To a Young and Lovely Lady Doctor.

BY A SUFFERER.

My quean, I've seen you laying low
The wild, intractable bronchitis,
Fierce mortilli you've forced to go,
And devastating parotitis.
Before you hordeolum flees,
And doubtless you could give a praise
For stemming the intricacies
Of complicated epistaxis.

Mayhap your practiced skill disdains
The milder ills we call neuralgic,
But though you conquer subtle pains,
Otalgic—ay, and odontalgic—
And though your art may be displayed
In curbing rapid ecchymosis—
My case is one in which you've made
An inefficient diagnosis.

Where'er your Æsculpian lore
You exercise in my direction,
You seem to utterly ignore
My fervent cardiac affection,
And only you can cure it, miss,
Or give relief in any measure.
A neat prescription such as this
I'd take with something more than pleasure:

As "Recipe, Infus; amor,
Of banns comp: 3 (or license single),
Of parsons 1, of bride maids 4,
Of groomsmen 4, (taget) or mingle;
Then drop in speeches till they're done,
And, as the patient takes to starting,
Of trunks a heap, a carriage 1,
And opus od—the tears at parting."

Correspondence

FATHER STAFFORD AND THE IRISH CANADIAN.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE DAILY NEWS:

Dear Sir,—Father Stafford said none of the things imputed to him in the Irish Canadian of last week. He made no allusion even to the New York Tablet, or to Mr Curtin. He did not say the editor of the True Witness was an "infidel." He rather complimented that paper. He did not say the editor of the Irish Canadian was an "infidel." He merely said his conduct and language towards the Archbishop was infamous. He said not one word on the merits of the Separate School troubles in Toronto. He only asked the people of Toronto to stop airing their education linen under the public gaze until they had it thoroughly washed. He did say the Irish World was an infidel paper, and the worst in America.

ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

Lindsay, 22nd June, 1878.

Band Tournament at Montreal.

(Correspondence of the News.)

Sir,—Having taken advantage of the excursion to Montreal, I shall give you a few notes of what goes on here within the next few days. The excursion was not as well patronized as the extremely low fare deserved it should be, and the small number who went from Kingston seemed to show that although $2.55 for a return ticket to Montreal was a fare calculated to suit the depressed state of affairs, yet even that little sum is not to be recklessly squandered these hard times. Only 75 came from Kingston, and 316 were picked up along the whole line from London to Montreal. The journey was long and tedious. We were delayed half an hour at one place by the steam running down, and a long stoppage was made at Brockville, so that although we left Kingston at about three o'clock in the afternoon, we did not arrive at Montreal till half-past twelve. The only point of interest on the road was the little village of St. Ann's, where, after a long interval, seeing the broad expanse of the St. Lawrence again, sweeping onward to the ocean, we felt as if we were greeting an old and dear acquaintance. This little place, which is a specimen of French Canadian villages, consisting of a large Roman Catholic Church and a cluster of small white huts, derives a special interest from Tom Moore's "Canadian Boat Song:"

"Faintly as tolls the evening chime,
Our voices keep tune and our oars keep time;
Soon as the woods on shore look dim,
We'll sing at St. Ann's our parting hymn.
Row, brothers, row, the stream runs fast,
The rapids are near, and the daylight's past."

Here, too, we began to see the peculiar mode the habitans have of dividing their patrimony. Many of the farms in Quebec are a mile or a mile and a half long, and when the father dies this is divided lengthwise into strips. Now every Canadian has fifteen children, except occasionally when he has four or five more, so that in a few generations the land has been divided into long narrow ribbons, so narrow that two waggons can pass with difficulty. This gives a very novel and striking appearance to the country as one passes along; and it is more easily noticeable on the way from Montreal to Quebec.

THE BANDS.

This morning there was a grand parade of bands along Notre Dame street and up to the Windsor Hotel. Sixteen bands have entered, one of which I believe comes from Halifax, and some from Albany and other places in the States. There are besides the bands of the 7th Battalion from London, the 13th from Hamilton, A Battery from Kingston, B Battery from Quebec, and the Governor-General's Foot Guards' band from Ottawa. The Kingston band, numbering only nineteen, is the smallest here, most of the other bands having twice as many members. Thus the 13th Battalion numbers 40, the 7th Battalion 32, the Governor-General's Foot Guards 35, and so on. The competition commences this afternoon, so for the present I have said enough.

An Exciting Spectacle.

At about 7 o'clock on Thursday evening a terribly exciting spectacle was presented on Bridge Street near the post office. It was that of a two year old babe, close to the edge of a slippery tin roof, with no seeming alternative but that it must fall to the ground, a distance of probably forty feet, and be killed on the spot. The child was a little boy, son of Dr Potts, and had succeeded in crawling through an attic window which had been left open. The roof being, as we have said, of tin, the little one slipped down to its very edge, being stopped only by the eave-trough. A large number of spectators had gathered on the opposite side of the road, watching the terrible spectacle with bated breath. One from amongst them, a young man, whose name we have not learned, ran across to inform the parents of the situation of their child, which meanwhile had started to crawl up the roof again. It slipped a little, but in a few seconds the young man spoken of leaned far out of the window and being able to reach the child, drew it in, and to the relief of the intense feelings of all, placed the child in safety. The rescuer ought to receive some mark of public approbation.—Belleville Intelligencer.

The water in the Ottawa is falling rapidly, and a good deal of timber has in consequence been stuck. The Chaudiere millowners have decided not to run their mills with night gangs this season.

The Pope and Fenianism.

The London correspondent of the Scotsman writes:—"I hear from Rome that the Pope has written to Cardinal Cullen, exhorting him, in the Apostolic name, to address a pastoral to the people of Ireland, and especially to the Fenians, so as to dissuade them from acting in concert with Russia, or even in connivance at her strategy, in the war which may yet break out. In his letter His Holiness intimates that England is now not unfavourable to Catholicism, though she is par excellence the country of Liberal institutions, while Russia is absolutism, the persecutor of the Church of Christ, and as the representative of the Schismatic theocracy, the irreconcilable enemy of England. Letters of similar purport have been addressed by the Holy See to the Bishops of the United States and Canada, wherever in fact Fenianism raises its head."

COMMON SENSE.

Many imagine all advertised medicines to be worthless nostrums, and indiscriminately condemn them; but is it not an injustice to the thousands of respectable citizens who give voluntary evidence of benefits received, to thus question and doubt their veracity and integrity? Fairbank's standard scales are extensively advertised. Does it necessarily follow that they are inferior in make, and less accurate than others? Have they not been demonstrated to be among the best? Again, is it common sense to suppose that a physician with capital could be induced to hazard it and a hard-earned reputation upon a worthless article? R. V. Pierce, M.D., of the World's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., is the proprietor of the most popular family medicines in the market. His reputation as a skilful surgeon and physician has been fully established for many years. Would physicians and clergymen, after testing his medicines thoroughly, unite in commending them to the afflicted if they possessed no merit? The undersigned take pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce and his Family Medicines to all who may need them:

C. R. Fairchild, M.D., Seneca, N.Y.; W. B. Cousins, M.D., Albia, Iowa; M. J. McClellan, M.D., Garrattsville, N.Y.; W. F. Hazleton, M.D., Silver Lake, Kan.; F. S. Miner, M.D., Venzie, Nev.; Geo. A CARD.

To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, &c., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the REV. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, Bible House, New York City.

AN EMINENT PHYSICIAN of large experience who has made Pulmonary Consumption a specialty, says that "although in the worst and most rapid forms of the disease we have still to confess that medicine is almost powerless, yet, in those less overwhelming, and in those more chronic, WHICH HAPPILY CONSTITUTE THE FAR GREATER NUMBER OF CASES, we have been able to adduce many proofs that much may be done to mitigate, to prevent, to retard, aye, and even to arrest and cure, this most destructive of human maladies." His experience of FIFTY YEARS leads him to assert that the "great remedy, more essential and more effective than any other, is Cod Liver Oil." BUT WHO CAN TAKE IT? Robinson's Phosphorized Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Lacto phosphate of Lime contains all the virtues of Cod Liver Oil, in a form and combination most desirable to obtain its fullest effects. ANYBODY CAN TAKE IT! Prepared by J. H. Robinson, Chemist, St. John, N.B., and for sale by druggists generally. Price $1.00 per bottle; six bottles for $5.00.

PATENTS obtained for mechanical devices, medical or other compounds,—ornamental designs, trade-marks, and labels. Caveats, Assignments, Interferences, Appeals, Suits for Infringements, and all cases arising under the Patent Laws promptly attended to. INVENTIONS THAT HAVE BEEN REJECTED by the Patent Office may still, in most cases, be patented by us. Being opposite the Patent Office, we can make closer searches, and secure Patents more promptly; and with broader claims, than those who are remote from Washington.

INVENTORS send us a model or sketch of your device; we make examination free of charge and advise as to patentability. All correspondence strictly confidential. Prices low, and No Charge unless Patent is Secured.

We refer to officials in the Patent Office, to our clients in every State of the Union, and to your Senator and Representative in Congress. Special references given when desired.
