TOWN AND COUNTRY.

SATURDAY EVENG, SEPT. 14, 1872.

CRICKET MATCH.—Bankers and Law Clerks vs. All Comers this afternoon.

AFTER last night, those who sleep with their windows open will have colds in their heads.

DRESSES with spots in them are the rage now. The sales of damaged goods are progressing favorably.

A MOVEMENT is on foot to induce the the Merchants' Bank of Canada to open an agency in Picton.

THE BOYS IN SCARLET.—The new battalions of Manitoba volunteers are to be clothed in scarlet instead of the usual bottle-green of riflemen.

INQUEST.—This afternoon Dr. Barker is to hold an inquest at the General Hospital on the body of a bargeman who died this morning.

CRICKET.—The Grand Trunk Cricket Club offer the Kingston Club another match, sometime next month. They are determined to win sometime. Their motto is perseverance.

EXTENDING.—The Gardner Sewing Machine Manufacturing Company, of Hamilton, are about to open an extensive business in Nova Scotia Province for the sale of their machines.

FINE MARKET again this morning. We will back Kingston against the Dominion for a Saturday's market. The Square was again more than filled.

COLLAPSED.—Summer is evidently exhausted with its efforts to get up a heat in July and August, for November took a step in this morning. Did the moths get at your overcoat?

SUNDAY TEMPERANCE MEETING.—Rev. Mr. Carson will address the Temperance Meeting at the "Sons' Hall" to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock. All are invited to attend. Come and hear what he has to say on this very important question.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH.—The Rev. Mr. Kirkpatrick being at present absent from the city on his summer vacation, the Rev. Wm. Muckleston, of Camden, will preach in St. James' to-morrow morning, and the Rev. Mr. Wilson at the same church in the evening.

ACCIDENT.—Some weeks ago an adopted son of Mr. Halliday, of Wolfe Island, fell on a scythe and cut his leg so badly that he was removed to the Hotel Dieu Hospital. Hope of his recovery is now abandoned; the patient is rapidly sinking.

ONTARIO RIFLE MATCH.—The Kingston Rifle Association picked team for Toronto, whom we named yesterday, leave for Toronto this evening. The Battery & Rifle Association send a team, also, among whom are Capt. Cotton, Lt. Cotton and Lieut. Holmes.

SALE OF CUTLERY &c.—Mr. E. H. Smith has just returned from England, with a very large and splendid stock of plated goods, cutlery, and fancy articles. He will open the sale of them on Monday next in Martin's Crystal Block. There is a fine opportunity for purchases of a genuine and yet a cheap article.

BASE BALL AT GUELPH—THE ILIONS BEATEN.—The "Ilions," who came to Canada specially to play the Guelph champion club, (their recent victors) and only played the Kingston and Port Hope clubs for the amusement of beating them have met the aforesaid Canadian Champions at Guelph, and suffered a defeat by three runs. It was a close and a splendid match, but Canadian muscle tells even against professionals of Brooklyn and other places who composed one half the Ilion team. Hurrah for the Maple Leafs.

A NEW HOUSE OF INDUSTRY.—At the last meeting of the Board of the House of Industry, it was moved by Mr. Chown, and seconded by Mr. Livingston, that the Mayor, Dr. Yates, Messrs. Wm. Anglin and James Shannon, be a building committee to get the required additions to the Johnston property made so as to adapt it as a House of Industry. Carried.—Moved by Dr. Yates, seconded by Mr. Allen, that Mr. Power be required to prepare plans to be agreed upon by the committee appointed and advertise for tenders. Carried.

SALE OF PROPERTY.—On Thursday next a very valuable parcel of land, will be offered for sale by Mr. A. Livingston, through Mr. Murray, Auctioneer. It is that large plot lying between Mortonwood, King street, and Rose Lawn, Union street, known as the College property. It has been laid out into lots for building on, is intersected by one street, and bordered by four main avenues. The situation is a splendid one, and very convenient for dwellings for those whose business lies at Portsmouth.

MONTREAL MONEY MARKET.—The pressure for money since this day week, says the Herald, has been very great, and the Banks have resisted the extremely high rates offered, only a portion of what has been asked for being negotiated, chiefly at 10 per cent. discount for the choicest Commercial bills, and 12 for second class paper. There is of course no extension of credit to the public for speculative purposes, and the circumstances of large loans maturing, which could not be renewed, has had a deadening influence on all classes of merchandise.

A MANIAC.—The deserting soldier Slade, the account of whose attempt to murder the Police Magistrate of Ottawa we published yesterday, has became a raving maniac. He showed no sign of it for twenty-four hours after his attempt, though he showed no sign of regret for what he had done, but expressed a wish that he could get another chance to murder Mr. O'Gara. Yesterday, in his cell in Ottawa gaol, Slade pulled off his shirt and tied the sleeves round his neck. He then climbed the bars in the corridor, near the gallows, attached the shirt to one of the iron rods, and attempted to hang himself by dropping down. The fall was not sufficient to dislocate his neck, but would have strangled him in a few minutes if Dr. Mondelet had not returned to the corridor in time to save his life. On recovering from the effects of the choking, Slade was found to be raving mad. The escort from Halifax left with him and for greater security put him in a straight jacket.

The Romance of Great Singers

Lucca, like Nilsson, came of plebian stock; but, unlike Nilsson, she has matured into lyric greatness by a slower and surer process. I know not what slaver St. Cecilia hunt the peasant fields of Europe for these diamonds, but most of us know by what laborious process they are polished and set, and how inevitably they come at last to decorate a title with the radiance of their genious. The Baroness von Rhaden sprang from the esbscurity of Vienna. It was in the Hof Theator that she was first discovered, a little imp only eight year old, whose duties were to stand on her toes three hours every morning and let the ballet-master scold her. Her parents were miserably poor. It seems strange now to tell of her plaitble sufferings in that theater; of the meanness of her attire, and the scoffs of her companions. But why should it seem strange when there is some of us who can remember when Adeline Patti ran bare-foot over our free soil, and carried beer for her master! Have we forgotten that but yesterday Christine Nilsson gathered faguts in the bleak sands of Smeland, as her forefathers, I know not for how many generations, did before her? Certainly, of all people, we are least surprised at this—we cannot stretch out a hand without coming in contact with genius and wealth grown so fast that the muck of the sprouting place is not yet washed off by success.

That Remarkable Case.

The second trial of Laura D. Fair, for the murder of A. P. Crittenden, is now about to commence at San Francisco. The circumstance reawakens an interest in the history of this remarkable case. The murder occurred nearly two years ago, and the first trial, which was held in the spring of 1871, resulted in a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. Mrs. Fair was accordingly sentenced to death, and the execution was to have taken place in July, 1871. But the efforts of her indefatigable counsel availed to effect a review of the trial before the Supreme Court, and a repetition of legal proceedings was ordered, on the ground that the Court below had erred in not permitting the prisoner's counsel to make the closing argument. After numerous delays peculiar to the law, the new trial now bids fair to be carried to a conclusion. What further defence the counsel for Mrs. Fair propose to adduce cannot easily be conjectured, unless the prisoner's line of argument, namely, that she and not Mrs. Crittenden had a moral right to the deceased, is amplified. Two manifestoes have recently been published by the erratic criminal, who is also said to have beguiled the tedium of her protracted imprisonment by making some $250,000 in mining speculations. The result will be awaited with great interest by the married and marriageable public.—Herald.

THE MAYOR'S SON.—There is a restaurant at the corner of Ninth and Bank streets, Richmond, kept by a clever young Frenchman, named Henri B. Farferit. Going in there the other day to get a sandwich, I said: "Henri, you seem to be doing such fine business that you will soon be able to go back to la belle France a rich man and enjoy yourself. "Oh!" said he, I have plenty there now. "How so?" "My father is Mayor of Lyons." "What!" Then he handed me letters which proved the truth of his assertion that he was the son and only child of the Mayor of the metropolis of Southern France. "Well," I asked, "when you were so well off at home, why did you leave it?" "I did spend too much money, and my father got angry with me." He ran away from home, came to this city, was bar-tender for Gerard for a while, then set up for himself and is now rapidly accumulating a fortune. Relating this incident to a friend, he said: "That's nothing. I know an Austrian Baron, a man of fine appearance, with a grand, strong face, that would do for the model of a patriarch, who is keeping bar in a saloon on Broad street.—New York Express.

THE AGE OF DENTISTRY.—As early as 500 B. C., gold was used for filling teeth, and gold wire was employed to hold artificial teeth in position; and does not seem then to have been a new art. A fragment of the tenth of the Roman tables, 450 B. C., has reference to the burial of any gold with the dead except that bound around the teeth. Herodotus declares that the Egyptians had a knowledge of the diseases of the teeth and their treatment, 2,000 B. C. In Martial, Cassolina is mentioned as either filling or extracting teeth; but he specifies that he would not polish false teeth with tooth-powder. Lucian mentions an old maid that had but four teeth, and they were fastened in with gold. These facts cover a period of 600 years.
