PALINDROMES.

The accompaning lines are nonsensical enough. They were written to please a group of youthful folk, and serve to show that our English tongue is capable of being twisted into "uncouth shapes" as is the Latin, if only one will take the trouble:

One winter's eve around the fire a cozy group we sat,
Engaged, as was a custom old, in after-dinner chat;
Small talk it was, no doubt, because the smaller folk were there,
And they, the young monopolists! absorb the lion's share—
Conundrums, riddles, rebuses, cross-questions, puns atrocious,
Taxed all their ingenuity, till Peter the precocious—
Old head on shoulders juvenile—cried, "Now for a new task:
Let's try our hand at Palindromes!" "Agreed! But first," we ask,
"Pray, Peter, what are Palindromes?" The forward imp replied,
"A Palindrome's a string of words of sense or meaning void,
Which reads both ways the same; and, here, with your permission,
I'll cite some half a score of samples, lacking all precision
(But held together by loose rhymes), to test my definition;
"A milksop jilted by his lass, or wandering in his wits, Might murmur, 'Stiff, O dairy-man, in a myriad of fits."
"A limmer, by photography dead beat in competition,
Thus grumbled, 'No, it is opposed; art sees trade's opposition!
"A nonsense-loving nephew might his soldier uncle dun
With, 'Now stop, major-general, are negro jumpots won?'
"A supercilious grocer, if inclined that way might snub
A child with, 'But ragusa store, babe, rots a sugar-tub!'
"Thy sceptre, Alexandria, is a fortress, cried Hephæstion,
Great A. said, 'No, it's a bar of gold, a bad log for a bastion!'
"A timid creature, fearing rodents—mice and such small fry—
'Stop, Syrian, I start at rats in airy spots,' might cry.
"A simple soul, whose wants are few, might say with hearty zest,
'Desserts I desire not, so long no lost one rise distressed!'
"A stern Canadian parent might in earnest, not in fun,
Exclaim, 'No sot or Ottawa law at Toronto son!'
"A crazy dentist might declare, as something strange or new,
That 'Paget saw an Irish tooth, sir, in a waste gap!' true!
"A surly student, hating sweets, might answer with elan,
'Name tarts! no, mediaval slave, I demonmonstrate man!'
"He wha in nature's bitters findeth sweet food every day,
'Eureka, till I pull up ill I take rue,' well might say."

THE PROVINCE OF QUEBEC IN THE CABINET.—Some months have now elapsed, and the vacancy in the Cabinet, which according to the usual understanding should be filled by a gentleman from the Province of Quebec, is still unfilled. There were no difficulties elsewhere. Mr Gibbs took the Ontario seat; and one of the Macdonalds was sworn into the place left by Mr. Joseph Howe; but Quebec is still without her full complement. How is this? What is the hitch which prevented the gazetting of Mr. Masson with the other new Ministers, and which has ever since prevented his acceptance of office? It is quite evident that the mantle of Sir George Cartier, if it has fallen upon Mr. Langevin, as the latter affects to believe, has fallen in a wry and awkward fashion, and does not do the service which it did upon the shoulders of its late owner. We presume that Mr. Masson either feels that the Ministry are not strong enough to make it the part of a wise man to throw in his lot with them; or that he has conscientious objections to make himself responsible for acts of such outrageous dishonesty as those of which the Ministry has been guilty. The personal unpopularity of Mr. Langevin and his odious acts of nepotism may also be grounds why a man of independent position should refuse to sacrifice his future as a public man by casting in his lot for a few months, probably for a few days only, with men who are already disgraced, and who must soon fall.—Herald.

—The Orange Men of Liverpool yesterday gave the Canadian delegates a public reception.

Balloonacies.

Graphic gets off every day a number of jokes touching the coming balloon expedition, of which the following are specimens:

Advice to Professor Wise—Continue so.

How to get up in the world—Try a balloon.

Balloonacy—Disbelief in balloons.

The anti-balloonists will soon be knocked sky-high.

Look out in twenty years or less for steam balloons.

The excitement throughout balloondom increases every hour.

It seems probable that, eventually, balloons will be called air-ships.

Who wouldn't rather be up in a balloon than down in a steamship?

The buffoon can't see the balloon on any terms; but then, he can't see anything else.

From present appearances, navigating the air will soon be easier than navigating the sea.

A lady writes to inquire whether there will be any berths in our balloon. That will depend on circumstances.

As men starting with nothing often build up the greatest fortunes, so the aeronaut may reach the highest of fame.

A "BALLOON" HOTEL.—The latest thing in hotels is suggested by an ingenious correspondent of The Galveston News. It is to be called the Aerial Sanitarium. It is to be a huge balloon, firmly secured by strong attachments to the proper height. "Galveston," he says, "is within one mile of the most delightful climate in the world, and this climate is directly overhead." To the enormous balloon there is to be attached to a frame-work of sufficiently strong wire, fitted up to accommodate one hundred guests. This airy saloon will be reached by a smaller balloon acting as an elevator. When the barometer indicates disturbing weather, the gas can be let off and the whole establishment brought down to solid earth.

—A wealthy but infatuated woman of Savannah has paid over $1,600, at various times, to fortune-tellers; but her luck has never changed.

Pond's Extract—by word of mouth the information of its merits has been carried everywhere.

"Amongst the live and progressive institutions of the day is Geo. P. Rowell & Co's Advertising Agency, No. 41 Park Row, New York. The establishment is so systematized, that their facilities are so ample, and the public is sure of being served in the most complete manner.—Boston Post.

☞ A common cough or cold should never be trifled with; often when neglected it is converted into a serious and generally fatal pulmonary disease. The more prudent, aware of this, promptly use "Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers," a curative which has sustained its reputation for over twenty years—they are always efficacious and exert a most beneficial influence on all the bronchial and pulmonary organs. Sold by all Druggists and country dealers. Price 25 cts. per box.

How to make Money.—A horse dealer residing in the vicinity of Keyport, N.J., and who buys up horses for the New York market, purchases "Darley's Condition Powders and Arabian Heave Remedy" by the dozen and feeds it to his horses; he says it is superior to anything that he has ever used as a condition medicine, that the horses are so much more improved by its use to sell more readily and command higher prices. Two other horse dealers, one residing at Huntingdon the other at Glen Cove, L.I., also purchase it by the dozen and for the same purpose; these men, as well as many others similarly engaged, know too well the value and importance of this medicine ever to be without it. Remember the name and see that the signature of Hurd & Co., is on each package. Northrop & Lyman, Newcastle, Ont., proprietors for Canada. Sold by all medicine dealers.

DR. WHEELER'S COMPOUND Elixir of Phosphates and Calisaya is the best Tonic in use, because it is the most physiological, being composed of ingredients absolutely essential to the development of the system. It is a delightful cordial to take, and its use may be protracted for an indefinite period without becoming repugnant to the patient.

ELECTRICITY. THOMAS' EXCELSIOR ECLECTRIC OIL! Worth Ten Times its Weight in Gold. "Pain Cannot Stay Where it is Used."

It is the CHEAPEST MEDICINE EVER MADE. One dose cures common Sore Throat. One bottle has cured Bronchitis. Fifty cents worth has cured an old Standing Cough.
