FASHION NOTES.

—Caps are worn by even the youngest widow ladies.

—The "Alexandria redingote" is a new ladies' over-dress.

—Suits of grey stuffs with stripes that look like sponge are worn.

—Duchess cloth is the finest woollen fabric ever manufactured.

—Massive cut steel buttons are the latest adornment for ladies' costumes.

—Wide and very long sashes of colored grenadine will be worn this summer.

—Powdered hair is again in fashion. Blonde and white are the favorite styles.

—The "Aphrodite" or Girdle of Venus is the newest thing in belts. It is "horrid."

—Colored linen is coming in vogue again among young ladies for collars and cuffs.

—The latest feminine fashion of wearing the front hair is known as the syke terrier style.

—The spring wraps are covered with embroidery, and are extremely pretty in design and material.

—The best way to get just the right tangle on the hair is to fill it full of cornmeal and let the chickens scratch it out.

—It now takes the annual production of sixteen canal horses to furnish material for a fashionable young lady to build her upper story with.

—As nature has not furnished every lady a broken back, a good imitation can be built with six months' back numbers of some prosperous daily paper's exchanges.

The Ashantee War.

Lord Kimberly, the Colonial Secretary, mentioned in Parliament, on the 2nd inst., that the war on the West Coast of Africa was not on British Territory, but on British protected territory, and that everything had been done to enable the chiefs there to defend themselves. There was a difficulty in supplying the natives with ammunition, as they had a habit of firing off an unlimited number of blank charges before they came in sight of the enemy. In addition to such forces Great Britain has on the spot 270 troops of the West India Regiment, 220 hussars, 200 volunteers, and 150 Native Police, making in all an armed force under the Administrator of 840 men. A sense of security was given by the presence of a few of Her Majesty's ships in the roads.

The Ashanee force is variously given at from 4,000 to 30,000 men. An account is given of a fight at Yankumassie between them and the native tribes favorable to British rule, on the 10th March, which was going on favorably for the latter, when they became panic-stricken and ran all the way (20 miles) to Cape Coast Castle, like Johnnie Cope to Dunbar, bring news of their rout. The Ashantees did not, however, pursue them. It is said the Ashantees lost 2,000 and their opponents 1,000 in this battle. It is not considered that the British forts or settlements have anything to fear from the Ashantees. —Witness.

Church and State in Prussia.

The four bills designed to regulate the relations between the State and the Churches in Prussia have now passed the Herrenhaus, and will receive the Royal assent in a short time. The amendments of the Upper House, in a "Liberal" direction, necessitated their reference again to the Chamber of Deputies, but that will cause little delay. It is expected that by next week they will definitively become part of Prussian legislation. This having been accomplished, the next thing to be done is to extend these ecclesiastical laws, which are Prussian alone as yet, to the whole German Empire. The Federal Council will introduce them, and there cannot be much doubt that the Imperial Government will pass them. Some of the German States are not inclined to await the initiative of the Council and Parliament, but are already preparing to adopt the new laws on their own account. It is said that the Liberal Ministry which is at the head of affairs in the Grand Duchy of Hesse is only waiting for their promulgation in Prussia to propose similar legislation on the matter in the Hessian Chambers.

THE EXPOSITION.—Affairs do not appear to go well at Vienna with anybody. Even the elements forbid the festivities. The famous Prater is a marsh in consequence of incessant rains. It has been cold and disagreeable weather all along, and to crown all a hurricane came tearing along and mashed in nearly one entire front of the building, giving everybody a tremendous scare and damaging many of the pretty things on exhibition. Then there is a financial panic which unfits the Viennese pleasant converse or the duties of hospitality. So the strangers even are discouraged, and the attendance has fallen off greatly in the past few days. Bright and cheerful weather, however, will doubtless make an improvement in the situation.

OTTAWA HOTEL,

St. James St., Montreal

THE recent Manager of this popular Hotel, Mr. C. S. Browne, having formed a co-partnership with Mr. J. Q. Perley, the establishment will continue to be conducted under the firm of 'Browne & Perley,' they having leased it for a term of years. In assuming the proprietorship they may state that the House has undergone many improvements, and they intend by constant attention to the wants of the travelling public and its former patrons to sustain the present character of the "Ottawa," as the chief leading Hotel of Montreal.
