The Chambers of Commerce and shipping interests.

Expected Strike of the Coal Miners.

The Rochester Negro Outrage.

Howard sentenced to 20 years hard labour.

The Mexican Revolution.

New York, Jan. 4.—The Chamber of Commerce to-day adopted a report suggesting remedies for reviving the interests in American shipping, and praying for the appointment of a committee to present a memorial to Congress embodying them. One of the remedies suggested is that all materials used in the construction or repairing of vessels engaged in foreign trade be purchased in bond duty free.

The Times special from Scranton to-night says:—The Wilkesbarre Coal and Iron Company having given notice to their men, 1500 thousand in number, refuse to sign for a reduction, and a strike is the order now. It is hoped the men will reconsider in a few days, as they can gain nothing by striking now.

Rochester, Jan. 4.—Howard, the negro was secretly conveyed to this city from this evening at half past nine o'clock. He was arrested on the public square and plead guilty, and was sentenced by Judge Smith to twenty years hard labour in Auburn State Prison. The prisoner was immediately removed and quietly taken from the city. He will commence his term of imprisonment to-day. This proceeding, the court and authorities believe, will satisfy the ends of justice and avoid the shedding of innocent blood.

Tagnayra, Jan. 4.—The President with the united force of the interior is now marching to the attack of San Fernando de Apaure, a stronghold of the insurgents. Agreement of postal conference has been approved. Most of the cargo of the wrecked ship Loch Levin has been recovered. Serious injuries to wheat crops by rust are reported. Arrangements for expedition to observe the solar eclipse has been completed.

Auburn, New York, Jan. 5.—The negro Howard who committed the outrage on a white girl in Rochester a few day since arrived in this city this morning and took his place in the State prison under sentence of 20 years. He was very happy, putting his thumb to his nose and making a fan of his fingers to the crowd as he went up the steps to the main hall.

DOMINION OF CANADA.

[illegible] Thomas's Church, Belleville, on Christmas Day, the Reverend J. [illegible]

On Friday evening Mr Wm. S. Ireland, ex-[illegible] Chatham, was presented by his friends [illegible] of the town for services [illegible] and a coffee urn, butter dish, spoon-holder [illegible] pitcher with salver and goblets. The urn bore an appropriate inscription, and each of the [illegible] were of the latest pattern and finish, and cost $600.

Chippawa, Jan. 3.—Last night, about six o'clock, as a man named Moore, from Welland, was coming down the Chippawa Creek, [illegible] with the unlucky [illegible] a channel cut in the ice a few days before, he slipped right into it, and had it not been for the timely assistance of some men employed at the distillery, would certainly have been drowned. When taken out of the water he was in a very exhausted condition.

Mr. Guy Pemberton, a wealthy tea merchant of Canton, China, connected with one of the most prominent families of Quebec, died and [illegible] in Penang, East India, [illegible] Monday, and cast a deep gloom on the many friends of the family. Mr Pemberton was about 30 years.

Cobourg Sentinel. We have the best authority for stating that Mr Lyon will not contest the locality of Mr Monk's election, but on scrutiny this time, but indirect charges of violations of the Statute preferred against Mr Monk and his leading supporters. The expense is of the most [illegible] kind. We have, therefore, expected and felt it expressed for the County before long.

The [illegible] of Mr John [illegible] Adamson, [illegible] to sing or to [illegible] people [illegible] cannot [illegible] so much as by their [illegible] Still that a [illegible] and [illegible] gradually expected [illegible] Mr Blake's Middle Ridge has [illegible] public well, without [illegible] or complimenting them; and his future has arisen not treating with [illegible] contempt, or with a well meaned joke [illegible] tricks upon him, but in feeling angry at them.

Belleville. The Venerable the Archdeacon of Ontario (Dr. Patton), having been appointed to the Rectory of Belleville, was, on Wednesday, 20th Dec., waited on by a deputation from the congregations of Trinity Church, Cornwall, and Christ Church, Montreal, and presented to the Venerable gentleman addresses and testimonials of their regard. The parishioners of Cornwall presented a splendid epergne, and the parishioners from Montreal a costly silver tea service. The Archdeacon, who was deeply moved by these evidences of the good will and esteem of the people among whom he had laboured for nearly twenty-six years, delivered a suitable reply. The Rev. R. Austin, late Assistant Minister at Cornwall, who has been appointed to the Mission of Carleton Place, was presented with a purse of over one hundred dollars, accompanied by an address conveying expressions of the regard in which Mr Austin was held by those among whom he had ministered for six years.

There seems no doubt that Mr Monk has been again elected to represent the County of Carleton in the Ontario Legislature. Perhaps the protest by which his former election was rendered void has been productive of no other result than to add a little more to the election expenses of the [illegible]. We notice that the Globe of this morning claims Mr Monk as a supporter of the Blake government. When he was elected the organ of the then Opposition classed him somewhat differently. Has he changed his politics since? We are not quite so certain as our Toronto contemporary that he will support Mr Blake; he claims to be a Conservative; he was elected as one last March, and, if we mistake not, he is still a professor of that faith. He may support the present government on some measures, but it is safe to say that neither Mr Blake nor his party as such, has a very strong hold on the political affections of Mr Monk. Perhaps he has been subjected to the same political medical treatment which worked such a change in Mr. Scott. If so the Globe knows all about it, and will be able to answer for him. Time will, however, decide whether he has or has not, and to what extent it will be effectual in accomplishing the desired end.—Hamilton Spectator.
