VESSEL PURCHASE. - We understand that the schooner Annie M. Foster has been purchased at Port Burwell by J. F. Allen of this city. She arrived in the harbour last night.

THE AQUARIUM. - W. W. Rideout opens the Aquarium to-morrow morning for the sale of oysters, fish and fruit. The price and quality of the goods will be made satisfactory, and he should be well patronized.

STREET NUMBERING.—The work of numbering the streets is being proceeded with rapidly, and we understand the residents are showing great willingness to facilitate the work. It will prove of great advantage.

THE "TRUE WITNESS."—The Montreal Star says: "Negotiations are in progress, if not completed, for the sale of the True Witness, Mr Kirwan, the proprietor, retiring from journalism." It is rumoured he is to receive a Government situation.

FOREIGN MISSIONS.—It is intended to hold a Foreign Missionary Meeting at St Georges' Hall next Tuesday evening. The Bishop of Ontario will preside, and addresses will be delivered by several of the clergy who will be in the city attending the committee meetings.

HEYWOOD'S AMERICAN MINSTRELS.—This company has arrived in town, and the fine band in connection with it paraded the streets this morning. The troupe is very highly spoken of, the Toronto Globe giving it much praise. We hope there will be a large audience this evening.

PERSONAL.—Ex-Lieut.-Governor Morris, who has been in the city attending Convocation at Queen's University with Mrs Morris left by the afternoon train. Mr J. M. Hamilton, County Crown Attorney, Sault Ste. Marie, who has been in Kingston for the past few days visiting his friends, left for home this afternoon.

SUGGESTIVE.—The Boston Transcript reports this suggestive bit of conversation: "Don't you find that it hurts your lawn to let your children play on it?" asked a friend of a suburban the other day. "Yes,' answered, the gentleman addressed, "but it doesn't hurt the children." What are lawns for if not for enjoyment?

THE BERGER FAMILY.—This talented family will appear for one evening on Monday next at the City Hall. It is the first appearance of the company in Kingston. The performances are very highly spoken of by our contemporaries. We have no doubt that on their first visit to Kingston they will receive such a greeting as will induce them to come again.

A TOSS.—Two young lads came trotting out of the Albion Hotel yard this morning on horseback, intending to give the animals an airing. They trotted along Montreal to Queen street, when the horses broke into a gallop down the latter street. Below St. Paul's Church the two lads were tossed off their steeds into the mud, and the horses trotted off without them. The boys were not hurt.

COUNTY LICENSES.—The following persons have been granted liquor licenses for the County of Frontenac:—Portsmouth, James Short and Patrick Quinn; Kingston, C. Counter and Anthony English; Storrington, John Abrams and John Teeples; Pittsburg, Ellen Durno, S. Smith and E. Cunningham; Wolfe Island, Hiram O. Hitchcock, T. Horne and R. Payne. There are none granted for Garden Island or Howe Island.

HIGH SCHOOL INSPECTION.—Mr J. B. Buchan, M.A., Inspector of High Schools, inspected the High School of this city on Wednesday and Thursday. The examination was a thorough one, as evidenced by the fact that he stayed two days. After the work was over, the pupils were gathered in the Assembly Room, and Mr Buchan delivered a short address. He closed by granting a holiday to the scholars, in consequence of which the school is closed to-day.

A New Jersey paper sharply criticises the picture of the milk-maid in the Scribner's for January, "because the girl is sitting on the wrong side of the cow." Ah, well, that's all right. Maybe it was a left-handed cow.—Hawkeye. Go to! Scribner knew that whichever side he put her on some fellow would swear that she ought to be on the udder side.—Philadelphia Post. You fellows seem to be enjoying a pleasant teat-a-teat.—Camden Post. Gentlemen treat not too long in this milky way.—Watertown Despatch.

There is only one other case on the docket, so that the Court will probably rise this evening.

ST. PAUL'S SUNDAY SCHOOL CONCERT.—St. Paul's school house was well filled last evening on the occasion of the concert and readings. A very fine programme was gone through most creditably. Mr A. Le Richeux occupied the chair and introduced the performers to the audience. Beautiful songs were sung by Mrs O'Reilly, Miss Burton, Mrs Rudston, Miss I. Davy, Miss Alice Savage, Miss E. McDonald, Mr Phippen and Mr Humphrey. Mrs O'Reilly, Miss Burton and Mr Phippen were warmly encored. There was a couple of instrumental pieces by Mr Brady's quartette, both of which were finely rendered. Mr Oldham played two of his favourité pieces in his usual excellent style. Robert and John Shannon played a pretty duet, and Misses T. and L. Savage also contributed another. Mr J. L. Morrison kindly read two pieces, one of them, "The Bells," being accompanied by an imitation of bells played at the other end of the room, which had a very fine effect. Mr J. B. McLaren, M.A., also contributed a reading which was much appreciated. On motion of the Rev. Mr Carey a vote of thanks was tendered to the performers, and after singing "God Save the Queen" the meeting dispersed.

ENTERTAINMENT.—The closing entertainment for the season was given by the Young People's Association of the Congregational Church last evening to a good audience. The Rev. Dr. Jackson presided, and opened the proceedings with a brief address. The programme was a very interesting one, and consisted of music by the choir, two solos by Mrs H. R. Moodie, songs by Miss Galloway, Mrs Jackson and Miss Savage, and Messrs J. Galloway and T. Hendry. Miss McFarlane read a new prize poem from the Montreal Witness, and other readings were given by Mr W. D. Hendry and Master George Henderson. Mrs S. H. Grafftey played a piano solo with taste. Mr W. Cunningham played the accompaniments, rendering valuable service. The meeting was very pleasant and was much enjoyed by all present.

No. 1 COMPANY 14TH P.W.O. RIFLES.—This Company paraded at the Drill Shed last evening to receive the prizes presented by Lieut.-Col. Worsley, B.M., and Captains Minnes, Johnson and Gordon, formerly in command of the Company, the winners being Private T. Harold, Private R. McIlroy, Corporal S. Kelly, and Private H. S. Crumley. The presentations were made by Mrs Worsley, after which cheers were given for Mrs Col. Worsley. The Company was put through a number of movements by Captain Horsey, which were admirably performed. The manual and bayonet exercises were exceedingly well done. If all volunteer captains would take the same trouble to keep their companies efficient as Captain Horsey, the Force would be in a much better condition than it is at present.

YOUNG MEN'S LIBERAL CLUB.—A meeting of young men belonging to the Reform Party was held in the Hall, Golden Lion Block, last evening for the inauguration of a Young Men's Liberal Club for the city. The attendance was large. The following officers were elected: President, Mr E. J. B. Pense; Vice Presidents, Mr R. Carson, Mr J. A. McMahon, and Mr Robert Shaw; Secretary, Mr James Galloway, Jr.; Treasurer, Mr J. B. McIver. The Councillors are to be elected at the next meeting. Several speeches were made during the evening.

DEATH.—We regret to hear the death of Joseph, eldest son of Mr Patrick Smith, which took place to-day. Deceased has been in ill-health for some time so that his death was not altogether unexpected. A good deal of sympathy is felt for the parents in their bereavement. The funeral will take place on Sunday at two o'clock.

FRENCH MISSIONS.—The Rev. L. N. Beaudry, of Montreal, lectured at Portsmouth Methodist Church last evening in the interest of the French Missions of the Methodist Church. He gave a very interesting address. Subscriptions and collection amounting to upwards of $60 were received in aid of the Missions.

THE HONORARY DEGREES OF QUEEN'S COLLEGE.

The New Doctors of Divinity.

Queen's College has been very chary of granting her honorary degrees. In the long list of her five or six hundred graduates there are only between twenty and thirty Doctors of Divinity. Of these eighteen are alive, and living in England, Scotland or Canada. They belong to the Church of England, the Church of Scotland, the Methodist Church, and the Presbyterian Church in Canada, and all of them are men distinguished in one department or another.

With regard to the four gentlemen thus honoured on Wednesday afternoon, every one admired the dignity and propriety with which the Vice-Principal introduced them, and the felicitous terms in which he gave expression to some of their claims to the degree. We have much pleasure in being able to make our readers acquainted with the latest additions to the roll of graduates, by means of the terse sketches of them given by the Rev. Professor Williamson at the recent public meeting of Convocation on the occasion of their laureation.

REV. DR. SEDGWICK.

Mr Principal,—The Senate has adjudged as worthy to receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity the Rev. Dr. Sedgwick, minister of Musquodoboit, Nova Scotia. Mr Sedgwick was ordained to the ministry of the Gospel in 1836, and has since laboured devotedly and successfully, first in Aberdeen, and then for nigh thirty years in Nova Scotia. He has repeatedly given evidence of his academic tastes and scholarly attainments in many public lectures of great merit, and in publications that have had a deservedly wide circulation both in Scotland and Nova Scotia. As a preacher and expositor he is distinguished by sobriety of judgment, originality of thought, freshness of style, and earnestness and eloquence of appeal. He has always been a faithful and successful pastor and valuable member of the Courts of the Church. His brethren in the Synod of the Maritime Provinces gave him the highest possible proof they could give of their affection, confidence and esteem by unanimously electing him their first Moderator after the late Union, and by re-electing him the following year.

The Principal responded as follows: It gives me—but recently a co Presbyter of Dr. Sedgwick—peculiar pleasure to instruct the Registrar to enroll my honoured father's name on our roll of graduates.

REV. DR. BAXTER.

Dr. Williamson then proceeded: Mr Principal, I present to you as worthy to receive the honour of Doctor of Divinity the Rev. John Cansh Baxter, minister of Stanley Street Presbyterian Church, Montreal. Mr Baxter took a high place as a student in the University of Glasgow, being especially distinguished in the Greek and Mathematical classes. In Divinity he was ranked amongst the foremost students of his years. For twenty years he was a successful pastor in Dundee, Scotland. During his residence in Montreal he has proved himself a diligent student, an able preacher, an instructive and eloquent lecturer, and a loyal servant of the Church. Mr Baxter's publications, among which may be named "Athens in Apostolic Times," "The Greatness of Missions," and "Notes of Travel in the Holy Land" are sufficient proofs of his literary and Theological culture.

Dr. Baxter was then robed with the hood by Professor Dupuis, and acknowledged the honour in a single sentence.

REV. DR. WARDROPE.

Dr. Williamson proceeded: Mr Principal, I present to you the Reverend Thomas Wardrope, Pastor of Chalmers' Church, Guelph, and one of the earliest and best students of Queen's College, as worthy to receive the honour of Doctor of Divinity. Mr Wardrope proved himself to be a student of untiring diligence and high attainments while pursuing his undergraduate course. During part of the time he discharged the duties of tutor in connection with this College to the profit of the students and the satisfaction of the Professors. On account of his varied gifts and qualifications the Synod in 1845 gave instructions to the Presbytery of Kingston to expedite his trials for license. During the whole of his subsequent career he has been distinguished as a scholar, a theologian and faithful minister of Jesus Christ. For many years Pastor of Knox Church, Ottawa, he won the esteem not only of his congregation, but of his brethren in the ministry and his fellow citizens by his attainments, his eloquence, his fidelity and his earnestness in carrying on every good work which had in view the welfare of his fellow men. The growth of the Presbyterian Church in Ottawa is to be traced in a great measure, humanly speaking, to his devoted labours there. Since his removal to Guelph he has maintained the high character which he had previously won. As a member of the Church Courts he has ever been conciliatory in disposition and wise in counsel. His present official position as Moderator of the Synod of Toronto and Kingston shows the esteem in which he is held by his brethren, and the lectures and sermons which he has published evidence his merit as a scholar and a divine.

Dr. Wardrope's response was peculiarly happy. He recalled the days when he had set out to travel to Kingston to attend the first session of Queen's College, the contrast between the difficulties then and the railways now, the small number of students, and Professor Liddell's dignified and painstaking course of lectures to a Divinity class consisting of one luckless student. He rejoiced in the success that was attending Queen's College, and expressed his conviction that it was to do a great work for the Church and the country. On sitting down he was greeted with rounds of applause by the students.

As we informed our readers yesterday, the Rev. Dr. Wardrope has since been unanimously elected one of the Trustees of the College, and there can be no doubt that the Board has made a wise choice.

Mr. Principal, the Senate have adjudged worthy to receive the degree of Doctor of Divinity the Rev. William Fraser, of Bondhead. Mr. Fraser is a native of Picton, famous as the birthplace of some of our most distinguished clergymen. He was very early settled in his present charge in the County of Simcoe, where he has for a long period (his ministry now extending over forty years), been eminently successful in promoting the cause of his Divine Master, and securing the respect and esteem of all who know him. He was first chosen Clerk of the United Presbyterian Synod. He was thereafter, on the union of that body with the Canada Presbyterian Church, associated with Dr. Reid as Joint Clerk of the united body, and he now holds, with Dr. Reid and our much loved friend Professor Mackerras, the same office in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The Senate have deemed him worthy to receive the Degree of Doctor of Divinity in recognition at once of his varied gifts, his literary and Theological attainments, his knowledge of ecclesiastical law, and the valuable services which he has rendered to the Church.

THE STORY OF TWO LITTLE EMIGRANTS.

No people know what is in store for them. Every day brings something new, and there are thousands of instances about us where men are poor one hour and rich the next. But to a man who receives such fortune people do not show their appreciation for his luck, as when two little lads, apparently homeless, friendless and poor, find a treasure laid at their tired feet in the early and hard struggle through a cold, and to them often dangerous and treacherous, world. Two little boys came to this country from England two years ago with Miss Rye. Their names were Sam and Johnny Gill. They were picked up in the streets of an English town, poor and alone, by a compassionate and kind lady, whose motherly heart yearned towards the little lads so deserted and poor. They were brought over to this country and found their way into the Boys' Home in Hamilton. They did not long remain there. Their bright eyes and intelligent faces attracted notice, and one of them, Samuel, was taken into the country by a farmer. The life was new to him, so far away from old associations and home, and the little fellow often sorrowed in secret and showed the traces of his sadness to his employer. He was whipped and abused, and in his extremity came back to the Boys' Home. Soon afterwards Mr Peter Fisher, a kind hearted and wealthy farmer residing in the neighborhood of Nelson, took the lad home, treated him kindly, and in a very short time the boy formed a warm attachment for his employer. In the meantime the other brother had got employment on a train running between this city and Buffalo. He was a sharp lad, and made his living selling papers. He got along very nicely, and was quite popular with travellers. Little did they think, as they went on their way perfectly satisfied with their lot, and determined in their young minds to work their way manfully on, what fortune was in store for them. It appears the lads had an uncle in the old country who was very wealthy. He had an adopted son, on whom he bestowed all his love and patronage, ignoring the two little orphan nephews who were taken away to struggle among strangers in a strange land. His adopted son, however, turned out badly and acted in such a manner as to lose the confidence and regard of the old man. About a year after the two little lads were imported to this country he lay down on his bed to die, and as he felt his life ebbing away from him he bethought him of the two little orphans so far away and so shamefully neglected. In his will he left them the sum of £25,000 each, together with some landed property. At the very time the uncle touched the will with his pen the little nephews may have been weeping, homesick and hungry, separated from him by the broad Atlantic. Since that time, it is said, $400 a year has been sent out to them to the Boys' Home in this city. They have received none of the money, but it is probable that it was kept in trust for the boy strangers till such time as they would know how to use it to the best advantage. A few days ago a gentleman from England, who is acquainted with the circumstances, arrived in Hamilton to take them home. The younger brother went willingly, and is now nearing the shores of his native land, but the elder one refused to leave his employer till the spring work was over. This speaks volumes for Mr Fisher, and proves that he must have been extremely kind and fatherly towards the boy immigrant. Spring work and seeding having commenced, the grateful lad refused to leave Mr Fisher until the lull in work began, when he will leave Canada to join his brother at home.

There are none who will read the above account but will sympathize with the boys, and congratulate them in their good fortune. It is to be hoped that nothing will happen to the little fellows, and that they will live long to enjoy the pleasant change that has come to them.

Religious Instruction in the Public Schools.

In a supplementary memorandum on "Religious Instruction," issued recently, the Hon. Adam Crooks, Minister of Education, says:—"Referring to my memorandum on religious instruction in the Public Schools, there seems to be a misunderstanding with reference to my interpretation of the law and regulations as to the reading of portions of the Holy Scriptures as part of the ordinary exercises of the school. This arises in part from the form of expression used in my summary of the law and regulations. That, when properly considered with the text of the law and of the regulations will be found to go no further than the regulations themselves recommended, namely, that the daily exercises of each public school be opened and closed by the reading of portions of Scripture, and by Prayers. This is repeated amongst the powers and duties of teachers, who are directed to see that these regulations shall be observed. It will, however, be noticed that this is entirely recommendatory to trustees, and my opinion on the Sombra case clearly expresses that these regulations were not imperative, so that they must be carried out by the trustees, but recommendatory only. My reference to the two questions put by the deputation should be read by these considerations, which were explicitly put forward in order that the grounds for coinciding to to the limited extent mentioned, might be understood by all parties with whom any responsiblity in this matter rests. It is not intended by any expression of mine, that the reading, exposition, or instruction in the nature of an exposition of the text, and that explanations should be limited to the better understanding simply of the words used."
