☞ Those Saratoga Wafers are selling fast at the Italian Warehouse.

THE WEATHER to-day was fine in the forenoon, but during the afternoon it looked threatening.

☞ RICHMOND & BOYDEN have just received a large stock of ladies' new linen collars and cuffs—69, 78.

☞ UNPRECEDENTED.—W. R. McRae & Co. have this day on their counter this year's new fruit direct from Denia, their own importations.

PROBABILITIES for the next twenty-four hours: For the lower lake region, moderate winds, partly cloudy weather, and possibly showers by morning.

THE GOOD TEMPLARS' EXCURSION yesterday by Grand Trunk Railway was well patronized. Eleven cars passed through Kingston, and a good many got on here.

THE COWS.—The police will oblige parties living on Bagot street, near the Park, if they will look after the owners of cows for allowing their boys to drive them on the sidewalk.

THE STEEL RAILS AND FOSTER JOBS.—We have been requested to publish a letter on these subjects, by Mr J. A. Allen, in reply to the Whig, which we shall do to-morrow.

ONTARIO STATUTES.—We have received a copy of the Statutes of Ontario, passed at the last session of the Logislature. The book contains seventy-five Acts, in about three hundred pages.

FOR AMHERST ISLAND.—Sir John Macdonald, and a considerable party of gentlemen, went up to Amherst Island this forenoon to attend the Conservative picnic. They went up by the Geneva.

☞ The Grand Central Hotel is now offering unusual inducements to business men, families and tourists. The prices for board have never been so low, and the table is still kept up to its first-class high standard.

FRONTENAC WARD.—There will be no meeting in Frontenac Ward this evening, but a public meeting will be held next Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at Mr J. Savage's, York street, when Sir John Macdonald will address the electors.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.—This morning a man named H. Wielbalck, who deserted from A Battery about three years ago, and who has since been living in Watertown, gave himself up at Tete du Pont Barracks. He will be dealt with soon as he deserves.

LACROSSE MATCH POSTPONED.—The lacrosse match which was to have come off yesterday afternoon was, owing to the softness of the ground, postponed until Monday next. The two teams are each certain of winning, so that some good play will take place.

NEW FURNISHING STORE.—Mr W. Y. Boyd will to-morrow open a store on the corner of Wellington and Princess streets for the sale of gentlemen's clothing and furnishings. The stand is a good one, and we have no doubt Mr Boyd will be able to do a large business.

THE EMPRESS OF INDIA.—This steamer, which damaged one of her paddles going down the river with the excursion last Tuesday morning, is being repaired at the shipyard. She will be ready to go to Toronto to resume her trips early next week. We hear high commendations of the carrying capacity of this boat, the only complaint being that she is a little slow.

Y.M.C.A. GARDEN PARTY.—A meeting of ladies was held yesterday in the Y.M.C.A. Parlour in connection with the proposed garden party for the benefit of the Association. Those present entered heartily into the scheme, and agreed to solicit the co-operation of other ladies in connection with their respective churches, and to report at another meeting, to be held next Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

THE FAREWELL ADDRESS.—The farewell address to the Governor General was presented yesterday at Quebec. It was signed by 74 representative men. His Excellency made an eloquent reply, which was frequently interrupted by applause. A group of the gentlemen composing the deputation was photographed, after which Lord Dufferin entertained them to lunch, followed by an excursion to Montmorency Falls.

Committee Meetings.

The Conservative Committee for St. Lawrence Ward will meet to-night at the Central Committee Rooms. Every member is expected to be present.

The meeting of Frontenac Ward Committee called for this evening is cancelled.

Personals.

Dr. Jarvis, of Los Angelos, is in the city at present.

The name of Mr J. J. Watson, of Adolphustown, was amongst those registered in the Canadian Office, London, England, last week.

Short Notes.

Read Mr J. A. Allen's letter. It will repay perusal.

Henry Varley, the well known evangelist, is in Australia.

The streets were crowded this forenoon to see the circus procession.

The postponed picnic of the Orangemen will be held at Channel Grove on Monday.

One of the circus men got a piece of his thumb cut off this morning while unloading the cars.

Chief Justice Moss has decided that the letting of a hall to an infidel lecturer by a Corporation was illegal.

The circus is in town to-day, and the small boy is happy. Lots of country cousins were in to see the elephant.

The Rev. Dr. Fyfe, Principal, of Woodstock Baptist Seminary, and a well known Baptist Minister, died at Woodstock on Wednesday.

On the 'Southern Belle,' on Saturday afternoon, a vote was taken to find out the political bearings of those on board. Result: Sir John, 128; Mr Mackenzie, 50.

Sergeant Baillie, of the 47th, won a $15 prize in the Dominion of Canada match at Ottawa with a score of 80 points, and Col. Cotton's name appears among the scorers for the Macdougall pize with a score of 40.

Kingston Election Notes.

Coming events cast their shadows before, as is evident from the daily lengthening countenances of the Grits.

The old Limestone City is evidently Conservative, at the core, judging from the reception Sir John Macdonald receives daily.

Perhaps Mr William Irving will deny that the documents published in another column respecting the steel rails purchase are official.

Mr Gunn has a good chance to test his oratorical powers by calling a meeting and replying to Mr Allen's arraignment of the "utter demagogue's" bogus "Reform."

As the election day approaches, Grit faces get longer and flatter. What can be the matter? Surely after so much boasting of what they would do to Sir John Macdonald they are not getting afraid.

It is all very well to purchase support by making promises to electors of what will be done for them after the election, but it is bribery all the same. Intimidation and bribery are the strong points with the Party of Purity.

Sir John Macdonald, accompanied by the Mayor, canvassed in Rideau Ward last evening, with great success. Several electors, who have hitherto been Grits of the strongest description, promised their support to the candidate who will do the best for the country, and that is Sir John Macdonald.

The supporters of Mr Gunn in Kingston are busy telling the electors that the ballot papers are numbered, and it can be ascertained how the elector votes. As a matter of fact, the way the elector votes cannot be ascertained but, the circulation of the story is suggestive of "human devices."—Guelph Herald.

Our contemporary of last evening says:

"A PURE PARTY.—We reported Mr Allen to have said in the City Hall that he had subscribed to a testimonial to Mr Mackenzie. In this respect we misunderstood him. He referred to an election fund, the account of which was as clear as the noonday sun. We make the explanation in justice to Mr Allen and in justice to the Reform Party, who have been accused of corruption by those who do not know what they were talking about."

The editor of the Argus says he knows all about it; that Mr Gunn told him of Mr Carruthers' complaints of how he had been fleeced of large amounts of his bribery fund; and time and again have members of Mr Carruthers' Committees acknowledged the price, in cash, they paid for votes. Truly "a pure Party."

Which of these statements is the correct one? Both appeared in the editorial columns of our contemporary last evening.

"We will do Mr Allen the justice to say that he is generally conscientious in his utterings, but his judgment and mind at this time are warped by his bitterness towards the Premier, and he is making grave mistakes."	'The self-stultification of Rev. J. A. Allen, although, perhaps, not yet quite complete, has already advanced far enough to excite the unpleasant suspicions of many who formerly had faith in his sincerity, and the regretful sympathy of all who entertained a regard for his public good name, and cherished an admiration for his excellent personal qualities."

ACCIDENT AT SEELEY'S BAY.—A serious accident occurred last Monday near Seeley's Bay by the falling of a frame building, which was being moved. Two men, named T. Ripley and M. Lily, were working at the building, when the foundation gave way, the whole structure falling down upon them. Mr Lily escaped unhurt, but Mr Ripley was jammed between the sill and a large stone, his right leg being injured to such an extent that it had to be amputated. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. Bowen, of Seeley's Bay, and we understand the patient is doing well.

ST. JOHN'S CHURCH, PITTSBURGH.

Annual Picnic.

The annual picnic in connection with St. John's Church, Pittsburgh, (Rev. John Gallaher's) was held yesterday at Mr Hugh McCaugherty's Point, and was attended by a very large number of people, who enjoyed themselves to their heart's content. From the city there went down to the picnic on the yacht Carleton Island, the Rev. T. G. Smith, and Messrs. George Kirkpatrick, M.P., and S. Woods. After these gentlemen had arrived on the ground dinner was served, ample justice being done to the good things bountifully provided for that important portion of the day's proceedings. Dinner over, an excursion for the benefit of the Church on the Carleton Island was proposed, and carried out. The yacht took on board about fifty passengers and made a trip to the head of Sir John's Island, which was very much enjoyed. On the return to the picnic ground, excellent addresses were delivered by the Kingston gentlemen on things in general, which were duly appreciated by the picnickers. As the shades of night began to fall it was agreed to adjourn. The Kingston party offered to carry or tow all those who wished to go up the river, which offer was thankfully accepted, and a large party took advantage of it. On arriving opposite O'Brien's school-house, Howe Island, they landed, and found assembled a large crowd, who had come to hear Mr George A. Kirkpatrick give an account of his stewardship. For about an hour and a half Messrs Kirkpatrick and Woods spoke on the political questions of the day, making a very favourable impression. Mr Kirkpatrick asked the electors to work for him, as he would not be able to pay them another visit, and they by resolution promised to do so. It is not likely that any opponent will get a single vote. After the meeting a lunch was given to all and sundry from the yacht, and a pleasant time was spent with the good things provided. The Carleton Island reached home about eleven o'clock last night, a very happy afternoon and evening having been spent.

Correspondence.

MR ALLEN AND MR MACKENZIE.

We have been requested by Mr Allen to publish the following letter which was refused admission to the columns of the journal to which it was addressed.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE BRITISH WHIG.

Sir,—After reading the Whig's article of last evening, I said to myself, I wonder how much of this tirade against me the editor really believes, or whether he believes a syllable of it at all. I could enjoy a good, sharp, biting article written against me, with point and sparkle, and laugh at it. Such an article is a good, moral tonic, letting us see ourselves as others see us. There was a young editor of the Whig once who could have written such, but his pen has fallen into other hands to-day. Still, if quantity can compensate for quality, the present editor is fairly entitled to carry off the palm. But we adhere to the old adage of "ut multum nil moror," and that a grain of gold or tin in cubic form is a only grain still though beaten into foil as thin as gossamer.

But his task is set him; he holds his brief, gets his fee, and does, if not the best, the best he can—to blacken me.

I had written thus far, in soul-bitterness, when I received a letter from one of the dearest friends I ever had, which, though pitched in a higher key, takes the very view of our editor. Now, as I know that the writer of this letter is thoroughly sincere, and yet can so misconceive my position and me, I heartily and wholly exonerate the editor. The fog will not lift itself, and, as in so many cases before, I shall be vindicated. I trust to time and reason with full confidence; but should I be disappointed, I CAN STAND ALONE. If, in the pursuit of justice, my friends forsake me, I say, the worse for them.

TO REFORMERS.

My speech last night was directed to this—drop out Mackenzie; he is ruining the Reform Party. His overweening conceit; his unscrupulous favouritism; his reckless squandering of the public money; his bad, or mad, temper; his plunging with hot, unconsidering haste into one project, and then, before half-completed, abandoning it; then forthwith plunging into another equally unconsidered and equally insane, which, because of a sudden change in his whole plan, is next abandoned as being useless, and, soon after, out of sheer obstinacy, or because he is laughed at for it, is recommenced once again. Are we to shame our enemies for their connection with Mr Cauchon, and then, with the next breath, invite him to our Council Board, and make him our Queen's representative in the government of a Province? Is this equal? Is it fair play, or is it not most abominably wrong?

Honest, true-hearted Grits, I have gone round with you in many a contest, do you think that I could endure this?

But to return. If so much that I above refer to had been done by Mr Mackenzie with his own money, I should say that anyone not wholly insane has a kind of conventional right to use his money for any wild project of his fancy, which, if not a great public nuisance, might henceforth stand a monument of his folly. But when all this is done (or, rather, not done) with your and my money—in a time, too, of almost unexampled depression, and when the only means of doing it is borrowing and borrowing, everlasting borrowing, until our public debt is close on to one hundred and fifty millions of dollars, am I to keep silent or are you?

I am not myself in favour of the building of railways anywhere till the means of the country are adequate to accomplish it. But I have no hesitation in saying that the plan advocated in Mr Macpherson's admirable pamphlet—which everyone ought at least to read—is characterised by sound logic and excellent good sense, and is, as a piece of masterly writing and advice, like an oasis in the desert compared with the barren and shifting sands of the railway policy of Mr Mackenzie.

In moral weight, through this man, we, as a party, have been sinking fast. Where is the eminence now on which we stood five years ago? Where is that on which you stood, when that unselfish and high-souled man, Robert Baldwin, led you, like a serried host of ancient ironsides, exulting in the goodness of your cause and in the fine generalship of your leader, to victory on many a field.

Don't, then, be lowered by this man. Lose anything, everything, but save your honour.

I am willing to discuss any matter with any of you and to listen to you calmly, if only the appeal be to fact and reason, not to passion. I have not left Mr Mackenzie. Mr Mackenzie has left me. My objection to your candidate is not anything on his part; but this only, that, like Sinbad in the story-book, he carries on his shoulders the old man of the sea. Let him only shake him off, and then . . . but I must conclude.

J. A. ALLEN.

Sept. 5.

SUICIDE AT JONES' FALLS.—A man named Thomas Quigley, aged 65 years, committed suicide at Jones' Falls on Tuesday last by drowning himself. No cause is assigned for the rash act, and at an inquest held on the body a verdict of suicide by drowning was returned.

THE BALLOT.

THE BALLOT PAPERS ARE NOT NUMBERED and that IT CANNOT BE FOUND FOR WHOM AN ELECTOR VOTES.

In introducing the Election Amendment Bill of last session, the Hon. Mr Laflamme said in explanation of its provisions that they were intended to do away with the envelope system, to prevent fraud, and "TO AVOID THE POSSIBILITY OF DISCOVERING WHO HAD VOTED." These are Mr Laflamme's own words. In the official report we read as follows:

"Mr Plumb wished to know what was meant by the numbering of the ballot papers.

"Mr Laflamme said THE BALLOT PAPERS WOULD NOT BE NUMBERED, but only the annexes, which would be torn up in the presence of two agents.

"Mr Plumb said that if that was the case the secresy of the ballot would not be violated."

The clause respecting the manner of voting reads as follows:

"Each elector, being introduced, one at a time for each compartment, into the room where the poll is held, shall declare his name, surname and addition, which shall be entered or recorded in the voters' list to be kept for that purpose by the Poll Clerk; and if the same be found on the list of electors for the polling district of such polling station, he shall receive from the Deputy Returning Officer a ballot paper, on the back of which such Deputy Returning Officer shall have previously put his initials so placed that when the ballot is folded they can be seen without opening it; and ON THE COUNTERFOIL to which he shall have placed a number corresponding to that opposite the voter's name on the voters' list."

Let it be noted particularly that THE NUMBER IS PUT ON THE COUNTERFOIL, NOT ON THE BALLOT PAPER, the object of the number being placed on the counterfoil being to prevent the possibility of the ballot box being "stuffed" by a ballot paper being taken out and used during the day. Further on, section Six of the Act reads thus:

"The elector, on receiving the ballot paper, shall forthwith proceed into one of the compartments of the polling station and there mark his ballot paper, making a cross with a pencil on any part of the ballot paper within the division (or if there be more than one to be elected within the divisions) containing the name (or names) of the candidate (or candidates) for whom he intends to vote, and shall then fold up such ballot paper so that the initials on the back can be seen without opening it and hand it to the Deputy Returning Officer, who shall without unfolding it, ascertain by examining his initials and THE NUMBER UPON THE COUNTERFOIL that it is the same that he furnished to the elector, AND SHALL FIRST DETACH AND DESTROY THE COUNTERFOIL and shall then immediately, and in the presence of the elector, place the same in the ballot box."

This, then, disposes of the false representations made. There is no number placed on the ballot paper, but there is on the counterfoil, for the purpose of guarding against fraud; but when the Deputy Returning Officer identifies the ballot as the one given the elector to mark he "SHALL DETACH AND DESTROY THE COUNTERFOIL AND THEN IMMEDIATELY, AND IN THE PRESENCE OF THE ELECTOR," place the ballot in the box. Thus absolute secresy is guaranteed, there being no number on the ballot paper, and the counterfoil being destroyed.

Electors, do not be deceived by the misrepresentations of the agents of the Grit candidate.

Alderman Allen.

In an anonymous letter a correspondent of our contemporary made, a few days ago, an attack on the character of Alderman Allen. The cowardly scribbler dare not state over his own signature what the use of a nom de plume permitted him to say. Alderman Allen has been for many long years a faithful servant of the City Council, and his character is unimpeachable. But in politics he appears to be a Tory, and therefore he is attacked by an anonymous slanderer. If Alderman Allen were only a Grit!

THE CIRCUS.—W. W. Cole's circus arrived in the city this morning on three trains of cars, which were unloaded at the foot of Brock street in presence of a large crowd of spectators. The waggons were driven up to the Drill Shed Common, where the tents were erected. The procession paraded the principal streets of the city about eleven o'clock, and was witnessed by many people, who greatly admired it. Several of the waggons were open, one of them containing two fine lions and a leopard, with a man inside; another containing a fine lot of large snakes, a performer being along with them also. A steam Calliope made the route of procession lively with its music, and the band, in a carriage drawn by camels, was equal to any circus band ever in Kingston. The horses drawing the waggons received great commendation, being in splendid condition. In the afternoon the circus tent was well filled, the animals and the ring performance giving general satisfaction. The great attractions were Mr and Mrs Bates, the giant and giantess, whose colossal size astonished the visitors to the show. It is probable there will be a large crowd at the circus this evening, the performance beginning at eight o'clock.
