TUESDAY EVENG, SEPT. 24, 1872.

SEPTEMBER

This brown leaves rustle in the wind,
And golden is the oak tree's crown:
The red beach drops her ripen'd mast,
And chestnut husks come shewering down.

September's kiss is on the woods,
And garner'd is Pomona's wealth;
The squirrel thinks of winter rest,
Begins to store his nuts by stealth.

Gone are the roses, crimson flowers,
That crown'd the virgin brow of June;
And where the nightingale hath sung,
The robin pipes his mellow tune.

One touch of frost is on the blades
Of grass beneath the forest tree;
Close in his lair the dormouse lies,
And nestled in her cell the bee.

The last geraniums still shed
On manor-lawn a scarlet glow;
The queen chrysanthemum had donn'd
Her robes of Winter—rose and snow.

The latest breath of Summer stirs
Upon the leaves and in the air;
It shakes the cones amid the firs,
And straight is gone we know not where.

So oft a gleam of sunshine past
Reshines again in many last days;
Summer and Winter, smiles and tears—
Wiser than ours are Heaven's ways.

Paragraphing of the period: John Williams, of Slabtown, Arkansas, blew into the muzzle of his gun to see if it was loaded. Could Mr. Williams communicate with his friends in this world, his spirit would gently whisper, "It was."

Jones and Brown were talking lately of a young clergyman, whose preaching they had heard that day. "What do you think of him?" asked Brown. "I think," said Jones, "he did much better two years ago." "Why, "he didn't preach then," said Brown. "True, said Jones, "that is what I mean."

Somebody having applied to an editor for a method by which he might cure his daughter of her partiality for young men, is kindly informed that there are several methods of reform. One way is to skin the young person; another is to put her into a well and drop a few loads of gravel on her head; another is to bind her ankles to an anvil and upset her out of the boat.

An Irishman called on a lady and gentleman, in whose employ he was, for the purpose of getting some tea and tobacco. "I had a dream last night, yer honor," said he to the gentleman. "What was it, Pat?" "Why, I dreamed that yer honor made me a present of a pound of tobacco, and her ladyship there—heaven bless her—gave me some tay for the good wife." "Ah, Pat, dreams go by the contraries, you know," said the gentleman. "Faith, and they may that," said Pat; "so her ladyship is to give the tobacco, and his honor the tay."

THE MILITARY MANŒUVRES IN ENGLAND.—Lord Shaftesbury writes to the London Times to express his unqualified admiration of the conduct and bearing of the 1st and 2nd Divisions of the Western army, now manœuvring on Salisbury Plain. He has had a visit of more than 600 of them, who took possession of his downs, and showed such "order, discipline and civility" as delighted him. "After service on Sunday," Lord Shaftesbury says, "bathed in the river, and walked and strolled about my grounds, and I am assured that not a leaf is missing, nor a flower bed trampled on." The "quietude and the farmers" are as much pleased as Lord Shaftesbury at the "quietude and sobriety" of the men. This experience will do something to remove the widespread prevalent impression that the British soldier is among the unkindest and most disorderly of mankind!

Whooping Cough is successfully cured by Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. The most stubborn cases are cured in a few days.

"Tired Nature's Sweet restorer, Balmy Sleep." But there are times when this "Renewer of Strength" is denied us, times when our minds and bodies have been so ever worked and are so worn out that we "woo the drowsy god in vain." The Peruvian Syrup (a Iron Tonic) renews our strength and makes our rest sweet and refreshing.

Two Questions Easily Answered.—Why should men wear beards? Because they are a great protection to the throat and lungs, and add much to their gentlemanly appearance. Why should we use Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers? Because they are good for coughs, tickling in the throat, hoarseness, &c.; they act like a charm. Ministers and Lawyers use them; physicians recommend them, and singers and public speakers say they are the very best medicine in existence for the cure of such complaints. Sold by all medicine dealers, at 25 cts. per box.

Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, Dec. 8th, 1871. "Jas. I. Fellows, Esq.—Dear Sir—We are receiving orders almost daily from the Outports for your invaluable Syrup of Hypophosphites, and the sale is steadily increasing. I firmly believe it has done more good than any medicine yet discovered, in the cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough and kindred diseases. It is the only medicine we have which cures these diseases by strengthening the Nervous System. And as it is also what we call a sound chemical preparation, I predict for it a more extended demand than any other remedy in existence. W. H. THOMPSON."

A Question.—Why will people keep four or five ill looking sickly horses to do the work that one good horse might perform? If the horse has the heaves, is broken-winded, has a cough or cold, or his wind in any way affected; if his appetite is bad, or his digestive organs deranged, has a rough skin or is hide bound, we would in all cases recommend the use of "Darby's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." It never fails to benefit and most always removes the disease. It is free from anything that can injure, and may be used at all times with safety. Try it and you will be satisfied. Remember the name, and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

A Chemical Food and Nutritive Tonic
Without Phosphorus, we thought, say the Germans, and they might add, no action, since Phosphorus and its compounds are known to be the motive power of the nervous and muscular system. They constitute more than half the material of the human body, being found in every tissue, and their presence is absolutely essential to nutrition, as they produce the conversion of albumen in the food into fibrine, which is the vitalizing agent of pure, healthy blood. They are now coming into universal use in Europe and America in the treatment of Scrofulous, Consumptive and Venereal diseases, which are caused by impoverished or poisoned blood; in pale, puny children, and that condition of nervous and physical prostration resulting from bad habits, excessive use of stimulants and tobacco, and all that train of evils known as fast life. The great reliability and promptness in its effects is immediately and permanently restoring the debilitated condition has made DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND ELIXIR OF PHOSPHATES, AND CALISAYA a great favorite with the Physicians and public. Sold at $1.00.
