GOLD.

Gold lurks in every aim of life,
It sways the lofty and the lowly,
And shrouds beneath its sable-pall
Each aspiration high and holy.

For it we utter earnest prayers,
And solemn vows are made and broken,
And beauty barters truth and hope,
And bitter, scathing words are spoken.

Gold cannot add one hour to life,
Or buy love's holiest caresses;
It cannot stay the silver streak
Time blends with beauty's auburn tresses.

It cannot bring the loved one back,
So rudely torn from our embraces;
It cannot smooth the wrinkled brow,
Scored deep with grief's relentless traces.

Gold cannot bring youth's ruddy glow
Back to the cheek of fading beauty;
It cannot hush the still small voice
That hints of long neglected duty.

It cannot heal the broken heart,
Throbbing with some unbounded sorrow;
For words that wring the soul to-day
Gold cannot bring relief to-morrow.

Then let us scorn the glittering bribe,
Nor breathe for it one sigh of sorrow;
Gold can at least but gild the bier,
Or buy the pall that all must borrow.

The lowliest heart in all the land
Is rich, beyond all golden treasure,
If truth and virtue, hand in hand,
Have been through life its rule and measure.

Township of Kingston Election.

Mr. Vanluven has been elected Reeve of the township after a hard struggle yesterday. At Westbrooke he had a majority of 40 votes, and at Collins' a majority of 40 more. Mr. Clyde's majorities were 46 at Cataraqui and 8 at Elginburg. Mr. Vanluven therefore, was elected by 26 votes, 10 more than last time. Mr. Clyde increased his vote in all the polling places but Cataraqui, and here he found arrayed against him all the influence it was possible to command. Despite the influence of Mr. George Kirkpatrick, M.P., who came from Ottawa to aid Mr. Vanluven, and Mr. John Flanigan, who fully exerted himself, he would have been elected had he not set his face against making promises of new culverts, drains, and Council influence to some who asked it. He strove to receive his election independent of any undue influence or not at all, though he knew that his opponents left no stone unturned, even men favorable to him being locked up so as to be kept out of the way of Mr. Clyde's friends. Mr. Vanluven holds the seat, and has certainly earned it. We doubt if the position is worth the sacrifices he has made for it.

—Through inadvertance, the above scrap, which was put in type for Saturday's issue, was overlooked in making up the paper.

CURRENCY.

—Why do young ladies put their hair in paper?—To wake early (wake curly) in the morning.

—An eastern paper thinks it a remarkable fact that not a single widow has frozen to death this winter.

—The most beautiful and accomplished woman in Marquette has but one fault, and that is her husband.

—Nebert has recently ruled a plate of 246,000 lines to the inch for President Barnard, of Columbia.

—Of all things in the world that are "better late than never," going to bed certainly ranks first.

—It is one of the latest fashions for bridesmaids at church weddings to wear bonnets, corresponding in color to their toilettes.

—Why is a man who makes additions to false rumors like one who has confidence in all that is told him? Because he relies on all he hears.

—How do notes of printed music resemble prisoners, especially those condemned to capital punishment?—Because they are placed within bars, awaiting execution.

—This equinoctial storm is up to any of its predecessors, in promptitude, weight of character and purity of intentions. As an equinoctial it is a decided success.

—A servant was obliged to leave a family after two hours of service, which enabled her to discover that the kitchen was hardly large enough to receive company in. She didn't doubt but that the location was healthy, however.

—H. R. H. Prince of Wales has accepted the Emperor of Austria's special invitation to visit the Vienna Exposition, and he will be lodged in elegant style in the hotel of the Minister of Finance.

—It has been noticed in Kansas that the buffalo grass of the prairies gradually disappears and is replaced by other grasses as the country becomes the home of civilized men.

—This is the way the Chicago Times speaks of Stanley, apropos of his Livingstone lecture: "After one has seen this Hennery, and heard him cackle his story, one cannot help entertaining a rather poor opinion of the venerable doctor for allowing such a person to discover him."

—Thomas Holloway, of England, the proprietor of the famous patent medicines which bear his name, is said to be worth $60,000,000. He has recently built an insane asylum costing $500,000, and has other charitable schemes on foot on an equally magnificent scale.

SETTLING A DOCTOR'S BILL.—In Texas the other day a doctor rode fifty miles to attend a patient. After he had cured the patient he presented a bill for fifty dollars, and prepared for the journey home. As he was about to mount, the patient's husband put in an appearance with his trusty rifle in his hand. "Doctor," said he, "I reckon we'd better settle this here matter now. You wa'nt goin' off without a settlement, was yer? I don't want to owe no man nothing. Here is a ten, which I reckon is about the squar' thing. Now, if you ain't satisfied, jest git yur weapon an' come around behind the hill thar' so's the old woman won't be riled up, and we'll settle it. I don't want no man to go 'way from my house dissatisfied, 'specially you, Doc."

A CURIOUS AUCTION.—An auction of a very unusual character recently took place in London, the articles offered for sale being the magical apparatus, wardrobes, curiosities and properties of Prof. Anderson, "The Wizard of the North." In the course of the auction, as the various conjuring tricks and apparatus were offered for sale, the professor explained the method of working the illusions, and exposed the whole system, by which magicians deceive their audiences.

BREAKFAST.—EPPS'S COCOA - GRATEFUL AND COMFORTING.—"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavoured beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills."—Civil Service Gazette. Made simply with Boiling Water or Milk. Each packet is labelled—"JAMES EPPS & Co., Homœopathic Chemists, London."

MANUFACTURE OF COCOA.—"We will now give an account of the process adopted by Messrs. James Epps & Co., manufacturers of dietetic articles, at their works in the Euston Road, London."—Cassell's Household Guide.

Cheerfulness, courage and great active of intellect are engendered by Fellows's Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites, and its capacity of imparting power of endurance to the brain and nervous system is shown in its property of sustaining persons through mental difficulties.

"Of late years advertising has assumed a very important phase—in fact, has become a science in business, and no one has done more, or as much, to make it so, as Geo. P. Rowell & Co., of New York. Their prompt and systematic mode of transacting their business has gained the confidence of all large advertisers, and has raised them in a few years from one of the smallest to the leading advertising house in the world."—Maple Leaves.

Arnot's Arnica Anodyne is unrivalled as a pain-reliever. It quickly subdues pain of every kind, both internal and external. Hide Bound Horses.—A horse is said to be hide bound when his skin will not slip under the pressure of the hand, but sticks as if it was glued, which condition is generally always dependent on a deranged state of stomach and digestive organs; by correcting which, and give to them a healthy tone and condition, the disease or complaint will disappear. Experience has proved that the means best adapted to this end is "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy." It has been used in numerous cases with complete success, generally effecting a cure in a few weeks. It is the best condition medicine known, and may be given with perfect safety at all times, and does not require that the horse be kept from work.
