CITY AND VICINITY

THE SS. Circassion arrived at Father Point at 4:20 a.m., with 31 cabin and 214 steerage passengers.

CLOSE SEASON.—The close season for black bass in these waters begins to-day and ends on the 15th of June. Fish of this description caught lately have been unusually well forward, and spawning is likely to take place earlier than usual.

COURTS OF REVISION.—For Kaladar and Anglesea on the 3rd of June. For Richmond and Selby on 5th June. For Bedford at Fermoy on 27th May. For Clarendon and Miller at Buckshot on 29th May,

RACY LETTERS.—Mr. N. F. Davin, who lectured here not long since on the "British House of Commons" and "O'Connell," is the Philadelphia Centennial correspondent of the Mail. He is furnishing that journal with some very readable letters, about the raciest we read nowadays.

WOMAN COOKS.—In the west we perceive that the agitation anent the engagement of woman cooks on vessels still continues, those who are on the aggressive side winning an advantage. Down here, on the lower lakes and river, there does not seem to be so much objection to the engagement, and the ladies find ample opportunity for exercising their culinary ability on vessel and steamer.

ACCEPTED.—Our first information in regard to the acceptance of Mr. Woods' resignation as Head Master of the Collegiate Institute was quite correct, the Board of Trustees having taken the unavoidable step on Tuesday last. We are, therefore, while regretting in the public interest that Mr. Woods has resolved to change his walk in life, rejoiced to think that we have not misled our contemporary, which is sensitive to the faults of others and would keenly feel its own.

PIANOES.—Well, the Weber Manufacturing Company have sent their pianoes to the Centennial. Prof. Kaufman, according to the Brockville Recorder, will preside over these pianoes. Our contemporary adds:

"There are no better looking instruments in the musical department of the main building, and very much surprise the visitors, who imagine the only product of the Province to be furs, minerals and cord-wood."

THE WHY AND WHEREFORE.—The Street Railway Company's trouble at Belleville was this:—

"Work on the Street Railway was stopped on Thursday afternoon, the Collector of Customs seizing the iron which had been imported from the United States for non-payment of duties; similar iron has been brought in free at other places as rails, but the Collector here holds that the rails are wooden, and the iron mere coverings for the rails. In this view he is upheld by the Department. The duty was paid under protest next morning, and work was resumed."

PETERSON'S MONTHLY for June is an admirable number, so well adapted to the home circle, so interesting to the ladies in point of fashion, intelligence and serial reading so pleasing to their fancy. The coloured plates represent the latest devices and attractions in dress, and in this respect alone, to say nothing of the miscellaneous contents of the magazine, Peterson's Monthly commends itself to liberal patronage. Published by Chas. F. Peterson, 306 Chesnut Street, Philadelphia.

CROP ACCOUNTS.—From the surrounding country accounts reach us of a conflicting nature in regard to agricultural labour, and seeding and sowing. While several allege that the weather has favoured farmers in their work, it is held on the other hand that it has not been so suitable as wished, and that vegetation is backward. Certainly the atmosphere is chilly, but altogether we have reason to believe agricultural pursuits have not been generally much affected by climatic change.

Y. M. C. A.—Mr. R. V. Rogers President of the Young Men's Christian Association, will read a paper at the regular weekly literary meeting this evening at the rooms. The subject will be "Something about Lawyers." An invitation is extended to all young men to attend. The meeting commences at eight o'clock sharp. Mr. Crumley, travelling agent of the Dominion Young Men's Christian Association, is shortly expected here to hold evangelistic services. An invitation has been sent to Mr. Moody, the great revivalist, to also visit here.

CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.—A western Ontario contemporary argues that more rigid regulations are necessary to prevent the spread of diseases at schools; that the rule should be strictly enforced that no child shall attend a school who has any contagious disease, or who comes from a house in which such disease exists. At present schools are efficient agents in the spread of disease. Yet last week when a couple of scholars at Frontenac public school were ordered home for the protection of the rest of the children because they came from a house where scarlet fever was raging, the lady teacher was attacked by the unfeeling mother. Perhaps that mother would have liked her two children to sit down that day beside a small-pox patient which its mother insisted on having sent for fear it would feel bad at being turned away.

WIND WAFS.

The prospect for freight from Cape Vincent over the Rome, W. & O. RR., is no better than last year.

Mr. H. Corby, Jr., has sold 28 head of fat cattle to Mr. John Elliott, of Kingston.

The country is overrun with one-horse shows. It speaks bad for a "snap" when it fights shy of the newspaper offices.

Residents of Cape Vincent can now purchase a single ticket to Kingston, Canada, for seventy-five cents or two for one dollar.

"I would not, for any money," says Jean Paul Richter, 'have any money in my youth.' That's the way we feel. We would much rather have it now.

There is a deal of the Aruprior marble used in this vicinity and west of here. It is being shipped past here to Port Hope and other places in large quantities.

There are plenty of ducks along the river yet between this and Alexandria Bay, but the thousands upon thousands which inhabited Big Bay have been reduced to hundreds.

The weather sages are pretty correct in their latter day predictions. The weather is cool—exceedingly cool. We anxiously await the prediction of a little sunshine and heat.

Those going to the Centennial will find it cheaper to take a few buns in their pockets. 50 cents for a steak and 30 cts. for a cup of coffee and a sandwich is very high.

Twelve nets belonging to Gates Phillips, set near Bear Point, have been seized by Canadian officers for violation of the fishery laws. The Gates are ajar for those officers.

Dr. Hall says that people sometimes take cold through their ears. This explains why the Brockville Enterprise man always stuffs his ears with horse blankets ana buffalo robes in damp weather like this.

The citizens of Napanee expect to have a big time on the 24th. Among the attractions of the day will be a rifle match for a silver cup between six Napanee shootists and a like number of the 48th Battalion.

Track laying on the Canada Central Extension is to commence to-day. The trains may be running into Pembroke by the 24th, as there is only some five miles of iron to lay down. It was mean of the C.C. not to wait and let the K. & P. R. run in its trains in for the first time along with it.

The Brockville Enterprise addressing the "WHIG man" says: "Be virtuous, young man, and you'll be happy, in spite of these little drawbacks in personal appearance." Many thanks! Coming from one who "knows how it is himself," we can the more heartily appreciate the advice.

Cobourg has voted $5,000 bonus to a matting factory about being established there, and also a $2,000 bonus to a knitting factory about being removed from Hastings. The town will get cured of that sort of thing when it has spent $50,000 or so in it. Such experiments, possess a good deal of public interest, howevever.

The best mode of celebrating the 24th is the talk of the surrounding villages. What's to be done in Kingston, we may inquire? It's to be a holiday, and beyond that no preparation has been made for its observance. We have suggested a regatta, for local boats—a mere race for test of speed, in which a great many beside the owners of the new boats are largely interested. The demonstration should be none the less hearty since Her Majesty is no longer styled the "Queen," but the "Empress of India."

PICTON.—A special from Picton, to-day's date, says: A new propeller, the Amenia, was launched from Redmond's yard on Saturday. She is owned by the McMurchie Bros., and will be fitted up in first class style for passenger traffic. She will run from Picton to Alexandria Bay and the Camp Meeting grounds daily. She is one hundred feet keel, eighteen feet beam, twenty-one feet over all, seven foot hold; her engine is of ninety-five horse power, manufactured at Brokenshire's foundry, Kingston. She will be ready for business about the middle of June. The str. Picton leaves here on Monday morning and will resume her trips of last year from Port Dalhousie to Toronto. The Episcopal Methodist Church, in course of erection here, is to be dedicated on the first of June.

QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY.—The Gananoque Reporter remarks, as an indication of the hard times, that no town in this section has yet made a move towards the proper celebration of the Queen's Birthday. But, law, hard times are not all to blame—enthusiasm is an important element in celebrations, and that is obtainable without money. The average small boy who put a red handkerchief on a stick and marches around the yard with a tin pan for a drum, will tell you that. But for the holiday proclamation and Masonic ceremony the coming Empress' natal day might be less cheerful in Kingston than a rainy Sunday with the church two miles off.

HOUSES.—The building operations about the city are considered brisk, taking into account the general complaints of depressed business and dull times. Several new houses are about to be erected, in addition to those now under way. Among the latest may be mentioned the new and handsome dwelling to be erected by Mr. W. P. Minnes, on Princess street, opposite Gordon, and the contemplated row for Mr. C. F. Gildersleeve on King Street, opposite Dr. Strange's.—The house of Mr. William Shannon, Brock Street, was not disposed of by auction on Saturday.

SAFETY TO CHILDREN.—Parents of children who wander about the lower part of the city—along the wharves and railway track—are cautioned that the little ones run great danger of serious injury. Some children make a practice of "hooking on" the pilot engine and cars as they shunt backward and forward at the city depot, and one of these was nearly run over on Saturday, and only escaped mutilation by rolling over and off the track. Railway men are especially annoyed by youngsters. They object to having their engine and cars mussed up, too, by running over them.

OBITUARY.

THE LATE MISS. HAY.—This morning the remains of this respected lady were conveyed to their last rest at Cataraqui Cemetery, followed by a concourse of friends, who feel a deep sympathy for her husband and family in their loss at this time of their general affliction. The pall bearers were Messrs. G. M. Wilkinson, J. Sutherland, W. A. Gunn, Wm. Allen, Jas Greenfield and G.W. Andrews.

THE LATE JAMES O'REILLY.—To-day being the anniversary of the death of this lamented gentleman, a solemn requiem mass was celebrated this morning in St. Mary's Cathedral, and was attended by a very large number of the relatives and friends of the deceased, thereby testifying that his memory was still green in their hearts. The Rev. Father Corbett officiated.

DEATH AT WESTBROOK.—To day Mr. John Gales died at his home near Westbrook. He was a very old resident of the county, and of late years had difficulties which won him the warm sympathies of his friends, who will now sincerely mourn his loss.

MR. MATTHEWS' FUNERAL.—This afternoon the funeral of the late Mr. Robt. Matthews took place, the cortege being very long and respectable, thus testifying to the very high esteem in which he was held by the public. Service was conducted at the late residence of the deceased, after which the funeral procession was formed, and the remains conducted direct to Cataraqui Cemetery. Messrs. A. Macalister, Adam Main, Donald McKay, Geo. Davidson, Robt. Sellers and R. M. Rose were the pallbearers. The ministers in attendance were Revs. Prof. Mowat, Lang, Smith and Wilson.

THE CHURCHES.

The pulpit of the Primitive Methodist Church was supplied yesterday by the Rev. Mr. Amey, who preached under the auspices of the Sabbath School. In the morning he preached to children and young people from the text: "The lines are fallen to me in pleasant places." In the evening the discourse was directed to the Church from the words: "Go work to-day in my vineyard." Both sermons were calculated to do good—the morning sermon in educing gratitude, and the evening sermon in inciting to Christian labor, in obedience to God's calls, in compassion for humanity's needs, and in hope of success and reward. The congregations were scarcely as large as usual; the offertory was moderate and was appropriated to the School Fund, which already has a balance on the hands of the Treasurer.

Rev. K. M. Fenwick, of Kingston, preached in the Congregational Church both morning and evening.

Mr. Penman, a student of Kingston College, preaches on Sabbath afternoons in the Presbyterian Church, Bath. He ought to be a professor in a commercial college.

The Presbytery of Kingston will meet in Brock Street Church, Kingston, on the second Tuesday of July, at 2 p.m.

In the absense of Rev. Mr. Peacock, now in Europe, Rev. Mr. Brock preached in the Johnson Street Congregational Church yesterday.

The pulpit of the Wellington Street Congregational Church was occupied by Rev. Mr. Mackay, who preached two very earnest sermons.

Last evening Rev. J. Edward Gillmore lectured on "The Judgments of the Last Day" in the Catholic Apostolic Church. Our report of the lecture has been held over until to-morrow

SABBATH TEMPERANCE MEETING.

Mr. George Meadows spoke to temperance and christian workers, his words being based on the word of God: 'Whether ye eat or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God.' The mission of Christ to this world was one of benevolence, to preach liberty to the captive. Intemperance is an evil that holds its victims in chains of habit so firm that nothing short of divine grace can sever and set free. Temperance principles and intemperance are coming to a crisis, the one will have to give way before the other, and each are mustering their forces for the struggle. A man professing christianity can glorify God by indulging moderately, for it is hard to decide what is meant by this moderation, then let him go ahead; but if by his example any one for whom Christ died is led to drink, and finally is lost, Let that person beware and take heed to what they are doing, for they have to meet it another day. Great achievements can be and have been accomplished by prayer; but this must be followed by active labor. It is comparatively easy for a man to stand before an audience and speak of all the evils of intemperance, and of the duty to have it removed; but it is another thing to put those things into practice. Consistency is required on the part of the worker. A hypocrite is a detestable character, no matter in what he is found, whether in the church or Temperance society, or in worldly matters. There are always two sides to such persons, they are striving to suit all kinds of people that they meet and they sometimes do a great deal of harm before they are found out. Earnestness is required. Let people see that they mean what they say. Diligence is essential to success; not all heat and fire for a few days or at the end of a few weeks. Courage is required. Many, no doubt, might have been saved if they had been spoken to in time. Discretion and love are necessary so as to deal gently with the fallen and by kindness lead them not only to sign the pledge, but to Christ, who alone is able to keep all who come to Him. Young men, beware of those places that have a screen before the door to hide what is going on within.

Mr. Meadows was thanked for his instructive address.

The Rev. Mr. Elliott, President of the W.M. Conference, will address the meeting next Sabbath.

COLD.—Prof. Tice's predictions are proving tolerably accurate, the weather yesterday and to-day having been unseasonably cold, and with north-west winds and cloudy skies. Mr. Vennor's prophecy of a snow storm yesterday (which he was generally credited with, though probably he said nothing on the subject) failed charmingly here and a grateful community will probably freely excuse him. This is the fifteenth and half of the prediction of our having a cold May has been realized.

AUDITORS' REPORT.

Kingston, 7th April, 1876.

To His Worship the Mayor and the Council of the City of Kingston:

GENTLEMEN,—

We, the undersigned Auditors, having made a careful examination of the City Books and Accounts, beg to submit the following report:—

We compared the Tax Rolls, prepared by the City Clerk, with the Assessors' Rolls, and also checked the calculations of the Taxes, and found them strictly correct.

We carefully and minutely examined the Books of the City Chamberlain, and found them correct in every particular, and have much pleasure in testifying to the neatness and methodical manner in which they are kept.

We have prepared in duplicate and herewith present the following statement, viz.:—

No 1—Showing sources of Revenue and Ordinary Expenditure for the year 1875.
No 2—Detailed Statement of Receipts and Disbursements for the year 1875.
No 3—Balance Sheet showing Assets and Liabilities of the City on the 31st December, 1875.
No 4—Statement of Assessed Taxes for 1872
No 5— do do do 1873
No 6— do do do 1874
No 7— do do do 1875
No 8—Abstract of No 2
No 9—Abstract of No 3

We checked the Cash Book of the Police Magistrate, and found that the amounts entered therein for fines received have been duly paid over to the Chamberlain.

A number of apparently worthless accounts are carried forward in the City Books from year to year, which we respectfully suggest that the Chamberlain be requested to prepare a list of to lay before the Council, in order that he may receive authority therefrom to write them off.

We have audited and found correct the following Statements of the Kingston and Phillipsville Road, which we herewith present.

No 1—Balance Sheet for 1875.
No 2—Statement of Revenue and Expenditure.
No 3—Statement of the Treasurer's Receipts and Disbursements for 1875.

We also audited the Books of the Kingston Collegiate Institute and Public School Boards and found them correct.

All of which we respectfully submit.

J. E. CLARK, J. D. FERRIS, } Auditors.
