SULZER PLEA TO OUST FRAWLEY BOARD MEMBERS ON ELIGIBILITY POINT DENIED.

WILL BAR TECHNICALITIES

Impediment Body to Halt Evasion of Chief Issue—Accused Executive Finally Yields Office to Acting Governor.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Following the conclusion of the second session of the high court of impeachment convened to determine the fitness of William Sulzer to continue as governor of New York two important points seem to be established.

The first is that it is the purpose of the 48 senators and nine appeals judges sitting in judgment on the indictment returned against Mr. Sulzer by the state assembly, to prevent evasion of the main issue involved in the proceeding and that all legal technicalities, even when based upon the fundamental rights of the accused governor to seek vindication, shall be swept aside in order to arrive at his guilt or innocence.

The second development of Friday bore only collateral relation to the undertakings of the high court. The suspended governor himself provided it by recognizing Martin H. Glynn, the lieutenant governor, as the acting governor of the state.

Mr. Sulzer, who did not appear before the high court or in the regular office of the governor, delegated his secretary, Mr. Platt, to advise Mr. Glynn of his decision to refrain from performing further the acts or the executive until his fate shall have been determined by the high court of impeachment.

In a letter to Mr. Glynn, who occupied the temporary offices provided for him by the legislature following the refusal of Mr. Sulzer to abdicate on his indictment by the assembly, Mr. Platt turned over to the acting governor papers relating to pending extradition proceedings and documents concerning prisoners whose terms are about to expire through commutation of sentence.

In his letter to Lieutenant Governor Glynn Mr. Sulzer explains that he had taken such action because of recent decisions of the supreme court that the "executive functions should be performed by yourself as acting governor."

The version furnished by Mr. Sulzer's supporters is that in recognizing the right of Mr. Glynn to exercise the duties of governor pending the impeachment trial he was actuated solely by a desire to promote the business of the state government, which has been virtually at a standstill since Mr. Sulzer was indicted on August 15.

Counsel for Sulzer lost the first skirmish in a legal battle to prevent the accused executive from coming to trial. Their objections to permitting four senators to sit as members of the court were overruled.

William Sulzer, governor of New York, charged by the assembly with high crimes and misdemeanors, failed to appear in person before the high court of impeachment when it convened Thursday to begin the trial which will determine his guilt or innocence. Instead, his attorneys entered a "special appearance" in the governor's behalf and challenged the organization of the court and its jurisdiction over the accused.

The assembly at night adopted a resolution offered by Majority Leader Levy calling for the arrest of James C. Garrison for alleged contempt in refusing to answer questions before the judiciary committee concerning statements attributed to him to the effect that money was used to influence votes of certain members in bringing about the impeachment of Governor Sulzer.

PASS CURRENCY BILL

HOUSE ADOPTS MEASURE WITHOUT ESSENTIAL CHANGE.

Administration Act Wins by Vote of 286 to 84—Now Goes to Senate for Action.

Washington, Sept. 20.—The Glass-Steagall currency bill passed the house on Thursday by the overwhelming vote of 286 to 84.

The final vote brought a number of Republicans to the support of the administration measure. Twenty-four Republicans voted for the bill and three Democrats voted against it.

The measure now goes to the senate, where a long consideration before the banking committee awaits it.

Representative Wingo of Arkansas demanded a record vote on the so-called gold standard amendment, and on a division 165 Democrats and Republicans voted for it and 45 Democrats voted against it. A roll call was ordered, which changed the vote to 298 in favor of the amendment to 69 against it. All those voting "no" were Democrats.

The Progressives offered a motion to recommit the bill to the committee, with instructions to incorporate a provision to prohibit interlocking directorates in national banks. It was defeated, 206 to 71.

After much parliamentary jockeying, Progressive Leader Murdock succeeded in forcing a roll call on another motion to recommit and that disclosed a vote of 266 to 100 against it.

A burst of applause greeted the passage of the bill. The three Democrats who voted against it were Callaway, Elder and Witherspoon.

OULMET WINS GOLF TITLE

Young American Amateur Defeats British Experts for High Honors.

Brookline, Mass., Sept. 23.—Another name was added to America's list of victories in international sport here when Francis Oulmet, a youthful local amateur, won the nineteenth open championship tournament of the United States Golf association.

The winning of this national title was lifted to an international plane, due to the sensational circumstances of the play and the caliber of the entrants whom Oulmet defeated during his four days' march to victory. Safely berthed in his qualifying round, the boy trailing the leaders in the first half of the championship round, tied with Harry Vardon and Edward Ray, the famous English professionals, for first place in the final round; then completely outplayed them in the eighteen-hole extra round which was necessary to decide the 1913 championship. Oulmet won with a score of 72 strokes, two under par for one of the hardest courses in the country. Vardon finished five strokes behind Oulmet with 77; Ray took third place with 78.

G. A. R. HEAD ELECTED

WASHINGTON GARDNER OF MICHIGAN COMMANDER FOR 1914.

Next Encampment at Detroit—Will Erect Peace Memorial at Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Sept. 22.—Washington Gardner of Michigan was elected commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic on Friday over the opposition of "the house of lords" of that organization.

Col. G. E. Adams of Nebraska was the candidate agreed upon by a few leaders of the Grand Army at the last encampment, and the election of this year came after one of the hardest fights ever waged in a national encampment. Michigan won a double victory, securing not only the commander-in-chief, but the next encampment also, the delegates voting to meet in 1914 at Detroit. Colonel Adams ran second in the race for commander, but after it was apparent that ex-Congressman Gardner was to be elected the full vote of the encampment was cast for him. Other officers elected were:

Senior vice commander, Thomas M. Soward, Guthrie, Okla.; junior vice commander, William L. Ross, Pittsfield, Me.; surgeon general, J. K. Weaver, Morristown, Pa.; chaplain general, Horace M. Carr, Parsons, Kan. General Gardner's first official act was to appoint Oscar A. James of Detroit adjutant general and Col. D. R. Stowits of Buffalo, N. Y., quartermaster general. The encampment adopted a resolution approving the erection of a peace memorial to the men of both armies to be erected near Chattanooga. It is similar to that which was adopted by the United Confederate Veterans here in May.

Officers of the Daughters of Veterans elected the following officers: Mrs. Mary Kidder, New Hampshire, president; Mrs. Lula Mae Collins, Chicago, Ill., senior vice-president; Mrs. Katherine Flood, Massachusetts, junior vice-president; Mrs. Ames Davis, Minneapolis, chaplain; Mrs. Bertie Best, Ohio, inspector; Council Messdames Guldland of Denver, Mattie Tucker of Maine, Miss Nina Little, field of Massachusetts, Miss Clara Randall of Chicago, Miss Spehcer of Washington, D. GAYNOR IS BURIED

BUSINESS IS HALTED IN NEW YORK DURING LATE MAYOR'S FUNERAL.

THOUSANDS FOLLOW CASKET

Services at Trinity Simple, But Impressive—Remains Are Interred in Lot at Greenwood Cemetery Attended Only by the Family.

New York, Sept. 23.—The funeral cortege with the late Mayor William J. Gaynor's body passed down Broadway on Monday while thousands of persons lined the street with bared heads. The procession paused at Trinity church where Bishop H. Greer officiated at services that were simple, but impressive. Hundreds of police guarded the line of march to keep the crowd in order.

All morning the body of the late mayor lay in state in the main corridor of the City Hall while a steady stream of visitors passed through. When time for the removal of the body to Trinity church came City Hall park was crowded.

All business practically was suspended for an hour while the services were in progress in the famous old church. Assisting Bishop Greer was Rev. J. E. Holden, pastor of the Episcopal church at St. James, L. I., in which town Mayor Gaynor made his summer home. Rev. Dr. Frank Page of Culpepper, Va., also aided in the services.

The funeral procession was solemn and impressive. Eight active pallbearers were chosen, four from the police department and four from the rank and file of the fire department, bore the casket. They were followed by twelve honorary pallbearers.

William R. Taft, Mayor Adolph L. Kline, Supreme Court Justice Martin J. Keogh, Herman Ridder, Jacob Schiff, Robert Adams, R. A. C. Smith, James Creelman, Archibald R. Watson, Edward M. Grout, Police Commissioner Rhinelander Waldo and John D. Crimmons, Lieutenant William Kennell, who has acted as police guard of all mayors since Mayor Strong, walked before the casket.

Trinity church held about 800 people when the services began. All of the justices of the supreme court of Manhattan and Brooklyn, all the members of the board of estimate, board of aldermen, the heads of the various city departments and the members of the citizens' committee of 100 on funeral arrangements, were present.

After the ceremony the procession reformed and crossed Brooklyn bridge, to the Borough hall, where it disbanded. Burial was made in the family plot at Greenwood cemetery, Brooklyn, and was attended only by members of the family.

TO EDUCATE FARMER

PACKERS VOTE $500,000 FUND TO SHOW PROFIT IN RAISING CATTLE.

WILL AVERT MEAT FAMINE

Prevailing High Prices Blamed on Government by Delegate, Who Says Labels Are Changed Too Often.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—An "educational fund" of $500,000 will be expended by the American Meat Packers' association in an attempt to induce farmers to raise beef cattle and thus cut down the high cost of living and avert a threatened famine in beef.

This was decided by the meat packers on Monday at their annual convention, on the motion of Gustav Bischoff, Sr., of the Independent Packing company, St. Louis, president of the organization.

In making his motion for the creation of an educational fund Mr. Bischoff pointed out that the farmers are not raising beef cattle because they do not consider it profitable.

"What the farmers of the country need is education along the lines of how to operate their farms," said Mr. Bischoff. "They imagine that the only way they can make 'both ends meet' is to raise an abundance of grains and feed no beef cattle."

"As a matter of fact, there is not a farmer in the land who could not raise a few beef cattle to good advantage. What the farmers need is education. With this in mind, I move that a fund of $100,000 a year be voted for a period of five years, to be expended among the farmers in a campaign of education. Until the farmers raise cattle for beef, the price of meat cannot be lowered. As long as the supply is scant the price must of necessity be high."

The motion to create the $500,000 educational fund was carried by unanimous vote, and President Bischoff will appoint a committee to devise ways and means for carrying on this work.

Another packer who held the farmer responsible for the high cost of meats was Charles F. Kamrath of Spokane, Wash.

"If every farmer could be induced to raise one or two beef steers, the high cost of meats would be almost solved," he said.

M. A. Traylor, vice-president of the National Stock Yards National bank, East St. Louis, Ill., recommended that banks be empowered to loan money on future cattle shipments, the same as they now do on grain crops.

James S. Agar, chairman of a special committee appointed at the last session of the association to confer with government officials as to the cause of the high price of meats, asserted that meats were sold at a higher figure because the government demands frequent changing of labels.

Fearsome forecasts of a possible famine pervaded the assembly. The more direct danger now was sounded on Sunday when James Craig, Jr., chairman of the association's executive committee, read the annual report of that body to the convention. He said the situation was critical.

TROOPS STOP RACE RIOTING

Polish Miners Beaten by Americans, Following Double Murder at Benton, Ill.

Benton, Ill., Sept. 24.—A race riot between American and Polish miners was begun on the town square here on Monday as a result of the double murder Sunday of Ewell Hutchins and Quincy Drummonds, who were killed by a band of drunken miners while returning from a Polish dance, where they had furnished the music.

Company F, Fourth Infantry, Illinois National Guard, located at Benton, was ordered out by Governor Dunne, upon recommendation of Mayor Estes of Benton and Sheriff Vaughn of Franklin county. Capt. O. C. Smith is in command.

The disturbance assumed such proportions that Mayor Estes swore in 25 extra police and sent for the sheriff of Franklin county. The mayor then mounted a box in the center of the square and sought to pacify the Americans.

Twenty-five foreigners, who appeared on the square, were beaten severely and pursued to their homes in the Polish colony. Every other foreigner who was found on the streets met similar treatment.

Fifteen Polish miners were arrested and are being held pending an investigation into the double murder.

ANGLER HOOKS MAN WHO IS DROWNING

Amateur Fisherman Had Narrow Escape From Death in Lake Pontchartrain.

New Orleans, La.—William Klein, an upholsterer, of No. 1514 Boute street, an amateur angler, experienced a narrow escape from death just as he had finished preparations for a day's sport in fishing off the northeastern bridge over Lake Pontchartrain, about 500 feet from North Shore.

The presence of mind of John Landry, a negro living at No. 119 North Liberty street, saved Mr. Klein from drowning. Landry cast a line and hooked Mr. Klein as the latter was sinking.

Mr. Klein, accompanied by his son, arrived at North Shore about 7 a. m. and began walking the "long bridge." When about 500 feet from the shore the crowd gathered on a small platform to permit an incoming local train to pass. Mr. Klein carried his fishing pole strapped across his shoulder.

Seeing, however, that she had carried her little bluff too far and he was taking her seriously, she made use of a bright idea.

"Will you promise to be good now?" she asked.

"Well, let's shake on it."

Solemnly they shook hands.

"Now," she said, with a cunning and meaning little twinkle in her eye, "you have touched me already and broken your promise. So, being as you have gone that far, you might as well go ahead and break the rest of your agreement."—Judge.

The Hook Caught.

This was hit by the tender of the incoming train.

The upholsterer was thrown in the lake on the Mandeville side of the bridge, landing in the water somewhat dazed. A swift tide running at the time carried Mr. Klein under the bridge and out into the lake.

Ropes were thrown to him, but he was helpless and was rapidly floating from the bridge.

John Landry, the negro fisherman, threw his fishing line in the direction of Mr. Klein, fortunately striking him on the leg. The hook caught and the almost lifeless body was brought up and held at the surface.

Several men who witnessed the sensational rescue climbed down posts and fastened a rope to the fisherman's body. He was held there until a small fishing craft was brought to Mr. Klein's side and later he was taken ashore.

It was not until some time after his son and several of the amateur fishermen worked on the prostrate form that the man was revived.

Mr. Klein suffered pain as a result of the fish hook which caught in his leg when Landry threw the lucky line. The hook was deeply imbedded in the fleshy part of the leg and had to be cut out.

BIG RATTLER CHARMS CHILD

'Little Girl' Wriggled and Squirmed Like Snake Until the Reptile Was Killed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Charmed by a big rattlesnake three feet long with nine rattles, Helen, the three-year-old daughter of Andrew Lahey of Amenia, near here, who was snatched from the reptile by her mother the other day, has caused much astonishment to the residents of that section by her strange actions. The little child wriggled and squirmed about like a snake and it was not until the reptile was put to death by the father of the child that the little girl stopped squirming and returned to her normal condition.

She was not bitten by the snake. For several days the mother of the little girl noticed that the youngster played around a stone door step in front of the house and disliked being taken away from the spot. Finally the mother noticed the baby playing in the same place and talking to some one. Creeping up behind the baby Mrs. Lahey was astonished to find that her little girl was bent over talking to an object under the step. Seizing an iron bar Mrs. Lahey lifted up the stone to ascertain the attraction of the baby and much to her horror she discovered a huge rattler coiled up under the step. Snatching the child and screaming for help Mrs. Lahey attracted the attention of her husband and he killed the snake. Immediately after the reptile was put to death the little girl recovered her normal condition.

ROMAN GRAVES ARE FOUND

Fine Examples of Ancient Pottery Excavated in England on Syn-dale Estate.

London.—An interesting discovery has been made this week on the Syn-dale estate, at Faversham, where, in the course of some excavations, two Roman graves have been found, containing some very fine examples of Roman pottery. The articles include two jars, intact, one of them of very graceful design; several pieces of pseudo Samian ware (two are three of these also being intact), and some fragments of a tear glass, a glass vase and a bronze ornament. A Roman camp was located near where the discovery was made, and it is probable that the graves were those of Roman soldiers. The Syn-dale estate belongs to the family of G. C. H. Wheeler, M. P. for Northeast Kent.

GETTING AROUND IT NEATLY

Facultarily Subtle Way in Which Girl Softened the Force of Her Stern Rebuke.

Foolishly he asked her for a kiss; naturally she said "no," bravely he took it, anyway; angrily she put him away; scornfully she told him what she thought of such action, and meekly he stood for the same old bluff.

"I am surprised and mad at you!" she said, and she looked every bit of it. "I don't think a gentleman would do such a thing; and now, if you are going to stay here this evening, I don't want you even to touch me, but let us sit here and talk like sensible people."

Thoroughly cowed, he agreed. Seeing, however, that she had carried her little bluff too far and he was taking her seriously, she made use of a bright idea.

"Will you promise to be good now?" she asked.

"Well, let's shake on it."

Solemnly they shook hands.

"Now," she said, with a cunning and meaning little twinkle in her eye, "you have touched me already and broken your promise. So, being as you have gone that far, you might as well go ahead and break the rest of your agreement."—Judge.

PIMPLES ON FACE AND ARMS

411 Howard St., Dayton, Ohio.—"About a year ago my face, neck, arms and back were beginning to become afflicted with pimples and blackheads. My pimples would get very large and appear to come to a head. If I tried to open them the pain would be terrible, but nothing could be taken from them. They itched very badly; I suffered terribly from itching. After scratching, the pimples would swell and after the swelling was gone my face would become very red and remain so for some time. My clothing caused the itching to be worse. When
