Mr Carrol, a lawyer, and a resident of Rome, N.Y., dropped dead to-day at Utica while in the funeral procession of his brother, who dropped dead on Wednesday. Their father and Mother's brother died in the same way.

AN ASTONISHED EMIGRANT.—"Frozen Canada!" exclaimed a newly arrived emigrant the other day. "Why," continued he, "when I left Liverpool, a fortnight ago, the weather was colder than it is here to-day. We had not seen the sun for a couple of months, and here you have, at the end of December, bright sunshine and April weather. The fellows that get up our English school-books ought to be hanged. The Canadians are pictured like Esquimaux, covered with furs from head to heel, but I don't see any of them."

VOTE FOR GILDERSLEEVE FOR MAYOR. VOTE EARLY.

The Daily News.

SATURDAY EVENING, JAN. 5.

Vote early on Monday morning for McIntyre, the People's Candidate.

Our local contemporary contains a very proper rebuke of the correspondent of the News whose elegant epistle appeared in Thursday's issue. Our contemporary thinks it should have been committed to the waste basket. True; and to so treat it was our original intention; but as a specimen of some of the communications addressed to editors of newspapers we thought it worthy of publication. We have seen many such samples, and so has our contemporary.

Unsuspecting clergymen are so frequently sold regarding the character of itinerant lecturers that it is thought by many that they should be more particular about letting every Tom, Dick and Harry who comes along into their pulpits. Referring to the case of the Hindoo convert Roy, now in the country, the Canada Presbyterian says: "It is time that before our clergymen took by the hand itinerant lecturers such as Mr Roy, they took a little trouble to find out their antecedents, and above all, have a look at their credentials."

THE MUNICIPAL CONTEST.

On Monday the annual municipal contest will take place, a Mayor and Twenty-one Aldermen having to be elected. We take it for granted that by this time those who intend to vote have arrived at the conclusion regarding the candidates of their choice for the Mayoralty. We have nothing to add to what we have already stated on the subject, further than to urge the friends of Mr McIntyre to work energetically and continuously from the opening until the close of the poll. They may make up their minds that his opponents will do so—that they will exhibit the same zeal on the day of polling as they have manifested in canvassing, during the present week especially. Various are the influences that are being exerted to defeat Mr McIntyre, but we feel certain that if those who have already promised their support to him remain steadfast, there is not much doubt regarding the result of the contest being in his favour. To secure his election, therefore, let all his friends who can possibly spare the time be early at the polls on Monday morning, and after they have recorded their votes let them render such assistance as lies in their power.

In each Ward of the city there will be an Aldermanic contest. The retirement of Alds. Gildersleeve and Power in Sydenham Ward, has induced three new candidates to enter the field, namely, Mr Samuel Woods, Mr J. A. Kerch and Mr J. P. Gildersleeve. Ald. McRoskie seeks re-election. The electors of Frontenac Ward have variety enough to choose from. In addition to their present representatives, Aldermen Metcalfe, Pense and McCammon, Messrs. J. B. Forsyth, Owen Tierney and A. McConaghy seek their suffrages. In Ontario Ward besides Aldermen Harty, Clements, and McDermott, each of whom seeks re-election, Mr William Wilson is a candidate. In Cataraqui Ward Ald. Noble does not come forward again, but Messrs. Allen and Campbell do. The new candidates in the Ward are Messrs. W. B. Anglin, James D. Thompson and Michael Morrison. St. Lawrence Ward has one new candidate, Mr Tunis L. Snook. Aldermen Drennan, Price and Dupuis are all in the field again. Of course being a candidate for the Mayoralty, Ald. McIntyre is not a candidate in Rideau Ward. In it Aldermen Carson and Asselstine desire to be returned again, as do the following new candidates: Messrs. Carnovsky, Dr. Fee and T. W. McCrea. Besides Aldermen Walkem, Gaskin and Mossers in Victoria Ward, Mr Vandewater is a candidate.

The electors should make it a point to record their votes as early in the day as possible and each one should consider it his duty to exercise his franchise.

HOW TO VOTE.

The electors of Kingston should be pretty familiar by this time with the proper mode of marking ballot papers. They have had experience enough in doing so to make them perfect. As at every election, however, ballots are rejected in consequence of their not being properly marked, it may be as well to remark that the only mark that should be made is the cross (X) to the right hand side of the name of the candidate for whom the ballot is intended to be cast. In the Mayoralty contest Mr Gildersleeve's name will appear first on the ballot paper, of which, minus the cross, the following is a fac simile:

	FOR MAYOR.
	GILDERSLEEVE.
1	CHARLES F. GILDERSLEEVE, City of Kingston, Steamboat Owner.
	McINTYRE.
2	JOHN McINTYRE, of the City of Kingston, Barrister-at-Law.	X

The following is the clause of the Act regarding the manner of voting:

Upon receiving from the returning officer the ballot paper so prepared as aforesaid, the person receiving the same shall forthwith proceed into the compartment provided for the purpose, and shall then and therein mark his ballot paper in the manner mentioned in the directions contained in schedule B to this Act, by placing a cross on the right hand side, opposite the name of any candidate for whom he desires to vote, thus X; and he shall then fold the ballot paper across, so as to conceal the names of the candidates, and the marks upon the face of such paper, and so as to expose the initials of the returning officer and leaving the compartment shall, without delay, and without showing the front to anyone or so displaying the ballot paper as to make known to any person the names of the candidates for or against whom he has marked his vote, deliver such ballot paper so folded to the returning officer, who shall, without unfolding the same, or in any way disclosing the names of the candidates, or the marks made by such elector, verify his own initials, and at once deposit the same in the ballot box in the presence of all persons entitled to be present and then present in the polling place; and the voter shall forthwith leave the polling place.

In the cases of persons unable to write or suffering from any physical affliction which interferes with his ability to mark his ballot paper the following provision is made:

In case of an application by any person claiming to be entitled to vote, who is incapacitated by blindness or other physical cause from marking his ballot paper, or in case of any person claiming to be entitled to vote who makes a declaration that he is unable to read, the proceedings shall be as follows:—

1. The returning officer shall, in the presence of the agents of the candidates, cause the vote of such person to be marked on a ballot paper in manner directed by such person, and shall place the ballot paper in the ballot box;

2. The returning officer shall state or cause to be stated in the voters' list, by an entry opposite the name of such person in the proper column of the said voters' list, that the vote of such person is marked in pursuance of this section, and the reason why it is so marked.

Mr McIntyre's supporters will see to it that to the right of his name they simply make a mark as above. There must be no writing nor any mark save the above put on the ballot paper. The process of voting is very simple, and therefore it is not necessary that mistakes should be made. In voting for Aldermen the names, as in the case of the candidates for the Mayoralty, are arranged alphabetically. It must be remembered, however, that no elector can vote for more than three candidates. When he receives his ballot paper he will make a mark, as above, to the right hand side of the name of each of the candidates for whom he intends to vote. It is not obligatory on the elector to vote for three Aldermanic candidates. He can vote for one, two, or three, just as he pleases.

Persons who are entitled to vote for Aldermen in various Wards cannot, it is almost unnecessary to say, repeat their vote for Mayor in different Wards. Clause 3 of the Municipal Ballot Act of 1875-76 provides that an elector voting for Mayor SHALL DO SO IN THE WARD IN WHICH HE RESIDES, IF QUALIFIED TO VOTE THEREIN; OR OTHERWISE, WHERE HE FIRST VOTES, AND THERE ONLY.

Persons voting on income only, it is provided by the Act, must on applying for a ballot paper produce to the Returning-Officer the receipt of the Treasurer for the amount of his taxes on his income.

Returning officers and agents employed at the different polling places may vote at the polling places where they are employed. The Clerk will furnish them with the necessary certificates upon application.

MR GILDERSLEEVE'S TWO ORGANS—WHAT'S UP!

We referred yesterday to the fact that a special campaign organ had been started in the interest of Mr Gildersleeve. We thought the incident somewhat remarkable, considering the fact that our regular contemporary had espoused the cause of Mr Gildersleeve and had advocated his claims. Surely there was not room to find fault with it, as it puffed Mr Gildersleeve to the skies, and urged his claims for the position of Mayor with all the zeal it could command. We have heard it said that our contemporary was not "dead in love" with Mr Gildersleeve when it was originally announced that he, for certain good causes and considerations well known to his chief backers, had been induced to oppose Mr McIntyre. Whether that be so or not we do not know. However, its advocacy of his claims afterwards was all that his most ardent admirers could desire. Mr Gildersleeve's special organ, the Truth Teller, made its first appearance on Tuesday. The second number was chiefly devoted to a eulogy of the claims of the member for the local Legislature as well as those of his friend, Mr Gildersleeve, which some of the unbelieving, who are disposed to be sceptical regarding the "no politics in municipal elections" cry of the Mackenzie-Mowatites in this city, regarded as a little bit of political artful dodgery. But, melancholy to relate, it would seem that the regular and special organs of Mr Gildersleeve are not quite harmonious in their sentiments. In the regular organ last evening was contained the following slap at the special organ:

"Is Truth-Teller all its name implies?"

Now, this is an indirect way of saying that the special organ has been wandering from the path of truthfulness. We do not know at what statement made by the special organ the regular organ takes the fling: Perhaps at the following:

"This candidate (Charles Fuller Gildersleeve) for the mayoralty of Kingston in 1878, it is no disparagment of Ald. McIntyre to say, is much his superior in practical ability and in fitness for the office, for it is no fault of Ald. McIntyre that his abilities are inferior to those of Ald. Gildersleeve. . . . The fact cannot be gainsayed, and the opinion of every free and independent elector is precisely that of Truth-Teller."

Lest they should quarrel openly as the result of the regular organ's impeachment of the special organ, we take the liberty of reminding them of Dr. Watts' well known words:

Whatever brawls disturb the street
There should be peace at home.

Birds in their little nests agree;
And 'tis a painful sight
When children of one family
Fall out, and chide, and fight.

LATEST WAR NEWS.

GREAT BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE.

QUESTION OF FINAL SETTLEMENT

Powers not Disposed to be Ignored.

The Russian Reply to England.

The Manchester Guardian's London despatch says: The supporters of Lord Beaconsfield's policy contend that Earl Carnarvon's speech is intended not to expound but to influence the Cabinets views. There is some justification for this judgement. It is no secret that the Earl of Derby's November speech was a surprise to the Premier, and also a source of intense annoyance. But it is likewise well known that the Premier has been giving instructions to Mr Layard, our Ambassador at Constantinople, over the head of the Foreign Secretary. If Earl Derby attempted to force the hand of one section of the Cabinet in November last, it is equally probable that Earl Carnarvon may be resorting to a similar expedient, now that the dangers of the situation have become more definite. Such are the views of those who believe that Earl Carnarvon's speech expressed no more than a personal opinion. I am bound to say they are in a minority. Some of Earl Carnarvon's colleagues may differ from him on such questions as the justice or wisdom of the Crimean War, but they are perfectly unanimous as to the necessity of this country having a voice in the final settlement. To-day (Thursday) and yesterday the Cabinet are understood to have addressed themselves to some of the difficulties involved in the means for bringing them unanimously to a successful issue. The terms of peace are not now unknown to them, and, as represented here, they are much more moderate than expected. According to one account which is accepted in well informed quarters, the neutralization of the Dardanelles is not even mentioned; but there is an accession of territory in Bessarabia to the old frontier. I suppose the independence of Servia and Roumania, the acession of territory to Montenegro, and the cession of Batoum and Kars, are part of the scheme. The fate of the Turkish fleet is not within the proposal. That will be decided when the Russian Government requires compensation. With the new light thus thrown upon the situation, it would not be surprising if our Government advised the Sultan to make a direct appeal to Russia.

Note Earl Derby, in his speech in November last, stated that the Government saw no reason to depart from its neutrality, and he did not think Constantinople or the Suez Canal was in danger. When the Government saw a reasonable opportunity it would do what it could to bring about peace.

The Times, referring to these conflicting interpretations, says:—There ought to be an end to the mystery and ambiguity which have of late shaken every interest in the country. The time has more than come when the Government should cease, whether at home or abroad, to have two voices. The public have no wish to inquire too curiously into the idiosyncrasies of individuals or the secrets of Cabinets, but the serious and vital interests of the country would be imperilled by any prolongation of this ambiguity, and the public would justly resent any fresh encouragement. The recent agitation policy upon which the country is resolved, and to which the Ministry are pledged, is one recommended, not only by expediency, but by justice and honour, and any means of deviation from it can no longer be endorsed.

A Syra despatch says:—The Greek Minister of Foreign Affairs has demanded of the Powers the admission of Greece to the Congress preliminary to the conclusion of Peace. It is said that Lord Derby has recognised as just Greece's claim to admission if other secondary States are admitted. Italy likewise replied favourably. Server Pasha, Turkish Minister of Foreign Affairs, has sent a note to London protesting against the participation of Greece.

Le Journal de St Petersbury says Russia could not, in the interests of peace, itself do otherwise than refuse all intervention, and make it clearly understood that peace must be discussed between the belligerents. The Journal points out that any injury by Russia to the Suez Canal is quite out of the question; and if peace negotiations were opened now a Russian occupation of Constantinople would be equally out of the question. If there are any other points upon which British interests might be affected, they must be of minor importance, and a frank and loyal explanation between the Russian and English Governments would lead to an understanding on the subject without interrupting the negotiations.

A Paris correspondent observes that the claim of Greece to be represented in any European conference really points to the acquisition of Thessaly and Epirus, and possibly Crete. The Porte will strongly urge on the Powers the danger of allowing the question to be brought forward, as it is calculated to create fresh complications fatal to peace.

The Edinburgh Scotsman's London correspondent understands that Lord Derby will inform Prince Gortschakoff that the British Government is decidedly opposed to Russia making peace without the conditions being first communicated to England and the other Great Powers.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 5.—Russia has informed the Powers of the nature of the reply she has given Turkey in answer to England's overtures for peace.

A despatch from Constantinople states that if Russia rejects mediation Turkey will await the meeting of the British Parliament before making direct overtures to Russia.

London, Jan. 5.—It is stated that Russia has repeatedly before and since the Conference endeavoured to negotiate secretly terms of peace with Turkey hostile to English interests. It is thought that Russia will probably refuse to inform England of her armistice condition.

OSGOODE.

The Supposed Murder.

Osgoode Station, Ont., Jan. 4.—It was reported here yesterday morning that an old man named James McMullen, of this place, had murdered his wife by stabbing her with a pitchfork, while he was in a fit of insanity, and considerable excitement prevailed. Mr James Beamon, coroner, held an inquest, at which it transpired that the woman had died suddenly in a byre whilst milking a cow. Drs. Roche and Kidd and other witnesses were examined whose testimony went to show that death had resulted from natural causes, no traces of external violence being visible. The jury returned a verdict in accordance with the evidence adduced.

A SAD STORY.—The Dundas Banner says:—The close of a sad tragedy was enacted on Monday last, when Elizabeth Curley, of West Flamboro, aged twenty-one years, died at the residence of her grandfather, Mr Isaac Poole, 3rd concession. It will be remembered that about two years ago a young man named Jesse Borer committed suicide, on account, it was supposed, of some misunderstanding with the deceased, they being engaged to be married. Since that sad occurrence Miss Curley gradually sank into a decline, and died no doubt from grieving over the unfortunate death of her lover.

PRESIDENT HAYES.

His Policy and Relations to His Party.

New York, Jan. 5.—The Herald says:—"The President is reported to have said to old political friends that he has seen no reason to change in the least the course which he laid out for himself before he came to Washington. If the Republican leaders had at once heartily accepted the Southern policy, the solid South would have crumpled to pieces before this. It is his strong desire to see the Republican Party represented in every State by a share of the intelligence and property of all classes. He believes that as soon as the Southern men are convinced that the Republican Party will not assume a hostile sectional attitude, this will come about. He sees he has made mistakes in details; but his general policy, he is persuaded, is not only for the best interests of the country, but has the sympathy of the people and the body of the Republican Party, and he believes the people will presently openly adhere to this policy, as necessary to their security, welfare and prosperity. The reform of the Civil Service is necessarily slow work. The public service is now more correctly and effectively conducted than at any period since the war; and while he is by no means satisfied that the highest standard has been reached, he is satisfied with the results so far attained. He believes that as the New York Custom House is the largest business establishment in the country, not only is it the true place to make the real beginning of reform, but that, when this is done the effect upon other Government offices will be so great as to make the work of reform easier everywhere. He is said to disclaim very positively hostility to anyone."

THE FENIAN PRISONERS.

Two More Released.

London, Jan. 4.—Rumours have been lately current that the Government has pardoned all the Fenian prisoners. These rumours, however, appear to be exaggerated.

The Standard announces that Colour-Sergeant McCarthy and Private O'Brien, sentenced to life penal servitude in 1866, have been released on ticket-of-leave. Corporal Chambers, undergoing a similar sentence, will be released next week. The prison governors, however, have received no intimation concerning the release of O'Meara, Condon and Melody, undergoing sentences for complicity in the Manchester murder, nor of the probable release of other prisoners detained for complicity in alleged Fenian outrages, but who were not convicted of treason, felony, or any military offence. McCarthy and O'Brien were received in London by the Irish Political Prisoners' Visiting Committee. They are well, but look prematurely aged. No condition has been made as to their residence outside of United Kingdom.

Stanley Honoured at Cairo.

Alexandria, Jan. 5.—Sir George Elliot gave a banquet in honour of Stanley at Cairo on Thursday. The Khedive visited the banquet hall. In addition to the Grand Cross of Medjidie, the Khedive presented Stanley with decorations of another grade, which enables him to take the title of Grand Officer of the Order of the Medjidie. The Khedival Geographical Society also gave Stanley a grand reception last evening. Stanley arrived in Alexandria on Friday afternoon, and will remain a few days. He will sail for Brindisi on the 7th, and proceed to Rome. The Geographical Society of Marseilles are preparing a grand reception. Grant is hourly expected at Alexandria.

The Silver Question.

New York, Jan. 5.—The World's Washington special says: The question of avoiding the veto of the Bill for the remonetization of silver was considered in the Cabinet yesterday. The discussion indicated very clearly that the President and Cabinet were opposed to unlimited remonetization, but favourable to the restoring of the silver dollar with the restriction of a legal tender character. The Bill will probably be framed at the Treasury Department for the introduction in the Senate as a compromise measure, or else an effort will be made when the Bland Bill comes up to amend it so as to make a silver dollar equal to a greenback the legal tender to the same extent as the United States Treasury notes, but this will not be done, however, if the amendment prevails restricting the legal tender to the limit of a dollar.

Stratford Herald:—"As a slight token of his services in putting up the Neebing Hotel job, Mr Reid has been made Collector of Customs for the port of London. As the Government grows decrepit it grows shameless."

MAR'S MOONS.

When the telegraph announced the discovery by Prof. Hall that our neighbouring planet had two satellites, and the despatch was read the next morning at ten thousand American breakfast tables, what think you was the effect upon the hearers? Some colloquy similar to the following was sure to occur: "Mars has two moons, hey? Pass me the milk, Kitty. Strange, isn't it, that astronomers never saw them before. Another chop, please. I wonder what they'll discover next? Those corn cakes are excellent. What's the latest from Europe?" We have become so accustomed to startling discoveries and announcements, that we take them as a matter of course. Even truth must appear in flaming colours to make herself seen. The virtues of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets have been tested in ten thousand households, whose inmates will tell you that they consider the discovery and introduction of these remedies of far greater importance to the world than the moons of Mars.

Shipman, Ill., June 13, 1876.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N.Y.:

Dear Sir,—Last fall our daughter, aged 18, was fast sinking with consumption. Different physicians had pronounced her case incurable. I obtained one half dozen bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery. She commenced improving at once, and is now as sound as a pine knot.

Yours respectfully,
REV. ISAAC N. AUGUSTINE.
