish revenge upon Mr. O'Donohoe and his supporters, we trust that both will meet on the floor of the House. The rumor that a seat will be found for Mr. O'Donohoe is, we believe, a correct one. None deserves better treatment at the hands of Reformers than he, and if within the limits of possibility, they will secure him a constituency.

MILITIA GENERAL ORDERS.

"A" Battery, School of Gunnery, Kingston.

Lieutenant De la Cherois T. Irwin, R.A., is appointed Assistant Gunnery Instructor for the School, with the rank of Major in the Militia, from 23rd July, 1872.

Supernumerary 2nd Lieutenant James Frederick Wilson, Kingston Field Battery, having completed his "short course" of Instruction, is retained for the "long course."

CONFIRMATION OF RANK.

We regret to learn by the following that through a flagrant act of injustice, one of the oldest officers and the senior Surgeon of the district, has been lost to the force. So long as politics are allowed to interfere with the militia it will never be a popular service:

Kingston Field Battery of Artillery.

The resignation of Surgeon Horatio Yates is hereby accepted.

The Rifle Matches.

The Kingston Rifle Association meeting opens to-morrow morning at ten o'clock on Barriefield Commons' Butts. The attendance will be large, we are sure, as the number and variety of the matches will attract all good shots in the city and county.

Normal School.

In compliance with the requisition which we stated has been presented to him, His Worship the Mayor has called a public meeting for Wednesday evening at the City Council Chamber to take preliminary steps to secure the establishment of the proposed normal school here. We trust that the citizens will take that interest in this matter which the urgency of the case demands.

HOT.—Coming so suddenly after the cold spell, the past two days were felt to be as hot as any during the entire summer season. Though a good breeze blew, its effect was scarcely felt, such was the power of the sun. To-day it looks very much like rain.

THE CHURCHES.—Yesterday the Rev. Mr. Ray preached two able sermons in St. Paul's Church to large congregations. In the evening the Rev. Mr. Carson preached eloquently in the Sydenham street Wesleyan Church. Highly complimentary opinions are expressed as to the abilities of this young minister, who has only lately been stationed here to fill the place of the Rev. Mr. Sutherland.

ODDFELLOWS' FUNERAL.—This afternoon the Oddfellows' Lodge of Kingston, No. 59, buried the remains of a late brother, Mr. Ferris, of the Bath Road, with the full and impressive ceremonies of the Order. All the brethren attended in regalia. This is the first time that this young and flourishing Lodge has been called upon to mourn the calling off of a brother by death, and is also its first appearance in public.

THE ALTERNATIVE.—The Steward of the Kingston Hospital is somewhat of a naturalist, and is especially fond of gardening. He has a fine garden, and rejoices in abundance of flowers, fruits and vegetables. He is also a philosopher, but his philosophy has been much disturbed lately—almost to profanity—by the depredations of youthful Arabs. Yesterday he caught one of the wretches and marched him into his sanctum, and, after administering a moral lecture, gave him the alternative of the police cells, or—a dose of castor oil! The Arab howled, but Caligula was relentless! and down went the nauseous dose as a preference. The boy, escaping, muttered that he wouldn't be caught in that garden again! The philosopher quietly remarked that he hoped the oil would correct the baneful effects of the melon!

The dinner in honor of the Geneva Arbitration at Berne on Thursday the 12th instant, will conclude with a grand fete.

THE ARBITRATION.

GENEVA, Sept. 8.—It is rumored here that the Board of Arbitration has awarded to the United States damages to the amount of three and a half million pounds. The dinner given to the Arbitrators by the city of Geneva last night was a most satisfactory affair. M. Carteret, on the part of his fellow citizens, declared that the presence of the arbitrators was an honor to Geneva, and he hoped that all nations would follow the example of England and the United States in settling their difference, through such a peaceful appeal to reason and justice. Count Sclopis replied with words of praise for the city of Geneva. He took occasion to speak of the man who has achieved the independence of Italy, Count Cavour, whose friend he was proud to have been, and added that Geneva was doubly dear to him as the birth place of the mother of the great statesman.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The work of sinking the track of the New York Central RR. from Union Depot to Harlem River has been begun. The cost of bridges, viaducts and tunnels which will have to be built will reach about six millions of dollars.

DISTURBANCE IN BERLIN.

BERLIN, Sept. 9th.—The disorderly portion of the population of Berlin took occasion during the grand Military parade on Saturday last to create many disturbances. One party of notorious characters, enraged at an advance in the price of beer by Hopf & Co., made an attack upon their brewery and completely wrecked it. The police were compelled to charge on the crowd with drawn swords and it was not dispersed until some persons were wounded and a still larger number arrested.

PARKHILL.

PARKHILL, Sept. 7.—Dr. Caw, Coroner of this place empannelled a jury in the case of Charles Weggs, who died suddenly on Friday morning under suspicion of foul play. The time occupied in coming to the following verdict, was from half past seven p.m. till half-past three a.m., eight hours sitting. Verdict—That the said deceased drank excessively, and that previous to his death he had a quarrel with one Wm. Grant, from whom he received some bodily injury, and afterwards, on the morning of the 6th of September, inst., he was attacked with apoplexy, of which he died.

DEATH BY LIGHTNING.

When found she was lying on the sidewalk quite dead. The body bears but few marks of injury—only a slight discoloration of the neck and face. An inquest is being held.

STORRINGTON STOW.—The annual show of the Township of Storrington Agricultural Society will be held on Wednesday, October 9th, at Inverary. The Prize List offers every inducement for an exhibition, and we feel certain a fine show will be obtained. Mr. Wm. Ferguson is the energetic President, and Mr. T. Conklin the efficient Secretary.

BASE BALL MATCH.—To-morrow afternoon at two o'clock one of the finest matches of the season (if not the finest) will be played on the Kingston Cricket Ground between the Clipper Club of Ilion, N.Y., and the St. Lawrence Club of Kingston. The Clippers are very expert amateurs—said to be the best in New York State,—while our boys are well up in muscle, if not in age and practice as baseballers. The match will be a lively one we are sure, and the public should attend it.

THE PRINTERS' CIRCULAR for August. Philadelphia: H. S. Henamin. $1.50 a year.

THE LADY'S FRIEND for September. Philadelphia: Deacon & Peterson. $2 a year.

The September number of this periodical leads off with a beautiful picture, "In the Summer Woods." There are the usual stylish fashions, and the music is "Little Mattie." The stories, which are excellent, as usual, begin with Miss Muzzy's promised serial, "Una and Her Lions," a very superior story. Mrs. Wood's novel continues to be of absorbing interest. There are some lively sketches and good poems mingled with the serials. The Work-Table and pattern department and the Editorials are also well attended to.

ARTHUR'S LADY'S HOME MAGAZINE for Sept. Philadelphia: T. S. Arthur & Sons. $2 a year.

The Home Magazine still maintains its reputation as the Queen of the Ladies' monthlies.

THE SCIENCE OF HEALTH for September. New York: S. R. Wells. $2 a year.

The Science of Health contains a large amount of practical matter. Popular Physiology, profusely illustrated; Diseases of the Eye, with most accurate illustrations; also articles on the different Medical Systems; Editorials on the Cholera, Hay-Fever; Mud Baths; Electro-Magnetism. The departments on Agriculture, to Correspondents, and Voices of the People are full of information.

THE GALAXY for September. New York: Sheldon & Company. $4 a year.

The Galaxy may always be taken up with the assurance that something fresh, attractive and original will be found in its pages. It ranks second to none of the monthlies and in many respects is their superior. To the present number Mr. Justin McCarthy contributes a paper on Mr. Froude the historian which we need not say is interesting, as everything that comes from Mr. McCarthy's pen is piquant and attractive. "Desultory Sketches" are delightful reading, furnishing valuable and interesting anecdotes of prominent American public men. The other articles are equally attractive, the number being one of the best we have seen.

HARPER'S WEEKLY for Aug. 31 and Sept. 7th. New York: Harper Bros. $4 a year.

The number for Aug. 31 contains sketches of the meeting between Mr. Stanley and Dr. Livingston and of their subsequent journeys together, from materials supplied by the succorer of the great traveler. To the latter number Mr. Nast contributes several political cartoons drawn with his usual skill and characterized by that power which is the leading trait of his satires. Tho' the drawings are sometimes crude and not above criticism, the happy manner in which Mr. Nast seizes upon a subject for his pencil and the endless amount of work which he turns out show the copiousness and faculty of invention of his mind. That the greater part of a picture paper like Harper can be devoted to political satires, shows the universal and absorbing taste for politics in the Republic.

The contents of the present number are: 1, Complete Works of Bishop Berkeley; 2, The Stuarts at St. Germains; 3, Help's Thoughts on Government; 4, The Popes and the Italian Humanists; 5, The Southern States since the War; 6, Memoirs of the Marquis of Pombal; 7, Researches on Life and Disease; 8, Reform in Japan; 9, The Bennett Judgment.

Gifford Palgrave, Macmillan's Magazine; Norman McLeod, Contemporary Review; A Norwegian Drama, Spectator; Americanisms, Pall Mall Gazette; The Radical Question in Ethics, by Alex. Taylor Innes, Contemporary Review; Wit and Humor, British Quarterly Review; Rome and Italy, Pall Mall Gazette; The Democratic Revival in France, Examiner; with instalments of "Off the Skelligs," by Jean Ingelow; Christina North, by E. M. Archer; the conclusion of "The Maid of Sker," etc., etc.

THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW for July. New York: The Leonard Scott Publishing Co. $4 a year.

Contents:—1, Sovereignty, Royal and Representative; 2, English Philology; 3, Greek Lyrical Poetry; 4, Dr. Newman: The Difficulties of Protestantism; 5, The Politics of Aristotle; 6, Andre Chenier, Poet and Political Martyr; 7, Recent Experiments with the Senses; Contemporary Literature, etc.

THE CANADIAN MONTHLY for September. Toronto: Adam, Stevenson & Co. $3 a year.

As each successive number of this periodical issues from the press any doubt as to the capability of Canada to sustain a national literary magazine is dispelled. The number before us, instead of indicating a giving out of material or deterioration of quality is, we think, the best one of the series. It contains two contributions from the now famous "Bystander." His review of the "Political Context on Both Sides of the Line" will be especially interesting at this juncture. His essay on Lord Elgin will likely be of historical interest and value. Another appropriate contribution comes from Mr. Fennings Taylor, of Ottawa, and relates to an early period of our colonial life, when responsible government was a dream of the future, and affairs were administered in the Family Compact Style. Mr. Sangster furnishes a fine poem, entitled the "Ocean Stag;" "Mrs. Leprohon's story is concluded; and Mr. G. W. Beers, of Montreal, sends a clever essay on "Pluck."

THE LEISURE HOUR for September.

We have to thank Mr. Henderson for the current number of this valuable periodical, the contents of which are, as usual, solid, instructive and attractive. We have the continuation of the charming Irish story, "The Neighbors of Kilmaclone;" "A Forgotten Beauty and Wit," an interesting memoir of Catherine Cockburn; "The Royal Institution;" "My Experiences among Publishers and Literary Men," extracted from the autobiography of Thomas Cooper; "New Gardens in the Olden Times;" A Continuation of "Primitive Man," by Principal Dawson; "About Edward Irving," etc., etc. The number, as will be seen by this list of contents, is a very interesting one.

THE SUNDAY AT HOME for September.

Mr. Henderson has kindly laid on 'Our Table' the September number of this Religious Monthly, the contents of which are, as usual, as interesting reading as they are pure in tone. Sunday at Home has gained a well-deserved reputation among the religious magazines, and seems determined to keep it.

LAST NIGHT'S NEWS.

The mercury yesterday in New York was over 90 degrees.

An organized agitation for the abolition of slavery in the Spanish Colonies is about to be inaugurated in Spain.

President Grant returns to Washington on the 18th, and will then commence preparing his next message to Congress.

A man named "Billy" Forrester was arrested in Washington on Saturday morning on suspicions of being the murderer of Nathan.

Tom Allan has issued a challenge to fight any man in the world, for a thousand dollars a side, within 50 miles of Detroit, Michigan, six weeks from signing the articles.

From the reports which have reached Washington from the plains, it is more than probable that the United States will soon be dragged into a bloody Indian war.

Albert Garnice has challenged John Deery to play a French Carom game of billiards, of either 500 or 600 points, for $250 to $500 a side.

In a base ball match for the championship at Guelph, on Saturday, between the Maple Leaf Club of that town and the Dauntless of Toronto, the former club came off victorious.

The yacht Isa, of Toronto, is again victorious. On Saturday she won the first prize at the International regatta at Put-in-Bay, in which the best yachts on the lakes competed.

The festivities in Berlin, on Saturday in honor of the meeting of the three most powerful sovereigns of Europe were on a grand scale, and the court dinner was, as such affairs usually are, of the mutual admiration society order. Some people may be inclined to regard as of political significance the fact that Bismarck had a long private interview with the Czar of Russia, and immediately afterwards with his first Minister, Prince Gortschakoff.

TYENDINAGA.

ANOTHER VERY BRUTAL MURDER.

A woman who kept a small tavern in one of the back townships of Tyendinaga, was, on Monday night last, assaulted in her house by some unknown men in search of plunder, who most brutally cut her throat in a manner to cause her death the next day. We have not been able to ascertain her name, but it is reported she lived long enough to intimate that she recognized one of her assailants by his voice, as one McGee. Following so soon after the shooting of Winters at Lonsdale, in the same township, a good deal of uneasiness is felt in the community. It is satisfactory to be able to state that all the parties supposed to be mixed up in this affair belong to the same religious persuasion, as the heated Sectarian feuds that have caused much bad feeling in the neighborhood, will not be enhanced by this last most foul murder.—Ontario.

Horrible Affair.

PALEY, Kansas, Sept. 7.—A horrible double murder, occurred seven miles from this place last evening. Mr. Caleb Shercer, a wealthy farmer, living in Ossawattomie township, in a fit of insanity, produced by domestic grievances, murdered his daughter, Mrs. Wallace, and wounded his own wife and his daughter's husband. The latter, Mr. Wallace, in defending himself struck Shercer with a club, killing him instantly. The wounds received by Mrs. Shercer and Mr. Wallace are pronounced mortal.
